LAWS OF MAINE

RELATING TO

PUBLIC SCHOOLS,

Being Chapter 11, Revised Statutes of 1883, as amended by subsequent legislation, governing the management of all public schools except those in districts organized with special powers by acts of Legislature.

*SECT. 1. The school districts in all towns in this state are hereby abolished. Provided, however, that school districts organized with special powers by act of the legislature, may retain such organization and special powers; but said districts shall annually, on or before the first day of June, by their agents, trustees or directors, submit to the school committees of their several towns estimates of the amount required for the maintenance of the schools therein, other than free high schools, for the ensuing school year, and shall be entitled to such portion of the common school funds of the town as said committees shall determine, which sum shall not be less than is necessary for the maintenance of their schools for a period equal to that of the other schools of the town.

The corporate powers of every school district shall continue under this act so far as the same may be necessary for the meeting of its liabilities and the enforcing of its rights; and any property held in trust by any school district by virtue of a gift, devise or bequest for the benefit of said district shall continue to be held and used according to the terms thereof.

*SECT. 2. Immediately after this act shall have become a law, towns shall take possession of all school-houses, lands, apparatus and other property owned and used by the school districts hereby abolished, which districts may lawfully sell and convey. The property so taken shall forthwith be appraised by the assessors of said towns, and at the first annual assessment thereafter a tax shall be levied upon the whole town, or such part thereof as is included within the districts abolished, equal to the whole of said appraisal, and there shall be remitted to the tax payers of each of said districts the said appraised value of its property so taken. In case of districts comprising parts of two or more towns, the assessors of said towns shall jointly appraise the school property belonging to said districts, and shall determine the part thereof belonging to each of the said towns, and each town shall remit to the tax payers in its part of such district the part so determined, in the same manner as in case of districts wholly within said town; except that cities or towns, which have or shall reimburse districts or parts of districts for their school property, shall receive for the use of such city or town, the money to which such districts or parts of districts shall be entitled under this act.

*SECT. 3. This act shall not abolish or change the location of any school legally established at the time of its passage; but any town at its annual meeting, or at a meeting called for the purpose, may determine the number and location of its schools, and may discontinue them or change their location; but such discontinuance or change of location shall be made only on the written recommendation of the superintending school committee, and on conditions proper to preserve the just rights and privileges of the inhabitants for whose benefit such schools were established; provided, however, that in case of any school having, as now established, or which shall hereafter have, too few scholars for its profitable maintenance, the superintending school committee may suspend the operation of such school for not more than one year, unless otherwise instructed by the town, and may provide for the scholars belonging thereto, in

Said schools shall be under the management of the school committee of the town in which their school houses are located.

SECT. 6. Every town shall raise and expend, annually, for the support of schools therein, exclusive of the income of any corporate school fund, or of any grant from the revenue or funds from the state, or of any voluntary donation, devise or bequest, or of any forfeiture accruing to the use of schools, not less than eighty cents for each inhabitant, according to the census by which representatives to the legislature were last apportioned, under penalty of forfeiting not less than twice nor more than four times the amount of its deficiency.

Such aid shall be paid from the state treasury on and after the first day of each December, upon certification by the governor and council as provided by section thirty-five. But whenever a town or precinct desires to draw its state aid semi-annually, it shall be paid on and after the first days of June and December; provided, that the supervisor of such town makes, semi-annually,

Two or more adjoining towns may unite in establishing and maintaining a free high school, and both shall receive the same state aid as if such school had been maintained by one town. So long as any town declines to avail itself of the foregoing provisions, the inhabitants of any section of said town may organize a free high school precinct in the manner hereinafter provided, which may establish and maintain a free high school, and receive state aid the same as the town might have done; provided, that no more than two such free high schools shall be established in any town, and that the amount of aid extended to the precincts in any town shall not exceed the sum that the town might have received: on petition of any five voters resident in said section, reciting the limits of the precinct proposed, the municipal officers of the town shall call a meeting of the voters within said limits by causing notices, specifying the time, place and purposes of said meeting, seven days before the time appointed, to be posted in two or more conspicuous places within said limits. But no more than two such precincts shall exist at the same

Whenever in the judgment of the superintending school committees having the supervision of any free high school or schools, the number of pupils in the same may be increased without detriment, scholars from without the towns directly interested in such school or schools, may be admitted to the same on passing the required examination and paying such tuition as may be fixed by such committee, to the treasurer of the town in which the school is kept, when the school is maintained by a town or union of towns, or to the agent of the precinct in which the school is kept, when such school is maintained by a precinct or union of precincts.

SUGGESTIONS, EXPLANATIONS AND FORMS.

SUGGESTIONS AND EXPLANATIONS.

SECT. 1. The provision, that "the corporate powers of every school district shall continue under this act so far as the same may be necessary for the meeting of its liabilities and the enforcing of its rights," applies especially to those cases where districts have, under provisions of section 81, chapter 11, Revised Statutes of 1883, borrowed money to erect school-houses, etc., payable in annual instalments. It continues in force, so far as those cases are concerned, the provisions of section 83, here quoted:

"Section 83. At each annual assessment of town taxes after such loan, the assessors of the town shall assess the amount of the instalment and interest for that year, on the polls and estates in the district, as if the district had voted to raise it, and it shall, in like manner, be collected and paid to the town treasurer, who shall pay each instalment and interest as it becomes due, on demand of the owner of the security."

SECT. 5. The requirement, that "every town shall make provision for the maintenance of all its schools for not less than twenty weeks annually," does not modify or amend the provisions of section 6. The two sections taken together require every town to raise for common schools, annually, not less than the sum provided for in section 6, and enough more to maintain all its schools as required in section 5, if more be necessary.

SECTS. 9 and 10. It is to be hoped and expected that under the new system, the carelessness in the distribution and care of text-books, which has prevailed in some towns, will cease. Now that the town owns and controls the school-houses, proper and safe receptacles should be put into every house in which to keep the books when not in use. Teachers should be held to strict accountability for keeping proper registers or records of their distribution to and return by pupils. Parents should be strictly required to make good all unnecessary injury to or loss of books by their children. All books, except in very exceptional cases and then only by express permission of supervisor, should be given up by pupils at end of every term. Books seriously defaced, or injured beyond ready repair, should be discarded from use, and new ones supplied. If proper rules be made by school boards for the management of these matters, and those rules be strictly enforced, the almost criminal un-system which has prevailed in certain towns, can be very easily corrected.

SECT. 17. Under the new system, the school board or some member thereof authorized to do so, must avouch for or approve all bills, before the municipal officers can legally draw orders for their payment. In most cases the supervisor should be so authorized, or the supervisor in connection with one member of the sub-committee of the board under whose authority any particular bill has been contracted.

SECT. 21. The provision of chapter 162, Public Laws of 1893, herein incorporated, that "the age of pupils allowed to attend the public schools of this State is hereby fixed between the ages of four and twenty-one years of age," was not intended to change and does not change the basis upon which state school moneys are apportioned to towns. That basis continues to be as prescribed in section 106, "the number of children between four and twenty-one years of age," as they existed in each town on the first day of April preceding. The provision was intended only to fix definitely by statute, what no previous statute had fixed, the age at and during which all children should have an enforceable right to attend the public schools.

SECT. 33. When a free high school precinct, formed in accordance with section 7 of chapter 216, Public Laws of 1893, votes to raise money by taxation for either of the purposes named in this section, as it may by the terms of said section 7, such money may be assessed and collected in the manner prescribed in sections 75 to 79 inclusive, chapter 11, Revised Statutes of 1883, which are here quoted :

"SECT. 75. When a district votes to raise money for any legal purpose, its clerk shall forthwith, or within the time prescribed by the district, certify the amount thereof to the assessors of the town, and the time when it must be raised; and within sixty days after receiving such certificate they shall assess it as they do town taxes, on the polls and estates of the residents and owners in the district at the time of raising said money, whether wholly in their town or not, and on the non-resident real estate in the district. They shall then make their warrant in due form of law, directed to any collector of their town or of the district, if any, if not to a constable, requiring him to levy and collect such tax and pay it to the town treasurer within the time limited in the warrant; and they shall give a certificate of the assessment to such treasurer and may abate such taxes as in the case of town taxes.

“SECT. 76. The assessors may include in their assessment such sum over and above the sum committed to them to assess, not exceeding five per cent thereof, as a fractional division renders necessary, and certify that fact to the town treasurer.

“SECT. 77. The town treasurer shall pay the expense of assessing and collecting any school district tax out of the money of the district, upon the order of the selectmen.

“SECT. 78. Section one hundred and forty-two of chapter six, and all other sections relating to the same subject apply to taxes assessed by or for school districts, so far as applicable; but the district and not the town is liable.

“SECT. 79. The collector or constable, and the town treasurer, or treasurer and collector, if one person is both, each have the same powers and are subject to the same duties and obligations in relation to district taxes, as to town taxes; and they and the assessors shall be allowed by the district for their services, a compensation proportionate to what they receive from the town for similar services.

SECT. 87. Items I, II and III. The duties of school committees herein prescribed, may be performed by the supervisor when so specially directed under the provision of chapter 216, section 8, Public Laws, 1893, that he shall “perform such other duties as said committee shall direct.” In such case it will be sufficient legal evidence of the teacher’s examination, qualifications, and employment, if the certificate granted be signed by the supervisor alone, “per order of the committee.” A definite record of the vote directing him to perform these duties, and all others which they “shall direct” him to perform, should be made.

SECT. 87, Item IV. A requirement by the superintending school committee, that the Protestant version of the Bible shall be read in public schools of their town, by scholars who are able to read, is not in violation of any constitutional provision, and is binding upon the members of the school, although composed of divers religious sects. Donahoe vs. Richards, 38 Me. 379.

SECT. 87, Item VI. The superintending school committee have no power to dismiss a school master, unless for one of the causes mentioned in stat. 1821, chap. 117, sec. 3, providing that the "committee shall have power to dismiss any school master or mistress who shall be found incapable or unfit to teach any school," and this must be in writing, under their hands, specially assigning the cause of dismissal. Searmont vs. Farwell, 3 Me. 450. When there are three members of the superintending school committee, two of them have no power to dismiss a master, under the provisions of stat. 1834, chap. 129, sect. 3, unless due notice has been given to the third that he might attend and act with them. Jackson vs. Hampden, 16 Me. 184.

When after one day's notice to the teacher, the superintending school committee visited the school and made a full examination into charges against the teacher, and the teacher and his witnesses were fully heard, and no objection was made by him for want of due notice, nor any request for delay or to be heard further, the teacher thereby waived any objection to the notice if insufficient, and is not entitled to his wages for teaching after being notified by the committee of his dismissal as the result of such investigation. Woodbury vs. Knox, 74 Me. 462.

SECT. 87, Item XII. The requirements of section 8, chapter 216, Public Laws of 1893, that committees shall annually elect a supervisor or superintendent, and that all returns shall be made by said supervisor or superintendent, are obligatory. Failure to elect such supervisor or superintendent would work forfeiture of state school money so long as such failure continued; for the state treasurer is expressly forbidden to pay over such money "to any town until its return is made to the superintendent of common schools," (section 118); and the superintendent of common schools cannot, except by practical violation of his oath of office, certify to the state treasurer the receipt of any return not made, as the law requires, by a supervisor or superintendent so elected.

SECT. 114. If one over twenty-one years of age, voluntarily attends a town school, and is received as a scholar by the instructor, he has the same rights and duties, and is under the same restrictions and liabilities, as if under that age. Stevens vs. Fassett, 27 Me. 266. When a scholar in school hours, intrudes himself into the instructor's desk, and refuses to leave it on the request of the instructor, such scholar may be lawfully removed by the instructor. And for that purpose, he may immediately use such force, and call to his assistance such aid from any other person, as is necessary to accomplish the object, without the direction or knowledge of the superintending school committee.—Ib. The statute, 1850, chapter 193, article 10, section 13, (containing the provisions of section 114,) for the protection of schools, is applicable to private schools regularly established and in operation for instruction in the art of writing. State vs. Leighton, 35 Me. 195.

A school-master is not liable for inflicting corporal punishment upon a pupil, if it is not clearly excessive, in the general judgment of reasonable men. Patterson vs. Nutter, 78 Me. 509.
