Fiscal Detail and Notes

The amendment forbids the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP), beginning September 1, 2015, from conducting adjudicatory hearings to establish water level regimes or minimum flow requirements, unless initiated before September 1, 2015. The prohibition is repealed on August 31, 2016. The amendment removes the proposed fee to the DEP to cover the costs of adjudicatory hearings. The DEP normally anticipates no more than two water level regime adjudications per year.
