REPORT.

To the Honorable the Governor and

Executive Council of the State of Maine:

The State Bank Examiner has the honor to herewith present the Twenty-Fifth Annual Report :

In compliance with law, each savings institution in the State has been visited and a careful and thorough examination made of its affairs. These examinations commenced the 14th day of May, and the last occurred the 1st day of November, nearly all the time intervening having been occupied in the discharge of this duty.

The abstract of each examination is made a part of this report, and gives a correct statement of the investment of every dollar deposited in the savings banks of Maine, at the time of the examination.

BANKS WITH DEPOSIT ACCOUNTS REDUCED.

Of the thirteen savings banks whose deposit accounts were reduced in 1877 and 1878, the following named have realized a larger sum from the assets then held by them, than the value estimated by the Court at the date of the decree, and have restored to the credit of depositors the per cent. here stated, viz :

Androscoggin County, reduction 20 per cent. ; restored 10 per cent.

Auburn,	“	15	“	“	10	“
Bangor,	“	30	“	“	30	“
Bridgton,	“	25	“	“	27	“
Calais,	“	25	“	“	15	“
Dexter,	“	50	“	“	50	“
Franklin County,	“	25	“	“	25	“
Skowhegan,	“	25	“	“	12½	“

Nearly all of these banks will be able to restore the full amount of the reduction within one year, and depositors will sustain less loss than individuals who made private investments, just prior to the shrinkage of values following the panic of 1873.

It is expected that a final settlement will soon be made of the affairs of these two banks.

WISCASSET SAVINGS BANK.

This bank has been under an injunction since June, 1879. In April last the Court so far modified this, as to permit the payment to depositors of a dividend of two per cent. from the earnings which had accrued the six months preceding. At the October term, the Court again authorized the payment of two per cent. from the earnings since April.

The amount due depositors October 13th, was $95,456.34. At that time a careful examination was made, and by an estimation of the value of the resources of the bank, it was ascertained that it had a surplus above all liabilities of $17,317.98, after paying the October dividend of two per cent. Under these circumstances the only justifiable ground for asking a continuation of the injunction until April next is, that a solution of the financial difficulties of the town of Wiscasset is in progress, and if successfully concluded will enable the bank to protect its depositors from the unnecessary loss which might be precipitated by some temporary interruption in the execution of the plans of the syndicate, now refunding the debt of the town.

DEPOSITS.

During the year 1878 the deposits of the savings banks decreased .....	$3,725,320
In 1877 the decrease was .....	186,363
In 1880 there was an increase of .....	1,968,183
The present year there has been a net increase of $2,900,-180.81, as appears by the abstract from the report of treasurers, made on the seventh day of November, and the total amount of deposits that date was $26,474,554.97.

RESERVES.

The aggregate of the reserved fund held by the banks
 November 3d, 1879, was..... $519,721 98
 November 1st, 1880, it amounted to..... 607,629 63
 November 7th, 1881, it amounted to..... 871,015 33

DIVIDENDS.

The fifty-five savings banks have during the present year declared the following dividends :

One .....	6	per cent.
Thirteen .....	5	“ “
One.....	4 $\frac{3}{4}$	“ “
Three.....	4 $\frac{1}{2}$	“ “
Two.....	4 $\frac{1}{4}$	“ “
One.....	4 $\frac{1}{8}$	“ “
Thirty-three.....	4	“ “
One .....	3 $\frac{3}{4}$	“ “

The aggregate amount of these dividends was $1,006,493.35.

INVESTMENTS.

The business prosperity of the country has had its effect upon all kinds of property, and the prices of stocks and bonds have been stimulated to an extent which has restrained managers of savings banks from making purchases sufficiently large to absorb the increasing deposits.

The value of securities suitable for these institutions has generally been fixed on a basis to yield the purchaser but 4 per cent. interest.

It has seemed somewhat hazardous to pay 20 per cent. premium for a 6 per cent. bond having ten years to run, as a demand for money sufficient to cause a permanent return to this old standard rate would shrink its value to par and the premium would be lost.

It may be well to here call the attention of depositors to the fact that the surplus above liabilities, appearing in the abstract of examinations, is largely composed of premiums, devoid of power to earn and sure to be swept out of existence with a strong and steady demand for money at 6 per cent. interest.

The estimation of the value of the resources of a bank, in the published statement of its standing and condition, is to inform those concerned therein, what would be the value of their "deposit book" should the bank close business and convert its securities into cash the day of the examination. It is not intended as a basis for comparison of relative strength between different banks; nor can it be, as the examinations occupy half the year and a fluctuating market or the changes occurring every day by the purchase or sale of the securities, render apparent the inaccuracy of such comparison.

STATE TAX.

The Legislature in 1875 authorized a State tax of one per cent. on the deposits of savings banks. At that time first class securities, bearing 7 per cent. interest, were available at their par value. The aggregate amount of State tax paid by the savings banks the present year was $174,226.04. It is a question worthy the consideration of the Legislature, whether it is good economy to continue a rate of taxation equal to twenty-five per cent. of the earnings of the banks, the effect of which is to obstruct the growth of deposits.

In Massachusetts, savings bank deposits have been taxed  $\frac{3}{4}$  of one per cent., but at its last session the General Court reduced the rate to  $\frac{1}{2}$  of one per cent.

It is obvious that should the present conditions continue for a few years, until the old securities now held by the banks mature, the net earnings will hardly reach three per cent., and the result will probably be that depositors will close their accounts, and the twenty-seven millions of deposits will become so scattered that they will afford little revenue to the State Treasury.

If, on the contrary, the State should pursue a policy tending toward the accumulation of these savings of the people, the amount of revenue would not be diminished by a reasonable modification of the rate of taxation.

RESPONSIBILITY AND DUTY OF TRUSTEES AND OFFICERS.

It has generally been understood that trustees of savings institutions are not personally liable, except for fraud, for losses from injudicious investments. The New York Court of Appeals has, however, recently rendered a decision to the contrary, and the opinion declares that in order to exempt trustees of a savings bank from personal liability, they must not only have acted honestly and within their lawful powers, but also must have used proper prudence and diligence. They are not bound to exercise the highest degree of care and diligence, but neither is it proper to say that they are only bound to exercise slight care or such as inattentive persons would give to their own business. When one deposits money in a savings bank, he has a right to expect that the trustees will exercise ordinary care and prudence; the same degree of care and prudence that men prompted by self-interest generally exercise in their own affairs. Whoever accepts the office of trustee, undertakes to bring to the performance of his duties that degree of care and skill which ordinarily prudent persons devote to affairs of the same nature; and if he fails to do so, and the property of depositors is lost in consequence, he may be held personally liable.

The statutes of Maine so clearly define the authorized investment of the deposits of its savings banks, that trustees can hardly incur personal liability through lack of knowledge. If the field for investment is too narrow, it would require but slight effort on the part of managers of these institutions, to convince the Legislature that the public funds of Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, New Jersey and Wisconsin, are of as unquestionable value as those of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Missouri. Some of the provisions of our law regulating investments may not be wise, but so long as they remain unchanged let us conform to them.

It has been the custom of many of the treasurers of savings banks to make a trial balance of their "individual ledger," once or twice each year, and in conformity to a suggestion contained in the last report of the Bank Examiner, several others have adopted this rule the present year. The importance of this suggestion cannot be too strongly urged, as it must be apparent to any accountant that no satisfactory examination could be made, either by the Examiner or by trustees, unless the aggregate amount of balances due depositors, as shown by their individual accounts, is proved to agree with the account of deposits appearing on the general ledger.

GENERAL CONDITION.

The record made by the savings banks of Maine in 1881 is highly satisfactory. The increase of deposits has been large and almost wholly composed of small sums. The Reserved Fund, the sheet-anchor upon which depositors must depend to save them from loss when financial panics prevail, has nearly doubled within the last two years. There is no competition between the different banks in regard to dividends, but a gratifying emulation to increase in strength, is manifested. Loans on mortgages of real estate have steadily decreased, indicating that our people are getting out of debt, thus making an important advance in the direction of prosperity.

The beneficent work of savings banks is, not only to establish habits of economy and thrift, but the accumulated savings of the people, handled with the skill and integrity which characterizes the management of these institutions in our State, are productive of magnificent results in developing and operating the business enterprises upon the prosecution of which many of these depositors depend for employment; while if the deposits were distributed among the ninety thousands of depositors, they would become practically unproductive.

It has been held by the managers of a few of the savings banks, that loans on "names alone" were within the law. In order that trustees may not incur personal liability, through an erroneous construction of the statute regulating loans, the conclusive opinion of the Attorney General upon this subject is herewith published.

The Examiner wishes to express his thanks to the officers of the several banks for their prompt response to all inquiries, and for the courtesy extended him at his visits for purposes of examination.

STATE OF MAINE.

BANK EXAMINER'S OFFICE, }
 Rockport, Nov. 17, 1881. }

Dear Sir: Will you please inform me whether under the statutes regulating the investment of deposits, the trustees of savings banks are authorized to make loans to individuals, without other securities than indorsers on the note.

Very respectfully yours.

 Attorney General of Maine.

STATE OF MAINE.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
 Portland, Nov. 19, 1881. }

Hon. FRED E. RICHARDS, Bank Examiner :

Dear Sir: In response to your communication of the 17th, relating to the authority of trustees of savings banks in making certain loans, I beg leave to state.

The Act of 1877 to revise and consolidate the laws relating to the government, powers, duties, privileges and liabilities of savings banks, made certain restrictions as to the investment of the funds or deposits of the various institutions, and prescribed the conditions upon which loans might be made. The amendment adopted in 1878 applied to the loan of money. Under the various statutes the banks are authorized to loan on first mortgages of real estate situated in this State, subject to certain conditions; to counties, cities and towns; also on notes with a pledge as collateral of certain securities. The banks may also loan to certain corporations on "personal securities, with at least two good and sufficient sureties, when the securities pledged are their own bonds and stocks;" and may also loan on such other personal securities as in the judgment of the trustees it will be safe for the interests of the bank to accept.

While the term personal securities might, in an independent sense, be construed as embracing individual endorsements or sureties upon the note of another, I do not think it will bear that construction in the statute in question when considered as a whole.

The Act in prescribing the conditions upon which loans may be made to corporations, (in the clause immediately preceding the one in question) has undertaken to define the meaning of the term "personal securities" as there used, and it is manifestly evident that it was not intended that the term should include indorsers on the note, but independent security.

I think the same construction should be given to the term "personal securities" in the clause of the Act embracing the subject matter referred to in your communication; and that the term as there used, has reference to security other than the mere names upon the note. I am therefore compelled to answer your question in the negative, for I am of the opinion that the statutes of this State, applicable to savings banks, do not authorize the trustees to make loans to individuals without requiring security in addition to the parties to the note upon which the loan is made.

Very respectfully.

HENRY B. CLEAVES,
Attorney General.
