6 The United States Low-level Radioactive Waste Policy Act of 1980, Public Law 96-573, requires that states assume 8 responsibility for providing the capacity for volume reduction options to reduce low-level radioactive waste and the disposal of 10 low-level radioactive waste generated within their borders. The State has expressed its intent to develop, if necessary, a site 12 for the location of a low-level radioactive waste disposal or storage facility within the State. The State is continuing to 14 try to negotiate a compact or agreement for low-level radioactive waste disposal out of the State. The United States Low-level 16 Radioactive Waste Policy Amendments Act of 1985, Public Law 99-240, establishes January 1, 1988, as the milestone date for 18 states which that are not members of a compact to develop a siting plan for a low-level radioactive waste disposal facility. 20 To accomplish that task, it is necessary for the State to provide for planning, siting, construction, operation and maintenance, 22 site closure and long-term, post-closure control of a low-level radioactive waste disposal facility or facilities. In order to 24 protect public health, safety and the environment, federal regulations isolation require the effective of low-level 26 radioactive waste for 500 years following disposal site closure, observation and maintenance of the closed site and long-term 28 institutional control of the site leading to termination of the operating license.

Sec. 2. 38 MRSA §1530 is enacted to read:

§1530. Waste reduction plan

The authority shall develop and implement a plan to ensure the reduction of the curie content and the volume of low-level radioactive waste in the State in accordance with 42 United States Code, Section 2021g(a)(1).
