7 5-A. High-stakes electronic beano. An organization licensed under this section

9 A. As used in this subsection, unless the context otherwise indicates, the following 10 terms have the following meanings.

11 (1) "Electronic beano terminal" means an electronic appliance used by a player 12 to identify electronic beano cards that contain numbers or symbols input by a 13 player that correspond to numbers or symbols determined by the electronic beano 14 terminal.

15 (2) "High-stakes electronic beano" means a game that simulates the play of 16 nonelectronic beano and is played on individual electronic beano terminals that 17 are connected to a central computer system that generates beano games. A 18 person playing high-stakes electronic beano plays the game on an individual 19 electronic beano terminal. A draw consists of up to 75 numbers and letters that 20 correspond to the electronic beano cards in play.

21 B. The manner in which the winner is determined must be clearly announced or 22 displayed before any game is begun. Any game winning pattern may be used.

23 C. Individual electronic beano terminals may offer electronic beano cards of varying 24 themes and denominations.

25 D. All electronic beano cards of the same denomination played by the individual 26 electronic beano terminals in a round must correspond with the same high-stakes 27 electronic beano game generated by the central computer system.

28 E. Individual electronic beano terminals may accept cash, tokens, cards or vouchers
29 for the purchase of electronic beano cards but may not dispense cash. A prize 30 awarded for winning a high-stakes electronic beano game must be in the form of a 31 voucher that may be redeemed for cash or prizes.

32 F. Individual electronic beano terminals and the central computer system must be 33 audited by a 3rd-party game testing company, which shall provide audits of the 34 central computer system and individual electronic beano terminals upon request of 35 the Chief of the State Police. An operator of high-stakes electronic beano shall 36 ensure a method of secure access via the Internet by the Chief of the State Police for 37 the purposes of conducting audits and monitoring the operation and play of high-38 stakes electronic beano. Any software, equipment or training necessary for the Chief 39 of the State Police to use the auditing and monitoring system must be paid for by the 40 operator of high-stakes electronic beano.
