STATE OF MAINE

IN THE YEAR OF OUR LORD ONE THOUSAND NINE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-FIVE

RESOLVE, for the Purchase of One Hundred and Twenty-five
Copies of the History of the Town of Dresden.

Resolved: That the State purchase from the Katahdin
2 Publishing Company one hundred and twenty-five copies of
3 the History of the town of Dresden, Maine, by the late
4 Chester E. Allen, at a cost not to exceed the lowest selling
5 price of the work, said volumes to be exchanged or dis-
6 tributed at the discretion of the State Librarian; and that
7 there be and hereby is appropriated for this purpose the 8 sum of one thousand dollars.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

The proposed work is a history of the town of Dresden, Maine, which was originally known as Frankfort Plantation and later as Pownalborough, the old shire town of Lincoln County. Pownalborough itself comprised within its limits the present towns of Dresden, Alna, Wiscasset, and Swan Island (Perkins). The history was written by the late Charles E. Allen of Dresden some score of years ago. Mr. Allen was well known as an able and prolific writer of Maine history and many of his historical sketches may be found in the Collections of the Maine Historical Society, in published pamphlets and magazines. He was a leading member of the Maine Historical Society. After his death his widow handed the manuscript to the Honorable William D. Patterson of Wiscasset for safe keeping, and at the same time, July 5, 1913, deposited in the Wiscasset Savings Bank, the proceeds of the life insurance of Mr. Allen amounting to $1079.68, constituting herself and Mr. Patterson joint trustees, with the agreement that eventually this money should assist in the publication of the work. This fund now amounts to approximately $1500.00.

The work will consist of two volumes of about five hundred pages each, printed on special paper made for this edition by the S. D. Warren Company of Westbrook and bound in dark blue Zapon cloth with gold markings. It will be illustrated with something like sixty fine plates and photostatic reproductions and the cost of printing five hundred sets cannot be less than $3500.

The work will be one of unusual interest for it covers the history of a region which has never before been written and which abounds in human interest and romance and often times tragedy. The land titles may be traced back to the original grant of King James I, in 1606. Here was located old Fort Shirley and for many years Dresden, which constituted the West Parish of Pownalborough was the county seat of Lincoln which at that time comprised within its limits the vast territory lying between the New Meadows and Androscoggin rivers on the west to the St. Croix on the east.

The work will be revised and edited by Honorable William D. Patterson, Secretary of the Maine Historical Society, who will also write a biography of Mr. Allen and who will add a chapter to the history bringing it up to the present time. He will be assisted in this work by Mr. B. E. Packard, Deputy Commissioner of Education, who will write the foreword.
