A. The Pineland Center, its employees and residents, shall have the right to use at any time, except as hereinafter specified, any land transferred to the Bureau of Public Lands for recreational purposes and for maintaining gardens for personal use or rehabilitative purposes. The said employees and residents shall further have the right to cut and carry away fir boughs and fire wood in accordance with their usual harvesting practices, provided, however, they shall not commit undue waste;

B. The Pineland Center and the Department of Mental Health and Corrections shall have a right of way to construct and maintain any water pipes, pumping stations, water storage tanks and like facilities upon the premises;

C. The Bureau of Public Lands shall take all reasonable and practicable measures necessary to provide for the reasonable annual requirements for logs and lumber of the Pineland Center, and shall permit the Pineland Center and its employees to harvest without cost reasonable amounts of gravel from pits on the premises;

D. The Director of the Bureau of Public Lands shall have the right, in his sole discretion, to close to public access, including employees and residents of the Pineland Center, all or any portion of the transferred premises for such period of time as he may designate, in the event of danger to health and safety from cutting operations, fire or other reasonable cause;

E. The Director of the Bureau of Public Lands shall formulate and amend all management and cutting plans for the transferred premises. The Director, or his designees, and the Superintendent of the Pineland Center, or his designees, shall jointly meet and consult with respect to all such plans and amendments to plans prior to the implementation of such plans;

F. The transferred premises at the Pineland Center described in paragraph 3 shall be subject to the following restrictions:

No residential or commercial structures shall be constructed on the premises; no industrial activities other than those directly associated with the cutting, carrying away or processing of timber shall be carried out on the premises; no mining activities other than the harvesting of sand and gravel from established pits shall be permitted on the premises; and no billboards or aircraft landing sites shall be erected or placed on the premises for so long as the said premises are under the care, custody and control of the Bureau of Public Lands.

Effective October 1, 1975

CHAPTER 7

RESOLVE, Authorizing Priscilla Blodgett of Augusta or her Legal Representatives to Bring an Action against the State of Maine.

Priscilla Blodgett; authorized to sue the State of Maine. Resolved: That Priscilla Blodgett of Augusta, County of Kennebec and State of Maine, who suffered serious personal injuries while a patient at the Augusta Mental Health Institute be authorized to bring suit against the State of Maine.

On June 2, 1974, Priscilla Blodgett was a patient at the Augusta Mental Health Institute. She was court committed and, therefore, an involuntary patient. On numerous times in the past, Priscilla Blodgett had attempted to commit suicide and was confined to a ward at Augusta Mental Health Institute for those who were suicidal; said ward to be kept locked for protection of the patients. On June 2, 1974, the Augusta Mental Health Institute, through its employees, was allegedly negligent in allowing the keys to the ward to be entrusted to another patient, an elderly woman who is now in a nursing home. At Priscilla Blodgett's request, the door was unlocked and Priscilla Blodgett was allowed to leave the Augusta Mental Health Institute and proceed to her home in Augusta.
