Chapter 85.

An Act Relating to the Quarantine of Cattle.

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine, as follows:

R. S., c. 35; P. L., 1925, c. 24; relating to the prevention of contagious diseases among animals, further amended. Chapter thirty-five of the revised statutes as amended by chapter twenty-four of the public laws of nineteen hundred and twenty-five, is hereby further amended by striking out in the twenty-fourth section thereof, the words "such quarantine to remain until all animals within the area designated shall be subject to the tuberculin test or other test or examination satisfactory to the commissioner of agriculture or his agent"; so that said section as amended shall read as follows:

'Sec. 24. Commissioner of agriculture empowered to prohibit moving of cattle to and from diseased area; may quarantine. The commissioner of agriculture or his agent in charge of live stock sanitary work is hereby empowered to prohibit the movement of cattle of every description into or from any area where bovine tuberculosis or other contagious disease is known to exist and where the commissioner of agriculture or his agent has assumed charge of such disease eradication. If any animals are brought into any such area in violation of this regulation the commissioner of agriculture or his agent shall be further empowered to quarantine such animals until they shall be tested by an accredited veterinarian at the expense of the owner.'

Approved March 15, 1929.
