SUMMARY: This bill is a new draft of LD 2418. The original bill called for a moratorium on the licensing of any landfill which might receive solid waste from out-of-state sources. The bill also called for a study of the effects of existing and future landfills on the environment, particularly groundwater quality. The Committee rejected the moratorium as unnecessary and as an unconstitutional restraint of interstate commerce. The new draft eliminated the moratorium provision and reworded study language to broaden the study scope to include potentially all aspects of solid waste management and disposal policy in Maine. The study deadline was extended to March 15, 1987.

A variety of amendments were offered in the Senate (SC, SD, and SE) attempting to provide for retroactive application of any possible study recommendations and to allow the Department of Environmental Protection to consider the compliance record of applicants for landfill licenses. Other amendments were prepared but never offered. The new draft was ultimately enacted without amendment.
