STATE OF MAINE.

BANK EXAMINER'S OFFICE, }
Buckfield, December 1, 1890. }

To the Honorable Governor and Executive Council of the State of Maine:

In accordance with the provisions of law I have the honor herewith to submit the thirty-fourth annual report of this department relating to the condition of Savings Banks, Trust and Banking Companies and Loan and Building Associations, organized and doing business under the laws of this State.

SAVINGS BANKS.

The whole number of savings banks and institutions for savings existing at this date is fifty-four, the Limerick Savings Bank having closed its affairs as was anticipated in the report for 1889.

An examination of the statement of each bank, as well as the tables found on the following pages, will show beyond a doubt that our citizens not only have confidence in these institutions but the management of the same has been marked by a good degree of success.

The total deposits on November 1st was $47,781,166.90, which is a gain of $3,804,081.81 for the year.

This increase of deposits at a time when a stringent money market was so general in Maine as well as in the large commercial centers is not only an unexpected but a very flattering state of affairs.

Very many of our citizens and some of our public journals are in the habit of pointing to the large deposits, and particularly to the increase of deposits from time to time, and attribute this gain wholly to the increased wealth of our people.

Of course this is true in a measure but it is suggested that the sound management and security of the various banks for the past few years has been fully recognized and appreciated, and has created a habit of depositing in savings institutions in place of the old time money letting by neighbor to neighbor, at the same time the accumulations of dividends which are not withdrawn by the depositor but allowed to remain and increase the deposit would account for a large part of the increase.

The whole number of depositors is now 140,521, a gain of 8,329 during the year, and the average balance of each depositor is $340.02, a much larger average than last year.

In order to comprehend the whole number of depositors it may be well to state that it comes within five thousand of equalling the total vote cast in the gubernatorial election in this State in 1888, the number being well distributed over the State.

It was not many years ago when a number of persons in any one locality having a deposit in a bank, much more a savings bank, was the exception rather than the general rule, to-day the rule is reversed.

In the tables will be found just what portion of the depositors have balances of $500 or less, also the number having over $2,000; the former is shown to be 110,796 or nearly 79 per cent of the whole number, while the latter is only 2,102 or about one and one-half per cent. Of this latter number 133 have balances exceeding $5,000.

RESERVE FUND AND DIVIDENDS.

The statute provides that before the trustees of savings banks shall be authorized to declare a dividend they shall set apart one quarter of one per cent of the average amount of deposits for the six months previous to declaring a dividend, which sum shall constitute a reserve fund to be kept constantly on hand to secure against losses and contingencies until it amounts to five per cent of the deposits.

This fund now amounts to $1,941,69.66, a gain of $162,234.53 for the year.

It is further provided that after the reserve fund has been set apart, dividends shall be declared from the earnings, not exceeding two and one-half per cent semi-annually. The dividends paid by the banks range from three to five per cent, two paying three per cent, forty-two paying four per cent, seven paying four and one-half per cent and three paying five per cent.

RESOURCES.

It may be of interest to examine briefly how the resources of the banks are invested and I give below a statement of the whole resources of $50,901,527.60 which is divided as follows :

Public funds	$15,843,767	73
Railroad bonds	11,533,430	64
Railroad stock	725,002	37
Corporation bonds	2,844,985	50
Corporation stock	341,034	00
National Bank stock	2,696,543	08
Real estate	1,050,675	26
Real estate mortgage loan	6,924,058	41
Collateral loan	5,415,516	01
Other loans	1,769,644	71
Premium account	611,723	79
Cash	1,051,862	05
Other resources	93,284	05
Total resources	$50,901,527	60

SURPLUS.

The footings of the various banks show a surplus for each which in some cases is quite small and others large. The aggregate surplus for the fifty-four banks is $6,035,090.57.

While these figures are correct, based on the valuations of the different assets of each bank, at the same time they are more or less misleading.

The holdings of the banks being largely represented in bonds and stocks that command a premium, and in fact for which the banks have actually paid premiums, the valuation made by the Bank Examiner is governed by the market value of these securities, thus rendering the valuation dependent upon the state of the money market which makes this surplus a fluctuating sum rather than a fixed value for any stated period. For instance: had all the valuations for the current year been made as late as the present time, a discount or depreciation of full ten or fifteen per cent would have followed on very many of the securities from the figures here given, caused by the extraordinary condition of the money market instead of any decrease in the income or earnings of said securities or any cloud upon their title.

TAXES.

The law governing savings banks provides, that on the last Saturdays of April and October the banks shall make a sworn return of the average amount of their deposits for the six months preceding each of said days, deducting an amount equal to the amount of United States bonds, shares of corporation stocks such as are by law free from taxation to the stockholders, and the value of real estate owned by the bank; that the banks shall pay to the treasurer of State a tax of three-fourths of one per cent a year on the amount of its deposits as in said returns; also that real estate owned by the bank may be taxed by the town in which the same is located.

The whole amount of tax paid during the year directly to the State by the several banks, on account of their deposits, amounts to $320,393.72. The amount of tax paid by the banks on account of real estate owned by them, to the various towns in the State where the same is located, is $13,517.13.

A Commission being now at work upon a general revision of the State valuation it is expected that the legislature of 1891 will provide additional sources of revenue, also make more or less changes in the present system.

Much discussion is being had as to where the changes can properly be made and the extent of the same; by many it is claimed that the present rate on savings bank deposits should be increased.

Institutions of this kind as well as other corporations and individuals should appreciate the privilege of paying their part of the revenue required for the maintenance of town and State government, as all participate in and enjoy the protection to person and property as well as the many private and public benefits resulting therefrom.

When this proposed increase is being considered it may be well to keep in mind that savings banks are not in any sense speculative corporations. The management give their services gratuitously with the exception of the treasurer, and they are chartered wholly for the public good rather than any object of personal gain.

Increased taxation means a reduction of the present rate of dividends of a large majority of the banks.

Should the legislature before they require additional taxes from the savings banks, wait till they have provided a method by which they can collect from the vast sums of money at interest, which now entirely escapes taxation, the rate now paid by the banks and also make the same rate on all other taxable property, on a fair valuation, it is doubted whether any increase would be expected from the banks.

LARGE DEPOSITS.

Section ninety-nine of chapter forty-seven, authorizing the receiving of deposits by banks, provides; that they "shall not receive from any one depositor, directly or indirectly, over two thousand dollars; and no interest shall be paid to any one depositor for any amount of deposit exceeding said sum, except for deposits by widows, orphans, administrators, executors, guardians, charitable institutions and as trust funds."

This statute on the face of it seems clear that the intent of the act was to prohibit any dividend or interest being paid to a depositor on any excess of two thousand dollars, or in other words, that whenever the account, either by reason of additional deposits or by dividends that had been allowed to accumulate in the bank and so increase the account, should reach a sum exceeding two thousand dollars that no dividends should be allowed on such excess.

I find the construction of this act by the representatives of the different banks varies, and that the practice is not uniform. Some give it the liberal construction that if the original deposit does not exceed two thousand dollars, the accumulations by way of dividends may be added to it from time to time and no matter how much in excess of two thousand dollars the sum may be that they have a right and do actually declare dividends on the full amount, while others adhere to the strict rule that whenever the account is in excess of two thousand dollars, whether by original deposit or the accumulations of dividends, no dividend or interest is allowed on any sum over two thousand dollars.

This want of uniformity in practice or construction of the law makes dissatisfaction among the depositors, and if there is a well founded doubt as to what the true construction is the statute should be made clear.

TRUST AND BANKING COMPANIES.

At the beginning of the year there were nine of these institutions in successful operation and during the year three additions have been made to the list, viz. : The Westbrook Trust Company of Saccarappa, the Auburn Trust Company of Auburn and the Aroostook Trust and Banking Company of Caribou.

The two latter did not commence business in season to afford an examination, consequently there is nothing herein showing their condition. They are both well located and have begun business under very favorable circumstances.

The Auburn Trust Company on this date has $123,800 of its subscribed capital already paid in, and the Aroostook Trust and Banking Company has its capital of $50,000, fully paid.

The total capital of the ten trust and banking companies reported herein is $822,900, and the deposits held by them amounts to $2,126,031.29, while their total assets reach the sum of $3,629,895.77.

A detailed statement of each will be found hereinafter.

While their charters give them almost unrestricted authority in their investments and methods of business the double liability of their stockholders is an element of caution in their management.

The charter of the People's Trust Company of Farmington provides that the corporation shall pay the same rate of tax on its deposits and in the same manner as is now required by law of savings banks and this institution is the only one of the ten that has paid a tax direct to the State during the year.

I see no reason why a general law should not be enacted providing for the collection of a similar tax on all these institutions now existing or hereafter organized.

These companies to quite an extent take the place of savings and national banks, and by reason of their many additional features are enabled to continue in a locality where it would be difficult for either bank to prosper. They all seem to be adapted to the places where they are located and their patronage is evidence of general satisfaction.

LOAN AND BUILDING ASSOCIATIONS.

The year just ended marks the period of the greatest gain in the number of loan and building associations in this State, seven having received certificates of authorization, viz. : The Ellsworth, Sanford, Portland, Mechanics' of Portland, Cumberland of Portland, Bath and Mechanic Falls. This brings the number of associations to twenty-seven and the duties pertaining to them constitute no small part of the labor of this department.

The statements of only twenty-four appear herein as the Bath, Ellsworth and Mechanic Falls associations commenced business too late for examinations.

These twenty-four associations have 4,936 shareholders, 807 of this number being borrowers whose average loan is $753.63 and their total assets amount to $633,059.31.

The figures of total assets are taken from the result of examinations made at different dates and it will be seen at once that could they have been collected on the date of the last examination they would have been very much larger than here given, and it is safe to estimate them at the present time more than twice as large as in 1889.

Loan and building associations have been received with much favor throughout the State, and with the proper management, when located in growing towns, cannot but prove successful.

The payment of large dividends by these associations should be discouraged, as it is plain that all profits must come from the borrower and when the payment of these profits becomes a burden his monthly payments stop and the associations are obliged to realize from the mortgaged premises, and when there is no inducement offered to the borrower and the association has ceased to loan its funds the principal object has been destroyed.

The first step to large dividends is excessive premiums and excessive premiums means a burden to the borrower.

The practice in all loan and building associations now doing business is such that the offices of treasurer and secretary are filled by two different persons; this method requires the keeping of two sets of books and when the examiner calls for the purpose of making his examinations very frequently one of these officers are away, and having no regular office hours, it causes confusion and delay in the examination.

My experience prompts me to recommend that the law be so changed as to require that the duties of treasurer and secretary shall be performed by one person as treasurer, who shall also be ex-officio clerk or secretary of the corporation, similar to the provisions of law now existing as to savings banks.

This change I think would not only be appreciated by the associations but facilitate the work of the examiner.

FOREIGN CORPORATIONS.

I have been unable to comply with the provisions of chapter 286 of the Public Laws of 1889, during the year, for the reason that there was no appropriation.

The same state of affairs existed in 1889 and in my annual report for that year full reference was made to the provisions of this statute and my reasons for non-compliance with the same, and so much of the report for 1889 as pertains to this particular subject is herein referred to.

I see no reason for any change of opinion or recommendations then expressed, at the same time should the attention of the legislature be called to this subject it may be well for it to consider whether or not a suitable franchise tax to be imposed on all foreign corporations contemplated by this act would not better protect our citizens and also afford considerable revenue to the State.

INVESTMENTS.

The question of finding a legal and safe investment is one that presents itself very forcibly to the banks at the present time.

If my observations are correct the inclination to find a home investment that is fairly remunerative is much stronger than it was one and two years ago. It looks as if the strong wave then existing toward western and foreign securities in the many forms had nearly spent its force.

The favorable treatment given the institutions in this department by the State, as well as the fact that their assets come almost wholly from our own people, would seem to give a Maine man or a Maine enterprise the first right to the use of their funds, provided the security offered was of equal safety.

From time to time the restrictions as to the limit of investments have been extended; doubtless this limit may safely be made to include other securities not now authorized, but in extending it great caution should be exercised.

Those in charge of savings bank investments are responsible only for their integrity and that they comply with the statute regulations governing investments; they have no responsibility similar to the stockholders of other banking corporations.

In closing this report I will only say that the ninety-three institutions represented in this department form an important factor in the business and development of our State and a careful inspection of their record herein contained is invited.

Said note and mortgage shall recite the number of shares pledged, and the amount of money advanced thereon, and shall be conditioned for the payment, at the stated meetings of the corporation, of the monthly dues on said shares, and the interest and premium upon the loan, together with all fines on payments in arrears, until said shares reach the ultimate value of two hundred dollars each, or said loan is otherwise canceled or discharged: provided, that the shares, without other security, may, in the discretion of the directors, be pledged as security for loans, to an amount not exceeding their value as adjusted at the last adjustment and valuation of shares before the time of the loan. If the borrower neglects to offer security, satisfactory to the directors, within the time prescribed by the by-laws, his right to the loan shall be forfeited, and he shall be charged with one month's interest and one month's premium at the rate bid by him together with all expenses, if any, incurred, and the money appropriated for such loan may be re-loaned at the next or any subsequent meeting.

Said member, if not a borrower, shall be entitled, upon thirty days' notice, to receive the balance so transferred, without interest from the time of the transfer, in the order of his turn, out of the funds appropriated to the payment of withdrawals.
