lowing legislation as immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety; now, therefore,

The Maine Port Authority may take for public use, for its purposes, any property, right, easement, use, interest or estate in any wharf, dock, pier or site, including related approaches, abutments and appurtenances, ferry line, boat or landing area already appropriated to or charged with a public use, under the power of eminent domain, provided that this power shall not be exercised except at the Port of Portland and the port at Bar Harbor; but consideration shall be given to such existing public use and all reasonable efforts shall be made to interfere no more than may be reasonably necessary with the business, service or functions of the owner, operator, possessor or other person controlling, managing or operating such existing public use; provided, however, that no such property, right, easement, use, interest or estate already appropriated to or charged with a public use shall be taken without contract with or the consent of the owner, operator, possessor or other person controlling, managing or operating the same, unless and until the Public Utilities Commission, after notice and hearing, shall have determined that such property, right, easement, use, interest or estate appropriated to or charged with a public use is necessary to said authority for the purposes of this Act, and that the taking by said authority is in the public interest.

Sec. 4. P. & S. L., 1929, c. 114, § 7, amended. Section 7 of chapter 114 of the private and special laws of 1929 is amended to read as follows:

Sec. 7. May acquire use of terminal facilities by petition to Public Utilities Commission. If upon petition by the Port Authority the Public Utilities Commission finds it to be in the public interest and to be practicable without substantially impairing the ability of any common carrier owning or entitled to the enjoyment of terminal facilities within the port of Portland to handle its own business, it shall have power to require the use, until such time as the common carrier requires such terminal facilities for its own business, in common with such carrier, of any such terminal facilities, including docks, piers, warehouses, freight sheds and grain elevators, and tracks to said facilities, by the Port Authority for the transportation of property, as defined in chapter 55 of the Revised Statutes of 1916 and amendments thereof, delivered or deliverable at or routed over the property of the Port Authority at the port of Portland on such terms and for such compensation until such time as the common carrier requires such terminal facilities for its own business as the Port Authority and such carrier may agree upon, or in the event of a failure to agree, as the Public Utilities Commission may fix as just and reasonable for the use so required. Such compensation shall be paid or adequately secured before the enjoyment or the use may be commenced. If under this paragraph the use of such terminal facilities of any carrier is required to be given to the Port Authority, and the carrier whose terminal facilities are required to be used is not satisfied with the terms fixed for such use, or if the amount of compensation so fixed is not duly and promptly paid, the carrier whose terminal facilities have thus been required to be given to the Port Authority shall be entitled to recover, by suit or action against the Port Authority, proper damages for any injuries sustained by it as the result of compliance with such requirement, or just compensation for such use, or both, as the case may be. The provisions of this section are subject to the exercise of any jurisdiction which may reside in the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Emergency clause. In view of the emergency cited in the preamble, this Act shall take effect when approved.
