1 Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine as follows:

2 Sec. 1. 39-A MRSA §401, sub-§4, as amended by PL 2011, c. 643, §12 and 3 affected by §14, is further amended to read:

4 4. Liability of landowner. A landowner subject to this Act who contracts to have 5 wood harvested from the landowner's property by a contractor who, as an employer, is 6 subject to this Act and who has not complied with the provisions of this section and who 7 does not comply with the provisions of this section prior to the date of an injury or death 8 for which a claim is made is liable to pay to any person employed by the contractor in the 9 execution of the work any compensation under this Act that the landowner would have 10 been liable to pay if that person had been immediately employed by the landowner.

11 If a landowner applies for and receives a predetermination under section 105 of the 12 independent status of a contractor that harvests forest products and requests and receives 13 a certificate of independent status certifying that the contractor harvests in a manner that 14 would not make the contractor an employee of the landowner, that certificate of 15 independent status remains valid unless the manner in which the contractor harvests
16 changes. A landowner is not liable for compensation if at the time the landowner enters 17 into the contract with the contractor, the landowner applies for and receives a 18 predetermination of the independent status of the contractor as set forth in section 105, 19 the landowner requests and receives a certificate of independent status, issued by the 20 board ~~on an annual basis~~ to a contractor, certifying that the contractor harvests forest 21 products in a manner that would not make the contractor an employee of the landowner 22 or the landowner requests and receives a certificate of insurance, issued by the 23 contractor's insurance carrier, certifying that the contractor has obtained the required 24 coverage and indicating the effective dates of the policy, and if the landowner requests 25 and receives at least annually similar certificates indicating continuing coverage during 26 the performance of the work. A landowner who receives a predetermination of the 27 contractor's status as independent contractor or a certificate of independent status is ~~only~~ 28 relieved of liability under this paragraph only if the contract for wood harvesting 29 expressly states that the independent contractor will not hire any employees to assist in 30 the wood harvesting without first providing the required certificate of insurance to the 31 landowner.

32 Notwithstanding section 105, subsection 1, paragraph A, a predetermination under 33 section 105 related only to a person engaged in harvesting forest products is a conclusive
34 presumption that the determination is correct and section 105, subsection 2 does not apply 35 to that determination. Each party involved in or affected by the predetermination must be 36 provided information on the workers' compensation laws and the effect of independent 37 contractor status in relation to those laws. A predetermination under section 105 related 38 to a person engaged in harvesting forest products is effective for one calendar year or the 39 duration of the contract, whichever is shorter.

40 A landowner required to pay compensation under this section is entitled to be 41 indemnified by the contractor and may recover the amount paid in an action against that 42 contractor. A landowner may demand that the contractor enter into a written agreement 43 to reimburse the landowner for any loss incurred under this section due to a claim filed 44 for compensation and other benefits. The employee is not entitled to recover at common

1 law against the landowner for any damages arising from such injury if the employee takes 2 compensation from that landowner.

3 Landowners willfully acting to circumvent the provisions of this section by using 4 coercion, intimidation, deceit or other means to encourage persons who would otherwise 5 be considered employees within the meaning of this Act to pose as contractors for the 6 purpose of evading this section are liable subject to the provisions of section 324, 7 subsection 3. Nothing in this section may be construed to prohibit an employee from 8 becoming a contractor subject to the provisions of section 102, subsection 13-A.

9 SUMMARY

10 This bill provides that, when the Workers' Compensation Board issues a certificate of 11 independent status certifying that a contractor that harvests forest products does so in a 12 manner that would not make the contractor an employee of a landowner, that certificate 13 of independent status remains valid unless the manner in which the contractor harvests 14 changes.
