Orders of the Day

The SPEAKER: The Chair will take this opportunity to state to the members—to urge the members—to introduce into this Legislature as early as possible all bills and resolves which they intend to introduce. The Legislature is now ready to function but cannot function until there is something for it to act upon. If the bills and resolves can be introduced early in the session it means much in the way of expediting public business, and renders far easier a thorough consideration of the measures which are introduced, making the matters considered carefully instead of hastily. It is the duty of the members in so far as possible to impress this fact upon their constituents. If the practice of previous Legislatures should be adopted the time for introducing private bills and resolves would probably close some time the latter part of next month and public bills about the tenth of March. Early action is most important.

Paper from the Senate received out of order, and disposed of in concurrence.

Mr. INGRAHAM of Bangor: Mr.

Speaker, I find parked in my coat pocket a fountain pen, and not wishing to be accused of being a kleptomaniac, I would like to return same to the owner.

The SPEAKER: The House thanks the gentleman, and the owner will govern himself accordingly.

On motion by Mr. Powers of Caribou

Adjourned until Tuesday afternoon, January 15, at 4.30 o'clock.
