2. He shall preserve decorum and order ; may speak to points of order in preference to other Members, shall decide all questions of order, subject to an appeal to the House, on motion regularly seconded ; and may vote in all cases.

3. He shall declare all votes ; but if any member doubt the vote, the Speaker shall order a return of the House, with the number voting for and against the question, and declare the result.

8. He shall consider a motion to adjourn as always first in order, and it shall be decided without debate.

9. He shall put the previous question in the following form, "Shall the main question be now put?" and all amendment or further debate of the main question shall be suspended until the previous question shall be decided, and the previous question shall not be put unless one third of the Members present are in favor of it.

11. All committees, except such as the House shall, from time to time determine to select by ballot, shall be nominated by the Speaker, unless a majority of Members shall be in favor of a nomination by the House, in which case the nomination shall be made by the House.

19. No Member shall speak out of his place without leave of the Speaker, nor without first rising and addressing the Speaker; and he shall sit down as soon as he is done speaking.

20. No Member shall interrupt another while speaking, except to call to order, or to correct a mistake.

21. No Member shall speak more than twice to one question, without having first obtained leave of the House; nor more than once, until the other Members who have not spoken, shall speak, if they desire it.

22. When a motion is made and seconded, it shall be received and considered by the House, and not otherwise; and no Member shall be permitted to lay a motion in writing on the table, until he shall have read the same in his place, and the same shall have been seconded; and no new bill or resolve of a public nature shall be received, except it be reported by a committee, unless the House otherwise order.

23. No Member shall nominate more than one person for one committee, provided the person nominated by him be chosen.

30. When any Member shall be guilty of a breach of any of the Rules and Orders of the House, and the House has determined he has so transgressed, he shall not be allowed to vote or speak, unless by way of excuse for the same, until he has made satisfaction.

31. No Member shall be permitted to vote in any question where his private right, distinct from public interest, is immediately concerned.
