Chapter 57

AN ACT Relating to Destruction of Old Bank Records.

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine, as follows:

R. S., c. 55, § 179-A, additional. Chapter 55 of the revised statutes is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to be numbered 179-A to read as follows:

'Sec. 179-A. Destruction of old bank records. When a statement of account has been rendered by a bank to a depositor accompanied by vouchers, if any, which are the basis for debit entries in such account, or the depositor's passbook has been written up by the bank showing the condition of the depositor's account and delivered to such depositor with like accompaniment of vouchers, if any, such account shall, after the period of 6 years from the date of its rendition, in the event no objection thereto has been theretofore made by the depositor, be deemed finally adjusted and settled and its correctness conclusively presumed and such depositor shall thereafter be barred from questioning the correctness of such account for any cause. Nothing herein shall be construed to relieve the depositor from the duty now imposed by law of exercising due diligence in the examination of such account and vouchers, if any, when rendered by the bank and of immediate notification to the bank upon discovery of any error therein, nor from the legal consequences of neglect of such duty; nor to prevent the application of section 172 to cases governed thereby. Banks shall accordingly not be required to preserve, or keep their records or files relating thereto, for a longer period than 6 years.'

Effective August 6, 1949
