CHAP. 64Chapter 64.

An Act to regulate fishing in Stratton Brook and tributaries, situated wholly or partly in the County of Franklin.

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine, as follows:

Fishing in Stratton brook and tributaries, regulated.

Section 1. It shall be unlawful to fish for, take, catch or kill any kind of fish at any time in Stratton brook, so called, or any of its tributaries, situated wholly or partly in Franklin county, except in the ordinary method of casting with artificial flies, or fly fishing. It shall be unlawful for any one person to take and kill more than ten trout in one day in any of these waters, and no trout less than eight inches in length shall be taken and killed in any of these waters, during the same period.

Penalty for violation of this act.

Section 2. Whoever violates any of the provisions of this act shall be subject to the same penalty as is provided in the general law of the state for the illegal fishing for and catching of trout and land-locked salmon.

Court jurisdiction.

Section 3. Municipal and police judges and trial justices within their respective counties shall have original and concurrent jurisdiction with the supreme and superior courts in all prosecutions arising under this act.

Approved March 3, 1909.

Chapter 65.

An Act to amend Chapter one hundred and seventy-six of the Private and Special Laws of nineteen hundred and seven, relating to fishing in Bartlett and Cook's Brook, in the County of York.

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine, as follows:

Section 1, chapter 176, special laws, 1907, amended.

Section 1. Section one of said chapter is hereby amended by inserting after the words "mill pond" at the end of the fifth line the words 'except Tuesdays and Fridays of each week during open season for fishing under the general law,' and by striking out the words "for a period of three years" in the sixth line, and by adding to the sixth line the words, 'this act shall be in force until the year nineteen hundred and twelve,' so that said section, as amended, shall read as follows:

Fishing in Bartlett and Cook's brook, regulated.

'Section 1. It shall be unlawful to fish for, take, catch or kill any kind of fish at any time in Bartlett and Cook's brook, so called, from and beginning at its source, the outlet of Bartlett pond, situated in the towns of Lyman and Waterboro, and all its tributaries, to and as far as C. F. Clark and Son's mill pond except Tuesdays and Fridays of each week during open season for fishing under the general law. 'This act shall be in force until the year nineteen hundred and twelve.'

Section 2. Section three of said chapter is hereby repealed.

Section 3, repealed.
May take twenty fish.

Section 3. It shall be unlawful for any one person in any one day to take, catch or kill more than twenty fish in these waters.

Section 4. Whoever violates any of the provisions of this act shall be subject to the same penalty as is provided in the general law for illegal fishing for trout and land-locked salmon, and municipal courts, police courts and trial justices shall have original and concurrent jurisdiction with the supreme and superior courts for all violations of this act, and all fines collected thereunder shall be paid to the state treasurer for the protection of fish.

Penalty for violation of this act.

Approved March 3, 1909.

Chapter 66.
