OF THE

STATE OF MAINE.

1856.

Chapter 198.

CHAP. 198.

An act in addition to an act approved March twenty-nine, eighteen hundred fifty-four, allowing aliens to hold and convey real estate.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in Legislature assembled, as follows :

SECT. 1. Aliens may take, hold, convey and devise real estate, within this state; and all conveyances and transfers of any interest in such estate, heretofore made by or to any alien, are hereby confirmed and made effectual to all intents and purposes, as if made by or to a citizen of this state.

May hold and convey real estate.

Conveyances and transfers heretofore made, confirmed.

SECT. 2. This act shall take effect from and after its approval by the governor.

[Approved February 9, 1856.]

Chapter 199.

An act relating to the fees of justices of the peace, and of judges and recorders of municipal or police courts in criminal cases.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in Legislature assembled, as follows :

SECT. 1. No justice of the peace, or judge or recorder of a municipal or police court, or recorder's court, shall demand or receive fees of a defendant in any criminal case, for granting or entering an appeal or for taking a recognizance to prosecute an appeal, or to appear to answer at a superior court; but the fees for said services shall be taxed in the bill of costs certified to the appellate or superior court, to be paid in the same manner as other fees taxed in the bill of costs, after the final determination in the case.

Fees for granting appeal, &c., to be taxed in bill of costs.

SECT. 2. This act shall take effect from and after its approval by the governor.

[Approved February 9, 1856.]

Chapter 200.
