- 1. Establishment of fund. There is established the Northern Maine Transmission Corporation Fund, which must be used to provide funding for activities of the corporation in furtherance of its purpose under this chapter. The fund must be deposited with and maintained and administered by the authority and must contain appropriations provided for that purpose, interest accrued on the fund balance, funds received by the corporation to be applied to the fund and funds received in payment of loans. The fund is a nonlapsing revolving fund.
- 2. Administrative expenses. Costs and expenses of maintaining, servicing and administering the fund may be paid out of amounts in the fund.

§9115. Tax exemption

- 24 1. Bonds or notes. All bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness issued under this chapter are issued by a political subdivision or a body corporate and politic of the State and for 26 an essential public and governmental purpose. Those bonds, notes 28 or other evidences of indebtedness, the interest on them and the income from them, including any profit on their sale, and all activities of the corporation and fees, charges, funds, revenue, 30 income and other money of the corporation, whether or not pledged 32 or available to pay or secure the payment of those bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness or interest on them, are 34 exempt from all taxation franchise fees or special assessments of whatever kind except for transfer, inheritance and estate taxes.
 - 2. Property taxes. All real and personal property acquired by the corporation is subject to taxes to the same extent as real and personal property owned by other electric utilities.
- Sec. 2. 35-A MRSA §2102, sub-§2, as amended by PL 1991, c. 342, §4, is further amended to read:
- 2. Approval not required. Except as provided in section 2104, the commission's approval is not required for a public utility to furnish service in any municipality in which that public utility is furnishing service on October 8, 1967.

 Approval is not required for the operation of a radio paging service or mobile telecommunications services. Approval is not required for an electric utility to sell and distribute electricity to any other electric utility. Approval is not required for a public utility acting under the authority of the Northern Maine Transmission Corporation to finance, permit, construct or operate any transmission lines necessary to connect electric utilities in the northern region of this State with the transmission grid of the United States.
