Senate at Ease

Senate called to order by the President.

The President requested the Sergeant-at-arms escort the Senator from Cumberland, Senator CLARK to the rostrum where she assumed the duties as President Pro Tem.

The President then took a seat on the floor of the Senate.

The Senate called to order by the President Pro Tem.

Senator PRAY of Penobscot was granted unanimous consent to address the Senate on the Record.

Senator PRAY: Thank you. Madam President, Ladies and Gentlemen of the Senate, obviously as we get down to the end of the session, a fair number of proposal fly back and forth between the two branches of the Legislature. The fates of those Bills sometimes are uncertain and unknown. Each and every one of us are here to do what we feel is the responsible and the correct thing on behalf of our constituencies and basically, are motivated by those causes.

It is always with interest that we come in and we try to look at the newspaper reporting of what took place. Time and time again we read those newspaper reports and it's like we weren't even there. The events, as they're reported by the press, seems to be totally different than our perception of what took place. Yesterday, we debated for some time, as you probably well remember, the Day Academy land transaction.

I rise today to put on the record a little concern that I have with the reporting on the particular issue, only because, and I'm sure we could pick on dozens and dozens of issues the way the reporters around here have covered these issues, some of them rather accurately and some others rather inaccurately. I happen to have a major newspaper in front of me at this time, of which the headline is "The Senate rejects land swap bill". I think that the record would show that we accepted a different version than the other Body did. We didn't reject the proposal. We just had a different perspective on what should be passed into a particular point of law. When I go through and read the article to the fact that also in that article it says that the Senate voted as a backlash to the infamous Scott Paper letter that appeared in the Kennebec Journal and was floating around here the other day. I would just like to clarify the record.

Obviously, it probably won't be put in print when you criticize the press but these types of headlines that those who sit in their ivory glass towers writing what takes place in the state and many, many instances misrepresent the intentions of all of us in this Chamber trying to be dedicated to our constituency and to conclusions that we have come to. I note particularly that this one Senator did not, in any way, carry through on that letter as to my position on the color, odor, foam issue itself and I don't think anybody's vote was changed because of that letter, one way or the other, nor do I think there was any impact from the land swap bill to that based upon the fact that it was Scott Paper Company that was involved in offering to the state to pick up another 10,000 acres of land by swapping.

It does become frustrating to those of us who spend the dedicated hours that we do in here each and every day dealing with the literally hundreds of bills that go before us, the supplements, trying to keep track of what's going on, our own Committee bills, the Bills that we're involved with and so forth. It becomes a little disheartening to read this misrepresentation of the action of this Chamber, being implied in a negative context that we rejected and killed a particular legislative proposal. While procedurally, that action did reject the Bill, when we are limited in our opportunities and when we're given the alternatives of accepting our proposals or other proposals, obviously this happens. It is not to be interpreted that we had no desire to protect and preserve that land for future generations of Maine people. I just wanted to clarify that.

The author of that article, I'll share with you, is Bob Cummings, who is a long-time environmental writer, who really should know better, because he's been involved in the political process before I came here and has been writing articles about the legislative actions on environmental concerns. I'm just kind of sorry to see that his own personal bias ends up in the article only because knowing the individual and his love for promoting the preservation of our natural resources gets interpreted by the literally hundreds of thousands of Maine readers who want to know what's going on in their government and they get this type of misrepresentation or bias, is a disservice to all the people of our state. Thank you.
