- It creates an exception to the Maine Revised Statutes, 3.2 Title 22, section 2842, subsection 2 relative to medical certification of cause of death that requires the certifying physician to be "authorized to practice in the State." The 34 exception would allow, at the request of the Chief Medical 36 Examiner of Maine, a willing attending physician of a person who dies within Maine of natural causes to complete and sign the 38 medical certification if that physician is authorized to practice at the Veterans Administration Hospital at Togus or at another 40 federal medical facility in Maine or is a licensed physician from New Hampshire, Vermont or Massachusetts. 42
- 2. It amends the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 22, section 3025 to clarify that although deaths must be reported, as prescribed in Title 22, section 3026, when remains are found that may be human and raise suspicion that death has occurred under one or more of the listed circumstances, the ultimate determination as to whether a reported death constitutes a medical examiner case is to be determined by the Chief Medical Examiner, barring a directive from the Attorney General or district attorney having jurisdiction.

- 3. It reconfigures, Title 22, section 3025. Specifically, subsection 2 is now incorporated into subsection 1, paragraph A, and that portion of subsection 4 addressing questionable cases is now incorporated into subsection 1-A. Both subsections 2 and 4 are repealed.
- 4. It adds a new category of death that must be reported but need not be accepted by the Chief Medical examiner as a medical examiner case. The added category is found in Title 22, section 3025, subsection 1-A, paragraph B and addresses deaths in the elderly who have sustained an arm or leg fracture or a fracture to the spine, ribs or pelvis and who are hospitalized at the time of death or prior thereto because of such fracture.
