STATE OF MAINE

IN THE YEAR OF OUR LORD NINETEEN HUNDRED SIXTY-FIVE

AN ACT Relating to Boundaries of Standish Game Preserve.

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine, as follows:

R. S., T. 12, § 2101, amended. That part of section 2101 of Title 12 of the Revised Statutes which relates to Standish Game Preserve is repealed and the following enacted in place thereof:

'Standish: The following described territory in the Town of Standish, in the County of Cumberland: Beginning at the point where the Maine Central Railroad crosses the Pequaket Trail (Rt. 113) in Steep Falls; thence southerly and easterly by said Pequaket Trail and the Middle Road, so-called, past the White Place, so-called, to the intersection of said Middle Road and the Oak Hill Road, so-called; thence northeasterly by said Oak Hill Road to its junction with the Back Road from Steep Falls to Richville, so-called; thence southeasterly along said Back Road leading from Steep Falls to Richville to its junction with the Rich Mill Road, so-called; thence by said Mill Road northeasterly to its junction with the road leading from Sebago Lake to East Sebago (Rt. 114); thence by the road leading from Sebago Lake to East Sebago northerly to the Maine Central Railroad; thence by said railroad northwesterly to the point of beginning. All roads and the Maine Central Railroad right-of-way, which served to bound said Standish Game Preserve, shall be a part of said preserve, and it shall be unlawful for any person to carry any loaded firearm on any said bounds.'
