Section 2 of the amendment addresses the problems of record keeping and mapping that Private and Special Law 1989, chapter 33 resolved. It provides that all record keeping, maintenance of boundary lines and other administrative reporting, filings and notifications relating to the reinstituted Misery-Sapling Gore must be performed as if Misery-Sapling Gore were remaining in the townships of Parlin Pond, Misery and Sapling as provided for in Private and Special Law 1989, chapter 33.
