Amend the bill by striking out everything after the enacting clause and before the summary and inserting the following:

Sec. 1. Maximum disparity between mill rates. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, beginning July 1, 2008, no municipality may pay as part of its local allocation more than twice the mill rate of any other municipality within that same school administrative unit.

1. If, after the essential programs and services total local allocation has been determined by the Department of Education, a municipality is determined to pay as part of its local allocation more than twice the mill rate of any municipality within that same school administrative unit, the department shall increase the lower mill rate and decrease the higher mill rate until the disparity falls within the maximum 2:1 ratio.

2. A municipality within a school district is entitled to a transition adjustment determined by the Department of Education if the municipality has, by operation of subsection 1, an adverse fiscal impact resulting in:

- A. A mill rate increase for local allocation at or in excess of 0.5 mills; and
- B. A resulting local contribution increase greater than 5%.

No later than January 31, 2008, the Commissioner of Education shall submit to the Joint Standing Committee on Education and Cultural Affairs proposed legislation necessary to implement this section. ### Fiscal Note

No State fiscal impact

Fiscal Detail and Notes

This amendment has no fiscal impact to the state. It strikes the provision in the original bill that would have affected those member municipalities whose cost-sharing formula was validated pursuant to private and special law prior to January 1, 2004 and instead provides that, beginning in fiscal year 2008-09, no municipality may pay as part of its local allocation more than twice the mill rate of any other municipality within that same school administrative unit. This amendment also provides for a transition adjustment for those municipalities that may be adversely impacted by this provision.

As amended, this bill will reduce the local contribution for funding K-12 public education for certain municipalities within a school administrative unit and increase the local contribution for certain municipalities within the same school administrative unit. The amount can not be determined at this time.
