LD 1216 An Act To Improve the Authority of Guardians of Persons with Intellectual Disabilities or Autism

Died Between Houses

Committee Report

Amendments Adopted

This bill addresses several ambiguities with regard to the powers of guardians of persons with intellectual disabilities or autism

Currently, the Probate Code provides no clear restrictions on how far the court may expand the guardian's powers. This bill resolves the ambiguity by clearly allowing probate courts to continue to use the broad powers granted by the guardianship statute. It also provides a second avenue through which a right may be waived or restricted. This is consistent with the historical role of the Probate Court in administering guardianships.

This bill also clarifies the rights of persons with intellectual disabilities or autism, as well as provides that, although the Department of Health and Human Services has authority to oversee certain types of behavioral interventions and related actions, that authority may not be used to limit the authority of guardians.

This bill was not referred to a committee.

Committee Report

Amendments Adopted

This bill amends the Child and Family Services and Child Protection Act in the following ways.

1. It makes clear that the prohibitions on the use of Department of Health and Human Services records and information do not apply to a child or parent, legal guardian or custodian of a child who is the subject of the records or information.
2. It allows upon request a child or parent, legal guardian or custodian of a child to receive Department of Health and Human Services records and information concerning the child unless the department can prove by clear and convincing evidence that the records or information should not be released.
3. It removes the criminal penalty for a person who disseminates information that may be in Department of Health and Human Services records if the person obtained that information from an independent source.
4. It clarifies that unsubstantiated records or information that are expunged or should have been expunged may not be used for any purpose including as evidence in any administrative or judicial proceeding.
5. It modifies the notice, conduct and appeal rights concerning proceedings involving preliminary protection orders.
6. It clarifies that the petitioner must present and the court must find that reasonable efforts to prevent the removal of a child have been made prior to the issuance of a preliminary protection order.

This bill was carried over to any special or regular session of the 127th Legislature by joint order, H.P. 992.
