STATE OF MAINE
OFFICE OF STATE AUDITOR

AUGUSTA, Feb. 1, 1921

To the Honorable House of Representatives:

In compliance with an order of the House of Representatives, dated January 27, 1921, asking that there be filed within one week from that date an itemized account of the total cost to date of the garage that the Highway Commission is building, or having built, in Augusta, the cost of same, from what funds the money is taken, I send herewith such itemized account, which shows that the total net expenditure to January 24, 1921, for such purpose was $184,243.03.

The cost has been charged against the State Highway Loan Fund, as authorized by the order of the Governor and Council, approving the contract, and dated October 14, 1920.

(Signed) R. L. WARDWELL,
State Auditor.

The following communications:

STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSION
STATE OF MAINE

AUGUSTA

February 2, 1921.

*The Honorable,
The House of Representatives,
Augusta, Maine.*

Sirs:

In compliance with order under date of January 27, we beg to state that the estimated total cost of garage now being constructed in Augusta is $219,640.19.

Equipment so far purchased consists of a one thousand gallon gasoline tank and a pump and five three-barrel lubricating outfits with pumps. The gas tank has been buried in the yard outside of the building and is ready to be connected with the pump. The equipment outlined above, gas and oil tanks and pumps, cost $1,363.05.

No machinery has been purchased. The State Highway Commission is planning to pick up second-hand machinery from time to time that is suited for garage work and which can be bought at a low price. Needed equipment will probably cost from three thousand to four thousand dollars.

The size of the building is as follows:

One wing, inside dimensions, 151 feet by 74 feet 6 inches, consisting of basement and one floor; the other wing is 201 feet by 49 feet, inside dimensions, consisting of a basement and one floor. The building is so laid out that there are entrances from three different grade levels and a ramp from the basement of the first wing to the basement of the second wing, which is on the level with the first floor of the first building, eliminates the need of an elevator to move trucks from one part of the building to the other.

The estimated capacity of the building is for one hundred and sixty trucks, including a chance for repairing about twenty trucks at one time. It is believed if the building were used solely for storage that two hundred trucks and automobiles could be stored in it.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed)	W. M. AYER, Chairman,	} State
	P. J. DEERING,		} Highway
	FRANK A. PEABODY,

Were read.

The following communication :

STATE OF MAINE
OFFICE OF ATTORNEY GENERAL
AUGUSTA, MAINE,

February 16, 1921.

To the Honorable House of Representatives of the Eightieth Legislature:

I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of a copy of the order passed by your Honorable body on Wednesday, February 9th, 1921, requesting the Attorney General to advise your Honorable body in writing whether Article IV, Section 2, of the Constitution of Maine, providing that the House of Representatives shall consist of one hundred fifty-one members, has been amended, and also to advise your Honorable body as to the number of representatives now allowed under the Constitution of Maine.

In compliance with your request, I respectfully advise you that in my opinion Section 2 of Article IV of the Constitution of Maine has not been so amended as to permit an increase of its membership at the present time to a greater number than one hundred fifty-one, and that the number of representatives now allowed under the Constitution of this State is fixed at one hundred fifty-one.

This conclusion is based upon the following historical statement, and general principles of constitutional and statutory interpretation.

The original Constitution, in Article IV, Part 1, Section 2, made provision for an initial membership of not less than one hundred nor more than one hundred fifty, with the additional provision in Section 3, that under certain conditions of increase in population this number might be increased to two hundred. In 1841, by an amendment to Section 2, duly submitted and adopted, the number of representatives was definitely established at one hundred fifty-one, the provision for an increased membership being eliminated. This amendment will be found in Chapter 181 of the Resolves of 1841, and has ever since that time been a part of our organic law. In 1917, there was submitted to the voters of the State and accepted by them, an amendment to Section 3 of Part 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, which amendment appears in Chapter 116 of the Resolves of 1917. The sole purpose and effect of this amendment, in my judgment, was to add to the then existing provision that no town should ever be entitled to more than seven representatives, the exception that in the event of the merger of towns or cities, the new town or city should be allowed the combined representation of the former units. The resolution submitting the proposed amendment, however, concluded by purporting to recite the amended section as it would read by the insertion of the proposed amendatory language, but in the recital a very obvious error was made in incorporating the original obsolete provision authorizing an increase in the membership in the House to two hundred under certain conditions.

We do not feel that this error in recital, so palpably inconsistent with the express intention of the resolve, should be treated as having the effect of restoring the obsolete provision. It is well recognized that in the interpretation of both Constitutional and statutory amendments, the real intention of the legislative body is to be given effect wherever possible, that all other provisions of the Constitution and of existing statutes in pari materia are to be read together, and that consequences manifestly not within the spirit of the law makers are to be avoided. Their intention inferred from a reasonable interpretation of all their expressions upon the subject matter constitutes the real law.

A careful search of the authorities fails to disclose cases precisely in point involving the construction of Constitutional provisions, but similar problems have occasionally arisen in cases where statutes have been amended and in reciting the original statute as amended, intervening legislation has been overlooked, resulting in an erroneous statement of the effect of the amendment after the words "so as to read as follows." The decisions in such cases appear to be uniform to the effect that the true intent of the legislature should be given effect and the obvious error in the recital disregarded. The case most closely in point is that of Svennes vs. West Salem, 114 Wisc. 650. The first paragraph of the syllabus contains the gist of the decision, which is as follows:

"A statute (Sec. 3187a, Stats 1898) was amended by striking out certain words. A subsequent amendment was expressly limited to another portion of the section, but by inadvertence the words before stricken out were incorporated in the recital of the section, as amended. Held, that such recital did not re-enact those words but the clerical error should be disregarded."

The following language from the opinion is also in point:

"The question recurs whether such mere recital had the effect to re-enact the four words so expressly stricken out two years before. Such amendments by its terms was expressly limited to the third line of the section, whereas the sentence in question commenced in the sixteenth line of the section. There was manifestly no intention of changing the last sentence of the section in any manner. By inadvertence, there was a failure to recognize the fact that the four words mentioned had been stricken out two years before. This court has repeatedly held that such a mistake or omission in such recital will not defeat the intention of the legislature.' Custin v. Viroqua, 67 Wis. 314, 30 N. W. 515; State v. Stillman, 81 Wis. 124; 51 N. W. 260. Such clerical error in the recital of the section as amended must therefore 'be disregarded, and effect given only to the amendment specified.' "

To the same effect is Lewis vs. Brandenburg, 105 Ky. 14, in which the contention was made that where after a specific amendment the legislature declared that the section as amended "would read as follows" the section as thus enacted, being the last expression of the legislative will, constituted the law on the subject.

The Court called attention to the fact that the particular amendment would not make the statute "read as follows," and the statutes, although passed at different times, should all be read together to ascertain the true intent.

The general principle is also borne out by the text of Lewis' Sutherland on Statutory Construction, Vol. 1, 2nd Ed., paragraph 234.

Respectfully yours,

RANSFORD W. SHAW,

Attorney General.

The following communication:

STATE OF MAINE.

DEPARTMENT OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

AUGUSTA

March 11, 1921.

To the Honorable House of Representatives of the Eightieth Legislature:

I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of House Order requesting me to give an opinion as to whether the words "domestic animals" as used in Section 110 of Chapter 4 of the Revised Statutes includes poultry, and beg to report as follows:

In my opinion, poultry is included in the terms of that statute. At common law, animals which could be used for food and which were domesticated and kept under the control of mankind, were considered domestic animals.

Reference to legal definitions to statutes and decided cases would seem to warrant this conclusion as will be seen by the following citations.

The term "animal" is comprehensive enough to include birds and will be so considered unless it is provided otherwise by statute, or there is some other reason for a contrary holding.

3 Corpus Juris, page 15, note 2.

The word has been held to include domestic fowls generally, duck, chicken, turkeys, doves, geese, and rook.

3 Corpus Juris, page 16.

Statutes and decisions in New York, Massachusetts, Virginia, Michigan, Utah, Colorado, Wyoming, North Carolina, Missouri and Indiana have laid down the rule that under laws relating to cruelty to animals, the term "animal" includes fowl.

In this state, Chapter 126, Section 67 of the Revised Statutes, provides in every law relating to or affecting animals the word animal includes every living brute creature. The uniform interpretation of statute by the state department entrusted with its administration, has been to regard the law in question as applicable to domestic fowl.

Respectfully,
(Signed) RANSFORD W. SHAW,
Attorney General.

Was read and ordered placed on file.

The following communication:—

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
STATE OF MAINE

March 17, 1921.

*To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Eightieth
Legislature:—*

In 1919 I drafted and introduced the act which became Chapter 132 of the Laws of 1919 and which is entitled "An Act to Create the Maine Water Power Commission." Under the provisions of this law, Sections 4 and 5, the Commission is instructed to "thoroughly investigate the Water Power resources within the State of Maine," and "report upon what rights remain to the State in the storage reservoirs and basins in the developed and undeveloped water powers within the State." Sections 7 and 8 of this law provide that "if the Commission is of the opinion that the State itself should acquire and develop these storage reservoirs and basins and undeveloped water powers, the Commission shall report a plan for the same," and "shall present a comprehensive and practicable plan whereby the water power resources of the State may be conserved, used and developed for the benefit of the people of Maine."

At the same session of the Legislature I drafted and introduced House Order dated February 27th, 1919, which propounded certain water power questions to the Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court, and the Justices in their answers to these questions gave their opinion that an amendment to the State Constitution was necessary if the State is to develop the storage reservoirs and undeveloped water powers within the State.

The Water Power Commission in its first annual report says: "It has seemed impracticable, if not legally impossible, for the Commission to work out a satisfactory plan for State control of storage reservoirs unless by some proper amendment to the Constitution," and "it is our intention to submit this plan (River Regulating Districts) to the Legislature should the necessary Constitutional amendment be presented." The Commission also says that "The interests of the State are greater than those of any person, or corporation, within it."

From this it will be seen that the Commission has prepared a definite plan for submission to the Legislature, and in a letter addressed to me, under date of March 11th, 1921, the Commission writes: "We believe that the Constitution of Maine should be amended in regard to reservoirs and water powers."

I have prepared and herewith submit a constitutional amendment for your consideration.

This amendment will give the people of Maine the opportunity to decide for themselves whether or not the State shall have the power to control and develop water storage basins, and undeveloped water powers. If the State today were to adopt a new constitution the people would doubtless reserve to themselves the right to control and develop water powers and storage reservoirs, the possibilities of which were unknown in 1820 when our present constitution was adopted. The people should be allowed to vote upon this question after ample opportunity has been given for thorough discussion, so that intelligent action may be taken.

This amendment has incorporated in it only those features which seem to me to be needed as the basis for future constructive legislation. It is generally accepted that "conservation" of water resources is necessary in order to stop the present economic waste of the State's water resources, and the only question involved is by whom, how and when this conservation is to be done.

The storage and control of waters is the foundation of conservation and the next step is their development and improvement.

Should the State take these preliminary steps it must have the power to use and sell its developed and improved water resources, and in addition thereto it should have the right to connect the various electrical systems throughout the State, so that a surplus of power in one section can be used in another where there is a scarcity.

The amendment submitted herewith in my opinion fulfills the present day requirements. The grave responsibility of submitting to the people of the State a comprehensive water power Constitutional amendment rests both upon this Legislature and upon myself, and should such an amendment fail to meet the needs of the situation we both would be remiss in our duty to those who sent us here.

The opponents of any and all forms of State control and development will attack the constitutionality of all legislation based on whatever amendment is submitted to the people, and for this reason there should be no doubt about its meaning and purposes, else the work of the past four years will become of no avail. A Constitutional amendment must stand every test to which able attorneys will subject it.

I am of the opinion that under this amendment the people of the State of Maine, through their representatives in the 1923 Legislature, will be able to take a forward step in water power development. A Constitutional amendment would be valueless which in any way restricts or limits the power of the people of this State to decide this question for themselves and upon its language depends to a large extent the future health, safety and prosperity of this State.

TAXATION

The last paragraph of the proposed amendment deals with the taxation of water powers and the Water Power Commission has made no recommendation on this phase of the question.

By the terms of the Federal Water Power bill the water powers of Maine are in danger of passing under Federal control, and it well may be that the only method of preventing this is to levy a tax upon hydro-electric energy generated within the State and shipped beyond its borders.

Under the decisions of the supreme court of the State water powers although they represent great value are not taxable property. This decision is not in conformity with the law of many other states but is binding upon our courts until the State Constitution is changed. These water powers today virtually escape taxation and it has well been said, "for the State to receive no compensation of any kind for the utilization of such a great wealth producer (water flowing over a dam, or horsepower developed) is to bring into existence the greatest possible injustice in the matter of taxation." In Maine there are about 400,000 developed water horsepower, the fair value of which is not less than $100 per horsepower and in some developments its value is even larger. There is also 1,000,000 horsepower undeveloped in the State. These great values should become a source of revenue to the State. If the Legislature adopts this amendment and if the people later ratify it, the Legislature of 1923 will be in a position to pass some reasonable tax laws under which these valuable rights will share in the burdens of taxation.

Professor George F. Swain of the Harvard Engineering School, a water power expert, in a lecture delivered in the Maine House of Representatives on March 10, 1921, stated that every developed horse power in Maine can do the work of at least five tons of coal. He stated that this means a saving of at least $50 per horse power per year on a coal basis. If each horse power will save $50 per year in coal, it is easy to compute what the annual saving to the people of Maine would be if our water resources were fully developed and gives an idea of the value of Maine's water power. With the ever increasing demands for appropriations now made upon our Legislature some new sources of revenue must be obtained, else the burden of taxation can no longer be borne by our citizens.

It was my intention to submit this amendment to you at an earlier date but circumstances over which I had no control prevented my doing so. This Legislature in my opinion will act wisely if it passes this constructive legislation, for under the first paragraph of the amendment the people can derive direct benefit from the development of storage reservoirs and water powers if they later determine by proper legislation that they desire to do so, and under the second some relief from the crushing burden of taxation can be obtained without injustice being done to those who will be called upon to pay.

WATER POWER CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

"The conservation, storage, control and use of waters, and the development, improvement, transmission, utilization, electrical interconnection, control and sale of water powers, by the State of Maine, either directly or through such public district or districts, as the Legislature may authorize and not otherwise are declared to constitute paramount public uses, for the accomplishment of which the right of eminent domain may be exercised, and in furtherance of which the right of taxation may be employed; and the Legislature may also provide therefor and for the apportionment to, and assessment upon, the lands and property which shall, or may be benefited thereby, and according to the extent of such benefits, the whole or any part of the cost of such conservation, storage, development, improvement, transmission, control, electrical interconnection, and utilization of said waters and water powers, including the cost of maintenance and operation thereof."

"For the purposes of taxation water powers and water privileges within the State, and hydro-electric energy generated therefrom, may be treated by the Legislature as property distinct from the land or structure to which they may be appurtenant, or from which they may be derived, and such powers, privileges and energy may be assessed for taxation in such manner as the Legislature may determine, at rates differing from the rate imposed upon real and personal property within the State; and such powers and privileges may be classified as developed, partially developed, and undeveloped, and a different rate of taxation may be imposed upon each class; provided, however, that all such taxes shall be apportioned and assessed equally at uniform rates of taxation throughout the State upon the same class of property."

Respectfully submitted,

PERCIVAL P. BAXTER,

Governor of Maine.

The following communication:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT

April 4, 1921.

To the Honorable House of Representatives:—

I return herewith without my approval "Resolve in Favor of the Medical School of Maine Established by Chapter XVI of the Private and Special Laws of Maine, 1820, as Amended." I do not favor the establishment of a State Medical School because it is my opinion:—

First: That the object for which the school would be established, the education of physicians who would be willing to practice their profession in the rural communities of the State, will not be attained if this resolve becomes a law;

Second: That the State should not commit itself to the founding of this institution because our citizens do not thoroughly understand the questions at issue, and do not realize what financial and other problems, of the present and future, are involved by this proposed action;

Third: That the State should not embark upon an enterprise of this magnitude unless it is prepared to maintain a medical school of the highest grade, and this would call for an expense far in excess of any appropriation provided for by this resolve;

Fourth: That the present condition of the State's finances and the heavy tax burdens now borne by our people do not justify the expenditure of the money required to found a new State institution, especially in view of the fact that the requirements of a State Medical School would increase with each passing year;

Fifth: That a State should not establish a State medicine any more than a State religion, and notwithstanding the language of the bill that the school is for "all branches of medicine," it is understood that the course of study would be such as is usually provided for by one particular school of medicine. The individual should be free to select his own method of treatment and the taxpayers' money should not be used for the advancement of any one medical or religious faith.

The above reasons I consider fundamental. My secondary reasons are:

First: That the unanimously unfavorable report on this resolve made by the Joint Committee on Judiciary and Public Health, composed of 20 members of this Legislature, is at least strong prima facie evidence that the bill ought not to pass, especially in view of the fact that the Joint Committee referred to conducted exhaustive hearings on the subject.

Second: That certain gifts to the proposed school are contingent upon its being maintained as a Class "A" school, which means a school of the highest grade, and this classification is determined by a Board over which the State of Maine has no control. If the school should fall below the required grade some question might be raised as to the State's being able to retain the gifts, regardless of the fact that the State might have done all in its power to maintain the highest standards.

Third: That, should this resolve become a law, a judicial decision would be necessary in connection with certain endowment funds, and there is some doubt whether the State would receive the benefit of the funds referred to, which if not received would place upon the State an unexpected burden.

Fourth: That the opinion of the medical profession of Maine is divided as to the desirability or necessity of a State medical school.

For the reasons above stated I cannot approve the Medical School Resolve.

Respectfully,

PERCIVAL P. BAXTER,

Governor of Maine

Was read and ordered placed on file.

Pursuant to the provisions of the Constitution of Maine, the House proceeded to reconsider the Resolve. After such reconsideration, a yea and nay vote was taken on the question "Shall this Resolve become a law notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?" The following communication:

DEPARTMENT OF STATE
STATE OF MAINE
AUGUSTA

To the Clerk of the House of Representatives of the Eightieth Legislature of the State of Maine:

Pursuant to the joint order of the Senate and House of Representatives of the Eightieth Legislature, I have the honor to transmit herewith a list of the Legislative Counsel and Legislative Agents registered in the Office of the Secretary of State, in accordance with Chapter 100 of the Public Laws of 1919. This list comprises all such counsel and agents who have registered from March 30, 1921, to April 5, 1921, both dates inclusive.

Respectfully submitted,
(Signed) FRANK W. BALL,
Secretary of State.

Was read and ordered placed on file and the accompanying list ordered spread on the Legislative Record.

The following communication:

STATE OF MAINE
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
AUGUSTA

April fifth, 1921.

To the Honorable House of Representatives:

I return herewith without my approval "Resolve in favor of Cary Hospital, Caribou, Aroostook County, to Aid in the Construction of a Hospital."

This Resolve appropriates the sum of $10,000 for a hospital in the town of Caribou. The State at the present time is appropriating $465,125 to "state aided institutions, hospitals and children's homes." This large sum of money is appropriated to assist worthy institutions, but there is a limit upon the amount which the State should and can appropriate for private institutions. The demands upon the State from institutions of the above class are constantly increasing and many of the thinking people of the State believe that the time will come when the State's charities will be confined to state institutions. The time for such a proposed change is not ripe and should it come about, it would be advisable to make the change gradually so that the institutions could accommodate themselves to the new conditions. For the reasons herein stated I cannot approve the additional appropriation especially in view of the fact that it was not recommended by the Budget Committee.

Respectfully,

(Signed) PERCIVAL P. BAXTER,
Governor of Maine.

P.S. Before the State of Maine assumes additional obligations to aid private institutions, even though such institutions are performing valuable services, a definite policy should be adopted as to the State's contributions for private charities. The demands for funds from the regular state institutions such as the two insane hospitals, men and women's reformatories, School for the Deaf, School for the Feeble-Minded, Bath Orphan Asylum, the three State sanatoriums, and the two State Schools—one for girls and one for boys—already amount to over three and a quarter million dollars for the fiscal period, and these figures have been reduced to the minimum amount required to keep these institutions in proper condition.

The fact that the citizens of Caribou are willing to contribute to the aid of this hospital speaks well for their public spirit, but it does not lessen the burdens of the State of Maine. When it is understood that the State now grants annual aid to 38 institutions similar to the hospital in question, and to 34 private institutions of learning, it can readily be seen that each institution that is added to this already long list brings additional burdens, and there now seems to be an end to what the State can afford to do.

With these facts before us it cannot be said that the State of Maine is failing to do its part in the support of its sick and dependent citizens, if it refuses to pass this resolve.

Respectfully,
(Signed) PERCIVAL P. BAXTER,
Governor of Maine.

Was received and read, and on motion of Mr. FARNSWORTH of Caribou, the Resolve was tabled pending reconsideration until later in the day.

The following communication:

STATE OF MAINE
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
AUGUSTA

April fourth, 1921.

To the Honorable House of Representatives:

I am returning to you without my approval "Resolve authorizing Michael Burns to bring a suit at law against the State of Maine."

In this resolve it provides that "if it appears that such prosecution was begun and carried on by the order of the Executive" that suit may be brought against the State for damages.

The Executive, under the terms of the Constitution, is charged with the duty of instigating prosecutions if in his opinion the laws of the State are being violated. I am of the opinion that the passage of this Resolve might create a dangerous precedent, and if the doctrine were extended the State might be compelled to respond in damages if a judge should issue a Bench Warrant under which a person is arrested and compelled to defend himself.

In 1919 Resolve was passed by the Committee on Judiciary and later by the Legislature, of which I was a member, authorizing Michael Burns to bring a suit at law against the State of Maine, but that Resolve did not contain the provision that suit might be brought "if it appears that such prosecution was begun and carried on by the order of the Executive." Nothing should be done to hamper the Executive in the enforcement of law, and for this reason I cannot approve the Resolve presented to me.

Respectfully,
(Signed) PERCIVAL P. BAXTER,
Governor of Maine.

Was received and read, and on motion of Mr. MAHER of Augusta, Resolve was tabled pending reconsideration until later in the day.

Resolve in favor of Benjamin A. Swasey, clerk to the Committee on School for Feeble Minded. (Presented by Mr. DAIN of Bath)

Was referred to the Committee on Appropriations and Financial Affairs and sent up for concurrence.

The following communication:

STATE OF MAINE
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
AUGUSTA

April fourth, 1921.

To the Honorable House of Representatives:

I am returning without my approval "An Act Regulating Boxing Exhibitions within the State of Maine."

This Act creates an indefinite number of commissions to supervise and control boxing or sparring matches. It selects one form of sport from all the others and gives it the dignity of special recognition by the State. It is difficult to understand why boxing should be licensed and controlled by the State in preference to baseball, football, horse racing, tennis, golf, and other indoor sports and outdoor sports. Some of these sports are conducted by professionals, some by amateurs and some by both professionals and amateurs, and all have their devotees. If the sport of boxing should, however, fail to be conducted in a clean and wholesome manner those who patronize it have a remedy within their own power, for they can refuse to attend unless those who promote it have acquired an established reputation for fair play and honest sport. The authority of the State should not be called upon to regulate sports and athletics.

The provisions of the Bill in question legalizing boxing contests conducted for prizes and purses are questionable, and a provision that where the contestants are not acting in good faith, "the prize, purse, or any part thereof" shall be "confiscated and sold and the proceeds given to the local charities" appears to me to be an attempt to gain support for a measure that possesses little or no merit. In my opinion public sentiment in the State of Maine will not approve of the State's recognition of boxing matches as called for by the bill in question. It seems unnecessary to provide that boxing exhibitions shall not be conducted on Sunday and this provision together with that prohibiting children under 16 years of age attending these contests is an attempt to gain support for this bill.

The existing law in my opinion is sufficiently liberal and boxing matches of 12 rounds conducted with all the paraphernalia that is used in such exhibitions, with purses and prizes for the victors, come so close to the line of what are generally understood to be "prize fights" that it is difficult to distinguish between them.

Respectfully,

(Signed) PERCIVAL P. BAXTER,

Governor of Maine.

Was read and ordered placed on file.

After such reconsideration, a yea and nay vote was taken on the question "Shall this Bill become a law notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?" 34 voted in favor of the same and 101 against, and accordingly the veto was sustained, since two-thirds of the members of the House failed to approve passage notwithstanding the objections of the Governor.

The following report:

STATE OF MAINE

In the Year of Our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Twenty-One

Report of Committee on State Sanatoriums on the Clary Farm Bequest.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Eightieth Legislature:

The committee on state sanatoriums, to which was referred certain correspondence regarding the bequest of the Clary farm, would make the following report:

In the will of the late Henry W. Clary of the town of Jefferson, who died on the 13th of December, 1919, the sixth clause is as follows:

Sixth: I give and bequeath to the board of trustees for tuberculosis sanatoriums my home farm situated in Jefferson, Maine, and my farm lying on the south side of and contiguous to my home farm, which is also situated in said Jefferson and has been known as the Robert Clary, Jr., farm; all my household goods in my dwelling house on my said home farm, all my farming tools and farming machinery, and all my live-stock; in trust for the State of Maine for the purpose of establishing and maintaining upon said premises a sanatorium for the care and treatment of persons affected with tuberculosis. If said board of trustees for tuberculosis sanatoriums shall not within two years after this will shall have been admitted to probate accept this devise, bequest and trust, then this bequest and devise shall become void, and said real estate and goods and chattels shall become and remain a part of the residue of my estate to be disposed of as hereinafter provided.

In other clauses of the will it is provided that the residue of the estate shall be bequeathed to the town of Jefferson in trust, the income to be used for the purpose of making permanent construction and improvement of highways therein. It is also provided that in the event that the board of trustees for tuberculosis sanatoriums do not accept the devise made in the sixth section, the executors are authorized to sell and convey the farms named and to invest the proceeds.

In a letter from Lizzie H. French, secretary of the board of trustees of tuberculosis sanatoriums, to Governor Carl E. Milliken, under date of January 3, 1921, which is part of the correspondence referred to this committee, the following statement is made:

CLARY FARM

The trustees have voted to accept, under the conditions of the will, the generous bequest of the late Henry Clary of Jefferson, and would recommend that this valuable property be used as a preventorium for children who have had marked exposure to the disease, and whose symptoms indicate tuberculosis tendency.

LIZZIE H. FRENCH,
Secretary to Board of Trustees.

The committee have not visited the Clary farm, which is the subject of this report, but have been furnished with considerable information regarding it. The farm comprises about 400 acres, and is situated in the town of Jefferson, two and a half or three miles from a station on the narrow gauge railroad, and fifteen to eighteen miles by highway from Augusta, the nearest large center of population. In the appraisal of the estate it is valued at $13,500. The house sits on an elevation, the land in a southerly slope descending to two ponds. By all who have seen the place it is enthusiastically described as an ideal location for a tuberculosis sanatorium or other health institution. There is a large farm house with barn connected, and other buildings, all in excellent condition, and a large quantity of furnishings, all of which are included in the bequest.

At a hearing on sanatorium matters before this committee, relatives of Henry W. Clary, of advancing years, appeared and urged the acceptance and use of the gift for the purpose named in the will. At other times also during the session they have been in Augusta in connection with the same matter. It seems to be the dearest wish of the members of the Clary family that this farm, carved from the wilderness by the grandfather of Henry W. Clary, and which has ever since been in the family, should become the property of the state as provided by the will, and be used for the purpose therein specified.

At the same hearing the views of the trustees of sanatoriums and others interested were expressed. Some presented an attractive exposition of the benefit which might result from using the farm as a summer camp for tuberculous children or convalescents, for which it is unquestionably well adapted. Others considered that the expense of establishing and maintaining such an institution at this location would be more than the state could afford. A competent architect estimated that the necessary remodeling of buildings to adapt them to administration purposes and the erection of new buildings which would be advisable would make necessary an initial expense of $40,000. In the opinion of others, the building work, together with the necessary water supply and sewerage systems, would require a considerably larger amount.

With these facts before them, and with a full appreciation of the spirit which animated the generous donor and which as fully animates his surviving relatives, the committee took the matter under advisement, and its recommendations are here presented.

The Clary farm, while splendidly adapted for the purpose intended by the testator, is not convenient of access from lines of public transportation, either of persons, express or freight. We are already maintaining, in different parts of the state, at large expense, three tuberculosis sanatoriums, which are capable of considerable expansion as it becomes necessary, without more than a proportionate increase in overhead charges. To utilize the Clary farm as a sanatorium—the only purpose for which it is bequeathed and for which the state can use it—will require a considerable initial outlay and a constant expense for the maintenance of an additional staff during at least a part if not the whole of the year. Indeed, if the maintenance costs do not steadily increase there will be a departure from the precedent established by the history of other state institutions. The committee can see no reason why our tuberculous patients can not be practically as well cared for at existing sanatoriums, and at less expense.

While it is not in the province of the legislature to accept or decline the bequest, the legislature alone has the authority to establish another sanatorium and appropriate money for its maintenance. For the reasons which we have endeavored to set forth above, we do not recommend that the legislature do so. And we do not feel that our attitude detracts from the splendid nature of the bequest of Mr. Clary, the acceptance of which has been so feelingly urged by surviving members of the family.

We further recommend that the correspondence referred to this committee, together with this report, be referred to the governor and council, who are charged with the administration, through the board of trustees, of the affairs of our sanatoriums.

COMMITTEE ON STATE SANATORIUMS,

WILLIAM O. COBB, Chairman,
ARTHUR E. FORBES, Secretary.

The following communication:

STATE OF MAINE
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
AUGUSTA

April fifth, 1921.

To the Honorable House of Representatives:—

I return herewith without my approval "An Act to amend Section 12 of Chapter 117 of the Revised Statutes relating to Mileage of Members of the Legislature."

Under the present law the total mileage paid to members of the Legislature is $3,916, and the Act which I return would increase this total mileage to $19,580. While it is generally admitted that the salary of members of the Maine Legislature is inadequate for the services rendered and that the members make a financial sacrifice, the State at the present time is not in a position financially to increase the pay of mileage of its legislators. In my opinion if the salary of the members of the Senate and House is to be increased it is better to do so directly rather than in an indirect manner as is provided in the Act returned herewith. Every item in the appropriation bill must be carefully scrutinized and as this Act will increase the State's expenses by $15,664, I believe it is unwise to pass it at the present session, for it would add $15,664 to the item of legislative expenses.

Respectfully,

(Signed) PERCIVAL P. BAXTER,
Governor of Maine.

Was read and ordered placed on file.

Pursuant to the provisions of the Constitution of Maine, the House proceeded to reconsider the Bill. The following communication:

STATE OF MAINE
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
AUGUSTA

April fifth, 1921.

To the Honorable House of Representatives:—

I return herewith without my approval "An Act to Amend Section 14 of Chapter 34 of the Revised Statutes Increasing the Annual Appropriation for Scientific Investigations in Animal Husbandry."

Under the existing law the sum of $5,000 per year is appropriated for scientific investigations in animal husbandry. This work is done in connection with the Maine Agricultural Experiment Station and a large herd of cattle is maintained for the purpose. There is a wide divergency of opinion among cattle breeders of the State upon the desirability of maintaining the herd in question. The work is experimental and its value has not yet been established. Some of the Trustees of the University of Maine are of the opinion that this herd is a needless expense to the State and they have advocated disposing of it. Since the time these experiments were begun the State has expended approximately $100,000 on this work, and if interest is figured upon the annual appropriations that have been made by the Legislature, these figures would be increased by several thousand dollars.

In view of the great expense involved in and the doubtful value of this experimental work, I am of the opinion that at least for the present the appropriation should be limited to $5,000 a year if not wholly discontinued. I believe that the proposed appropriation of $10,000 is unwarranted. It is the policy of the State of Maine to aid and encourage its agricultural interests and I am of the opinion that the total amount called for by this Resolve can be spent to better advantage if it is used in connection with the regular agricultural courses at the University.

Respectfully,

(Signed) PERCIVAL P. BAXTER,

Governor of Maine.

STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSION
STATE OF MAINE
AUGUSTA

April 5, 1921.
3:00 P.M.

The Honorable Senate and House of Representatives.
Sirs:

We beg leave to report that to date applications for state aid received from four hundred and five towns call for apportionments of State aid amounting to $607,027.15.

Fourteen towns have reported that they made no appropriation. We should expect to receive applications from eighty-six more towns, which will take an average of $1500.00 each for apportionment. It would thus appear that there should be provided approximately $735,000.00 to meet apportionments of state aid against the applications by towns for state aid for 1921.

Respectfully,

Report of the Committee on Interior Waters reporting "Ought to pass" on Resolve in aid of navigation on Sebec Lake in Piscataquis County.

On motion of Mr. BUZZELL of Belfast, the House concurred with the Senate in the indefinite postponement of the Resolve.

Report of the Committee on Salaries and Fees on Bill "An Act to amend Section 15 of Chapter 117 of the Revised Statutes, relative to the salary of the Secretary of State,"

Which was read and accepted in the House, March 16,

Came from the Senate, the Bill substituted for the Report and the Bill passed to be engrossed as amended by Senate Amendment "B."

On motion of Mr. ROUNDS of Portland, the House reconsidered its above action of March 16, the Bill was substituted for the Report and given its three several readings, Senate Amendment "B" was read and adopted, and as so amended the Bill was passed to be engrossed in concurrence.

Mr. HINCKLEY of South Portland: Mr. Speaker, if I may be permitted to interrupt for a few moments the regular deliberations of this House, I wish to say a few words. On Sunday last in the city of Portland on the western promenade, I gazed upon as beautiful a landscape as the world affords. There, stretching for miles was a great level country, and beyond that the foothills breaking here and there, and still further beyond, I found that range of mountains known as the Presidential range, with peak after peak towering above the foothills, and then beyond those peaks against the horizon, towering above them all with its silvery crest sparkling in the sunlight, towered that mighty Mount Washington, a colossus among the others, a sentinel, as it were, guarding the great eastern country. Through what struggles and what trials and what evolutions the old world must have passed in the eons of the dark ages to bring these things about.

And as I looked upon that landscape, I thought how like the great human family, stretching out before us on every hand the great common mass of humanity, those great common people of whom Lincoln said, "God must have loved them best, because he made the most of them." And then we find here and there, rising above the others, those who have made successes in life, and then beyond we find the giants of professional and industrial life; but once in a generation a colossus appears, one who towers above the others, one who stands as a sentinel to those about him. And, Mr. Speaker, the members of this House have during the past weeks recognized in you one who has risen above his fellowmen to that extent that he has become a colossus among us. We have learned to admire your great ability; we have admired your wit; we have been charmed by your wisdom; we have cringed under your sarcasm, but we have learned to love you for your own sterling self. And the members of this House in recognition of the regard they have for you, and the love and esteem we have for you, and recognizing that you are the peer of any of the great men who have preceded you, wish, as a token of that affection and esteem, to present to you this watch and chain; and we hope, Mr. Speaker, that your career will be continued, and as this watch ticks out the days and the hours and the years, and your life continues to go on working for the great cause of humanity, that you may ever think of the boys of the Eightieth Legislature who love you. (Long and uproarious applause.)

Speaker BARNES: Gentlemen of the House, for nearly twenty years I have worn in my pocket a watch that was given to me when I was a school-master, purchased by the sum total of the contribution of pennies of a lot of little children. It is going to be replaced now by a watch contributed by another bunch of boys to the irascible old school-master.

Does it seem possible to you, gentlemen, that this session began in the dead of a Maine winter? I wonder if the opening day of this session seems to you as long ago as it does to me. You remember how we assembled, each one full of enthusiasm and desire to accomplish something for the State of Maine. Do you remember that first day here, when, eager to get the word and go, you sat in your seats and a man as full of vigor and fire as any boy, stood here for half an hour and charmed you and enjoyed the glory of an inauguration day? And you remember now what followed, so well expressed by a brother member of the Bar of Maine, Ruel Robinson, Esquire, of Camden, Maine, a day or two afterwards:

“Hats off! The Governor goes by—

The Governor who last September morn

Was hailed the chief of State with joyful cry;

Who with his well earned laurels humbly worn,

Reaching his goal and his triumphant hour

By valiant battle in the hard campaign

Was chosen to be first in place and power,

The honored ruler of his well-loved Maine!

Heads bowed! The Governor goes by—

He who upon that august yesterday

With noble purpose and with flashing eye,

Stepped bravely forth on Honor's radiant way,
Today with solemn pomp out through the gate
And down the highway passing by his troops,
The court, the senate, councillors of State;
While overhead the starry banner droops!

Hats off and bowed be every head!
And press not back the ready springing tear;
The Governor who now goes by is dead
And lies majestic on the flag-draped bier!
The solemn music throbs; the sad bells peal
Their requiem; the snow-flakes round him lie!
Hats off! Heads bowed! In reverent posture kneel!
A brave and gallant gentleman goes by!

And oh, it seems so long ago! And we who assembled with full purpose, as one united body, to carry out the policies which we presumed would be wise for the State, after that awful blow, prostrate, reached forth blindly like men just recovering consciousness, and for days and weeks we hardly knew which way to turn or whither to take our steps. And much has happened in these few past weeks. We assembled, one of our membership in far-distant Florida, fighting alone down there, the fight that returned George Savage to us almost recovered just the other day. (Applause.)

And, gentlemen, we saw during those first weeks moving about with us and sitting with us and counseling with us, that lovable gentleman from Pittsfield, Doctor Porter, who today is making the last grim fight in a hospital in Massachusetts. Did ever a legislature have occasion more solemnly to think that "Man proposes, but God disposes." It is hard to require much of a family in the first few days after a great bereavement, and in common life we do not require much. It may be said after we have gone that the Eightieth Legislature of Maine did not accomplish much, but let it be our boast that we did not enact much that was harmful and the minimum of that which was needless.

Somebody had a picture made of the House of Representatives. I am glad the picture was made because it is nice to have to show to someone else, but as I have sat here through these three months a picture has been indelibly stamped into my consciousness that needs no poor imitation of the photographer's art. If I were to close my eyes, I would see the gentlemen in the first section, the gentlemen in the second section, the gentlemen in the third section and the gentlemen in the fourth section. Do any of us go away disappointed? It is as certain in political life as it is in our physical life, that we brought nothing with us, and we will carry nothing back. (Laughter.) And since the superintendent of public buildings has a pass key to the lockers, and since he has done his duty, there is a good deal less going to be carried back. (Laughter.)

Time moves on. We will soon bid adieu to each other. It really goes to my heart that all this morning men have been saying "Did I hear that you said we could go on Saturday?" We all seem so anxious to disband. At the beginning of the session, I think I tried to say that you had highly honored me. To be made moderator of such a perfectly peaceful assembly as the House of Representatives of the Eightieth Legislature, was something that I did not really comprehend before. Seriously, I see no reason why you could not employ a phonograph to say, "Tomorrow morning at ten o'clock," and that the rules are suspended and this vote is reconsidered, but really, once in a while you would have to put in a new reel in order that the phonograph after taking up a bill which said that the title was, "An Act to make a bigger, busier and better Maine," might be changed so as to have that phonograph say "I am now about to read to you the title, Bill, An Act to render all municipalities in the State of Maine bankrupt." (Laughter.)

You see, gentlemen, the office of moderator is something that you never have pondered over very much, but as I understand the office of moderator, the mere spokesman of the House, I have done my very best to be an absolutely impartial moderator, even though the gentleman from Portland, Mr. Brewster, who, in his extreme modesty is now practically insisting that these are speaking hands, and that sometimes when the call was made "all those in favor will say aye; all those opposed will say no," that the phonograph had forgotten itself and become a cheer leader. (Applause.)

Now, gentlemen, these are mere pleasantries, and it has never disturbed me in the least, for long, long ago I learned by experience because my hair was wet it was seriously questioned whether I had been in swimming Sunday afternoon or not, and I learned never to deny any allegations, and I am not disturbed. Gentlemen, I trust that you have enjoyed the session. It has been to me, it goes without saying, the most enjoyable of the few sessions which I have been privileged to attend. At times the work of the Speaker may be hard, but there is this one truth, with such a clerk as we have had in this House, the work of the Speaker is an absolute minimum. (Applause.) And the team work that the House has exhibited, when the House has seen fit to exhibit any, has been splendid. Now, in the words of the immortal Joe Jefferson, "Here's to your good health; may you live long and prosper." (Long and continued applause.)

Mr. SMITH of Skowhegan: Mr. Speaker and fellow-members, we are all pleased to concede all the good things that have been said about our able and distinguished Speaker, but we cannot believe that he could have attained his great and remarkable success had it not been for the unconquerable love and devotion of that faithful helpmate; and as a token of our high regard for such love and devotion, it gives me pleasure in behalf of the members of this House to present to Mrs. Barnes this small token. And there comes from the heart the wish and belief of every member of this House that her life may continue to be as rosy and as pure as this little token indicates. (Applause.)

(At this point Mr. Smith presented a basket of roses to Mrs. Barnes.)

Mrs. BARNES: Brothers of the Eightieth Legislature, I feel like calling you that, you come from all over this grand old State of Maine, and I have thought of you and thought of us all as one great family, and I have felt the warmth and the cordiality of your greeting. The warm hand-clasp, the friendly eye, and the cordial smile have made a deep impression upon my heart, and I hope that as we all go to our several homes we shall not forget the brotherhood and sisterhood of the Eightieth Legislature. I thank you. (Long applause with all the members of the House rising.)

(At this point the House took a recess for fifteen minutes.)

The following communication:

STATE OF MAINE
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
AUGUSTA

April eighth, 1921.

To the Honorable House of Representatives:

I return herewith without my approval "Resolve, in favor of the State School for Boys for the Construction of a Central School Building."

The State School for Boys is an institution doing excellent work and its management is efficient. An appropriation of $99,309 has already been made by this Legislature for its maintenance. The appropriation asked for by the accompanying Resolve would be used in the erection of a central school building, but in my opinion it is not necessary to construct this school-house at the present time. It has already seemed wise to this Legislature to postpone all new construction at the various state institutions for which there is not an immediate need. The boys at the State School are being properly educated and the construction of the school-house can safely be postponed. It is doubtful if the $20,000 recommended would build and equip this school and once it was started it would be necessary to complete it regardless of cost. In the past, appropriations have often been made whereby new construction was commenced and then, it being too late to stop, heavy demands were made upon the State Treasury to complete the work. I do not believe that any building should be authorized by the Legislature until it is definitely understood what it will cost, so that the Legislature itself and not the Governor and Council may make provision for paying the bills. That is the only business-like way to conduct the State's affairs.

Respectfully,

(Signed) PERCIVAL P. BAXTER,

Governor of Maine

Was received and read.

The following communication:

STATE OF MAINE
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
AUGUSTA

April eighth, 1921.

To the Honorable House of Representatives:—

I herewith return without my approval "An Act to reenact Section Twenty-four of Chapter Sixty-nine of the Revised Statutes relating to when no succession tax shall be assessed on the stock, bonds and evidences of debt of Maine Corporations."

This Act would make a radical change in our inheritance taxation laws. Many corporations come to Maine for the purpose of taking advantage of our laws. Under the present system if a non-resident of the State of Maine owns stock in these corporations this stock is subject to our collateral inheritance taxation laws. Under this amendment non-residents would not be required to pay these taxes to the State of Maine. At present the State is receiving from the estates of non-residents an annual amount of $165,136.35 which is an increase over the past year of $79,636.15. The Budget report relies upon this income to help meet the legislative appropriations. In January and February of 1921 the increase in this item over 1920 amounts to $26,247.36.

The Legislature is under the obligation to provide sufficient revenue to meet its appropriation bill and in my opinion it is safer to hold fast to this source rather than to give it up and expect an increase in the corporation organization taxes and franchise taxes which it is alleged would accrue to the State by reason of the proposed law. The reason advocated for the change of law is that estates of non-residents are put to expense and delay by reason of our present tax laws. Upon investigation I find that but few complaints have been made and that the Attorney General's Office has handled this matter promptly and without unnecessary delay. In my opinion it would be unwise to change the present law.

Respectfully,

(Signed) PERCIVAL P. BAXTER,

Was received and read.

Governor of Maine.

On the following order:—

STATE OF MAINE

In House of Representatives, February 9, 1921.

Whereas, the expenditures of the State have increased several fold during the last twenty years, and,

Whereas, the State is now assuming many of the burdens formerly borne by municipalities and individuals, and

Whereas, the policy of the State to extend its benevolences has been long established, and

Whereas, the present tax levies of State, County and Municipality combined are becoming grievous and burdensome to our citizens, and

Whereas, it may be possible to obtain some relief upon proper investigation,

Now therefore, be it ordered, the Senate concurring, that a special committee of three on the part of the House, with as many as the Senate may join, be appointed to investigate all existing legislative enactments relating to the expenditure of money by the various departments of the State, and collate such expenditures over a period of years, and report, to the Governor and Council not later than April first, nineteen hundred and twenty-two, with such recommendations as may seem proper, and that the Governor be requested to communicate to the eighty-first legislature (as soon as convenient after the assembling of said eighty-first legislature) such recommendations as he may deem proper regarding the financial affairs of the State.

STATE OF MAINE
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
AUGUSTA

April eighth, 1921.

To the Honorable House of Representatives:

I return herewith without my approval "Resolve making an appropriation for the construction of a New Building at the Northern Maine Sanatorium, Presque Isle, Aroostook County, and for the purchase of Equipment therefor and for Maintenance."

This Resolve was introduced in the House on April 5th, read three times under Suspension of the Rules, passed to be engrossed. On April 6th it was read twice in the Senate and passed to be engrossed. An appropriation of $100,000 is called for and it was not included in any of the recommendations in the Budget. If this Resolve is passed it will make a substantial addition to the tax rate.

I am of the opinion that the new building called for by the Resolve to cost $65,000 is not required at that institution at the present time. The Sanatorium at Presque Isle has been established two years and I am informed is accommodating all the persons who have applied for admission, so that there are no applicants on the waiting list.

This Legislature has decided that it is unwise to enter upon any extensive new construction at State institutions. The appropriations for new buildings at the Augusta State Hospital and Bangor State Hospital have been entirely eliminated, while the appropriation for new work at the State School for Feeble-Minded has been cut by 50%. The new work at the State Reformatories for Women and for Men, has also been reduced one-half. The University of Maine, notwithstanding its splendid work, has withdrawn its request for a new dormitory. In view of the above facts in my opinion it would be unwise to make an expenditure in favor of an appropriation that was not recommended by the Budget Committee. I desire to call your attention to the fact that the Presque Isle Sanatorium has already received the appropriation for personal services and maintenance that is asked for, amounting to $65,771.88 and the Resolve which I return herewith would add an even $100,000 to this item.

In my opinion the Legislature by passing this Resolve would place itself in the position of having favored this particular State institution.

Respectfully,

(Signed) PERCIVAL P. BAXTER,
Governor of Maine.

Pursuant to the provisions of the Constitution of Maine, the House proceeded to reconsider the Resolve. After such reconsideration, a yea and nay vote was taken on the question, "Shall this resolve become a law notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?" 125 voted in the affirmative and none in the negative, and accordingly it was the vote of the House that the Resolve pass notwithstanding the objections of the Governor, since two-thirds of the members of the House so voted.

The following communication:

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
STATE OF MAINE

April ninth, 1921.

To the Honorable House of Representatives:

I return herewith without my approval "Resolve in Favor of the University of Maine."

Although the University of Maine strictly speaking is not a State institution, the State has assumed a definite obligation to grant sufficient aid from the Public Treasury to help maintain the University on a reasonable and proper basis. The State first aided this institution in 1867 with an appropriation of $20,000, and the institution has steadily grown, as has the State's appropriation, until the sum of $170,000 was appropriated for each of the years 1919 and 1920. There is some opposition throughout the State to the granting of a large amount of aid to the University, but in my opinion a policy has been definitely fixed and the people of the State as a rule are in favor of that policy and desire its continuance. The University of Maine in my opinion is the only institution of higher education in the State that can reasonably expect to receive State aid.

The University began as an agricultural college. It now has 1311 students, of whom 257, or 19 3-5 per cent., are taking agricultural courses. The other 1054 students are in the Colleges of Arts and Sciences, and of Technology, the Law School having been abandoned during the past year. I am of the opinion that the State should make liberal provision for this institution and I desire to explain to you what, I believe, the State's appropriation for the coming period should be.

A few evenings ago I discussed the financial affairs of the University with its president and certain other gentlemen interested in the institution. The figures given me at this conference showed what the authorities ask for, except certain new equipment for the Library and Laboratory which it was admitted can be dispensed with without interfering with the work of the institution. In this total sum of $618,318, is included an annual increase of salaries to instructors of $78,120 over the previous year, or a 47 per cent. increase over the actual expenditures under this single item. The salaries of officers are increased annually by $6,408, or an increase of 64 per cent. The salaries of clerks and stenographers are increased $2,600, or 29 per cent., while the item providing for the maintenance of buildings is increased $6,400, or an increase of 34 per cent. The item for administration expenses is increased $7,221, or 28 per cent. The item maintenance of property is increased $18,997, or 121 per cent. The item of power, heat and light is increased $17,892, or 29 per cent. As an offset against these annual increases which total $134,655, there are certain small decreases which total $21,573, making a net increase over the year 1920 of $116,071, or 27 per cent., and making a net increase over 1919 of $168,000, or 43 per cent.

I am willing to approve the items specified and which comprise everything asked for by the University authorities in their estimates, and I have not cut any single item, except that for new laboratory and library equipment already referred to. It can safely be assumed that those in charge of the University's affairs have made their estimated requirements sufficiently liberal to provide for all the need to the institution.

The appropriation for State Aid called for by the resolve which I am returning to you without my approval is $620,000 for the 30 months' period. This $620,000 appropriation represents a total increase of $195,000 for a 30 month period, or an annual increase of $78,000; more than annual appropriation of $170,000 for each year 1919 and 1920.

The income of the institution as estimated by its president will amount to $361,515 annually. It can properly be assumed that no items have been included in this estimate of income that cannot increase its tuition fees to the regular students by $30 per year, making a total increase of at least $36,000. This will produce an income of $397,515 a year. If the same increase is made in the special students' tuition this item will be $39,330. Deducting $397,515 from the estimated expenditures of $618,318, leaves a balance of $220,803, and $220,000 is the annual amount I am willing to approve for State Aid to the University of Maine. In my financial message I estimated that $200,000 a year would be adequate for the institution and I am still of that opinion. Not wishing, however, to hamper the University's work I am willing to approve an annual appropriation of $220,000, which would total $550,000 for the fiscal period of 2 1-2 years.

According to Page 20 of the University's printed report there is a deficit of $11,189.92 in 1920. The $125,000 increase in the State's appropriation for the fiscal period, or the increase of $50,000 per year which I recommend, will easily offset a deficit equal to that of 1920, by the simple margin of $38,810.08 a year. In these figures no allowance is made for price reductions and it is safe to assume that a considerable saving will be made in this respect which will give the University an even wider margin of financial safety.

In view of the reduction in prices that has already begun, I am convinced that under proper management the University can save at least $50,000 out of this $550,000 appropriation, and that it can do this without interfering in any way with the education of its 1311 students. If I believed that a larger appropriation actually was necessary to place the institution on a proper footing, I should approve of the State's making it, but the financial condition of the State under present conditions does not warrant appropriations that exceed what is adequate and liberal. An annual margin of $38,810.08 over and above the 1920 requirements of the University, ought to be sufficient for its maintenance in 1921, 1922 and for six months of 1923, and this yearly balance will give the total amount of $97,025.20 to go and come on for the coming fiscal period of 30 months.

The University has admitted all the boys who have applied, but it has refused admission to 35 girls. There are 165 students in Orono who come from outside our State, and it may prove advisable for the University authorities to admit all applicants who are residents of Maine before admitting those who live beyond our borders.

The president of the University informs me that the institution is under neither legal nor moral obligation to take students from out of the State, and our home boys and girls may reasonably expect to be given the first chance. If the authorities should adopt this policy it could not be considered selfish, for Maine people are the ones who pay most of the bills of the institution.

The resolve before us calls for a total appropriation of $620,000 for the fiscal year. It appears that during the past years certain debts have been incurred and the president of the institution informs me those debts now amount to $216,000 and they may total somewhat more than that. Some of the trustees have indorsed the notes of the University and naturally are anxious to be relieved from such a responsibility. The state, however, should look into the situation carefully, for the State must determine, first, if it will assume these debts; and second, if it does assume them whether it will pay them now, or pay them later when the finances of the State and its people shall be in better condition.

The usual method in vogue in universities and colleges where debts have been created, is for the alumni of the university to help reduce these debts. An effort of this sort arouses a spirit of loyalty among the alumni, and the institution is benefited both directly and indirectly thereby. In my message to the Legislature, and in conversation with the president of the institution and the gentlemen I conferred with, I suggested that some effort be made to arouse the alumni of the University and to appeal to their loyalty and spirit, but the reply received was that the alumni of the University of Maine would not respond even though the call was sounded.

I believe the alumni of the University of Maine are loyal. I believe they are interested in their institution, and their united and earnest efforts to induce the legislature to make a generous appropriation proves that they are alive to the situation and know how pressing is the need of funds. I do not believe that the alumni of the University of Maine will fail to respond if a proper appeal is made to them. At least I believe they should be put to the test.

Throughout the State there is a wide divergence of opinion as to whether or not this debt should be assumed by the State. There is one sentiment at the State Capital in favor of the State's paying this debt. In my opinion a great majority of our citizens will be better satisfied if the State contributes liberally towards maintaining the institution, and they expect the institution itself to use every effort to effect proper economies, and to place its affairs upon a strictly business basis. If the University authorities will do this they will then be in a position to come to the next Legislature with a frank statement of their affairs, and doubtless will then be able to show a decided improvement in their financial condition. If some small reduction of its debt can be made by the University itself through its own efforts, considerable credit will be due to it and to its alumni.

It should not be necessary for the friends of the University to plead its cause so earnestly at every Legislative session. The people of Maine desire to do what is right and proper for this institution and they expect its trustees and friends to co-operate.

In order that the two questions of maintenance and the payment of the debt be presented to you as separate and distinct questions, I suggested to those in charge of these bills that two resolves be prepared, one covering each of the items referred to. However, as this was not done, I am obliged to disapprove this resolve, although I am glad to approve of an appropriation of $550,000 for maintenance.

If you gentlemen of this Legislature sustain this veto, you can then introduce a resolve so that the needs of the University will be properly taken care of. The people of Maine expect you to act frankly and openly in the matter. The people want to know how much you appropriate for maintenance and how much for the payment of debts. I hope and believe that the trustees during the next fiscal period will discard the non-essentials, will improve the system of accounting and will do all in their power to spend the public money judiciously. I desire to co-operate in making this institution a credit to the State and one worthy to bear the name of "Maine." During such time as I shall occupy the office of Chief Executive I shall have at heart the best interests of those boys and girls who are laying the foundations of their character at this University.

In disapproving a measure passed by both houses, the executive, if he cannot agree with the action of the legislature, is but doing what is required of him by the Constitution of our State. A veto message expresses an honest difference of opinion. It is sometimes felt by legislators that the Executive's suggestions as to bills and resolves is an unwarranted interference with legislative prerogatives. The executive is in duty bound to give his views to the legislature and to disapprove what he considers unwise. The Legislature on the hand is also in duty bound to advocate those measures that seem to be for the best interests of the state. If there is a disagreement it must be frank and honest.

If a veto is sustained it shows that the Legislature yields to the recommendations of the Executive, and that there is not sufficient merit in the bill to obtain a two-thirds vote in its favor. If a veto is over-ridden it indicates that in the opinion of the Legislature there is sufficient merit in the bill in question to justify its becoming law notwithstanding the veto of the Governor. In such cases there should never be any personal or partisan feelings, nor should it ever be allowed to appear that the Legislature and Executive are working at cross purposes.

I desire this Legislature to understand: that I am of the opinion

1—That liberal aid be granted to the University of Maine for its maintenance;

2—That $550,000 is ample for its maintenance;

3—That at the present time it is unwise for the State to assume its debts;

4—That the University authorities should practice reasonable economy;

5—That an appropriation of $50,000 a year more than the University has ever had before is ample for its needs;

6—That falling prices will greatly relieve its financial pressure;

7—That the Alumni should be called upon to help pay the University's debts and that they will help if asked to do so;

8—That preference be given Maine students who shall seek higher education at the University of Maine;

9—That the tax payers of Maine will approve your efforts to place the University's affairs on a business basis;

10—And that the University will continue to do good work for the boys and girls of our State of Maine.

Respectfully,

PERCIVAL P. BAXTER,

Governor of Maine.
