In presenting this, the fourth annual report of the State Assessors it is unnecessary for us to again call attention to the advantages that have accrued from the additional legislation asked of the last legislature by our Board, as the results are so plainly visible to every careful observer who peruses this report. It is impossible for large bodies of business men to meet in convention and discuss questions, or listen to the same, in which they are directly interested without obtaining useful knowledge, and very often imparting the same to others present. It can readily be seen that all of the assessors of the different municipalities in a county, are interested in the values placed upon each and every other town, as well as that of their own. That these assessors being quite as well acquainted with the comparative values of other towns as of their own, induces them to look after and criticise the values of the other towns, and thus assist in bringing to light much hidden taxable property.

Among the amendments of the law relating to taxation that our Board would respectfully recommend, are the following :

First. Uniformity of assessors' books. These may and should be of different sizes, but they should be of that general uniformity that they shall compare with the blank forms for a valuation return, sent out by this Board, so that there shall be no excuse for not having all returns made as the law requires. These books should be furnished and paid for by the State, as a matter of economy and convenience.

Second. There should be a change in the law relating to the taxation of musical instruments. In carefully compiling the returns, we find there is altogether too large a percentage of the personal property tax levied upon this class of property in the very poor rural towns. If a musical education is desirable among the poorer classes, (and who would place one obstacle in its way,) it seems to us that the little second-hand melodeon or organ, worth from fifteen to fifty dollars and this paltry sum often representing the hard earnings of the daughters services in the district school, or other manual labor, should be exempt from taxation.

Third. That there should be a change in the collateral inheritance law, must be patent to all who have examined the returns to any considerable extent. The number and value of estates in this

State that are subject to such tax is far beyond the estimate of any.

Here is unquestionable testimony after death, of the escape of millions of dollars worth of property from taxation during life.

If in equity and justice any property in the State should be fully taxed it is that of collateral inheritance.

Fourth. The returns of valuations from local assessors of the entire State, quite generally show a healthy increase, shipping and live stock only excepted. There has been a marked falling off in values of shipping returns, to wit, sixteen and one-tenth per cent on entire amount as given in 1892. We have attended to the duties assigned us as a shipping department by act of last legislature, and herewith furnish such information as we have been enabled to obtain. Further information pertaining to our shipping interests will be submitted in a report to be made by us to the legislature in conformity to requirements of Senate Report of bill entitled "An Act relating to the taxation of vessel property."

Fifth. We regret also to be obliged to report a decrease in the valuation of live stock of ten and nine-tenths per cent since 1892. Whether there should be any change in the law relating to the taxation of this important class of property and thereby encourage a greater production and a more desirable class of live stock in the State, we leave to the intelligence and wisdom of our legislature.

Sixth. As quite a number of towns of the State tax bicycles and include this class of property in their returns to this Board, it seems desirable that some action should be taken by the legislature to determine whether that class of property shall be taxed, and if so, in what manner it shall be done.

Seventh. The utter impossibility of carrying out the provisions of the act relating to taxation of savings banks passed by the last legislature, and that of the act of 1891, creating a Board of State Assessors will of itself be sufficient evidence of the necessity of a change in the present law relating to taxation of savings banks.

Eighth. We again call attention to the necessity of some definite legislation in regard to the taxation of electric railroads.

With so many of these roads in the State and the number steadily increasing, it would seem that their importance was certainly worthy of some notice by our lawmakers.

In the absence of specific law upon this point, this Board has followed the only safe course, that is, the advise of eminent legal counsel, and have assessed the tax upon them the same as upon steam railroads.

Ninth. There should be additional legislation regarding our wild lands and better means for procuring information of ownership and values of the same. When one is reminded that forty-two per cent of the area of the entire State is almost an unbroken wilderness, and that changes are continually going on that materially affects its value, we must see the importance of using every legitimate method for securing this information. We therefore suggest that among the other amendments asked for, is, that the owners of all wild lands in this State shall send into this office a legal description of such lands owned by them, giving range, number and acreage, also that the owners of such lands and the several registers of deeds in the counties where such lands are located, shall send to this office a notice of such sale and transfer, within thirty days of the same, so that a record may be kept for the use and convenience of the Board.

That the business interests of our State have suffered less, during the late financial depression, than any other state in the Union, must and will be a source of congratulation to every loyal citizen. Our proud motto "Dirigo" was never more prominently and proudly borne and appreciated than in the year A. D. 1894.

The great and fertile West has been looking and listening with watchful eyes and throbbing hearts to catch the first glimpses of returning prosperity here. They have not looked and listened in vain. Although our soil may be rocky, our climate may be cold, yet our industries are so diversified, and like pillars in a cluster, joined and cemented together within the center of which is, agriculture whose base is so broad that all may, and have rested safely there.

With the contented spirit of the young men and women of the State, the influx of wealth that is now coming within our borders to secure and improve our never failing water power, it is no wonder go where you will, from Quoddy Head to Kittery, from the Canadian border to the sea, all speaks of prosperity, and a glorious future to our loved State with an increase of wealth never yet approached.

To the local assessors and property owners we wish to say that while in our hearings we may have seemed to you like the opposing counsel examining the witnesses, trying to obtain all the facts relating to the business before us, yet in our final adjustment of values, we have endeavored to become the impartial judge. That we have done perfect justice to all we are not vain enough to claim, that we have endeavored to do so from all the information obtainable we conscientiously believe. In conclusion, we desire to again express our obligation to all who have contributed so freely to make our county meetings and wild land hearings a success, and occasions of pleasure to be long remembered, to all county officials, to the local assessors, and to very many prominent tax payers who have met us everywhere with unmistakable evidence of their appreciation of the magnitude and importance of our labors.
