STATE OF MAINE

IN THE YEAR OF OUR LORD NINETEEN HUNDRED
FORTY-ONE

AN ACT Relative to Game Preserve on Munroe Island.

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine, as follows:

R. S., c. 38, § 90. Section 90 of chapter 38 of the revised statutes, as revised, is hereby amended by adding thereto, after the paragraph entitled "Mount Bigelow Game Preserve", the following:

'Munroe Island: No person shall, except as herein provided, at any time, hunt, pursue, shoot at, or kill any wild animal or any game or other wild bird within the following described territory: A certain island known as Munroe Island lying within the town of Owl's Head in the county of Knox, and containing 225 acres more or less, and situated about $\frac{1}{2}$ mile southeasterly from Owl's Head. Provided, however, that the provisions of this section shall not prohibit any person residing within the limits of the above described reservation or preserve from shooting at or destroying any wild bird (except ruffed grouse or Hungarian partridge) or any wild animal, when found destroying his property. Whoever violates any provision of this section shall be punished by a fine of not less than \$10, nor more than \$40, and costs, for each offense.'
