PUBLIC LAWS

OF THE

STATE OF MAINE

As Passed by the Ninety-sixth Legislature

1953

Chapter 184

AN ACT Prohibiting Moving of Poultry from Quarantined Areas.

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine, as follows:

R. S., c. 27, § 71, amended. Section 71 of chapter 27 of the revised statutes is hereby amended to read as follows:

'Sec. 71. Livestock and poultry moved to and from quarantined areas; animals and poultry tested. The commissioner or his agent in charge of livestock sanitary work is empowered to prohibit the movement of ~~cattle~~ livestock or poultry of every description into or from any area where bovine tuberculosis or other contagious disease is known to exist and where the commissioner or his agent has assumed charge of such disease eradication. If any animals or poultry are brought into any such area in violation of this regulation, the commissioner or his agent shall be further empowered to quarantine such animals or poultry until they shall be tested by an accredited veterinarian at the expense of the owner. The owner or his agent shall so secure animals or poultry to be tested as to make it possible for the inspector of the department, or the agent in charge of livestock sanitary work, to apply in an expeditious manner the test that is deemed necessary.'

Effective August 8, 1953

Chapter 185
