Chapter 36.

An Act to Amend Section One, Chapter Thirty-six of the Private and Special Laws of Nineteen Hundred and Thirteen, Entitled "An Act for the Better Protection of Alewives in Patten's Bay in the Town of Surry, in Hancock County."

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine, as follows:

Sec. 1. P. & S. L., 1913, c. 36, § 1, amended. Section one of chapter thirty-six of the private and special laws of nineteen hundred and thirteen is hereby amended by inserting after the word "alewives" in the second line the words 'other than by seines and weirs' so that said section as amended shall read as follows:

'Sec. 1. Seines and weirs permitted. It shall be unlawful for any person to take, catch, kill or destroy any alewives other than by seines and weirs in the waters of Patten's bay in the town of Surry in Hancock county, Maine, westerly of a line running from the southern extremity of Weymouth point to Brown's point, so called, on the eastern side of Newbury neck including the whole of that portion of Patten's bay, with the exception of Patten's pond stream.

Sec. 2. Residents of Surry given entire control and authority. Said chapter thirty-six is further amended by adding after section three the following section:

'Section 4. The entire control and authority over said portion of Patten's bay, and the right to take alewives therein is hereby granted to the inhabitants of said town of Surry. Said town, at any legal meeting, when an article shall be inserted in the warrant for that purpose, is hereby authorized and empowered to take such action as shall be necessary to protect said town in the entire right of the alewife fishery in said portion of Patten's bay, and for that purpose may authorize the selectmen there chosen, to have entire control, direction, supervision and the right to issue permits for the privilege of taking alewives in said portion of Patten's bay.'

Approved March 8, 1917.
