Merci Grand Dieu d'écouter et de recevoir avec entrain notre prière dite avec espoir et confiance.

God of Heaven and Earth, great God, bless this day devoted to the celebration of francophone presence in our State of Maine today. Please bless and sustain all efforts of those in the state who have the pride and the audacity to come and join every member associated with our mother country, France, and also those who have helped to flourish our heritage and our culture, Quebec and Acadia. We vouch our fidelity, we Franco-Americans, to our heritage, our culture, and our dear language so that all becomes a sign of ethnic values and our blazon of fidelity ever sewn in the hearts that wishes to never be cut off from our country. Please bless our State of Maine, those who govern, our Representatives, our Senators of this Legislature, as well as our worthy invited guests from France, Quebec, and Acadia, who show themselves to be honored witnesses of our affiliation with our fateful sources of the francophone world. May your benediction fall upon all of us as we celebrate with pride and dignity Franco-American Day of the State of Maine. And on our beloved state that dares to avow the proud presence of our Franco-American sisters and brothers and all those who join them with a fatefulness well recognized and appreciated. Thank you, God, for receiving our prayer with zeal and granting it as we offer to you with hope and confidence. Amen.

Senator ROTUNDO: Merci, Monsieur le President. I rise to recognize the many important contributions made to our state by our Franco-American population past and present. As Lewiston's Senator, I am so proud of our Franco-American population and so fortunate to count many of these wonderful people as friends. As the Joint Resolution states, one-third of Maine's population is of French and Canadian descent. Our state has benefited from the rich French-Canadian culture, work ethic, faith, and devotion to family in so many ways. I'm also pleased that we are able to celebrate Franco-American Day in person, after years of remote work during the COVID-19 pandemic. How wonderful it is to see all these smiling faces in the State House again and celebrate this day in person among our friends, as it should be. Thank you, Senator Lawrence, and everyone who made this day possible this year. I look forward to seeing many friends today and in counting -- and in the coming years on Franco Day as well. Thank you.

The Joint Resolution was READ.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Sagadahoc, Senator Vitelli.

Senator VITELLI: Thank you, Mr. President, Men and Women of the Senate. I rise today to speak in favor of the Joint Resolution that is before us. The promise of democracy is that every citizen has an equal voice in the governance of their country, state, and town. When each person is able to take part in democracy, bringing their own unique perspective, values, and experience, our lives become -- our laws, excuse me, become more representative of the people they're meant to serve. It was the pursuit of this promise that guided the women who attended the Seneca Falls Convention in 1848. This convention and the Declaration of Sentiments that came from it are largely considered to be the formal start of the women's suffrage movement; the fight for women to have an equal share in U.S. democracy. The Declaration of Sentiments opens with an echo of the Declaration of Independence: We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men and women are created equal. It goes on to enumerate the injustices that women had suffered up to that point as a direct result of being on unequal footing politically, economically, and socially. The women who met at the Seneca Falls Convention knew they had their work cut out for them. The work of democracy is just that - hard work. It is frequently unglamorous but always deeply necessary. On International Women's Day, it is fitting that we take time to reflect on the hard work of the early suffragettes in this country and elsewhere who fought to extend the rights and promise of democracy to women and other groups long excluded from self-government. Today, I have the privilege of serving in the Senate alongside 13 other women from both sides of the political aisle. Each of us brings our own experience and values to this Chamber and to our votes. Even as we disagree, we trust that each of us comes to the State House with a sense of duty to the constituents who are entrusting us to represent them. It's in this sharing of differing and diverse perspectives that our democracy is made stronger, and every day, as all of us here in this Chamber exercise our democratic duties, we serve as a beacon to men and women around the world who are also engaging - or trying to - in the arduous work of democratic self-governance, with the promise that it brings of liberty and justice for all. Thank you, Mr. President.

The Joint Resolution was ADOPTED, in concurrence.

The Honorable Troy D. Jackson, President of the Senate
The Honorable Rachel Talbot Ross, Speaker of the House
131st Legislature

Dear President Jackson and Speaker Talbot Ross:

Please accept this letter as a report of the findings of the Joint Standing Committee on Marine Resources from its review and evaluation of the Lobster Advisory Council under the State Government Evaluation Act, Title 3 of the Maine Revised Statutes, chapter 35.

The committee heard a presentation from the Lobster Advisory Council on February 1, 2024, and finds that the Council is operating within its statutory authority; however, we are recommending that, moving forward, the Lobster Advisory Council be removed from the list of agencies regularly scheduled for review under the State Government Evaluation Act. We make this recommendation because many of the requirements of the GEA are not germane to the Lobster Advisory Council's structure or work. The committee has proposed legislation to effectuate this change.

The Joint Order was READ.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Kennebec, Senator Pouliot.

Senator POULIOT: Good morning, Ladies and Gentlemen of the Senate. I am very pleased to have the opportunity to be standing before you today to commemorate the accomplishments of one highly determined young man who has brought a good deal to the table for Cony High School athletics in recent years. On Saturday, January 27th, with seven minutes to go in the second quarter of a match against Spruce Mountain, Parker Sergent threw up a three-pointer that would forever seal his position in the illustrious 1,000-point club for Maine high school basketball. This was an accomplishment that was a long time in the making, as Parker has been a steady contributor to the team ever since joining. Looking back to this athletic season alone, his performance across two sports more than speak for itself. He consistently appeared atop the leader board in the Kennebec Valley Athletic Conference in individual points per game for basketball and made equally impressive contributions on the football squad, where he set a Cony record for receptions with a whopping 76, along with 1,159 receiving yards and 14 touchdown receptions. For those among us less inclined with sports, I promise you, that is a lot. Also noteworthy is his previous recognition as a semi-finalist for the Fitzpatrick Award. The Cony squad at large for basketball got off to a rocky start early running this season, beginning with a one and six record. However, with the proper resilience and mindset, they rebounded to qualify for the number six seed in the Class A North MPA Basketball Tournament - an overall effort Parker and head coach TJ Maines were no doubt an essential part of. Parker is joined today by his mom, Vickie, who no doubt has played a huge role in propelling Parker to where he is today, and I likewise have no doubt how immensely grateful he is for that support. Congratulations, Parker, on this wonderful achievement.

The Joint Order was PASSED.

Sent down for concurrence.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair is very pleased to recognize in the rear of the chamber Parker Sergent; he's from Augusta and Cony High School. He's joined by his mother and he's the guest today of the Senator from Kennebec, Senator Pouliot, and the entire Maine Senate. Would he please rise and accept the greetings and congratulations of the Maine Senate.

The Joint Resolution was READ.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Cumberland, Senator Nangle.

Senator NANGLE: Thank you, Mr. President, and Distinguished Colleagues of the Senate. This week is AmeriCorps Week, as the Secretary just read. It's an opportunity to highlight the spirit of service that is so deeply woven into the fabric of our state. AmeriCorps is an organization that embodies this spirit, bringing together over 2700 Mainers of diverse backgrounds to address our most pressing challenges. From tutoring young Mainers to combating the opioid epidemic, from supporting our veterans to building resilience in our communities, AmeriCorps members and volunteers are all on the forefront of change in their communities. As we celebrate AmeriCorps Week, we extend our gratitude to these remarkable individuals and are inspired by their example. Their dedication is a vital part of Maine's community support system. As we recognize AmeriCorps members this week, let us also acknowledge the importance of other volunteers who work hard and contribute significantly to our state's wellbeing. Let's take this opportunity to reaffirm our commitment to civic engagement and volunteerism as cornerstones of a healthy democracy. Let's acknowledge the hard work, dedication, and patriotism of those who serve in volunteer roles, and always remember the powerful impact coming together for a common cause and let's encourage our constituents to follow in their footsteps and find ways to contribute, serve, and help build a brighter future for Maine. I'm proud to stand in support of this resolution and I thank you for your time.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Waldo, Senator Curry.

Senator CURRY: Thank you, Mr. President. I wanted to echo the praise and honor for the AmeriCorps members and the communities that host them and the organizations that host them. I have had the pleasure of working with AmeriCorps members for many years and it is a great joy. I stand mostly, though, to encourage my fellow colleagues here to think about AmeriCorps when you're faced with community challenges, when you're faced with organizations that have great ideas but they're stretching beyond their resources to achieve that mission, to look to the possibility of engaging AmeriCorps and engage them through reaching out through our -- the Maine Commission for Community Service, which is known in Maine as Volunteer Maine. And it's a great tool to think about as you're working at some of these really challenging local community level problems that maybe a full-time, full-year volunteer could really help your community. So, I encourage you to think about that. Thank you very much.

The Joint Resolution was ADOPTED.

The Joint Resolution was READ.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Aroostook, Senator Stewart.

Senator STEWART: Thank you very much, Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen of the Senate. I rise today to mourn, along with the countless families in Aroostook County whose lives she touched, the passing of Pat Collins. As you all just heard, her community involvement was very broad but also very deep. And she touched so many different individuals, children, families, and different segments of our community back home in the many, many, many hours that she gave back to varying community causes. I think the work that she did with children back home is very telling of the kind of caring mother who she was. I had the pleasure towards the end of her life to get to know her a little bit and, you know, there is nobody that could ever replace her in her service, and I think it's such a testament to someone when you think about, you know, legacy, and what does this mean for someone's life. And for me, the biggest legacy that Pat and Don, her late husband, left behind was that of her children. And yes, there is a certain Senior Senator from the State of Maine that we hear a lot about certainly in this Body and anybody that's politically involved knows about, but her other children as well - she had six - and 11 grandkids. And the involvement in the community that they have is a testament to the upbringing that Don and Pat provided their children and understanding of why it's so important to help your neighbors, to get involved in your community, to do good things with the abilities that you have. And yes, bake delicious treats, as she was very well known for. But that's really, I think, the legacy that Pat and Don leave behind is a very strong lineage of community involvement that we all benefit from in Aroostook County and, indeed, across the entire state. And so, to the members of the Collins family, our most sincere condolences on your loss and kind of the ending of an era and one generation but certainly know that we all appreciate all that your family has done for the State of Maine and will continue to do for the State of Maine and all of the good deeds that will be done because of the values that people like Pat and Don Collins cared about and made sure to impart the next generation and the one after that. So, with that, I appreciate the fact that this is a resolution that includes all of the Legislature, I think that's so important here, and I appreciate you, Mr. President, for that opportunity to do that. Just, you know, I think it's very fitting today that we recognize not only International Women's Day but Pat Collins because I think the two go very hand in hand. She was certainly a force back home in Aroostook County and across the entire state for doing good deeds and leaving a positive mark across so many different spectrums and in so many different homes and for so many different lives. So, Thank you, Mr. President, and again, our sincerest condolences to the Collins family.

The Joint Resolution was ADOPTED.

Bill READ ONCE.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Washington, Senator Moore.

Senator MOORE: Thank you, Mr. President. I just wanted to take an opportunity to say a few words about this important bill. The National Crime Information Center maintains a missing person file as well as an unidentified person file. The latter has been active since 1983. It includes records of deceased but unidentified people, living people who are unable to ascertain their own identities, and catastrophic victims who die in a catastrophe and whose identity cannot be confirmed due to bodily trauma. As of December 31, 2022, there were 8,450 unidentified people in the database, including 902 records entered in 2022. Of the 8,450 persons, 581 were unidentified remains, five were catastrophic victims, and 316 were living persons. In the State of Maine, the Chief Medical Examiner's Office is responsible or is the state clearinghouse for Maine's missing and unidentified people. They currently have 27 unidentified sets of human remains dating back to 1973. In the past five years, forensic genealogy was attempted on six individuals and resulted in two identifications. Unfortunately, their budget cannot manage the cost of using the technology on all of the remains. There is a fiscal note associated with this bill, the office estimates it would cost between $3,000-5,000 for a kit for testing, but that there may be documents for bulk services -- there may be discounts, excuse me, for bulk services. To get through the backlog of cases could cost about $100,000 and then after that, it would be 10,000-

15,000 per year ongoing. I think this is an important expenditure for the state to give families whose children or people have been unidentified. We had several of them come forth and talk with us in committee and it was very touching to know that this would be an important passing of this bill. Thank you, Mr. President.

Senator NANGLE of Cumberland moved the Senate ACCEPT the Majority OUGHT TO PASS AS AMENDED Report, in concurrence.

On motion by Senator STEWART of Aroostook, supported by a Division of one-fifth of the members present and voting, a Roll Call was ordered.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Aroostook, Senator Stewart.

Senator STEWART: Thank you, Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen of the Senate. There were a number of questions in caucus this morning brought up about trying to understand how there's no fiscal impact on -- according to what's posted online, the fiscal note says that this restructuring and new payment system that we're going to be operating under for boards and commissions can be absorbed, but I'm failing to understand adequately exactly why that is. And so, in an effort to try to just get some more information about what this bill does and which boards it would apply to, I think that would be a helpful resource to have if there's a list published available somewhere where that you can see where it's delineated, it would apply to this board but not this, I think that would be helpful in understanding what it is that they're trying to do here. So, Thank you, Mr. President.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Cumberland, Senator Nangle.

Senator NANGLE: Thank you, Mr. President. All this bill does is allows commissions of certain boards to receive much more reasonable reimbursement for lunch, for example. Members of the Maine EMS board only receive $5 for lunch, this would up that. There is no fiscal note because the department overseeing that would only reimburse those costs, those expenses, if the department overseeing that commission or board has the existing resources to fund those payments, and the payments are limited to our stipend.

On motion by Senator BENNETT of Oxford, TABLED until Later in Today's Session, pending motion by Senator NANGLE of Cumberland to ACCEPT the Majority OUGHT TO PASS AS AMENDED Report, in concurrence.

Off Record Remarks

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Cumberland, Senator Daughtry.

Senator DAUGHTRY: Thank you. Men and women of the Senate, I am proud to rise for my part of the Maine Senate celebration of Women's History Month. Today, I'm proud to rise and honor Maine astronaut Jessica Meir as part of our celebration. Many of you have heard me speak about my love of space, especially while working on the Maine Spaceport Corporation and its projects on Brunswick Landing and that's why I'm so excited today to talk about Jessica Meir. A Caribou native, she was the first Maine woman to travel to space as part of the first three all-female space walks and she spent 205 days there. She's currently training for a future mission to the moon, over half a century after the previous Apollo moon missions of the 1960s and 1970s. For these reasons and many more, it's no surprise that Jessica was named one of Time magazine's 100 Most Influential People of 2020, and was inducted into Maine Women's Hall of Fame in 2022. Growing up in Aroostook County, she often says her favorite place was her family cabin at Big Madawaska Lake. She talks about staring up at the night sky and dreaming of getting to walk in the stars. She began talking about her goal to become an astronaut when she was just in kindergarten, showing the importance of introducing STEM careers and ideas to Mainers of all ages and backgrounds, and I think a good reminder to get outside and look up. After Jessica graduated from high school, she studied biology at Brown University. She went on to earn a Master's degree in Space Studies from the Scripps Institution of Oceanography in San Diego and then she finally earned a Ph.D. studying high-flying bar-headed geese at the University of British Columbia. Fun fact, in one experiment Jessica trained a gaggle of goslings to fly in a wind tunnel while they wore masks and little backpacks with data monitoring equipment. I don't know how many of you have seen the movie Migration, but that's what I imagine when I think of those goslings sporting all of their outfits, flapping their wings into new uncharted lands. She continued to research the physiology of animals in extreme environments and she was an aquanaut, so under the ocean, on an exploration mission in Aquarius, an underground research library - a laboratory. I'm sure there was a library there too. Even with this impressive resume, it's hard to become an astronaut. Jessica tried three times, eventually becoming one of the eight people selected from a pool of 6,000 applicants to participate in the astronaut training program. She's an excellent example of why never to give up on your dreams and try, try again. In 2019, she traveled to the International Space Station, making 3,280 orbits of the Earth and traveling 86.9 million miles and during this time she did work alongside fellow Maine astronaut, Chris Cassidy, on the space station for eight days. In 2020, she was selected for the Artemis Team, a group of eight astronauts focused on training efforts for missions to the moon. Can you imagine: we going to put a Mainer on the moon. I also just want to say that I'm particularly grateful to be standing here today and talking about amazing Maine women as my niece, Adalise, and Jamie are here today and I know that Adalise is already thinking about what she might want to become someday. Maybe a nurse like her mother, a State Senator like me, or whatever she dreams of. One day she could walk on my footsteps in this Chamber or maybe Jessica's or on the surface of the moon. The women we're featuring this month, I think, show that Maine women can do anything they put their mind to. Jessica, you made the entire state of Maine so proud. We are a small state full of close-knit communities, so we all like to celebrate the Mainers who accomplish big things, and when Jessica blasts into space, hopefully to the moon, she carries the entire state with her. We have a bold, adventurous spirit in Maine and she captures this great tradition moving forward. Thank you.
