Communications

MAINE DEVELOPMENT COMMISSION

Everett F. Greaton,
Executive Secretary
State House, Augusta, Maine.

January 5, 1945

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the 92nd Legislature:

The Maine Development Commission transmits, herewith, its final report on Post War Planning.

The Maine Development Commission was directed by the 91st Legislature to "cooperate with the various departments of the state, the Federal government or any of its agencies, the municipalities of this state, or private agencies within this state in developing and coordinating long-range plans for post war activities, and shall report to the next special or regular session of the legislature on its activities under this section."

The report covers these activities.

Very truly yours,
EVERETT F. GREATON,
Executive Secretary.

(S. P. 27)

On motion by Miss Clough of Penobscot communication and accompanying report were tabled pending reference to a Committee.

Mr. NOYES of Hancock: Mr. President I ask unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Unanimous consent being granted, Senator Noyes addressed the Senate as follows:

Mr. NOYES: Mr. President and members of the Senate, I note the presence in this Chamber today of a young man who has won renown and fame throughout the United States by his alertness which is a typical characteristic of all American boys. This young man is a young man by the name of Harvard Hodgkins from Hancock Point,

Maine, which I am proud to represent here in this Body and it is my special privilege to present him here to you people today. Thank you.

The PRESIDENT: The Chair will request the Senator from Hancock, Senator Noyes to conduct the gentleman to a place at the rostrum.

(Applause, the members rising.)

The PRESIDENT: In behalf of the Maine Senate it is my privilege and I am proud to be able to welcome you in the Senate and invite you to occupy a seat at my left as long as you care to stay.
