Resolve in favor of a fresh water basin for iron clads at Portland.

Advantages of Presumpscot
river as a basin
for iron clads.

WHEREAS, the preservation of the iron clad steamships of war of the United States, requires that they should be placed in fresh water basins, and the Presumpscot river at Portland furnishes most available water combined with other unusual facilities and advantages for such purpose, therefore

Senators and representatives
in congress
requested to cause examination.

Resolved, That our senators and representatives in Congress be requested to use their best efforts to cause a scientific examination of said locality to be made under the authority of the United States and to secure the establishment of such a basin at that place.

Approved February 21, 1866.

Chapter 39.
