STATE OF MAINE
ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE
SECOND REGULAR SESSION
JOURNAL OF THE SENATE

In Senate Chamber
Wednesday
March 14, 2012

Senate called to order by President Kevin L. Raye of Washington County.

Prayer by Pastor Susan Davenport of Grace United Methodist Church in Bangor.

PASTOR DAVENPORT: I bring you greetings from your sisters and brothers in Bangor and I bring you blessings from them as well. Will you be in prayer with me.

Holy and loving God, we have come together this morning as Your people, all of us, to do Your work for the people of our great state. Lord, lead and guide us. Be present in our conversation. Soften our hearts. Open our ears that we may hear Your voice in the midst. We ask all this in Your holy name. Amen.

Pledge of Allegiance led by Senator Justin L. Alford of Cumberland County.

Reading of the Journal of Tuesday, March 13, 2012.

Senator FARNHAM of Penobscot moved the Senate ACCEPT the Majority OUGHT NOT TO PASS Report.

On motion by Senator ALFOND of Cumberland, supported by a Division of one-fifth of the members present and voting, a Roll Call was ordered.

THE PRESIDENT PRO TEM: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Oxford, Senator Patrick.

Senator PATRICK: Thank you Mr. President. Ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, colleagues and friends, I'm going to speak about not accepting the Majority Ought Not to Pass Report. The Ought Not to Pass Report is the wrong way to go on this because the bill actually does some good. It's a disclosure bill that would bring some light to a lot of these attack ads that come forward in the heat of campaign. Many times they are PACs, millionaires, billionaires, people who don't want their name to be disclosed, but they want to be able to use their constitutional right to say whatever they want to say. Well, I think the citizens of the state of Maine deserve a right to know who they are. I don't care how much money they spend or what they say, but they should be highlighted as to who is saying it. Preventing this bill to go forward prevents the ability for us to have that disclosure on electronic media, television, digital, and all electronic media. I think it does a disservice to the citizens of the state of Maine and all citizens who actually want to know who are the ones putting out these nasty ads. I would urge you to reject the Majority Ought Not to Pass Report so we can get into the weeds of the bill. Thank you.

THE PRESIDENT PRO TEM: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Cumberland, Senator Alfond.

Senator ALFOND: Thank you Mr. President. Ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, I'll be brief, but I find it a little bit ironic that yesterday we sat in this Chamber for a very long time talking about the Secretary of State and their duties to encourage more people to participate in voting and to ensure that our voting process is done fairly and accurately. Today, before us we have a bill to ensure that the voters actually know how money is being spent and then, when someone doesn't properly go and report how they spend things in a timely manner, to increase the fines. I find it just ironic that yesterday we spent a lot of time worrying about a study and today we're about to kill, potentially, a bill that ensures that the voters know who is putting negative advertising against us and then ensuring that when those people decide, these super PACs or leadership PACs or whoever, to run negative advertisement against all of the good Senators, potentially, in this room and others that want to be good Senators, that when you don't do it in a proper time you pay the fine. Everyone knows that you need to file it and we get all these disclosures and we get all these mailers and all these electronic pieces from the Ethics Commission. When you don't disclose it on time, you are upping the fines. I just find that very ironic that we can't have the consistency in this Body. Thank you, Mr. President.

THE PRESIDENT PRO TEM: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Aroostook, Senator Jackson.

Senator JACKSON: Thank you Mr. President. Ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, I just wanted to get up and ask: where is the transparency that we're all talking about? I've heard countless stories from members from both sides of the aisle about attack ads and how unfortunate it was and how it wasn't fair that you couldn't respond to the ads because you didn't even know where they came from. I think that now, since we've taken away any matching fund money that would come to help you try and find out who spent this money against you, it's even more appropriate that we should be able to at least know who's making these attacks. I find that many times whenever someone is being attacked, if you know who it is, it kind of makes sense to the voters. They understand why they are making these attacks and many times they just disregard them. I can't believe, in all this talk about transparency, that we're not going to make it so that people that are going to go out and say things about you that may or may not be true can't at least put who they are and what their name is so you can have some ability to respond. It amazes me that we can't allow that. I know that, in my time, I've tried very hard not to negatively attack anyone, but I won't say that I never was accused of not being negative. I will say that any time I did do anything that could have been thought of in that way, I put my name to it and let the chips fall where they were. This thinking that we should be able to allow people to spend money against us and then hide behind some bogus corporation or PAC or anything is kind of really disingenuous and hypocritical. If you're going to vote to kill this bill today, please don't talk about transparency any more this session.

Off Record Remarks

THE PRESIDENT PRO TEM: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Penobscot, Senator Plowman.

Senator PLOWMAN: Thank you Mr. President. Men and women of the Senate, if we could address L.D. 1262 I'd be glad to tell you what the bill was actually about. The bill adds nothing for more transparency. It changes nothing for more reporting. It doesn't demand any other action. All it does is increase the penalties for not providing the information that has been requested. It's not a transparency issue. It seems to be a revenue issue. If you'd like to read the bill, it is on-line. It's L.D. 1262 and it is the bill before us, that is being debated, not any other provisions. There is no lack of transparency. This was not brought to us by the commission to ask for more transparency. It was brought to us as a means of raising the fines and raising the fines in an incredibly stark manner. It has nothing to do, nothing to do, with lack of transparency. Please read the bill before you vote on it.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Cumberland, Senator Bartlett.

Senator BARTLETT: Thank you Mr. President. I have read the bill and I can assure you it has everything to do with transparency. I'll explain why. In the last election cycle we saw money flowing into the state from out-of-state by an entity that flagrantly violated our rules. They did so and simply paid a fine as part of the cost of doing business. They didn't disclose their spending on time, the way they are supposed to. They deliberately waited so that there was less chance for folks to respond. The idea of ramping up the penalties is to make sure there are real teeth so that people who come in and want to be involved in Maine's elections play by the rules and follow the law. If they are not going to follow the law, there should be a sufficient penalty to force them to do so in the future. This has everything to do with transparency. The current fines are so ridiculously low that you can simply factor them in as part of the cost of doing business. You can say, "We're going to run an ad. I know I'm supposed to disclose it, but I'm going to wait a week. I'll wait right up until Election Day, maybe even after Election Day, to report what I've done." Without that reporting there is no transparency. I don't think it's too much to ask the people who come into the state of Maine and influence elections to follow Maine's law. If they are not going to do it, let's make sure there is a real penalty for them. If you don't like the bill, there is an excellent Minority Report that we can go on to discuss which does far less. If what you are concerned about is the penalties, then fine. Let's defeat the current motion, go on to the Minority Report, and you'll find a good solution that makes sure that people understand how their money is being spent. Thank you, Mr. President.

THE PRESIDENT PRO TEM: The pending question before the Senate is the motion by the Senator from Penobscot, Senator Farnham to Accept the Majority Ought Not to Pass Report. A Roll Call has been ordered. Is the Senate ready for the question?

The Doorkeepers secured the Chamber.

The Secretary opened the vote.

Emergency Measure

An Act To Implement the Recommendations of the Department of Health and Human Services and the Maine Developmental Disabilities Council Regarding Respectful Language

THE PRESIDENT PRO TEM: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Kennebec, Senator McCormick.

Senator McCORMICK: Thank you Mr. President. Ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, today is an exciting day. You all received the People First Language brochure and pin on your desk today. People First Language promotes understanding, respect, dignity, and a positive view of people with disabilities. About 49 million Americans, one out of every five individuals, have some type of disability. About 25,000 Mainers have developmental disabilities. While the term "mental retardation" was at one time simply a medical diagnosis, the words "retard" and "retarded" are used increasingly in today's society in demeaning ways that perpetuate the stigma and negative stereotypes that face people with intellectual disabilities. Too many people do not recognize the hurtful, dehumanizing, and discriminatory effects of the words retard or retarded. When any of us use the words "retard" or "retarded" in a casual way to refer to an action as less than ideal, we make anyone with an intellectual disability who hears us feel less than human, whether we mean it that way or not. Think about the last time you heard someone referred to as "retarded". It has become commonly used to make fun of people and label behavior as clumsy, worthless, laughable, or even hopeless. Unfortunately, and whether intentionally or not, the "R" word also conjures up a painful stereotype of people with intellectual and other developmental disabilities. That stereotype is not in keeping with what persons with intellectual disabilities and their families and their advocates know to be true and are asking everyone to recognize. People with intellectual and other developmental disabilities have unique gifts and talents to contribute to their communities and deserve to be treated with dignity and respect.

L.D. 1845 is the culmination of five years of work that started with the first group who, in 2006, participated in the Disability Leadership Institute, a program offered by the Maine Developmental Disabilities Council. Representative Webster, of the other Body, introduced the bill in the next legislative session to begin the process of replacing outdated and inappropriate language regarding persons with disabilities in Maine's statutes and rules. The result was Resolve Chapter 62 passed in 2007, which created a respectful language work group to make recommendations for changes in terminology to be used in public documents. Subsequent legislation in 2008 and 2009 changed the name of the program providing services for persons with intellectual disabilities and autism to Adult Developmental Services and eliminated the terms "common drunkard", "lunatic", "mentally deranged", and "afflicted" from Maine statutes. The Revisor's Office also adopted the recommendations of the Respectful Language work group and incorporated them in the Maine Legislative Drafting manual. The significant change requested by individuals with disabilities, by self-advocates, the Maine Developmental Disabilities Council, Speaking Up for Us, and other advocacy organizations remained untouched until legislation sponsored by Senator Brannigan and passed in the last session directed the Department of Health and Human Services to work with the Maine Developmental Disabilities Council and the Revisor's Office to draft legislation ready for this session with the necessary changes to eliminate the "R" word from the approximately 400 places it appears in our statutes. That legislation is what is before us today and what self-advocates and families and others who advocate with them and on their behalf have been pushing for for more than five years.

By passing this bill we will remove the terms "mental retardation" and "mentally retarded" from all Maine statutes, with the exception of a few necessary references to current federal language in the Social Security Act and Medicaid.

In simple terms, "mental retardation" becomes "intellectual disability". A "mentally retarded person" becomes "a person with an intellectual disability". The "M.R. Waiver" becomes "the I.D. Waiver". The bill does not change any eligibility requirements for services or benefits or results in an expansion of services or benefits. This bill is one we can all be proud to cast a vote for and I hope you will join me in voting yes and wear your "Ban the R Word" pin with pride. We are doing the right thing with this legislation and taking an important step towards insuring that State laws reflect the respect and dignity due to every Mainer without regard to disability status. Mr. President, here with us, in the rear of the Chamber, are members from across the state; including self-advocates, parents of persons with developmental disabilities, representatives of non-profit organizations and state agencies who serve on the council with the self-advocates and parents and the Developmental Disabilities Council staff. Thank you, Mr. President.

THE PRESIDENT PRO TEM: The Chair would ask that guests identified please rise and accept the greetings of the Chamber. The Chair recognizes the Senator from Androscoggin, Senator Craven.

Senator CRAVEN: Thank you Mr. President. Men and women of the Senate, it is my honor to stand today as well in support of this bill. If you find little buttons on your desk with an "R", "Do Not R", it does not refer to a political party, although I thought it was in the beginning. I was going to wear it while I was campaigning. I will do that.

I'm going to read a few statements from the Disabilities Rights webpage. The first statement that is on their webpage says, "The difference between the right word and almost right word is the difference between lightning and a lightning bug, Mark Twain." The disabilities rights movement advocates for positive change in society. These changes include equal rights under the law and equal access to housing and employment. It could also mean improving how people with disabilities are talked about in places like the media or in everyday conversations. The use of language and words describing people with disabilities has changed over time. Imagine living your whole life always having to explain why the words that people use are hurtful or offensive to you. Teachers, co-workers, friends, and family. People need to know how the words and phrases they use make you feel. Many of us are brought up in homes in which we are the only person who has a disability. Maybe we haven't learned to think of ourselves or other people with disabilities, but many of us will actually develop a disability sometime in our lives or have a relative with a disability at some time in our lives.

Following Senator McCormick's suggestion of language not to use, I will outline that and then use language that we should use because we have to replace the language that we use with something else. Don't use the terms: handicapped, differently-abled, crippled, cripple, victim, retarded, stricken, poor, unfortunate, or special needs. Just because one has a disability it doesn't mean that he or she is courageous, brave, special, or a superhuman. People with disabilities are the same as everyone else. It's not unusual for someone with a disability to have talents, skills, and abilities. It is okay to use words and phrases such as: disabled, disability, or people with disabilities when talking about disability issues. Ask the people you are with which term they prefer if they have a disability. When talking about people without disabilities it is okay to say: people without disabilities. Do not refer to them as normal or healthy. These terms can make people with disabilities feel as though there is something the matter with them. Certainly we know that everybody is unique and special and offers all kinds of contributions to our community. I ask you all to celebrate the people that are here today who have worked through these issues to finally have a wonderful bill. Thank you, Mr. President.

THE PRESIDENT PRO TEM: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Cumberland, Senator Brannigan.

Senator BRANNIGAN: Thank you Mr. President. Men and women of the Senate, the issue is difficult to inculcate into our language. As someone who's worked with the, I can't even make the mistake anymore. I worked for many years with the mentally ill. Fortunately, I got trained to the point where I have a hard time not saying "people with mental illness". I think it takes a long time to incorporate this. People who have disabilities can teach us something through this language, something more. Think about how often you may abbreviate what could be hurtful. For example, my wife is a nurse, trained years ago. She said that on the floor in the hospital they often would say the gallbladder in 222. The person is not a gallbladder. That person is a person who has had a gallbladder operation. Maybe Mrs. So-and-So. You should think about how often we do that. If you do make a mistake and talk about the disability, just keep at it because you could get to a point where you can't say it with that person. Thank you, Mr. President.

THE PRESIDENT PRO TEM: The Chair wants to interrupt debate for just a moment to recognize a special guest of the Senator from Penobscot, Senator Plowman. Would Eric McVey in the back of the Chamber please stand and accept the greetings of the Maine Senate.

THE PRESIDENT PRO TEM: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Cumberland, Senator Brannigan.

Senator BRANNIGAN: Thank you Mr. President. As you can see, Eric is a special advocate and if you've ever been on Health and Human Services or in Appropriations, you get to know that. Eric is always prepared, always has his testimony written. It's always short, to the point, and he may call you up from time to time just to make sure you're thinking about the right things. Eric is from Bangor. He's still a good guy. He didn't come from Portland, but he's a good guy and we should be grateful having advocates like Eric.

THE PRESIDENT PRO TEM: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Washington, Senator Raye.

Senator RAYE: Thank you Mr. President. I rise very briefly to add my voice in support of this measure. We can all be very proud of the progress that is represented by the passage of this measure today. Back in the 123rd Legislature, I had the privilege of serving on the Health and Human Services Committee. This was already something that we were working towards to achieve the day when we would eliminate from statute terminology and names of programs that we now understand to be less than respectful. I think it's a measure of our progress as a society and it is a tribute to the tremendous work and advocacy of folks who have been introduced and represented here today and others who are not here today but have worked very hard to bring this to fruition. I congratulate the committee on their excellent work in seeing this through and I congratulate all those who have worked so hard to bring us to this day and their hard work to fruition. We are honored by their presence here and it is wonderful to see all Mainers afforded the dignity and respect which they deserve as fellow citizens.
