Chapter 85.

Resolves in relation to the British colonial trade.

Whereas certain measures of the British government, regulating the trade of foreign nations with its West India and North American colonies, are productive of inequality and manifest injustice toward the commerce and navigation of the United States, in consequence of their entire destitution of the principles of reciprocity; therefore, Preamble and resolves in relation to the British Colonial trade.

Resolved, That our senators in Congress be instructed, and our representatives be requested, to urge upon the consideration of our national legislature, the propriety of its immediate attention to this important subject, with a view to remedy as speedily as possible, the obvious injustice of the present state of things.

Resolved, That any commercial regulation with Great Britain which confers upon British vessels privileges which are not fully reciprocated by that government, is an infringement upon the rights of our citizens, against which it is our duty earnestly to protest.

Resolved, That a copy of the foregoing resolves be transmitted to each of our senators and representatives in congress.
