REPORT.

LAND OFFICE, December 1, 1880.

To the Honorable Governor and Council:

In compliance with the law, the undersigned Land Agent has the honor to make the annual report of the operations of the Land Department for the year ending November 30, 1880.

During the past year, the office was held by Hon. I. R. Clark, from December 1, 1879, to February 27, 1880. This report covers the year, including nearly three months that the office was held by Mr. Clark.

SALES AND CONVEYANCES OF LAND.

The sales of land are now limited to small quantities, as the previous sales have included all that were at that time intended for sale, except to settlers on compliance with the law regulating the sale and settlement of lands for settlement. There are scattering lots in several of the townships "reserved for settlement" that will probably revert to the State, by reason of non-performance of "settling duties," and consequently will be in the market again. Many of these lots have been greatly damaged by fires, set by the settlers in clearing their lands, thereby rendering them ordinary lots for settlement. Some lots have been abandoned as unfit for farms, after having been occupied for a few years and a small clearing made. One feature of the last named class is the absence of timber and the presence of stumps.

The conveyances of land the past year have been smaller than usual, owing, largely, to the legislation of 1879, giving settlers their deeds upon paying thirty-five cents per acre for their lands, and waiving all other settling duties. It may be questioned whether such legislation will accomplish the object aimed at: promotion of the settlement of the public lands; or whether lands would not be bought at the price above named, and kept from settlement, for the timber growing on them.

Schedules A, B, C and D, will exhibit the number of acres and location of lands conveyed. Schedule E shows the amount of land under contract to be conveyed when settling duties are performed. Some of these settlers have lost their land certificates, others claim that theirs have been burned with their buildings, others have given a claim on their certificates, either by assignment or mortgage, to raise funds to erect buildings, so that their cases are somewhat complicated, and require careful investigation, to do justice to all parties interested.

ISLANDS.

There are repeated calls for information in relation to the titles to islands on our coast, and it is not unfrequently somewhat difficult to give the information sought. A list of islands sold by Maine and Massachusetts, is published with this report, that will give the information sought, in many instances. On account of the almost numberless islands on our coast, it has been found difficult to ascertain the number belonging to the State, so that they might be placed in the market. The only way that now appears feasible, is to act on each application as it is presented.

RESERVED LOTS.

The care and oversight of the "Public Lots," reserved by the States of Maine and Massachusetts, in their various conveyances of wild lands in Maine, still require no little time and attention of the Land Agent. The "right to cut timber and grass on lands reserved for public uses, until the said township or tract shall be incorporated into a Town or organized into a Plantation, and no longer," has been sold in nearly or quite all the townships and tracts of land in the State. The Supreme Court has decided that an organization for election purposes, is an "organization into a plantation" within the meaning of the statute, and consequently terminates the right to cut "timber and grass" under the sale above mentioned.

The duty devolves upon the Land Agent to look after those lands until the plantations are incorporated into towns, when the guardianship of the State ceases. It is the duty of the Land Agent to collect all moneys due for "timber and grass" sold, and see that no trespassing is allowed. In several townships organized for election purposes, the purchasers of the "right to cut timber and grass until the said township or tract shall be incorporated into a town or organized into a plantation and no longer" have continued to cut timber under the sale, claiming that the organization was illegal. That claim, in many cases, has proved to be valid. In other cases there are grave doubts about the validity of the organization, requiring careful investigation before commencing suits to recover the value of timber cut. In cases of the latter description, the plantation authorities think, as a matter of course, their organization is legal, for they vote every year, and their votes are "counted in." Consequently, the Land Agent is frequently importuned to allow the use of his name in a suit at law to recover pay for timber cut since the alleged organization of the plantation. The fact that suits at law must be commenced in the name of the Land Agent, and no one else, renders him entirely responsible. It would not be strange if he should err, either in his anxiety to protect the rights of the plantation, on the one hand, or to avoid the expense of a doubtful law-suit, on the other.

ARCHIVES AND RECORDS.

The attention of the Legislature has been frequently called to the importance of preserving the records, plans, and field notes, in the Land Office. They are of great value to the citizens of this State. An erroneous idea prevails, to a certain extent, that these records are useful to the citizens of the eastern and northeastern portion of the State only. Such is not the fact. They date back to the close of the "revolutionary war," and relate to the surveys and conveyances of land in all parts of the State. The State of Maine is the custodian of these documents and records, and cannot avoid the obligation to care for and protect them in such condition that they may be accessible to those seeking information that can be obtained nowhere else. It would appear that the State stands in the same relation to them that the county does to the registry of deeds, and is in duty bound to keep them where they can be reached at all times. These documents are, in many cases, the only evidence of the facts they contain, and repeated calls are made for them, to settle titles to lands, depending upon the old surveys. The erroneous idea has prevailed, to a certain extent, that it is not necessary to have deeds from the State recorded in the county registries; hence these old records are the only evidence of the first conveyances, where, as in numerous instances, the original deed is lost.

It would appear not improper here to mention the valuable services rendered to the State by the Honorable P. P. Burleigh, a former Land Agent, in collecting and arranging these old deeds, plans, and field notes of surveys, so that they are in condition for public examination. It may not be out of place to mention here the valuable service rendered to the State by the Hon. A. W. Paine of Bangor, in assisting Mr. Burleigh in obtaining from the State of Massachusetts the maps, charts, field notes and copies of deeds connected with the early surveys and conveyances of lands in Maine.

There is another old citizen of this State, now leaning on his staff, that deserves honorable mention in connection with the Land Department. Reference is here made to the Hon. Noah Barker, formerly Land Agent, and for several decades a prominent surveyor of the State lands. He has "made his mark," not always where the multitude could see it, but, nevertheless, has made it where it will be a guide to "future generations." He has left good evidence in the forests of Maine, that a bark-er has been there. He has now "passed his three score and ten," and were it not for his exposure during his faithful and earnest labors in the interest of the State, his "form now bent" might be erect, "and his step elastic." His labors in connection with this Department can not be over-estimated.

CYRUS A. PACKARD,
Land Agent.

*These islands are held under titles derived from the DeGregorie Grant.

†Conveyed in lots to settlers by Maine and Massachusetts in separate deeds and at different times.

‡It appears by the plan of this island that 164 acres were conveyed to George Chilcott of which no record can be found in the land office.

†This island was conveyed by Massachusetts to Cotton Tufts, Feb. 7, 1787. Tufts conveyed to Richard Hunnewell and Hunnewell re-conveyed to Mass.
