CHAP. 82

—non-resident shall not take clams.

—proviso.

—temporary residents shall have same rights as inhabitants of town.

Penalty for violation of this act.

This act shall not apply to fishermen taking clams for bait.

from the municipal officers, if such written license or permit is required by the vote of said town or by the action of the municipal officers, unless the clams are for the consumption of himself or family; but no non-resident shall take clams within the limits of said town for any purpose, provided said town has voted to restrict the taking of clams to the inhabitants thereof. A resident of another town or state, however, while temporarily residing in said town of St. George shall have the same rights to take clams within the limits of said town during such temporary residence as any inhabitant thereof under the provisions of this act.

Section 3. Whoever takes clams contrary to the provisions of this act shall for each offense, be fined not more than ten dollars or imprisoned not more than thirty days.

Section 4. This act shall not apply to fishermen taking clams for bait.

Approved March 12, 1913.

Chapter 82.

An Act Changing the Name of Gregory's Sanatorium at Boothbay Harbor to St. Andrew's Hospital.

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine, as follows:

Section 1 of chapter 349, P. & S. laws of 1909, amended.

The words "Gregory Sanatorium" in the fourth line of section one of chapter three hundred and forty-nine of the private and special laws of nineteen hundred and nine are hereby struck out and the words "St. Andrew's Hospital" are inserted in their place, so said section as amended shall read as follows:

Corporators.

—corporate name.

'Section 1. Doctor George A. Gregory, Dr. E. A. Sprague and Emma B. Day, their associates and successors, are hereby incorporated and made a body politic by the name of St. Andrew's Hospital and by that name may sue and be sued, and may have a common seal, and shall have all the immunities and privileges and be subject to all the liabilities of like corporations.

Approved March 12, 1913.
