24 $5212. Apportionment of income of mutual fund service providers

- 26 1. Definitions. As used in this section, unless the context otherwise indicates, the following terms have the following meanings.
- A. "Administration services" includes, but is not limited to, clerical, fund or shareholder accounting; participant record keeping; transfer agency; bookkeeping; data processing; custodial; internal auditing; legal; and tax services performed for a regulated investment company. Services qualify as administration services only if the provider of such service or services during the taxable year also provides, or is affiliated with a person that provides, management or distribution services to the same regulated investment company during the same taxable year.
  - B. "Distribution services" includes, but is not limited to, the services of advertising, servicing, marketing or selling shares of a regulated investment company. The services of advertising, servicing or marketing shares qualify as distribution services only when the service is performed by a person who is or, in the case of a closed-end company, was either engaged in the services of selling regulated investment company shares or affiliated with a person that is engaged in the service of selling regulated investment company shares. In the case of an open-end company, such

•	service of selling shares must be performed pursuant to a 2	contract entered into pursuant to 15 United States Code, Section 80a-15(b), as amended.
4
	C. "Domicile" of a shareholder of a regulated investment 6	company is presumed to be the shareholder's mailing address on the records of the regulated investment company or the 8	mutual fund service provider. If the regulated investment company or the mutual fund service provider has actual 10	knowledge that the shareholder's primary residence or principal place of business is different than the 12	shareholder's mailing address, the presumption does not control. If the shareholder of record is a person that 14	holds the shares of a regulated investment company as depositor for the benefit of a separate account, then the 16	shareholder of record is the contract owner or policyholder of the contracts or policies supported by the separate 18	account, and it is presumed that the domicile of that shareholder of record is the contract owner's or 20	policyholder's mailing address to the extent that the regulated investment company maintains such mailing 22	addresses in the regular course of business. If the shareholder's principal place of business is different than 24	the shareholder's mailing address, the presumption does not control.
26
	D. "Management services" includes, but is not limited to, 28	the rendering of investment advice directly or indirectly to a regulated investment company, making determination as to 30	when sales and purchases of securities are to be made on behalf of the regulated investment company or the selling or 32	purchasing of securities constituting assets of a regulated investment company and related activities. Services qualify 34	as management services only when such activity or activities are performed pursuant to a contract with the regulated 36	investment company entered into pursuant to 15 United States Code, Section 80a-15(a), as amended, for a person that has 38	entered into such contract with the regulated investment company or for a person that is affiliated with a person 40	that has entered into such contract with a regulated investment company.
42
	E. "Mutual fund service provider" means any taxpayer 44	subject to tax under this Part, other than a financial institution as defined in section 5206-D, subsection 8, that 46	derives more than 50% of its gross income from the direct or indirect provision of management, distribution or

2. Election of special apportionment of formula for mutual fund service providers. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Title, a mutual fund service provider may elect to apportion its net income by the method provided for in this section. The election, if made, is irrevocable for a period of 5 successive tax years. The net income of an electing mutual fund service provider may be apportioned to this State as follows.

A. Net income is multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the Maine receipts during the taxable year and the denominator of which is the total receipts everywhere for the same taxable year.

B. For purposes of this subsection, Maine receipts from the direct or indirect provision of management, distribution or administration services to or on behalf of a regulated investment company or from trustees, sponsors and participants of employee benefit plans that have accounts in a regulated investment company are determined by multiplying total receipts for the taxable year from each separate regulated investment company for which the mutual fund service provider performs management, distribution or administration services by a fraction. The numerator of the fraction is the average of the number of shares owned by the regulated investment company's shareholders domiciled in this State at the beginning of and at the end of the regulated investment company's taxable year, and the denominator of the fraction is the average of the number of the shares owned by the regulated investment company's shareholders everywhere at the beginning of and at the end of the regulated investment company's taxable year.

3. Combined reporting not applicable. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Title, a mutual fund service provider that has elected the apportionment method provided for in this section is not required to file a combined report, and neither the income nor the property, payroll or sales of a mutual fund service provider that has elected the apportionment method provided for in this section may be included in a combined report of another taxpayer.

SUMMARY

This amendment replaces the bill and implements single sales factor apportionment for pulp and paper and high-technology taxpayers and implements a modified version of single sales factor apportionment for mutual fund service providers, effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2001. The choice to use these special apportionment formulas is at the election of the qualified taxpayer but, once elected by a taxpayer, it must be used for 5 successive tax years. Taxpayers qualifying for the elective single sales factor apportionment formula must still provide property and payroll factor information on the income tax return. This information is included to provide the Bureau of Revenue Services with sufficient information to evaluate the effectiveness of these special formulas.

This amendment also requires the State Tax Assessor and the Commissioner of Economic and Community Development to provide a report to the Joint Standing Committee on Taxation by January 1, 2002 on the benefits of repealing or modifying the "throwback rule," which includes certain out-of-state sales and sales to the Federal Government in sales factored in Maine's apportionment formula.
