INSURANCE LEGISLATION OF 1878.

An act to amend chapter one hundred and eighty-five of the public laws of eighteen hundred and seventy-seven, relating to Life Insurance.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in Legislature assembled, as follows:

Section one of chapter one hundred and eighty-five of the public laws of eighteen hundred and seventy-seven, is hereby amended by changing the words "single endowment," in the twenty-eighth line, to 'simple endowment,' and by striking out the last clause in said section after the word "aforesaid," in the thirty-fifth line, so that said section, as amended, shall read as follows:

'SECT. 1. Every policy of life insurance issued on and after the first day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-seven, by any company chartered by the authority of this state, which may be forfeited for non-payment of premiums, including all notes given for premiums or interest thereon, after it shall have been in force three full years, and which shall not contain provision for a surrender value at least equivalent to the value arising under the terms of this act, shall, nevertheless, be continued in force to an extent, and for a period of time to be determined as follows: to wit: The net value of the policy, when the premium becomes due and is not paid, shall be ascertained according to the combined experience, or actuaries' rate of mortality, with interest at four per centum per annum; after deducting from three-fourths of such net value any indebtedness to the company, or notes held by the company against the insured, which notes, if given for premium, shall then be cancelled, what remains shall be considered as a net single premium of temporary insurance, and the term for which it will insure shall be determined according to the age of the party at the time of the lapse of the policy, and the assumptions of mortality and interest aforesaid; but if the policy shall be an endowment, payable at a certain time, or at death, if it should previously occur, then, if what remains, as aforesaid, shall exceed the net single premium of temporary insurance for the balance of the endowment term for the full amount of the policy, such excess shall be considered as a net single premium or simple endowment payable only at the same time as the original endowment, and in case the life insured survives to such time; and the amount thus payable by the company shall be determined according to the age of the party at the time of the lapse of the policy, and the assumptions of mortality and interest aforesaid.'

Approved February 13, 1878.

An act additional to chapter forty-nine of the Revised Statutes, relating to Life Insurance.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in Legislature assembled, as follows:

No life insurance company organized or incorporated under the laws of this state, shall be permitted to reinsure its risks except by permission of the insurance commissioner; but nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent any life insurance company from reinsuring a fractional part, not exceeding one-half of any individual risk.

Approved February 15, 1878.

An act in addition to chapter forty-nine of the revised statutes, in relation to Life Insurance.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in Legislature assembled, as follows:

No bill in equity, or other proceedings for the appointment of a receiver of a domestic life insurance company, or to wind up its affairs, shall be maintained by any other person than the insurance commissioner. If it shall appear to the commissioner that the assets of any such company are less than its liabilities, reckoning the net value of its policies according to the combined experience or actuaries' rate of mortality, with interest at six per centum per annum, he shall suspend the right of such company to do business, and apply to a justice of the supreme judicial court to proceed as provided in the forty-eighth section of chapter forty-nine of the revised statutes; but if it shall appear that the assets are greater than its liabilities, computed as aforesaid, such proceedings shall not be commenced, or, if commenced, they shall be dismissed, and the company allowed to resume the transaction of business.

Approved February 20, 1878.

SAFETY AND IMPORTANCE OF LIFE INSURANCE.

During the past two years much anxiety has been felt by the policy-holders of the life insurance companies of the country, as to their ability to meet their financial promises and liabilities in the future.

Life insurance companies have been most bitterly and persistently assailed by that class known as insurance wreckers, whose chief object is to create distrust, and in the end break down the companies, hoping to fatten on the spoils, as the wreckers of another class hope to profit by the broken vessel and cargo, stranded upon the rocky coast, guided by the false lights they have built, to lure the unsuspecting mariner on to sure destruction.

The history of life insurance will prove that for safety no business in the past has ever exceeded it. It is true that life insurance companies have failed in business, sometimes caused by mismanagement, and sometimes by dishonesty, but the same thing is almost constantly occurring in all other kinds of business. We should not think of giving up the business of manufacturing for the reason that occasionally an unworthy officer proves recreant to his trust and appropriates large sums of money to his own use. We should not think of abandoning the municipal government, either town or city, simply because millions of dollars have been stolen from the treasury, as in New York, or less sums, as so frequently have been stolen in other cities and municipalities. We should not condemn the principle of organizing Banks in which the people can deposit their earnings, for the reason that the managers of many of the Savings Banks in this country have invested the funds of the banks in real estate and bonds that have depreciated so much as to cause the institutions to lose many millions of dollars.

Neither should we lose confidence in the principles and financial stability of life insurance companies, for the reason that occasionally the managers prove recreant to their trust or that mistakes are sometimes made in the investment of the funds committed to their care. Not a year passes but we hear of many failures, both large and small, not only in the mercantile community, but in all other kinds of business. In fact it is true that no class of business is exempt from failures and heavy losses. We do not condemn the business, but we usually attribute the failures to incompetency, mismanagement or dishonesty.

The business of life insurance is of vital importance to the community, and should not suffer reproach or be condemned on the account of the few incompetent or dishonest men placed in management of the same, any more than should either kind of business, heretofore named, for the same cause.

Many of the life companies have been doing business for a long term of years, meeting every promise with fidelity, and from the most exhaustive examinations recently made, have proved themselves as responsible and able to meet their liabilities as any institutions of the country.

The business of life insurance has suffered recently with all other business interests of the country, but it is hoped that we have seen the worst of it, and that a revival of all our business interests has already commenced, that will lead us on to permanent prosperity.

Let those who are not insured hasten to secure a policy, for as large an amount as they can carry, in some reliable life insurance company. Let those whose lives are now insured hold on to their policies, feeling assured that no investments they can make will prove safer or more remunerative to their families, when they are called away, than those made in good life insurance companies.

We insure our buildings, vessels and merchandise; our cattle, sheep and horses. We insure against accidents while at home and on the journey. With equal wisdom should every man have an insurance on his life, and then in these days of financial depression and business failures, if suddenly called away from those we love, the assurance will be given us that we are not leaving them to battle in the future with penury and distress.
