of said river to its mouth where it joins the Kennebec river, for the purpose of driving logs, lumber and pulpwood, by widening, deepening and removing obstructions from said river, by the construction of dams, side dams and sluiceways therein, and by the erection of booms, side booms and piers, and by making or causing to be made such changes in existing dams as may be necessary or proper therein, to facilitate the floating of logs, lumber and pulpwood from the source and headwaters of said river in the Sandy river ponds in Sandy River plantation and Redington pond in the township of Redington, all in the county of Franklin, to its mouth where it joins the Kennebec river.

Sec. 4. Eminent domain. Said company, for the purposes aforesaid, may take all necessary lands and materials for building said dams, side dams, bunters, piers, booms, rack-booms, shore-holds and fastenings and for making said improvements, and may flow contiguous lands so far as is necessary to raise suitable heads of water, and may attach its booms, dams and other improvements and fixtures to land adjacent to said river, and may, with its servants, agents and teams, pass and re-pass over and along its shores and to and from the same for the purposes aforesaid, making compensation therefor as provided in case of damages for lands taken in laying out highways; and for the injuries arising from flowing of lands said company shall not be liable in an action at law, but those injured shall have remedy by complaint for flowage in which the same proceedings shall be had as in a complaint under the statutes of Maine for the recovery of damages for flowing lands by a mill dam.
