SUMMARY

The bill would have retroactively repealed the increase in the minimum lobster size and retained a minimum size of 3 8/32 until March 1, 1993. On that date, the minimum size would have begun increasing by 1/32 of an inch per year, March 1, 1994. The bill also would have required the Joint Standing Committee on Marine Resources to hold public hearings to review the results of any new research concerning the lobster measure, including any federal lobster marketing study during the summer of 1992. The committee would have been authorized to report any legislation resulting from the investigation to the Legislature by January 1, 1993.

Committee amendment "A" (S-25) replaced the bill. The amendment established the state minimum lobster size at 3 8/32 inches, with 2 annual increases of 1/32 of an inch contingent upon written certification by the Attorney General that the United States Secretary of Commerce and the states of New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island have adopted a minimum lobster size and a schedule of minimum size increases that conform to those in this amendment. The amendment struck the schedule for minimum lobster size increases contained in the bill, the requirements for public hearings on the lobster measure and the report to the Legislature, but retained the bill's retroactivity provision. The amendment also requires the Commissioner of Marine Resources to report to the Joint Standing Committee on Marine
