EXPLANATORY NOTE

Under "Date of organization", dates supplied parenthetically are derived from the chronological position of the entry.

Under "Area", parenthetical descriptions, using modern area names, have been supplied where the original description is so complex that it can be traced only by the use of ancient maps.

The arrangement by counties differs from that of the volume indexes; plantations are here grouped by present county boundaries.

Cross references between plantations of different name but identical or overlapping area have been included for clarity.
