UNITED STATES.

CONSTITUTION.

Compiled and Amendments incorporated by J. H. Drummond, Esq.

WE, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquillity, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.

ARTICLE I.

SECTION 1. All legislative powers herein granted shall be vested in a congress of the United States, which shall consist of a senate and house of representatives.

SECT. 2. The house of representatives shall be composed of members chosen every second year by the people of the several States, and the electors in each State shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the state legislature.

No person shall be a representative who shall not have attained to the age of twenty-five years, and been seven years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State in which he shall be chosen. See also Art. XIV, Sec. 3d, of Amendments, as to Qualification of Representatives.

Representatives and direct taxes shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included within this Union, according to their respective numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole number of free persons, including those bound to service for a term of years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three-fifths of all other persons. The actual enumeration shall be made within three years after the first meeting of the congress of the United States, and within every subsequent term of ten years, in such manner as they shall by law direct. The number of representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty thousand, but each State shall have at least one representative; and until such enumeration shall be made, the State of New Hampshire shall be entitled to choose three, Massachusetts eight, Rhode Island and Providence Plantations one, Connecticut five, New York six, New Jersey four, Pennsylvania eight, Delaware one, Maryland six, Virginia ten, North Carolina five, South Carolina five, and Georgia three. See Art. XIV, Sec. 2d, of Amendments, in amendment of Apportionment.

When vacancies happen in the representation from any State, the executive authority thereof shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies.

The house of representatives shall choose their speaker and other officers; and shall have the sole power of impeachment.

SECT. 3. The senate of the United States shall be composed of two senators from each State, chosen by the legislature thereof, for six years; and each senator shall have one vote.

Immediately after they shall be assembled in consequence of the first election, they shall be divided as equally as may be into three classes. The seats of the senators of the first class shall be vacated at the expiration of the second year; of the second class, at the expiration of the fourth year; and of the third class, at the expiration of the sixth year; so that one-third may be chosen every second year; and if vacancies happen, by resignation or otherwise, during the recess of the legislature of any State, the executive thereof may make temporary appointments until the next meeting of the legislature, which shall then fill such vacancies.

No person shall be a senator who shall not have attained to the age of thirty years, and been nine years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State for which he shall be chosen. See also Art. XIV, Sec. 3d of Amendments, as to Qualification of Senators.

The vice-president of the United States shall be president of the senate, but shall have no vote, unless they be equally divided.

The senate shall choose their other officers, and also a president pro tempore in the absence of the vice-president, or when he shall exercise the office of president of the United States.

The senate shall have the sole power to try all impeachments. When sitting for that purpose, they shall be on oath or affirmation. When the president of the United States is tried, the chief justice shall preside; and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present.

Judgment in cases of impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust, or profit under the United States; but the party convicted shall nevertheless be liable and subject to indictment, trial, judgment, and punishment, according to law.

SECT. 4. The times, places, and manner of holding elections for senators and representatives, shall be prescribed in each State by the legislature thereof; but the congress may at any time by law make or alter such regulations, except as to the places of choosing senators.

The congress shall assemble at least once in every year, and such meeting shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by law appoint a different day.

SECT. 5. Each house shall be the judge of the elections, returns, and qualifications of its own members, and a majority of each shall constitute a quorum to do business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner, and under such penalties as each house may provide.

Each house may determine the rules of its proceeding, punish its members for disorderly behavior, and, with the concurrence of two-thirds, expel a member.

Each house shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and from time to time publish the same, excepting such parts as may, in their judgment, require secrecy; and the yeas and nays of the members of either house on any question shall, at the desire of one-fifth of those present, be entered on the journal.

Neither house, during the session of congress, shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which the two houses shall be sitting.

SECT. 6. The senators and representatives shall receive a compensation for their services, to be ascertained by law, and paid out of the treasury of the United States. They shall, in all cases, except treason, felony, and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the session of their respective houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any speech or debate in either house, they shall not be questioned in any other place.

No senator or representative shall, during the time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States which shall have been created, or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased during such time; and no person holding any office under the United States shall be a member of either house during his continuance in office.

SECT. 7. All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the house of representatives; but the senate may propose or concur with amendments as on other bills.

Every bill which shall have passed the house of representatives and the senate, shall, before it become a law, be presented to the president of the United States; if he approve he shall sign it, but if not he shall return it with his objections to that house in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the objections at large on their journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If after such reconsideration two-thirds of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered; and if approved by two-thirds of that house, it shall become a law. But, in all such cases, the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays; and the names of the persons voting for and against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the president within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law, in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the congress, by their adjournment, prevent its return, in which case it shall not be a law.

Every order, resolution, or vote to which the concurrence of the senate and house of representatives may be necessary (except on a question of adjournment), shall be presented to the president of the United States, and, before the same shall take effect, shall be approved by him, or, being disapproved by him, shall be re-passed by two-thirds of the senate and house of representatives, according to the rules and limitations prescribed in the case of a bill.

SECT. 8. The congress shall have power,—To lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts, and excises, to pay the debts, and provide for the common defense and general welfare of the United States; but all duties, imposts, and excises shall be uniform throughout the United States;—To borrow money on the credit of the United States;—To regulate commerce with foreign nations, and among the several States, and with the Indian tribes; —To establish a uniform rule of naturalization, and uniform laws on the subject of bankruptcies, throughout the United States;—To coin money, regulate the value thereof and of foreign coin, and fix the standard of weights and measures;—To provide for the punishment of counterfeiting the securities and current coin of the United States;—To establish post-offices and post-roads;—To promote the progress of science and useful arts, by securing for limited times to authors and inventors the exclusive right to their respective writings and discoveries;—To constitute tribunals inferior to the supreme court;—To define and punish piracies and felonies committed on the high seas, and offenses against the law of nations;—To declare war, grant letters of marque and reprisal, and make rules concerning captures on land and water;—To raise and support armies; but no appropriation of money for that use shall be for a longer term than two years; —To provide and maintain a navy;—To make rules for the government and regulation of the land and naval forces;—To provide for calling forth the militia to execute the laws of the Union, suppress insurrections and repel invasions;—To provide for organizing, arming, and disciplining the militia, and for governing such part of them as may be employed in the service of the United States, reserving to the States respectively the appointment of the officers, and the authority of training the militia according to the discipline prescribed by congress;—To exercise exclusive legislation in all cases whatsoever over such district (not exceeding ten miles square) as may, by cession of particular States, and the acceptance of congress, become the seat of the government of the United States; and to exercise like authority over all places purchased by the consent of the legislature of the State in which the same shall be, for the erection of forts, magazines, arsenals, dock-yards, and other needful buildings;—And to make all laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into execution the foregoing powers, and all other powers vested by this Constitution in the government of the United States, or in any department or officer thereof.

SECT. 9. The migration or importation of such persons as any of the States now existing shall think proper to admit shall not be prohibited by the congress prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight; but a tax or duty may be imposed on such importation, not exceeding ten dollars for each person.

The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in cases of rebellion or invasion the public safety may require it.

No bill of attainder, or ex post facto law, shall be passed.

No capitation or other direct tax shall be laid, unless in proportion to the census or enumeration hereinbefore directed to be taken.

No tax or duty shall be laid on articles exported from any State.

No preference shall be given by any regulation of commerce or revenue to the ports of one State over those of another; nor shall vessels bound to, or from, one State, be obliged to enter, clear, or pay duties in another.

No money shall be drawn from the treasury, but in consequence of appropriations made by law; and a regular statement and account of the receipts and expenditures of all public money shall be published from time to time.

No title of nobility shall be granted by the United States; and no person holding any office of profit or trust under them shall, without the consent of congress, accept of any present, emolument, office, or title, of any kind whatever, from any king, prince, or foreign State.

SECT. 10. No State shall enter into any treaty, alliance, or confederation; grant letters of marque and reprisal; coin money; emit bills of credit; make anything but gold and silver coin a tender in payment of debts; pass any bill of attainder, ex post facto law, or law impairing the obligation of contracts; or grant any title of nobility.

No State shall, without the consent of the congress, lay any imposts or duties on imports or exports, except what may be absolutely necessary for executing its inspection laws; and the net produce of all duties and imposts, laid by any State on imports or exports, shall be for the use of the treasury of the United States, and all such laws shall be subject to the revision and control of the congress.

No State shall, without the consent of congress, lay any duty of tonnage, keep troops or ships-of-war in time of peace, enter into any agreement or compact with another State or with a foreign power, or engage in war, unless actually invaded, or in such imminent danger that will not admit of delay.

ARTICLE II.

SECTION 1. The executive power should be vested in a president of the United States of America. He shall hold his office during the term of four years, and, together with the vice-president, chosen for the same term, be elected as follows:

Each State shall appoint, in such manner as the legislature thereof may direct, a number of electors, equal to the whole number of senators and representatives to which the State may be entitled in the congress; but no senator or representative, or person holding an office of trust or profit under the United States, shall be appointed an elector. See also Art. XIV, Sec. 3d, of Amendments, as to qualification of Electors.

[The next paragraph in the original Const. has been repealed, and the following (Art. XII, of Amend's), substituted: The electors shall meet in their respective States, and vote by ballot for president and vice-president, one of whom, at least, shall not be an inhabitant of the same State with themselves: they shall name in their ballots the person voted for as president, and in distinct ballots the person voted for as vice-president; and they shall make distinct lists of all persons voted for as president, and of all persons voted for as vice-president, and of the number of votes for each; which list they shall sign and certify and transmit sealed to the seat of the government of the United States, directed to the president of the senate. The president of the senate shall, in the presence of the senate and house of representatives, open all the certificates, and the votes shall then be counted; the person having the greatest number of votes for president shall be the president, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if no person have such majority, then from the persons having the highest numbers, not exceeding three, on the list of those voted for as president, the house of representatives shall choose immediately, by ballot, the president. But, in choosing the president, the vote shall be taken by States, the representation from each State having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the States, and a majority of all the States shall be necessary to a choice. And if the house of representatives shall not choose a president, whenever the right of choice shall devolve upon them, before the fourth day of March next following, then the vice-president shall act as president, as in the case of the death, or other constitutional disability of the president. The person having the greatest number of votes as vice-president shall be the vice-president, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if no person have a majority, then, from the two highest numbers on the list, the senate shall choose the vice-president; a quorum for the purpose shall consist of two-thirds of the whole number of senators; and a majority of the whole number shall be necessary to a choice. But no person constitutionally ineligible to the office of president shall be eligible to that of vice-president of the United States.

The congress may determine the time of choosing the electors, and the day on which they shall give their votes; which day shall be the same throughout the United States.

No person, except a natural-born citizen, or a citizen of the United States at the time of the adoption of this constitution, shall be eligible to the office of president; neither shall any person be eligible to that office who shall not have attained to the age of thirty-five years, and been fourteen years a resident within the United States.

In case of the removal of the president from office, or of his death, resignation, or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve on the vice-president; and the congress may by law provide for the case of removal, death, resignation, or inability, both of the president and vice-president, declaring what officer shall then act as president, and such officer shall act accordingly until the disability be removed, or a president be elected.

The president shall, at stated times, receive for his services a compensation, which shall neither be increased nor diminished during the period for which he shall have been elected; and he shall not receive within that period any other emolument from the United States, or any of them.

Before he enter on the execution of his office, he shall take the following oath or affirmation:

'I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the office of president of the United States; and will, to the best of my ability, preserve, protect, and defend the Constitution of the United States.'

SECT. 2. The president shall be commander-in-chief of the army and navy of the United States, and of the militia of the several States, when called into the actual service of the United States; he may require the opinion in writing, of the principal officer in each of the executive departments, upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices; and he shall have power to grant reprieves and pardons for offenses against the United States, except in cases of impeachment.

He shall have power, by and with the consent and advice of the senate, to make treaties, provided two-thirds of the senators present concur; and he shall nominate, and by and with the advice and consent of the senate shall appoint, ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, judges of the supreme court, and all other officers of the United States whose appointments are not herein otherwise provided for, and which shall be established by law; but the congress may by law vest the appointment of such inferior officers as they think proper in the president alone, in the courts of law, or in the heads of departments.

The president shall have power to fill up all vacancies that may happen during the recess of the senate by granting commissions, which shall expire at the end of their next session.

SECT. 3. He shall, from to time, give to the congress information of the state of the Union, and recommend to their consideration such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient; he may, on extraordinary occasions, convene both houses, or either of them, and, in case of disagreement between them with respect to the time of adjournment, he may adjourn them to such time as he shall think proper; he shall receive ambassadors and other public ministers; he shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed, and shall commission all the officers of the United States.

SECT. 4. The president, vice-president, and all civil officers of the United States, shall be removed from office on impeachment for, and conviction of, treason, bribery, or other high crimes and misdemeanors.

ARTICLE III.

SECTION 1. The judicial power of the United States shall be vested in one supreme court, and such inferior courts as the congress may, from time to time, ordain and establish. The judges, both of the supreme and inferior courts, shall hold their offices during good behavior; and shall, at stated times, receive for their services a compensation, which shall not be diminished during their continuance in office.

SECT. 2. The judicial power shall extend to all cases in law and equity arising under this Constitution, the laws of the United States, and treaties made or which shall be made under their authority; to all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers, and consuls; to all cases of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction; to controversies to which the United States shall be a party; to controversies between two or more States, between a State and citizens of another State, between citizens of different states, between citizens of the same State claiming lands under grants of different States, and between a State, or the citizens thereof, and foreign states, citizens, or subjects. (See Art. XI, of Amendments.)

In all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers, and consuls, and those in which a State shall be a party, the supreme court shall have original jurisdiction. In all the other cases before mentioned, the supreme court shall have appellate jurisdiction, both as to law and fact, with such exceptions and under such regulations as the congress shall make.

The trial of all crimes, except in cases of impeachment, shall be by jury; and such trials shall be held in the State where the said crimes shall have been committed; but, when not committed within any State, the trial shall be at such place or places as the congress may by law have directed.

SECT. 3. Treason against the United States shall consist only in levying war against them, or in adhering to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason, unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court.

The congress shall have power to declare the punishment of treason; but no attainder of treason shall work corruption of blood, or forfeiture, except during the life of the person attainted.

ARTICLE IV.

SECTION 1. Full faith and credit shall be given in each State to the public acts, records, and judicial proceedings, of every other State. And the congress may, by general laws, prescribe the manner in which such acts records, and proceedings shall be proved, and the effect thereof.

SECT. 2. The citizens of each State shall be entitled to all privileges and immunities of citizens in the several States.

A person charged in any State with treason, felony, or other crime, who shall flee from justice and be found in another State, shall, on demand of the executive authority of the State from which he fled, be delivered up, to be removed to the State having jurisdiction of the crime.

No person held to service or labor in one State under the laws thereof, escaping into another, shall, in consequence of any law or regulation therein, be discharged from such service or labor, but shall be delivered up on claim of the party to whom such service or labor may be due.

SECT. 3. New States may be admitted by the congress into this Union; but no new State shall be formed or erected within the jurisdiction of any other State, nor any State be formed by the junction of two or more States, or parts of States, without the consent of the legislatures of the States concerned, as well as of the congress.

The congress shall have power to dispose of and make all needful rules and regulations respecting the territory, or other property, belonging to the United States; and nothing in this Constitution shall be so construed as to prejudice any claims of the United States or of any particular State.

SECT. 4. The United States shall guarantee to every State in this Union a republican form of government, and shall protect each of them against invasion, and, on application of the legislature or of the executive (when the legislature cannot be convened), against domestic violence.

ARTICLE V.

The congress, whenever two-thirds of both houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose amendments to this Constitution, or, on the application of the legislatures of two-thirds of the several States, shall call a convention for proposing amendments, which, in either case, shall be valid to all intents and purposes as part of this constitution, when ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several States, or by convention in three-fourths thereof, as the one or the other mode of ratification may be proposed by the congress: provided that no amendment which may be made prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight shall in any manner affect the first and fourth clauses in the ninth section of the first article; and that no State, without its consent, shall be deprived of its equal suffrage in the senate.

ARTICLE VI.

All debts contracted, and engagements entered into, before the adoption of this Constitution, shall be as valid against the United States, under this Constitution, as under the Confederation.

This Constitution, and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof, and all treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be the supreme law of the land; and the judges in every State shall be bound thereby, anything in the Constitution or laws of any State to the contrary notwithstanding.

The senators and representatives before mentioned, and the members of the several State legislatures, and all executive and judicial officers both of the United States and of the several States, shall be bound by oath or affirmation to support this Constitution: but no religious test shall ever be required as a qualification to any office of public trust under the United States.

ARTICLE VII.

The ratification of the conventions of nine States shall be sufficient for the establishment of this Constitution between the States so ratifying the same.

Historical Facts connected with the formation of the original Union, and the admission of new States.

On Monday, September 5, 1774, a number of men were assembled at Carpenter's Hall, Philadelphia, who had been chosen by the several Colonies, in what now constitutes the United States, to hold a Congress for the purpose of discussing certain grievances imputed to the mother country. This Congress resolved that each colony should have one vote only. On Tuesday, July 2, 1776, the Congress resolved, "That these United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, Free and Independent States," etc.; and on Thursday, July 4, the whole Declaration of Independence having been agreed upon, was publicly read to the people. On September 9 it was resolved that the words "United Colonies" should no longer be used, and that "United States" should thenceforward be the style and title of the Union. On Saturday, November 15, 1777, "Articles of Confederation and Perpetual Union of the United States of America" were agreed to by the State Delegates, subject to the ratification of the several State Legislatures. Eight of the States ratified these articles July 9, 1778; one July 21; one July 24; one November 26; one February 22, 1779; and the last one March 1, 1781.

Arthur St. Clair, Pennsylvania, February 2, 1787; b ...., d 1818.
Cyrus Griffin, Virginia, January 22, 1788; b 1748, d 1810.

The seat of government was established, first at Philadelphia, Penn., commencing September 5, 1774; and May 10, 1775; at Baltimore, Md., Dec. 20, 1776; at Philadelphia, Penn., March 4, 1777; at Lancaster, Penn., September 27, 1777; at York, Penn., September 30, 1777; at Philadelphia, Penn., July 2, 1778; at Princeton, N. J., June 30, 1783; at Annapolis, Md., November 26, 1783; at Trenton, N. J., November 1, 1784; and at New-York City, January 11, 1785.

On the 4th of March, 1789, the present Constitution, which had been adopted by a convention and ratified by the requisite number of States, went into operation. The several State Legislatures ratified this instrument at the following dates:

Delaware, December 7, 1787; Pennsylvania, December 12, 1787; New-Jersey, December 13, 1787; Georgia, January 2, 1788; Connecticut, January 9, 1788; Massachusetts, February 6, 1788; Maryland, April 28, 1788; South Carolina, May 23, 1788; New Hampshire, June 21, 1788; Virginia, June 26, 1788; New-York, July 26, 1788; North Carolina, November 21, 1789; Rhode Island, May 29, 1790.

The privilege of becoming members of the Union by ratifying the Constitution was confined to those States that were parties to the confederation by which the Constitution had been framed. The Constitution was adopted by the Convention, September 17, 1787. It required that nine States should ratify it before its provisions could go into effect. Congress, on the 13th of September, 1788, determined that as a sufficient number of States had ratified it—eleven having done so—it should become operative on the first Wednesday (the 4th) of March, 1789. North-Carolina and Rhode-Island had not yet sanctioned it; but as soon as they acceded to its provisions, they were admitted to its privileges.

Twenty-five States have been admitted into the Union since the confederation of the original thirteen colonies, their admission taking effect as follows:

1. Vermont, March 4, 1791.
2. Kentucky, June 1, 1792.
3. Tennessee, June 1, 1796.

CENSUSES OF THE UNITED STATES.

The census is taken in the United States in obedience to the Constitution, which commands that an actual enumeration or census shall be made within three years after the first meeting of the Congress, and within every subsequent term of ten years, in such manner as Congress shall by law direct. Under our system of government, the census is of more importance in the United States than in most other countries, because representation in Congress and direct taxes are apportioned according to numbers in the States.

POSTAGE RATES.

Corrected to May 1, 1884.

All mailable matter shall be divided into four classes: First, written matter; Second, periodical publications; Third, miscellaneous printed matter; Fourth, merchandise.

FIRST-CLASS MATTER.

Mailable matter of the first class shall embrace letters, postal cards, and all matters wholly or partly in writing, except as hereinafter provided.

Every Letter, or written communication, weight not over half an ounce, any distance within the United States, 2 cents; for each additional half ounce, or fraction, 2 cents in addition.

Drop Letters, 1 cent for every half ounce or less. At offices where free delivery by carrier is established, 2 cents for each half ounce.

Book Manuscript, manuscript for magazines, periodicals, newspapers, and music manuscript are now subject to full letter rates of postage, except they be accompanied by proof-sheets, or corrected proof-sheets, when the rate will be one cent for each two ounces or fractional part thereof.

Matter produced by the type-writer; and matter prepared by the manifold process, are subject to postage at letter rates.

Letters deposited at a post office for mailing with less than one full letter rate of postage — 2 cents, prepaid — should not be forwarded in the mails, but must be held for postage.

Matter produced by the electric pen and papyrograph processes, which is not in the nature of correspondence, may be received and transmitted in the mails at third-class rates, when properly presented for mailing.

Matter which is in writing, or other matter containing a written inscription in the nature of personal correspondence, or representing monetary value, and matter which is sealed against inspection, are alone by their nature and the intent of the law, first class matter, and subject to the postage rate of two cents for each half ounce or fraction thereof.

Hereafter no matter can be forwarded in mails after it reaches its original address without a new payment of postage, except letters and postal cards which have one full rate paid thereon, namely two cents and newspapers or other periodicals which are to be forwarded to subscribers from one post office to another, which are in the same county where the paper to be forwarded is published in whole or in part printed.

SECOND-CLASS MATTER.

Mailable matter of the second class embraces all newspapers and other periodical publications which are issued from a known office of publication, or from news agencies, at stated intervals, and as frequently as four times a year. Postage two cents a pound.

Second and third-class matter must be fully prepaid or held for postage.

Newspapers are sent free of postage to subscribers in the county where published—except in letter carrier cities, where the postage is as follows: On weeklies, two cents a pound, whether delivered by carrier, through the boxes, or at general delivery. On all others two cents a pound if delivered through the boxes or at general delivery, and one cent for each paper (prepaid by postage stamp affixed), on those delivered by carrier.

Sample copies of second class publications may, when sent from an office of publication, be forwarded in the mails to parties who are not subscribers, at second class rates. Any number of copies of any number of different editions of a second class publication may be sent at any one time as sample copies.

THIRD CLASS MATTER.

Mail matter of the third class embraces books, transient newspapers and periodicals, circulars, proof-sheets, corrected proof-sheets, with manuscript copy accompanying the same, and all matter of the same general character, as above enumerated, the printing upon which is designed to instruct, amuse, cultivate the mind or taste, or impart general information, and postage shall be paid at the rate of one cent for each two ounces or fractional part thereof.

The term circular is defined to be a printed letter, which, according to internal evidence, is being sent in identical terms to several persons. A circular shall not lose its character as such, when the date and the name of the addressed and of the sender shall be therein written, nor by the correction of mere typographical errors in writing.

Upon matter of the third class, or upon the wrapper inclosing the same, may be written the name and address of the sender, preceded by the word "from;" simple marks may be made to call attention to any special word or sentence.

There may be written on the cover or blank leaves of any book or printed matter of this class, a simple manuscript dedication or inscription, that does not partake of the nature of personal correspondence. All packages of matter of the third class must be so wrapped, with open sides or ends, that their contents may be readily examined by postmasters.

FOURTH CLASS MATTER.

Mailable matter of the fourth class embraces labels, patterns, photographs, playing cards, visiting cards, address tags, paper sacks, wrapping paper, and blotting pads with or without printed advertisements thereon, bill-heads, letter-heads, envelopes with printed addresses thereon, ornamented paper, and all other matter of the same general character, the printing upon which is not designed to instruct, amuse, cultivated the mind or taste, or impart general information. This class also includes merchandise, and samples of merchandise, models, samples of ores, minerals, metals, seeds, etc., and any other matter not included in the first, second, or third classes, and which is not in its form or nature liable to destroy, deface, or otherwise damage the contents of the mail bag, or harm the person. Postage rates thereon one cent for each ounce or fractional part thereof.

Other articles of the fourth class which, unless properly secured, might destroy, deface, or otherwise damage the contents of the mail-bag, or harm the person of any one engaged in the postal service, may be transmitted in the mails when they conform to the following conditions: 1st. They must be placed in a bag, box, or removable envelope made of paper, cloth or parchment, or in a box or tube made of metal or some hard wood, with sliding clasp, or screw lid. 3d. In case of articles liable to break, the inside box, bag or envelope must be surrounded by sawdust, cotton, or some spongy substance. 4th. In case of sharp pointed instruments, the points must be so capped, or encased, that they may not by any means be liable to cut through their enclosure; and when they have blades, such blades must be bound with wire, so that they shall remain firmly attached to each other. 5th. The whole must be capable of easy inspection. Seeds, and other articles not prohibited, which are liable from their form or nature to loss or damage unless specially protected, may be put up in sealed envelopes, provided such envelopes are made of material sufficiently transparent to show the contents thereof clearly, without opening. Razors are prohibited in the mails.

Upon any package of matter of the fourth class, the sender may write or print his name and address, preceded by the word "from," and there may also be written or printed the number of articles enclosed; and the sender thereof may write, or print upon, or attach to any such article, by tag or label, a mark, number, name or letter for purpose of identification. The limit of weight of package is four pounds, and must be so wrapped that its contents can be easily examined by postmasters.

But if by inadvertence any article of the third or fourth class should reach the office of delivery without being fully prepaid, double the usual rates will be charged on the unpaid portion, to be collected on delivery.

Canned goods in hermetically sealed tin cans, which do not contain any liquid, are mailable as fourth class matter.

CAUTION.

All parcels of merchandise and all printed documents sealed or pasted so as to prevent examination at the post-office, will be charged letter postage.

Letters addressed to initials or fictitious names, are not deliverable unless the address contains a designated place of delivery.

All domestic letters must be prepaid a full rate (2 cents), otherwise they are sent to the dead letter office.

The use of stamps, stamped envelopes, or stamps cut from envelopes, which have been before used for a like purpose, is punished by a fine of $50.

THE UNIVERSAL POSTAL UNION.

The rates of postage for correspondence exchanged between the United States and countries included in the Universal Postal Union, are as follows:

For prepaid letters, 5 cents per fifteen grammes (half an ounce).

For unpaid letters received, 10 cents per fifteen grammes (half an ounce).

For postal cards, 2 cents each.

For newspapers, 1 cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof.

For printed matter of all kinds, commercial papers, and samples of merchandise, 1 cent for each article or packet bearing a particular address, and for every weight of two ounces or fraction thereof; with a minimum charge of 5 cents per packet of commercial papers, and a minimum charge of 2 cents per packet of samples of merchandise; that is to say, for commercial papers not exceeding ten ounces in weight, the postage is 5 cents, nd if above ten ounces in weight, 1 cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof; for samples not exceeding four ounces in weight, 2 cents; if above four ounces in weight, 1 cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof.

For the registration fee on all correspondence, 10 cents.

For insufficiently paid letters or other articles received, a charge equal to double the amount of the deficiency.

Prepayment of postage can be effected only by means of postage stamps or stamped envelopes valid in the country of origin.

In the Presidential election of 1856, the Whig, Free Soil, and American parties were largely abandoned, and a new party was formed of those abandoning their old party organizations, together with many from the Democratic party, called the Republican party, in opposition to the Democratic party. This party commenced somewhat earlier in this State.

Hannibal Hamlin resigned Feb. 25, '57, to accept Senatorship to which he had been elected, and Jos. H. Williams, President of Senate, acted for remainder of year.

The Greenback party made its first appearance in American politics, with the nomination of Wm. Allen for governor of Ohio, by the Democratic State Convention of 1874, in opposition to Rutherford B. Hayes, upon a platform containing a soft money clause. This party made its first appearance in Maine, with the introduction into the Democratic State Convention of 1875, by Solon Chase of Turner, of a resolution containing this Ohio clause. This resolution was refused a passage. Before the next campaign, Solon Chase established a Greenback newspaper, and a party was formed, which nominated Almon Gage, of Lewiston, as Governor, who received 520 votes.

Although, in the election of 1879, separate candidates for governor were nominated and supported by the Democratic and Greenback parties, yet these parties practically united in nominating and supporting "fusion" candidates for nearly all the subordinate offices in the state and in the various counties and towns. By the certification of the Governor and Council the House of Representatives was understood to stand, Republican, 61, Fusion, 78, with 12 vacancies, and the Senate, Republican, 11, Fusion, 20, while litigation concerning county offices was produced in the counties of Androscoggin, Cumberland, Franklin, and Washington, as indicated in the "Court Directory." By the appearance in both branches of the legislature, of persons holding certificates of election from the Governor and Council who, according to the subsequent opinions of the Supreme Court, dated severally January 3, 1880, January 16, 1880, and January 27, 1880, were not duly elected, by the non-certification by the Governor and Council of persons who appeared by the returns to be duly elected, according to the above decisions, and by the remonstrance of the Republican members in both branches of the Legislature, no legal organization was effected until January 12, seven days after the constitutional day of meeting. There being no election of governor by the people, Daniel F. Davis of Corinth, Rep., was elected by the Legislature.

GOVERNOR. In the campaign of 1880, four gubernatorial candidates were nominated, viz.: Harris M. Plaisted of Bangor, Greenback, by separate conventions of the Greenback and Democratic parties, held at Bangor, June 1; Daniel F. Davis of Corinth, by the Republicans, at Augusta, June 23; Joshua K. Osgood of Gardiner, by Prohibitionists, at Portland, Aug. 19; William P. Joy of Ellsworth, by Prohibitionists, at Ellsworth, June 1. Upon the declination of Mr. Osgood, Joshua Nye of Augusta was made the candidate.

COUNTY OFFICERS. In all the counties except Knox, in which there were distinct Democratic nominations, and in Androscoggin, Cumberland, Hancock, and Sagadahoc, where nominations were made by Prohibitionists, Fusion candidates were nominated in opposition to the Republicans, but unsuccessfully. The entire Republican ticket was elected in Androscoggin, Franklin, Hancock, Oxford, Sagadahoc, Piscataquis, Washington and York, also in Cumberland, with the exception of a Fusion sheriff; in Kennebec, with the exception of a Fusion judge of probate. The entire Fusion ticket was elected in Aroostook, Lincoln, Penobscot, and Waldo. In Knox, a Republican senator, judge of probate, commissioner, and sheriff, a Democratic clerk of courts, and Greenback register of probate, treasurer and attorney were elected. In Somerset, a Republican senator and clerk of courts, and a Fusion senator judge and register of probate, commissioners and treasurer were elected.

CONGRESSMEN. In the first, second and fifth Congressional Districts, Prohibitionist nominations were made, but unsuccessfully; in all, Fusion nominations were made, successfully in the fourth and fifth, in opposition to the Republicans.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS were nominated by Republicans, Fusionists, Greenbacks and Prohibitionists.

CITY OF PORTLAND.

Originally a part of ancient Falmouth. First settled by George Cleaves and Richard Tucker in 1632. Ancient Indian name, Machigonne. Settlement entirely destroyed in 1676, during the first Indian war, and resettled 1680, under Pres. Danforth. The town was again destroyed by the French and Indians in 1690. After the conclusion of peace, some of the inhabitants began to return, and, about 1713, the settlement had regained something of its early prosperity, and a gradual and steady progress was made from this time. In 1727, March 7, a church was organized, the first on the east of Saco river, over which Rev. Thomas Smith was then ordained the pastor. In 1733, Robert Bayley was employed as schoolmaster. In 1735, it was made half shire town with York, and continued as such, until the incorporation of Cumberland County, 1760, when it became the shire town of that county. On the admission of Maine into the Union, in 1820, Portland became the seat of government and continued as such, until its removal to Augusta in 1831. Early in the war of the Revolution, the town suffered a third time from the ravages of war, being bombarded by the British fleet under Capt. Mowatt, Oct. 18, 1775, and almost completely destroyed. Portland was incorporated as a town July 4, 1786, and adopted a city charter March 26, 1832. Suffered from a terrible fire July 4th and 5th, 1866, in which nearly one third of the city was destroyed. Population—1790, 2246; 1850, 22,815; 1860, 26,341; 1870, 31,413; 1880, 33,810. Valuation, 1860—Polls, 4244; Estates, $17,866,000; 1870—Polls, 7814; Estates, $29,439,257; 1880—Polls, 8529; Estates, $30,437,541.

In 1658, when Massachusetts assumed and enforced her jurisdiction over the territory, to the western limit of North Yarmouth, in Casco Bay, she gave to it the name of Yorkshire, which extended, by the charter of 1691, over what is now the whole State, and retained until 1760, when the counties of Cumberland and Lincoln were taken from it, and separately incorporated. The Court of Common Pleas was granted to it in 1659, and regularly held to the time of separation; but the supreme court was not granted until 1699, and was held in Kittery until 1743, when it was transferred to York.
