RULES AND ORDERS

OF THE

SENATE OF MAINE,

1844.

RULES AND ORDERS.

1. The president shall take the chair at the time to which the senate stands adjourned ; but in case the president shall be absent, the secretary shall preside until a president pro tem. be chosen.

2. When the senate are called together in the morning, on the appearance of a quorum, the journal of the preceding day shall be read.

3. The president shall have the right to name a senator to perform the duties of the chair during his absence ; but such substitution shall not extend beyond an adjournment.

4. The president may read sitting, but he shall rise to put a question. He shall declare all votes ; but if any senator doubt the vote, all those voting in the affirmative, when called upon by the president, shall rise and stand until they are counted, and also all those in the negative in like manner, to make the vote certain.

5. The president shall consider a motion to adjourn as always first in order, and it shall be decided without debate.

6. A motion when seconded, and not before, shall be received and considered. It shall be reduced to writing and laid on the table, if desired by the president, or any senator, and shall then be deemed to be in possession of the senate, to be disposed of by the senate; but the mover may withdraw it, at any time before a decision or an amendment be made to it.

7. When the president speaks, he shall address the board. When a senator speaks, he shall stand in his place and address the president, and when done speaking shall sit down.

8. The president, when he speaks to any member of the board, and the members when referring to each other in debate, shall use in their address the title of senator, and by way of distinction name the county in which he resides.

9. The president shall name the person to speak, when more than one rise for that purpose at the same time; but in all cases, the senator who shall rise first and address the chair, shall speak first.

10. No member shall speak more than once to the same question, to the prevention of any other who desires to speak and has not spoken, nor more than twice without first obtaining leave of the board, if any senator objects.

11. No senator shall interrupt another while speaking, except to call to order, or to correct a mistake in point of fact.

12. No new motion or proposition shall be received under color of amendment, as a substitute for the motion, or question under debate.

13. When a question is under debate, no motion shall be received, but to adjourn, to lie on the table, to commit, to amend, to postpone to a day certain, or to postpone indefinitely; which several motions shall have precedence in the order they stand arranged.

14. An amendment proposed may be amended before it is adopted, but not afterwards, except the vote adopting it be first reconsidered.

15. When a motion has been made and carried, it shall be in order for any member of the majority to move for a reconsideration thereof, on the same or succeeding day.

16. Questions of order may be debated, like other questions, and shall be decided by the president, subject to an appeal to the board on motion thereof regularly made and seconded.

17. A question containing two or more propositions capable of division, shall be divided whenever desired by any member.

18. In filling up blanks, the largest sum and longest time shall be put first.

19. When the reading of a paper is first called for, and the same is objected to by any senator, it shall be determined by a vote of the senate.

20. Every paper shall be once read at the table, before any senator shall be obliged to vote on it, but when the reading of a paper is called for, that has been before read to the senate, if any senator object, the question shall be determined by the senate.

21. All bills and resolves in the second reading shall be committed to the committee on bills in the second reading, to be by them examined, corrected, and so reported to the senate.

22. Upon the second reading of a bill or resolve, after the same shall be read through, and before the question is put upon its passage, it shall be read and considered by paragraphs, at the request of any member of the board; and no bill or resolve shall have a second reading, unless a time, not less than one hour, be assigned therefor.

23. No bill or resolve shall be passed to be engrossed, without being twice read; and all bills and resolves, immediately after the same shall have been passed to be engrossed, shall be committed to the committee on engrossed bills, whose duty shall be to examine the same, and to see that the same have been truly engrossed; and before any bill shall pass to be enacted, it shall be reported by the committee for the examination of engrossed bills, to be truly and correctly engrossed, and the title thereof read by the president.

24. No resolve of any kind, or order making any grant of money, lands or other public property, shall be finally passed without being twice read; nor shall such resolve or order have a second reading, unless a time, not less than one hour, be assigned therefor; and before any such resolve or order shall finally pass, it shall be reported by the committee for the examination of engrossed bills, to be truly copied from the original, and the title thereof read by the president.

25. Eleven o'clock on each day, Mondays and Saturdays excepted, shall be assigned for the consideration of public acts, and business of a general character, which shall have precedence of all business of a private or special nature.

26. When the yeas and nays are taken, the names of the senators shall be called alphabetically.

27. After a question is put to vote, no senator shall speak on it, but every senator who may be at the senate board, shall vote, unless excused by the board, or excluded by interest.

28. The unfinished business, in which the senate was engaged at the time of the last adjournment, shall have preference in the orders of the day.

29. No engrossed bill or resolve shall be sent to the house, without notice thereof being given to the senate by the president.

30. Every member who shall present a petition, shall place his name thereon, and briefly state its subject.

31. All confidential communications made by the governor to the senate, shall be by the members thereof kept inviolably secret until the senate shall by their resolution take off the injunction of secrecy.

32. No rule shall be dispensed with, except by the consent of two thirds of the members present.

33. Any member of the senate may exchange seats on consulting the president and obtaining his permission.

34. No member shall absent himself from the senate, without leave, unless there be a quorum left present at the board.

35. All committees shall be nominated by the president, (except when it may be determined that the election shall be by ballot,) and appointed by the board.
