Chapter 207.

An Act Relating to the Employment of Guides by Non-residents.

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine, as follows:

R. S., c. 33, sec. 63; P. L., 1917, c. 219, sec. 63; 1919, c. 196; 1923, c. 119; relating to non-residents hunting and camping on wild lands, amended. Revised statutes, chapter thirty-three, section sixty-three, as amended by section sixty-three of chapter two hundred nineteen of the public laws of nineteen hundred seventeen, as amended by chapter one hundred ninety-six of the public laws of nineteen hundred nineteen, and by chapter one hundred nineteen of the public laws of nineteen hundred twenty-three, is hereby amended by adding thereto the following sentence: 'The provisions of this section shall not apply to non-resident fishermen who camp within the limits of public camp sites maintained by the Maine forest service, or who build camp fires in the fireplaces provided by the Maine forest service on such camp sites,' so that said section as amended shall read as follows:

'Sec. 63. Non-resident fishermen may camp on forest service public camp sites without registered guide. Non-residents of the state shall not enter upon any unorganized or unincorporated township of the state and camp or kindle fires thereon while engaged in hunting or fishing without being in charge of a registered guide, during the months of May, June, July, August, September, October and November, or engage in hunting in such unorganized territory during said months without being in charge of a registered guide, and no registered guide shall, at the same time, guide or be employed by more than five non-residents in hunting. Any such non-resident who enters upon any unorganized or unincorporated township of the state and camps or kindles fires thereon, while engaged in hunting or fishing, without being in charge of a registered guide, during the months of May, June, July, August, September, October and November, or hunts in any unorganized territory in the state during the months above named without being in charge of a registered guide, in violation of any provision herein contained, or any guide who shall guide at the same time, or be employed by at the same time, more than five non-residents in hunting, shall pay a fine of forty dollars and costs for each offense. The provisions of this section shall not apply to non-resident fishermen who camp within the limits of public camp sites maintained by the Maine forest service, or who build camp fires in the fireplaces provided by the Maine forest service on such camp sites.'

Approved April 15, 1927.
