STATE PRISON.

No important changes or improvements have been made during the past year except the completion of such as were authorized by the last legislature. The affairs of the prison have been managed in a very satisfactory manner. The discipline has been mild but firm, the food of good quality and sufficient in quantity. The manufacturing industries have all been carried on at a profit and the stock of manufactured goods now on hand is very clean and salable. The punishments have been comparatively few and as a rule the convicts have manifested a disposition to so conduct themselves as to secure the deductions of time from their sentences allowed them for good behavior.

It seems to us that some method of aiding discharged convicts, to some extent, should be adopted. The convicts are now discharged from the prison, each with a somewhat meager outfit of clothing and the sum of five dollars as a capital with which to again begin life, which sum, in many instances is insufficient to defray their necessary expenses to the place from whence the State has taken them. However desirous the convict may be, on his discharge from the prison, of leading a life of usefulness, he is at the very outset confronted with the strongest possible incentive to commit crime, being that of poverty. If the State could do something to aid the convicts at the time of their greatest need, at a time when people regard them with suspicion and the world treats them with a great degree of coldness, we are convinced that the results would justify the expenditure. An appropriation of five hundred dollars would, in our judgment, be sufficient for that purpose.

The law enacted by the last legislature, establishing an insane department in the State Prison for the care of the criminal insane, provides: That the expense thereof "shall be paid for by the State by order of the Governor and Council from prison appropriations." As there was no appropriation made for the prison, except for specific purposes, the expense has necessarily been borne by the prison and has resulted in a considerable increase in its outstanding liabilities. The total expense for the support of the criminal insane at the prison to November 30, 1894, is $5,096.89.

There has been no appropriation for six years for the current expenses of the prison, while during the same period, the expenditures have, each year, exceeded the income. There are now outstanding liabilities amounting to $9,838.20, which should be provided for by the legislature. The success of the manufacturing industries also requires an appropriation of $5,000 for a working capital.

The large number of buildings owned by the State and used in connection with the prison together with the necessary wear of the equipment require an almost constant outlay of money to keep them in suitable repair. Many of the buildings are old and will require more or less repairs until replaced by new ones. An appropriation of $2,000 per year is needed for the necessary repairs on the buildings and equipment.

The lighting of the prison buildings for the past two years, under a contract with the Knox, Gas and Electric Company, has, so far as the service is concerned, been satisfactory, but owing to the insufficient appropriation made for this purpose, and the desire of the inspectors to keep within the appropriation, only a part of the lights have been burned. The lighting company, notwithstanding the contract calls for not less than 112 lights, have cut down the number, to carry out this desire of the inspectors and the prison committee of the council. The entire building has been wired at large expense to the lighting company, and we believe it is not only due to them, under their contract with the State, but also to the prison, that it should have as good lighting service as other similar state buildings, that the legislature should make an appropriation sufficiently large to fully light all the buildings owned by the State, at Thomaston.

We recommend the following special appropriations by the legislature :

To pay outstanding indebtedness and furnish a suitable
working capital	$15,000

To pay the expense of the insane department.....	$5,000
For repairs on buildings and equipment for 1895.....	2,000
For repairs on buildings and equipment for 1896.....	2,000
Total	$24,000

During the past two years, our several visits to the prison have been made in company with the visiting member of the Executive Council, Hon. Waldo Pettengill, who has taken a deep interest in the welfare of the institution and the success of its business affairs. We take this opportunity of expressing to him our sincere thanks for his many valued suggestions and his uniform courtesy.

We are also under obligations to the warden and subordinate officers of the prison for their courteous treatment and attention.

We append hereto a statement of the appropriations made by the last legislature, for the prison, a list of the real estate owned by the State in connection with the prison, also a summary of the stock account.

WARDEN'S REPORT.

WARDEN'S OFFICE,
MAINE STATE PRISON, December 1, 1894. }

To the Honorable Governor and Council:

In compliance with the statutes, and in accordance with the usual custom, I herewith present my report for the fiscal year ending November 30, 1894.

For an exhibit of financial transactions during the year and the present financial condition of the prison, also for statistical information relative to convicts and insane patients, I would respectfully refer you to the following pages.

In presenting my report for 1893, I considered the fact that there was to be no session of the legislature during that year, and consequently did not deem it advisable to offer any suggestions, make any recommendations or otherwise extend my remarks at that time. Whatever, under other circumstances, I might have said in that report, I shall endeavor to embody in this, in as concise a form as the subjects will admit.

Early in the spring of 1893, the so-called "Payson buildings and lot," west of the prison were purchased, for the sum named in the appropriation; the buildings were placed in thorough repair, and the house somewhat remodeled, so as to comprise two tenements, which have since been occupied by officers of the prison.

A twenty-five horse-power engine, together with shafting, pulleys, belts and other necessary appliances were purchased of the Hinckley & Egery Iron Co. of Bangor, placed in position and connected to the steam plant, during last year. The work of the engine in supplying power for manufacturing purposes is entirely successful and satisfactory.

A washing-machine, mangle, dryers, bath-tubs and other fixtures and appliances, necessary for fitting up a steam laundry and bath-rooms, were also purchased and set up during last year. The establishment of the steam laundry has met our expectations, in that it has proved to be a labor-saving investment; and the facilities afforded by the fitting up of the bath-rooms are a decided convenience and,—as a sanitary measure,—an obvious improvement.

The stable and buildings connected therewith have been moved to a more desirable and convenient position, and have been quite thoroughly remodeled and repaired. New out-buildings have been erected, including an open shed for teams, the building inside of the wall formerly used as a wash-house has been moved, repaired and placed in proper condition for use as a wood-house; both the outside and inside surfaces of the two wings of the prison building, and also of the entire length of the prison walls have been white-washed and somewhat repaired; new walks have been laid, and others repaired; and quite extensive repairs, including shingling, have been done on some of the dwelling houses and out-buildings; and there are other items chargeable to this account that we fail to mention; and there are still many repairs that are at present needed to be made, and with so large a number of buildings and so much surface to cover and protect from the inevitable wear of time, the necessity for other repairs will continually present itself, and the interests of the State would seem to demand that the necessity be met. In view of these facts, I would recommend that provisions be made whereby an annual appropriation of fifteen hundred dollars could be realized and applied to ordinary repairs.

For the first time in the history of the institution, the officers of the prison have, during the past year, been clothed in complete uniform, procured at their own expense, with the exception of the caps which were furnished by the prison, and remain the property of the State. The officers are also organized as a fire company, and with the aid of the steam fire engine and appliances, would be available and ready to do efficient work in that line, should occasion require it. In order to give this department the attention that its importance and the interests of the State demand, it will be necessary during the next year to extensively and thoroughly remodel and refit the engine-house; therefore I would ask for a special appropriation of one thousand dollars to be applied to the needs of the fire department.

In accordance with enactments made by the Sixty-sixth Legislature, a portion of the west wing of the prison was fitted up as a department for the insane, and has been occupied for that purpose since August 9, 1893. Twelve patients who had previously been transferred from the prison, as insane convicts, were at that time returned from the Maine Insane Hospital, and,—with five convicts at the prison who had been adjudged insane,—were placed in the above named department. Since which time the average number in the department has been about twenty, who have been under the immediate care and supervision of Mr. Charles M. Moody, who had previously had several years experience in the care of the insane, as an attendant at the Maine Insane Hospital. As no special provisions had been made for providing funds with which to meet the expenditures for board, care and clothing for patients in this department, and as it was decided that it could not properly be drawn from the regular appropriation for insane state beneficiaries, we have been obliged to meet the expense without any reimbursement; consequently there is now due the prison, on account of the above, a sum amounting to something more than five thousand dollars. We trust that this matter will command your careful consideration, and that of the legislature, and that provisions will be made, not only for the deficiency, but for the expenses of the department in the future, as well.

By the establishment of the insane department which, although in the prison, is not really of it, the responsibilities and duties of certain of the officers of the prison were largely increased and no recompense provided, which fact we trust, will also be favorably considered.

Although by a skillful and, perhaps, mystifying array of figures and phrases some may have been led—at certain times in the past—to believe that the prison was a self-supporting institution, yet it is a well established fact that such is not, nor never has been the case. While it is understood that the department loss results in a corresponding decrease of the net assets of the institution, and must, consequently, very materially cripple and interfere with its working capacities, it will be readily seen that, at least, an occasional appropriation is necessary, consequently,—and in consideration of the fact that during the last six years no appropriation has been made for that purpose—I would respectfully recommend that the sum of fifteen thousand dollars be appropriated for deficiencies.

The general depression of business during the past year has naturally affected us in common with the business community at large, consequently we close the year with quite a full stock of goods in each of the industrial departments on hand, which, however, we trust we shall be enabled to dispose of during the coming season without material loss.

The administration of the affairs of the prison, so far as relates to government and discipline, have been attended with so gratifying results that we are enabled to record that, during the time covered by this report, no instance of flagrant insubordination has occurred, and no successful attempt to escape has been made.

No epidemic or contagious disease has been encountered, and the health of the convicts, as a whole, has been remarkably good. For more extended information in reference to this point, I would refer you to the subjoined report of the prison physician, Dr. J. E. Walker.

The intellectual, moral and religious interests of the convicts have been subserved by the efficient chaplain of the prison, Rev. C. A. Plumer, to whose accompanying report I would also refer you. In this connection, I would not fail to mention that, in the interest of the convicts of Catholic tendencies, on one-fourth of the Sabbaths, a chapel service is able and gratuitously conducted by Fr. R. W. Phelan, who also makes occasional visits at other times.

I wish briefly to call your attention to the matter of discharged convicts. The statutes provide that on the discharge of a convict, the warden—under certain conditions—may give him from the funds of the prison, the sum of five dollars, and that he shall take care that every convict on his discharge, is provided with decent clothing, and the custom followed has invariably conformed to the provisions of the law. Observation and a candid consideration of the subject convinces me that in many instances, especially when his home, or the locality to which the person decides to go, in the event that he has no home, is in a remote section of the State, or perhaps out of the State, as is the case with many, the above-named provision is insufficient to meet his necessities, and in consequence, he is virtually compelled to either beg or steal before he has had a fair opportunity for putting in practice whatever resolutions for good he may have formed, therefore I would respectfully recommend that the statute be so amended as to allow the warden, —in his discretion,—to so appropriate a sum not exceeding ten dollars, and to see that he is provided, in addition to the clothing worn, with an extra pair of stockings, a change of underwear and at least a brush and comb and a hand-bag, when necessary; the cost of the extra furnishings not to exceed the sum of five dollars.

In the report for 1892, I suggested the appointing of a matron to supervise the labor and conduct of the female convicts.

The matter was not, at that time, considered of sufficient importance to make provisions for the appointment, still,—from a somewhat extended experience in the management of that class of convicts—I am fully convinced that it is proper and important that their immediate attendants should be of their own sex, and yet, I am as equally well convinced that, with the present constructive arrangement of the prison, the accommodations for quarters are neither sufficient nor suitable for the convicts or for female attendants, I would suggest either the building of a separate wing for the exclusive occupancy and use of this class of convicts, with suitable conveniences for female attendants, or,—what in my judgment would be still better,—the establishment, in some central locality, of a prison for females.

In the management of an institution of this character, where the various needs, and the present and future welfare of each individual inmate, as well as the social and financial interests of the State are involved, there are presented to us very many important points that would seem to be proper subjects for discussion, but which it would be impossible to compass within the limits of these few pages; consequently, in submitting this report, I have endeavored to mention such as have occurred to my mind as the most important.

In conclusion I desire to express thanks to the several members of your Honorable Body for their kindly consideration, to the Board of Inspectors for their valuable assistance and co-operation, and to the officers of the prison for faithfulness in the discharge of their respective duties.

Respectfully submitted,

SAMUEL H. ALLEN, Warden.

CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

To the Inspectors of the Maine State Prison :

GENTLEMEN :—Within the year now closing sixty-two persons have been committed to the Maine State Prison and forty-two were committed during the previous year. Of these ninety and four-tenths per cent were users of tobacco in one or both ways. The remaining nine and six-tenths had never been users of tobacco. Fifty-nine and six-tenths per cent had been accustomed to use intoxicating drinks, occasionally in small quantities, or as hard drinkers. The others, forty and four-tenths per cent of the whole number were teetotalers.

In educational advantages and acquirements they are classed as follows : Twelve and five-tenths per cent could neither read nor write when committed to prison, four and eight-tenths per cent could read but could not write, the others eighty-two and seven-tenths per cent had enjoyed school privileges, from the public schools to the college. A comparison of these statistics with those given in my report for 1892 will show that the men committed in the past two years, are not different in social habits, intellectual attainments, and moral characters from those committed in previous years.

INSTRUCTION.

The necessary use of the hospital for the purpose for which it was built, has deprived us of its use as a school room and therefore the work of teaching has been mostly personal work. This has been done in the evening with the men in their cells, and during the day calling the men to the library room. Personal instruction has some advantages, but not sufficient to supply the loss sustained in lack of class work. Of those now in the prison and those discharged within the year seventy-two have availed themselves of the opportunity for study.

I wish again to call attention to the pressing need of a suitable room for evening school work.

LIBRARY.

The library has been newly classified and catalogued. One hundred and forty-six volumes have been added by purchase and gift. Two hundred and five volumes have been rebound. One hundred and seventy-four volumes of magazines have been bound and placed in the library. Two copies of The Century, of Harper's, of The Cosmopolitan and of the New England Magazine are taken for the use of the men. These are changed weekly from cell to cell. Thus one magazine may afford its information to one hundred and eight men. A number of books which have been in constant use for years need to be rebound soon.

MAIL.

Letters have been freely received by most of the men. With few exceptions the men improve the privilege given them of writing to their friends. Many of the men subscribe for one or more of the leading weekly papers of the State. Others are supplied by their friends. I have provided weekly a copy of such papers as The Youth's Companion, Zion's Advocate, The Independent, Zion's Herald, The Christian Advocate, The Word and Work, etc., for each man.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES.

Religious services have been held each Sabbath. I think there has been an increasing interest in these services. While some harden themselves and strive to give the impression that they are wholly indifferent to religious things, an increasingly large number show an interest in these things and are as ready as the average of mankind to talk of their duty to God, to themselves and their friends. The service of Scripture reading, conversation and prayer has been observed weekly in the hospital with but few omissions.

The ladies of the Women's Christian Temperance Union have continued to aid me in the service of Bible study and prayer with the female prisoners.

With many thanks to you each and to all the officers of the prison for the help given me in my work of instruction and redemption, this report is respectfully submitted.

C. A. PLUMER, Chaplain.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

To the Inspectors of the Maine State Prison :

GENTLEMEN : Herein find my annual medical report of the Maine State Prison.

On August 9th of this year the Insane Department of the Maine State Prison was established in accordance with an act of the Legislature of 1893. A certain part of the west wing of the prison was fitted up for this purpose. New cots, with mattresses, were provided, a bath room finished with all the new modern conveniences, and a keeper who had had several years' experience at the insane asylum at Augusta, assumed charge of this department. On the above date twelve (12) insane convict patients were brought here from the hospital at Augusta ; and five (5) who were then in the prison were put in the insane department. The general health of these men has been good. One has died during the year. February 27th, Levi Jack died of valvular disease of the heart.

In the prison proper, there have been two deaths during the year. April 11th, Colby Moore died of locomotor ataxia, and October 25th, Charles E. Merrill died of diabetes. The general health of the convicts has been good. No epidemics have occurred and there have been but few accidents. The good and well cooked food, the warm clothing, the equitable temperature of the buildings, and the excellent sanitary condition of the whole institution, have all helped to bring about this good result.

Permit me here to thank the warden, deputy warden and all the subordinate officers for the many courtesies extended me during my official duties.

J. EDWIN WALKER,
Prison Physician.

Report of Commission Relating to Criminal Insane.

To His Excellency, the Governor, and the Executive Council of the State of Maine:

The Commission created by "An Act to amend chapter 137, of the Revised Statutes, relating to the criminal insane" would respectfully submit for your consideration its first biennial report for the period ending November 30, 1894. The Commission, in pursuance of its duties, held its first session at the State prison in April, 1893, and carefully considered the Act of the legislature which contemplated providing for the insane criminals at the insane department of the State prison. The Commission fully inspected that portion of the prison, and took into consideration some changes which were thought desirable for the comfort and care of its future occupants. The resident member of the Commission immediately constructed a suitable bath-room, containing a water-closet, bath-tub and set wash-bowl. This was thoroughly and efficiently piped for warm and cold water with the most approved material and in a workman-like manner. Hard wood floors were laid in some of the cells and a very comfortable sick room was arranged. The department had already been installed for electric lights, and upon inspection it was found that its steam radiation was sufficient for its proper heat and ventilation. Excellent bedsteads and bedding were furnished for the various rooms. Suitable renovation of the entire department was completed, and, by order of your Excellency and the Executive Council, thirteen of the criminal insane of the Maine Insane Hospital were removed to this department and placed under treatment there August 9, 1893. In order to afford the unfortunate inmates of this department proper care, an efficient and experienced attendant was selected for their supervision from the Maine Insane Hospital to take charge of them during the day, and a suitable night attendant was provided.

The non-resident member of the Commission has visited the department as often as once each month since its occupancy, and has advised with the other members relative to the proper care and treatment of the inmates.

The hygienic, dietary and sanitary conditions have been thoroughly inspected from time to time, and we are pleased to report that nutritious, wholesome food has been supplied at all times; a special diet has been afforded the sick and other attentions rendered, as the necessity of each case required. The resident physician of the Commission has at all times responded promptly and efficiently to the physical and mental necessities of the inmates.

The department has been properly warmed and lighted, and we believe its sanitation is excellent. The inmates have been taken out for exercise in suitable weather, and a large share of physical health has prevailed. But one occupant has died, which was the result of long-continued mental disease. He had been an inmate of the Maine Insane Hospital continuously since 1868, and several years before that time was a resident of the hospital for a short period. From constant inspection, we feel assured that this formidable class, many of whom are afflicted with homicidal impulses, are being humanely and kindly cared for; and taking into consideration the fact that the provisions for treatment of the insane at the Maine Insane Hospital had become so limited, the action of the legislature, providing for the elimination of this class from the hospital and caring for them at this department, was a wise procedure, and, we believe, commends itself to the better judgment of the citizens of the State.

We append the following tabulation relating to the numerical condition of this department:

REPORT OF VISITING COMMITTEE.

Frequent visits during the past two years as visiting committee of the Council, have suggested the following thoughts to my mind, in regard to the management and improvement of the prison. I have been pleased to notice the good discipline maintained by the warden and prison officials throughout the two years.

The prisoners have been supplied with a sufficiency of wholesome food, and the prison has been kept in a clean, and good sanitary condition throughout all its parts.

Marked improvements have been made by the establishment of the laundry; installing a good electric light system; introducing power; putting in new bathing facilities for the inmates; and re-building and re-arranging the stable and out-buildings; all of which improvements were ordered by the last legislature. Early in 1893 a portion of the prison was set apart for the accommodation of the insane convicts, and after it was properly repaired, all such were transferred from the Insane Hospital to the prison. There are now nineteen patients of that class at the prison under the care of faithful and careful attendants; and the supervision of the superintendent of the Insane Hospital. No provision was made by the legislature in the bill ordering their removal to the prison, for any pay for attendants to care for them, or to pay for their maintenance. Hence there is a deficiency to be provided for for the past two years, for their maintenance and care while at the prison, also provision should be made to compensate the superintendent of the hospital, for his necessary additional trouble and expenses in looking after them. The appropriation for the lighting of the prison was not sufficient to allow its full lighting by electricity and should be increased. So long as the present law prohibiting the employment of more than twenty per cent of the prisoners in any one branch of business is continued, there will be an annual deficiency in the prison finances, for the reason, that it is necessary to furnish a full force of skilled overseers in each shop, in order to give the men the instruction contemplated by the law, and skilled overseers command good pay. If all the prisoners were at work in one line of manufactures but one set of overseers would be required. If the present system is to be continued, an appropriation must be made each year to meet the deficiency.

I commend the warden, chaplain, and all the other officials for their care and thoughtfulness for the well being of the prisoners and for the good health which has prevailed in all the departments of the prison.

During the past two years, I have as much as possible, made my visits in company with the prison inspectors, and have found it greatly to my advantage; as it has enabled me to keep fully informed as to the whole management and the actual condition of the prisoners.

I would recommend that additional land be purchased, for the purpose of enlarging the prison fields, so that they might produce what common farm products the prisoners require; by so doing a large saving might be made to the State in my opinion.

I wish to express my thanks to the inspectors and all the prison officials for the uniform courtesy with which I have been treated by them during all our official intercourse.

Respectfully submitted,

WALDO PETTINGILL,

Visiting Committee of the Council.

REPORT ON JAILS.

We have visited the several jails in the State during the past year as often, as in our judgment, was necessary and their condition, in many respects, shows a decided improvement. Our suggestions and recommendations have been cheerfully complied with by county officers. The jails, with one or two exceptions, have been kept in good condition with the prisoners properly classified and well cared for.

Eight counties now clothe their prisoners in convict suits and with satisfactory results in every way.

Aroostook and Knox counties have erected and equipped suitable sheds and yards for the employment of tramps, at breaking stone, which has resulted in a decided decrease of tramp commitments in those counties. We have advised the county officers in some of the other counties to adopt a similar method of employing tramps and arrangements are now being made with that end in view.

There have been 6,176 commitments for all crimes during the year ending November 30, 1894, of which 263 were females, 993 were tramps, and 107 were poor debtors; 2,808 were committed for drunkenness, 240 for selling intoxicants, and 2,066 for non-payment of fines.

We find that a large number of those committed for drunkenness were tramps. In some of the counties the expense attending the arrest and commitment of tramps has become very burdensome and requires, in our judgment, some legislative action. We would respectfully suggest for the consideration of the legislature, that chapter 288 of the Public Laws of 1889 be so amended as to give judges of municipal courts and trial justices jurisdiction under that act in order that they may be enabled to impose the penalties therein provided for tramps instead of binding them over to a higher tribunal as they are now obliged to do.

The laws governing the transfer of prisoners from one jail to another, when jails become overcrowded, should, in our judgment be so amended as to allow the inspectors to remove prisoners to such jails as they may deem best and not be confined to the selection of work jails as the law now provides. This matter was called sharply to our attention in one instance during the past year when we found 103 prisoners confined in a jail containing ten cells. There are but three work jails in the State and those being located in our large counties usually contain as many prisoners as they can well accommodate. If, in such transfers as the law contemplates, the inspectors were allowed to use their discretion, better results would be accomplished and with less expense to the counties requesting such transfers.

We append hereto the reports of the sheriffs of our several counties in detail with tabulated statements.

August 13, 1894, Joseph Murphy and William Paddock escaped from the rock yard. They were the first men to file into the yard out of twenty-seven, they used a piece of plank to climb over the fence before the rest of the men had filed into the yard. The keeper did not miss them for a time. As soon as I was notified I put the rest all back in jail and started to find them, they had taken to the woods. I located them seven hours after their escape on the Woodstock road between Houlton and Woodstock, and with Deputy Sheriff Martin Lawles, we did succeed in capturing William Paddock, Murphy got into the woods after a hard chase. I have not since heard from him.

Richard Raycroft escaped from yard November 23, 1894, by breaking lock from door leading into yard. Was recaptured same day by me near the boundary line in the woods six hours after escape.
