ONE HUNDRED EIGHTEENTH LEGISLATURE
FIRST REGULAR AND FIRST SPECIAL SESSIONS

Summary Of Legislation Before The Joint Standing Committees
August 1997

We are pleased to provide this summary of bills that were considered by the 15 Joint Standing Committees of the Maine Legislature staffed by this office. The document is a compilation of bill summaries which describe each bill, committee amendments and other relevant amendments, as well as the final action taken on the bill. Also included are statistical summaries of bill activity this Session for the Legislature and each of its joint standing committees.

The document is organized for convenient reference to information on bills handled by the joint standing committees. It is organized alphabetically by committees and within committees by bill (LD) number. The committee report(s), prime sponsor for each bill and the lead co-sponsor(s), if designated, are listed below each bill title. All adopted amendments are listed by paper number. Two indices, a subject index and a numerical index by LD number are provided for easy reference to bills. They are located at the back of the document. A separate publication, History and Final Disposition of Legislative Documents, may also be helpful in providing information on the disposition of bills. These bill summaries also are available at the Law and Legislative Reference Library and on the Internet (www.state.me.us/legis/opla).

Final action on each bill is noted to the right of the bill title. The abbreviations used for various categories of final action are as follows:

LD 1392 proposed to provide that an emergency services worker who is exposed to potentially infectious blood or other bodily fluids of another person in the course of employment may require that person to submit to an HIV test and may require that the results of that test be disclosed to that emergency services worker. See also LD 1409.

Committee Amendment "A" (H-404) is the majority report. It proposed that anyone, including those who would be included in the definition in the original bill of "emergency services worker," who experiences a bona fide occupational exposure is entitled to receive the results of a court-ordered HIV test on a person whose blood or bodily fluid is the source of a bona fide occupational exposure, pursuant to the judicial consent procedures of the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 5, section 19203-C. It proposed to remove the discretion that the court has under current law and to repeal the provision whereby the court must consider the balance of benefit and harm to each individual before ordering the test.

Committee Amendment "B" (H-405) is the minority report. It proposed that anyone, including those who would be included in the definition in the original bill of "emergency services worker," who experiences a bona fide occupational exposure may receive the results of a court-ordered HIV test on a person whose blood or bodily fluid is the source of a bona fide occupational exposure, pursuant to the judicial consent procedures of the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 5, section 19203-C. It proposed to preserve the current law provisions that give the court discretion in ordering the test and to add a provision giving the court discretion to release the results to the person exposed, based upon the balance of benefit and harm to both the person exposed and the person tested. (Not adopted.)

Enacted law summary

Public Law 1997, chapter 331 provides that anyone who experiences a bona fide occupational exposure is entitled to receive the results of a court-ordered HIV test on a person whose blood or bodily fluid is the source of a bona fide occupational exposure, pursuant to the judicial consent procedures of the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 5, section 19203-C. The court no longer has discretion whether to order the test and release of the results. See also LD 1409, Public Law 1997, chapter 368.
