STATE OF MAINE

REPORT

OF THE

ATTORNEY GENERAL

for the calendar years

1943--1944

State Liquor Commission can import spirituous or vinous liquors into this State except an individual may transport into this State spirituous or vinous liquors for his personal use, in a quantity not to exceed three quarts. The Commission has no authority to permit importation in violation of this law.

An individual desiring to have liquor delivered to him in the State of Maine from outside the State can only accomplish this with purchase order through the State Liquor Commission. In your particular set of facts, it would be necessary for the individual to place an order with the State Liquor Commission for this liquor. The liquor would have to be delivered to the warehouse of the State Liquor Commission at Portland, Maine, by the duly licensed vendor or manufacturer. The individual could then receive this shipment of liquors from the State Liquor Commission upon payment of all the charges of transportation plus 61% added onto the cost price of the liquor plus the mark up.

Subject: Witness Fees

Under date of June 26th your memorandum requests opinion as to whether or not inspectors are entitled to receive fees in criminal cases in which they appear either as the arresting officer or witness.

Chapter 247 of the Public Laws, enacted at the Special Session of the Legislature in October 1937 (repealing Section 24 of Chapter 237 of the Public Laws of 1937) among other provisions defines the powers and duties of inspectors as follows: "  They shall have the same powers and duties throughout the several counties of the state as sheriffs have in their respective counties in connection with the laws pertaining to the sale, possession, manufacture and transportation of intoxicating liquors and the conduct of drinking houses and tipping shops."

Section 4 of Chapter 126 of the Revised Statutes of 1930 provides for the fees due sheriffs and their deputies in criminal cases. It, therefore, follows that where the inspectors have the same duties and powers as sheriffs, they have the same right to fees in criminal cases as sheriffs and deputies. Costs in criminal cases are taxed to the respondent on conviction and may become a part of the sentence. The respondent is not entitled to have credit on these costs because the officer making the arrest, etc. is paid a salary by the state.

Inspectors being on a salary basis are not entitled to keep these fees personally. All fees coming to an inspector in criminal cases in connection with the discharge of their duties should be immediately turned over by him to the Chief of the Enforcement Division who shall transmit them for deposit to the State Treasurer.
