1-A. The court shall attach as a condition of probation that the convicted person pay, through the Division of Probation and Parole, a supervision fee of between $10 and $50 per month, as determined by the Court court, for the term of probation, ~~unless the Court determines that the convicted person does not have the financial resources to pay this fee.~~ In determining the amount of the fee, the court shall take into account the financial resources of the convicted person and the nature of the burden its payment imposes. A person may not be sentenced to imprisonment without probation solely for the reason the person is not able to pay the fee. When a person on probation fails to pay the supervision fee, the court may revoke probation as specified in section 1206, unless the person shows that failure to pay was not attributable to a willful refusal to pay or to a failure on that person's part to make a good faith effort to obtain the funds required for the payment. The court, if it determines that revocation of probation is not warranted, shall issue a judgment for the total amount of the fee and shall issue an order attaching a specified portion of money received by or owed to the person on probation until the total amount of the fee has been paid. If the person makes this showing, the court may allow additional time for payment within the remaining period of probation or reduce the size of the fee to as low as $10 per month, but may not revoke the requirement to pay the fee unless the remaining period of probation is 30 days or less.

A person may not be sentenced to imprisonment without probation solely for the reason the person is not able to pay the fees. When a person on probation fails to pay the fees, the court may revoke probation as specified in section 1206, unless the person shows that failure to pay was not attributable to a willful refusal to pay or to a failure on that person's part to make a good faith effort to obtain the funds required for the payment. The court, if it determines that revocation of probation is not warranted, shall issue a judgment for the total amount of the fees and shall issue an order attaching a specified portion of money received by or owed to the person on probation until the total amount of the fees has been paid. If the person makes this showing, the court may allow additional time for payment within the remaining period of probation or reduce the size of the fees, but may not revoke the requirement to pay the fees unless the remaining period of probation is 30 days or less. Fees received from probationers ~~or those sentenced to intensive supervision~~ must be deposited into the department's Correctional Program Improvement Fund, except that ~~where~~ when authorized by the Department of Corrections, a person on probation ~~or sentenced to intensive supervision~~ may be required to pay fees directly to a provider of electronic monitoring, ~~drug~~ substance testing or other services. Funds from this account, which may not lapse, must be used to defray costs associated with the purchase and operation of electronic monitoring and substance testing programs, ~~including costs associated with those programs for people who do not have the financial resources to pay the fees.~~

Sec. R-4. 17-A MRSA §1208 is enacted to read:

§1208. In lieu of probation revocation proceedings

Sec. Z-1. 20-A MRSA c. 606-A is enacted to read:

CHAPTER 606-A

SCHOOL FINANCE ACT OF 1995

§15651. Short title

This chapter is known and may be cited as the "School Finance Act of 1995."

§15652. Definitions

1. Elementary grades. "Elementary grades" means kindergarten to grade 8 and includes children enrolled in early kindergarten programs and 4-year-old children enrolled in a 2-year childhood education program prior to grade one.

2. Income weight. "Income weight" means a value between zero and one that is used to adjust a municipality's ratio of local median household income to the statewide median household income. The income weight plus the property weight, as defined in subsection 7, must equal one.

3. Municipality. "Municipality" means a city, town or organized plantation.

4. Normalized regional cost adjustment. "Normalized regional cost adjustment" means a factor that is used to adjust a median household income value up or down to reflect variations in regional costs. The statewide normalized regional cost adjustment is one.

5. Per pupil guarantee. "Per pupil guarantee" means the total amount of funds that is made available for each subsidizable pupil.

6. Property fiscal capacity. "Property fiscal capacity" means the lesser of the average of the state valuation amounts for the 2 most recent years prior to the year of funding or the state valuation amount for the most recent year.

7. Property weight. "Property weight" means a value between zero and one that is used to adjust a municipality's ratio of local per pupil property fiscal capacity to the statewide per pupil property fiscal capacity. The income weight, as defined in subsection 2, plus the property weight must equal one.

8. School administrative unit local contribution to the per pupil guarantee. "School administrative unit local contribution to the per pupil guarantee" means the funds that a school administrative unit provides for each subsidizable pupil who resides in that unit.

9. School administrative unit state contribution to the per pupil guarantee. "School administrative unit state contribution to the per pupil guarantee" means the funds that the State provides to a school administrative unit for each subsidizable pupil who resides in that unit.

10. Secondary grades. "Secondary grades" means grades 9 to 12.

11. Subsidizable pupils. "Subsidizable pupils" means all kindergarten to grade 12 pupils who reside in a school administrative unit and who are educated at public expense.

12. Year. "Year" means a fiscal year starting July 1st and ending June 30th of the succeeding year.

13. Year of funding. "Year of funding" means the fiscal year during which state subsidies are disbursed to school administrative units, except as specified in section 15005, subsection 1.

§15653. Per pupil guarantee; statewide features

1. Per pupil guarantee. The Legislature shall annually establish a per pupil guarantee.

2. Contribution to per pupil guarantee. The Legislature and each school administrative unit are jointly responsible for contributing to the per pupil guarantee. For each school administrative unit, the per pupil guarantee is the sum of the school administrative unit local contribution to the per pupil guarantee and the school administrative unit state contribution to the per pupil guarantee.

3. Legislature's contribution. The commissioner's recommendation for an appropriation for the Legislature's contribution to the per pupil guarantee for all subsidizable pupils in all school administrative units must be at least the amount of the corresponding appropriation for the prior fiscal year, unless a lesser amount is necessary to ensure compliance with section 15607, subsection 1. The appropriation may not exceed 105% of the corresponding appropriation for the prior fiscal year.

4. Statewide local share. The statewide local share amount of the operating costs allocation is based on the sum of the amounts determined by multiplying for each unit 6.06 mills times the unit's property fiscal capacity.

§15654. School administrative unit state and local contributions to the per pupil guarantee

1. Unit's local share percentage. For each school administrative unit, the commissioner shall annually determine the unit's local share percentage of the per pupil guarantee. Except as described in subsection 2, the local share percentage of the per pupil guarantee is the product of the amounts in paragraphs A and B:

A. The school administrative unit's weighted relative fiscal capacity, as defined in section 15657; and

B. A statewide adjustment factor to be established annually by the commissioner.

2. Special cases. Special cases for the local share percentage of the per pupil guarantee are as follows.

A. The local share percentage for a school administrative district or a community school district is calculated as a weighted average of the local share percentages of each member municipality, as if each member municipality were a separate school administrative unit. The weight for each municipality is the proportion of the district's subsidizable students who reside in the municipality.

B. The local share percentage for a school administrative unit or a municipality in a school administrative district or a community school district may not exceed 100%. If the local share percentage calculation is performed for a municipality in accordance with paragraph A, then the local share percentage for the municipality may not exceed 100%.

3. School administrative unit; contribution. For each school administrative unit, the commissioner shall annually determine the following.

A. The school administrative unit local contribution to the per pupil guarantee is the product of the per pupil guarantee and the school administrative unit's local share percentage of the per pupil guarantee.

B. The school administrative unit state contribution to the per pupil guarantee is the per pupil guarantee less the school administrative unit local contribution to the per pupil guarantee.

§15655. Allocation for per pupil guarantee

1. School administrative unit; allocation; local share; state share. For each school administrative unit, the commissioner shall annually determine the following.

A. The school administrative unit's total allocation for the per pupil guarantee is the product determined by multiplying the per pupil guarantee by the number of subsidizable pupils in the unit.

B. The school administrative unit's local share of the allocation for the per pupil guarantee is the product determined by multiplying the school administrative unit local contribution to the per pupil guarantee and the number of subsidizable pupils in the unit.

C. Except as described in paragraph D, the school administrative unit's state share of the allocation for the per pupil guarantee is the amount in paragraph A less the amount in paragraph B.

D. If a school administrative unit chooses to raise less than 100% of its local share of the allocation for the per pupil guarantee, then the State shall contribute the same percentage of the state share as the reduced local share, as computed by the commissioner.

2. Statewide allocation; local share; state share. The commissioner shall annually determine the following.

A. The statewide total allocation for the per pupil guarantee is the sum of the total allocation for the per pupil guarantee for all school administrative units.

B. The statewide local share of the allocation for the per pupil guarantee is the sum of the local share allocation for the per pupil guarantee for all school administrative units.

C. The statewide state share of the allocation for the per pupil guarantee is the sum of the state share allocation for the per pupil guarantee for all school administrative units.

§15656. Pupil counts

For each school administrative unit, the number of subsidizable pupils is the average number of subsidizable students in that school administrative unit on April 1st and October 1st of the most recent calendar year prior to the year of funding.

§15657. Weighted relative property fiscal capacity

For each school administrative unit, the commissioner shall annually determine the unit's weighted relative fiscal capacity. This determination is the result of the following steps.

1. Fiscal capacity. The local per pupil property fiscal capacity divided by the statewide per pupil property fiscal capacity as computed by the commissioner is multiplied by a property weight of 0.85.

2. Local median household income. The most recent local median household income is divided by the statewide average median household income. That amount is divided by the normalized regional cost adjustment as defined in section 15652, subsection 4. The final result is multiplied by an income weight of 0.15. The department shall use local median household income data, updated annually from the Federal Decennial Census. The department shall contract for the acquisition of annual normalized regional cost adjustment data, based on the National Chamber of Commerce model.

3. Weighted relative property fiscal capacity.

The results of subsection 1 and subsection 2 are added and the sum represents the weighted relative property fiscal capacity.

§15658. Relationship to the School Finance Act of 1985

The provisions of chapter 606 apply except as described in this section.

1. Operating costs mill rate. The operating costs mill rate, as described in chapter 606, is in effect for the limited purposes of determining the state and local shares of each school administrative unit's program costs allocation and its debt service allocation, and for determining the amount required to provide the statewide state share of the allocation for the per pupil guarantee. For each individual school administrative unit, the amounts described in section 15655, subsection 1 are used rather than the amounts in section 15608, subsection 1; section 15609, subsection 1, paragraph A; and section 15610, subsection 1, paragraph A.

§15659. Hardship cushion

The following hardship cushion is established for fiscal year 1996-97.

1. Subsidy change. A subsidy change from fiscal year 1995-96 to fiscal year 1996-97 is calculated for each school administrative unit as the amount in paragraph A less the amount in paragraph B:

A. The State's share for fiscal year 1996-97 for the allocation of the per pupil guarantee as determined in this chapter, plus the State's share for program costs and the minimum subsidy allocation as determined in chapter 606, less subsidies provided for bus purchases, divided by the subsidizable pupils, as defined in this chapter; and

B. The State's share for fiscal year 1995-96 of the foundation allocation, plus the minimum subsidy allocation and the fiscal year 1995-96 cushion, less subsidies provided for bus purchases, divided by the number of subsidizable pupils as determined under section 15656.

2. Cushion-adjusted loss. If the subsidy change calculated in subsection 1 represents a loss from fiscal year 1995-96 to fiscal year 1996-97 that exceeds 5% of the amount in subsection 1, paragraph B multiplied by the subsidizable pupils for the most recent year, a hardship cushion is provided to ensure that the cushion-adjusted loss, with the amount of the cushion added to the amount in subsection 1, paragraph A, is a 5% loss.

3. Maximum allowable percentage of gain.

The department shall determine a maximum allowable percentage of gain from fiscal year 1995-96 to fiscal year 1996-97. The fiscal year 1996-97 subsidy for a school administrative unit calculated in accordance with subsection 1, paragraph A that exceeds the maximum allowable percentage of gain must be reduced by an amount sufficient to ensure that the unit's gain does not exceed the maximum allowable percentage of gain. The statewide total of the reduced subsidies obtained in this manner is used to fund the cushion amounts described in subsection 2.

Sec. Z-2. Effective date. This Part takes effect July 1, 1996.

Sec. RR-1. 36 MRSA §2801-A, sub-§1-A is enacted to read:

1-A. First assessment. For hospital payment years as defined in Title 22, section 382 that end in fiscal year 1997-98, each hospital licensed under Title 22, chapter 405, excluding state hospitals, must be assessed a tax of no more than 3.56% of the hospital's final gross patient service revenue limit.

Sec. RR-2. 36 MRSA §2801-A, sub-§9, as enacted by PL 1991, c. 591, Pt. Q, §8, is amended to read:

9. Application. The assessment liability in this section is effective for hospital payment years ending during or after the state fiscal year 1991-92. Collections commence October 5, 1991 or the 5th day of the first month following at least 15 days' notice to a hospital of its liability under this section, whichever is earlier. Lump sum payments are required within 30 days of notice from the Bureau of Taxation for payment years for which the defined payment dates have passed.

The liability of a hospital subject to this chapter ceases with regard to payment years and pro rata monthly payment dates associated with time periods beginning on or after a period for which federal reimbursement for disproportionate share hospital payments are eliminated. Payment years for which the tax liability ceases prior to the final pro rata monthly payment date must be finally settled based on an actual liability amount prorated by the number of monthly payment dates in the payment year prior to the cessation of liability.

Sec. RR-4. Waiver request for rural and financially distressed hospitals. The Department of Human Services shall apply to the Federal Government for any waiver authorized by 42 Code of Federal Regulations, Chapter IV that minimizes the variance between an individual hospital's assessment and its disproportionate share hospital payment. The waiver application must include, but is not limited to, provisions for rural hospitals, financially distressed hospitals and border hospitals that are financially distressed due to lack of competitiveness and must target those facilities that are the most severely affected in a manner that does not result in an individual hospital receiving a disproportionate share hospital payment that exceeds the hospital's assessment liability. The Commissioner of Human Services shall report to the joint standing committee of the Legislature having jurisdiction over appropriations and financial affairs by the 15th of each month until the status of the waiver or waivers is determined. The reports must detail the specific steps taken thus far in the application process and must provide a summary report of future actions under consideration by the department to secure approval in compliance with this Part.

Sec. RR-5. Uniform reduction of hospital assessment. Notwithstanding the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 36, section 2801-A, if the waivers specified in this Part are not approved by January 1, 1996, then the State Tax Assessor shall, upon recommendation of the Commissioner of Human Services, uniformly reduce the assessment on hospitals within the limits of the funding identified in this Part in a manner consistent with federal law, rules and regulations.

Sec. RR-6. Notice of federal fund reductions. The Department of Human Services shall notify the joint standing committee of the Legislature having jurisdiction over appropriations and financial affairs immediately of any reduction in federal funds affecting hospitals, including, but not limited to, federal law changes, rule changes, conversion to another reimbursement methodology, including block grants, or any other action that may affect federal reimbursement for disproportionate share payments.

Sec. VV-1. 36 MRS §5111-B is enacted to read:

§5111-B. Revenue targeting

1. Definitions. As used in this section, unless the context otherwise indicates, the following terms have the following meanings.

A. "Adjustment factor" means a number applicable to a tax year determined by dividing the target revenue for the numerically identical fiscal year by the tax revenue for that fiscal year, rounded to the nearest 1/1,000.

B. "Target revenue" means $676,230,000 for fiscal year 1997-98 and for subsequent fiscal years.

C. "Tax revenue" means undedicated General Fund individual income tax revenue arising pursuant to this Part.

2. Rate adjustment. Annually, by September 15th, the State Tax Assessor shall determine for the current tax year whether tax revenue for the fiscal year ending the prior June 30th exceeded the target revenue. If target revenue was exceeded, the State Tax Assessor shall adjust the tax rates as specified in the tax rate tables in section 5111, as adjusted for the prior tax year pursuant to this section, by multiplying the percentage rates by the current tax year's adjustment factor. The State Tax Assessor may not adjust the rates for single individuals and married persons filing separate returns with taxable income of $30,000 or more; for unmarried individuals or legally separated individuals who qualify as heads of households with taxable income of $45,000 or more; and for individuals filing married joint returns or surviving spouses permitted to file a joint return with taxable income of $60,000 or more.

3. Revenue Targeting Fund. The Revenue Targeting Fund is established to carry out the purposes of this section. For fiscal year 1997-98 and for each subsequent fiscal year up to and including the fiscal year ending during the calendar tax year in which the limitation pursuant to subsection 4 is reached, tax revenue exceeding $676,230,000 must be deposited to the Revenue Targeting Fund, the balance of which does not lapse but carries to the subsequent fiscal year. Tax year 1998 and subsequent tax year individual income tax refunds must be paid from this fund until the fund balance carried forward from the prior fiscal year is reduced to zero.

4. Limitation. The cumulative rate reduction attributable to this section may not exceed 20% of the tax year 1994 rates. In any fiscal year in which the determination is made pursuant to section 1811 that the fiscal year just completed General Fund revenues exceed those of the prior fiscal year by 8% or more, no rate adjustment pursuant to subsection 2 is made.

5. Rounding. Adjustments in tax rates arising pursuant to this section are rounded to the nearest 1/10 of a percent, and the total dollar amount of the tax on taxable income equal to the lower limit of the income brackets is rounded to the nearest dollar.

PART FFF

Sec. FFF-1. 36 MRSA §5219-E, sub-§1, ¶B, as amended by PL 1991, c. 591, Pt. BBB, §1, is further amended to read:

B. "Investment credit base" means the total original basis, without adjustment, for federal income tax purposes, of the taxpayer of all machinery and equipment placed in service for the first time in this State by the taxpayer or other person during any of the prior 5 taxable years, except in taxable years ending in 1995, the prior 6 taxable years, excluding the basis of machinery and equipment placed in service in this State prior to January 1, 1989. In the case of a combined report, the term investment credit base means the sum of the investment credit bases for all corporations included in the report.

If the taxpayer is reimbursed pursuant to chapter 915 for 100% of the property taxes assessed during the taxable year against all of the machinery and equipment that constitutes eligible property as defined in section 6651, subsection 1, that machinery and equipment may not be included in the investment credit base for that taxable year. The term "taxable year" means the taxable year for income tax purposes of the taxpayer.

Sec. FFF-2. 36 MRSA c. 915 is enacted to read:

CHAPTER 915

REIMBURSEMENT FOR TAXES PAID ON CERTAIN BUSINESS PROPERTY

§6651. Definitions

As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise indicates, the following terms have the following meanings.

1. Eligible property. "Eligible property" means qualified business property first placed in service in the State, or constituting construction in progress in the State, after April 1, 1995. "Eligible property" includes, without limitation, repair parts, replacement parts, additions, accessions and accessories to other qualified business property placed in service on or before April 1, 1995 if the part, addition, accession or accessory is first placed in service, or constitutes construction in progress, in the State after April 1, 1995. "Eligible property" also includes inventory parts. After reimbursement has been made for "eligible property" for 12 years, that property is no longer "eligible property" under this chapter.

2. Inventory parts. "Inventory parts" includes repair parts, replacement parts, replacement equipment, additions, accessions and accessories on hand but not in service and stocks or inventories of repair parts, replacement parts, replacement equipment, additions, accessions and accessories on hand but not in service if acquired after April 1, 1995, regardless of when placed in service.

3. Qualified business property. "Qualified business property" means tangible personal property that:

A. Is used or held for use exclusively for a business purpose by the person in possession of it or, in the case of construction in progress or inventory parts, is intended to be used exclusively for a business purpose by the person who will possess that property; and

B. Either:

(1) Was subject to an allowance for depreciation under the Code on April 1st of the property tax year to which the claim for reimbursement relates or would have been subject to an allowance for depreciation under the Code as of that date but for the fact that the property has been fully depreciated; or

(2) In the case of construction in progress or inventory parts, would be subject under the Code to an allowance for depreciation when placed in service or would have been subject to an allowance for depreciation under the Code as of that date but for the fact that the property has been fully depreciated.

"Qualified business property" also includes all property that is affixed or attached to a building or other real estate if it is used to further a particular trade or business activity taking place in that building or on that real estate. "Qualified business property" does not include components or attachments to a building if used primarily to serve the building as a building, regardless of the particular trade or activity taking place in or on the building. "Qualified business property" also does not include land improvements if used primarily to further the use of the land as land, regardless of the particular trade or business activities taking place in or on the land. In the case of construction in progress or inventory parts, the term "used" means intended to be used.

§6652. Reimbursement allowed; limitation

1. Generally. Subject to the provisions of subsection 2 and of sections 6653 and 6654, a person against whom taxes have been assessed pursuant to Part 2 with respect to eligible property and who has paid those taxes is entitled to reimbursement of those taxes from the State.

2. Limitation. Reimbursement may not be made by the State Tax Assessor pursuant to this chapter with respect to the payment of taxes assessed against property that is entitled to exemption pursuant to section 656, subsection 1, paragraph E or any other provision of law except that reimbursement must be made with respect to the payment of taxes assessed against property that has not been certified for exemption pursuant to section 656, subsection 1, paragraph E but that is entitled to exemption pursuant to that provision if that property has been placed in service after the December 1st immediately preceding April 1st of the tax year for which reimbursement is sought but prior to April 1st of the property tax year for which reimbursement is sought. The claimant may seek reconsideration, pursuant to section 151, of the State Tax Assessor's denial of reimbursement under this subsection. If the State Tax Assessor denies a reimbursement claim on the ground that the property in question is entitled to exemption under section 656, subsection 1, paragraph E and the claimant seeks reconsideration of the denial, the State Tax Assessor shall, at the claimant's request, allow the claimant up to one year to obtain a statement from the Commissioner of Environmental Protection that the property at issue is not exempt. If the claimant timely produces such a statement or otherwise demonstrates that the property is not exempt, the State Tax Assessor shall allow the reimbursement.

§6653. Taxpayer to obtain information

Before filing a request for reimbursement with the State Tax Assessor pursuant to section 6654, a taxpayer must notify the assessor or assessors for any taxing jurisdiction in which eligible property is subject to tax and for which the taxpayer intends to claim reimbursement that the taxpayer intends to file a reimbursement request. The notification must also include a list of the property that the taxpayer believes constitutes eligible property, the original cost of that property, the date that property was acquired and whether the property was acquired new or used. The taxpayer must submit to the assessor or assessors of each taxing jurisdiction at the same time a request that the assessor or assessors of the taxing jurisdiction provide to the taxpayer a statement identifying the assessed just value of eligible property for which reimbursement will be requested and the associated tax attributed to that property. If the taxpayer submits the request to the assessor or assessors 60 days or more before the commitment date for the property tax year at issue, the assessor or assessors of the taxing jurisdiction shall make the statement available to the taxpayer at the time the taxing jurisdiction first bills the taxpayer for property taxes for the property tax year at issue. If the taxpayer submits the request to the assessor or assessors less than 60 days before the commitment date or after the commitment date, the assessor or assessors shall make the statement available to the taxpayer within 60 days after the request is made.

§6654. Claim for reimbursement

A person entitled to reimbursement pursuant to section 6652 may file a claim for reimbursement with the State Tax Assessor. The reimbursement claim must be filed with the State Tax Assessor on or before 60 days after the tax is paid. The State Tax Assessor may extend the date on which the claim for reimbursement is due for good cause. Except as otherwise provided, the claim must be accompanied by the statement obtained by the claimant pursuant to section 6653. If the claimant requests reimbursement of an amount of tax that differs from the amount of tax specified for the eligible property in the statement provided by the assessor or assessors of the taxing jurisdiction, the claimant must attach to the claim form an explanation of the reasons for that difference and the State Tax Assessor shall determine the correct amount of reimbursement to which the claimant is entitled, taking into consideration both the statement from the assessor or assessors and the taxpayer's explanation. If, for any reason, the claimant is unable to obtain the statement specified in section 6653 from the assessor or assessors within the time specified in section 6653, the claimant must attach to the claim form an explanation of the amount of reimbursement requested and the State Tax Assessor shall process the claim without that statement. If the property taxes are billed in more than one installment, a claimant may submit multiple claims for reimbursement corresponding to the amount of property tax paid with each installment.

The State Tax Assessor shall prescribe forms for the notice of claim and statement of the assessor or assessors provided in section 6653 and the claim for reimbursement, with instructions, and make those forms available to taxpayers and taxing jurisdictions.

§6656. Payment of claims

Upon receipt of a timely and properly completed claim for reimbursement, the State Tax Assessor shall certify that the claimant is eligible for reimbursement and shall pay the amount claimed from the General Fund within 180 days after the claim is filed.

§6657. Audit of claim

The State Tax Assessor has the authority to audit any claim filed under this chapter and take any action provided in section 384. If the State Tax Assessor determines that the amount of the claimed reimbursement is incorrect, the State Tax Assessor shall redetermine the claim and notify the claimant in writing of the redetermination and the State Tax Assessor's reasons. If the claimant has received reimbursement of an amount that the State Tax Assessor concludes should not have been reimbursed, the State Tax Assessor may issue an assessment for that amount within 3 years from the date the reimbursement claim was filed or at any time if a fraudulent reimbursement claim was filed. The claimant may seek reconsideration, pursuant to section 151, of the redetermination or assessment.

§6658. Subsequent changes

If, after a claim for reimbursement has been filed, the associated property tax assessment is reduced or abated for any reason, the claimant shall file, within 60 days after receipt of the reduction or abatement, an amended claim for reimbursement reflecting the reduction or abatement. If a claimant has received reimbursement for property tax that is reduced or abated, the claimant shall, within 60 days of receipt of the reduction or abatement, refund to the Bureau of Taxation the amount of the reimbursement for the property tax that has been reduced or abated. If the claimant fails to make the refund within the 60-day period, the State Tax Assessor, within 3 years from the claimant's receipt of reimbursement, may issue an assessment for the amount that the claimant owes to the Bureau of Taxation. The claimant may seek reconsideration, pursuant to section 151, of the assessment.

§6659. Legislative findings

The Legislature finds that encouragement of the growth of capital investment in this State is in the public interest and promotes the general welfare of the people of the State. The Legislature further finds that the high cost of owning qualified business property in this State is a disincentive to the growth of capital investment in this State. The Legislature further finds that the program set forth in this chapter is a reasonable means of overcoming this disincentive and will encourage capital investment in this State.

Sec. FFF-3. Application. That section of this Part that amends the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 36, section 5219-E, subsection 1, paragraph B applies to taxable years ending on or after July 1, 1997.

Sec. GGG-7. 36 MRSA §5219-K is enacted to read:

§5219-K. Research expense tax credit

1. Credit allowed. A taxpayer is allowed a credit against the tax due under this chapter equal to the sum of 5% of the excess, if any, of the qualified research expenses for the taxable year, over the base amount; and 7.5% of the basic research payments determined under subsection (e)(1)(A) of Section 41 of the Code. The term "base amount" means the average spent on qualified research expenses over the last 3 years by the taxpayer. The terms "qualified research expenses," "qualified organization base period amount," "basic research" and any other terms affecting the calculation of the credit, unless the context otherwise requires, have the same meanings as under Section 41 of the Code, as amended and in effect on December 31, 1994, but only apply to expenditures for research conducted in this State. In determining the amount of the credit allowable under this section, the State Tax Assessor may aggregate the activities of all corporations that are members of a controlled group of corporations, as defined by subsection (f)(1)(A) of Section 41 of the Code, and in addition may aggregate the activities of all entities, whether or not incorporated, that are under common control, as defined by subsection (f)(1)(B) of Section 41 of the Code.

2. Reduction not less than zero. The credit allowed under this section for any taxable year may not reduce the tax due to less than zero.

3. Limitation on credit allowed. The credit allowed under this section is limited to 100% of a corporation's first $25,000 of tax due, as determined before the allowance of any credits, plus 75% of the corporation's tax due, as determined in excess of $25,000. The State Tax Assessor shall adopt rules similar to those authorized under Section 38(c)(2)(B) of the Code for purposes of apportioning the $25,000 among members of a controlled group.

4. Corporations filing combined return. In the case of corporations filing a combined return, a credit generated by an individual member corporation under the provisions of this section must first be applied against the tax due attributable to that company under this chapter. A member corporation with an excess research and development credit may apply its excess credit against the tax due of another group member to the extent that that other member corporation can use additional credits under the limitations of subsection 3. Unused, unexpired credits generated by a member corporation may be carried over from year to year by the individual corporation that generated the credit, subject to the limitation in subsection 5.

5. Carryover to succeeding years. A taxpayer entitled to a credit under this section for any taxable year may carry over and apply to the tax due for any one or more of the next succeeding 15 taxable years the portion, as reduced from year to year, of the credit that exceeds the tax due for the taxable year. A taxpayer may carry over and apply to the tax due for any subsequent taxable year the portion of those credits, as reduced from year to year, not allowed by subsection 3.

6. Additional rules. The State Tax Assessor shall adopt such rules as are necessary to implement this section.

7. Application. This section applies to any tax year beginning on or after January 1, 1996.

The Northern New England Passenger Rail Authority, as established by Title 5, section 12004-F, subsection 16, is a body both corporate and politic in the State established for the general purpose of promoting passenger rail service as set forth in subchapter I. It is declared that the purposes of this chapter are public and that the authority shall be regarded as performing a governmental function in carrying out this chapter. The authority, as successor in interest of the Department of Transportation and to its rights, privileges and liabilities as set forth in subchapter I, shall receive any federal and state funds previously authorized to the department for that purpose, and upon creation of the authority all such rights, privileges and liabilities of the department cease.

The directors shall elect a treasurer and a secretary who need not be members of the authority and any other officers as the board of directors from time to time considers necessary. A vacancy in the authority does not impair the right of a quorum of the directors to exercise all the rights and perform all the duties of the authority. The Governor may remove a member from the authority for misconduct.

2. Meetings of directors; compensation. All the powers of the authority may be exercised by the board of directors in lawful meeting and a majority of the directors are necessary for a quorum. A director, officer or employee of the authority may not acquire any interest, direct or indirect, in any contract or proposed contract of the authority. A director, officer or employee may not participate in any decision on any contract entered into by the authority if that individual has any interest, direct or indirect, in any firm, partnership, corporation or association that will be party to such a contract or financially involved in any transaction with the authority; except this prohibition does not apply to the execution of agreements by banking institutions for the deposit or handling of authority funds in connection with any contract or to utility services, the rates for which are fixed or controlled by a governmental agency.

§8114. Powers

The authority may:

1. Suit. Sue and be sued;

§8115. Obligations of the authority

All expenses incurred in carrying out this chapter must be paid solely from funds provided to or obtained by the authority pursuant to this chapter. Any notes, obligations or liabilities under this chapter may not be deemed to be a debt of the State or a pledge of the faith and credit of the State; but those notes, obligations and liabilities are payable exclusively from funds provided to or obtained by the authority pursuant to this chapter. Pecuniary liability of any kind may not be imposed upon the State or any locality, town or landowner in the State because of any act, agreement, contract, tort, malfeasance, misfeasance or nonfeasance by or on the part of the authority or its agents, servants or employees. The records and correspondence relating to negotiations, trade secrets received by the authority and estimates of costs on projects to be put out to bid are confidential and the authority is deemed to have a lawyer-client privilege.

The authority may only make expenditures in accordance with allocations approved by the commissioner. Any balance of an allocation that at any time may not be required for the purpose named in that allocation may be transferred at any time prior to the closing of the books to any other allocation for the use of the authority for the same fiscal year subject to review and approval by the commissioner. Fiscal statements describing a transfer must be submitted by the authority to the commissioner 30 days before the transfer is to be implemented. As used in the subsection, the term "public service corporation" includes a public utility as defined in Title 35-A, section 102, subsection 13 and a corporation referred to in Title 13-A.

§8119. Exemption from taxes

Because the accomplishment by the authority of the authorized purpose stated in this chapter is for the benefit of the people of the State and for the improvement of their commerce and prosperity and is the performance of essential governmental functions, the authority may not be required to pay any taxes or assessment on any property acquired or used by it for the purposes provided in this chapter; except that service facilities leased or rented by the authority to business entities are subject to taxation and assessments must be made against the tenant in possession based upon the value of the leasehold interest, both real and personal. The authority may not be required to pay any tax upon its income except as may be required by the laws of the United States.

B. "Material reinsurance transaction" means:

(1) A transaction involving property and casualty business, including accident and health business written by a property and casualty insurer, that involves more than 50% of either the insurer's total ceded written premium or the insurer's total ceded indemnity and loss adjustment reserves;

(2) A transaction involving life, annuity or accident and health business that causes a change, either positive or negative, in the current total reserve credit taken for all life, annuity and accident and health business of more than 50% from the total reserve credit taken for such business in the insurer's most recent annual statement. "Total reserve credit" includes reserve credit taken for unearned premiums, reserve credit taken other than for unearned premiums and amounts recoverable on paid and unpaid losses for all reinsurance ceded;

(3) Any transaction in which either:(a) An authorized reinsurer representing more than 10% of the insurer's total reserve credit for business ceded is replaced by one or more unauthorized reinsurers; or(b) Previously established collateral requirements have been reduced or waived for one or more unauthorized reinsurers representing collectively more than 10% of the insurer's total reserve credit for business ceded; or(4) Transactions otherwise falling within the scope of this paragraph do not need to be reported if:(a) In the case of a property and casualty insurer, the insurer's total ceded written premium represents, on an annualized basis, less than 10% of its total written premium for direct and assumed business;(b) In the case of a life, annuity and accident and health insurer, the total reserve credit taken for business ceded represents, on an annualized basis, less than 10% of the statutory reserve requirement before any cession; or(c) The transaction falls within the scope of a previously reported reinsurance agreement.

3. Reporting procedures. Reports for material investment transactions and material reinsurance transactions must follow the following procedures.

A. A report of a material investment transaction must include the following information:

(1) Date of the transaction;(2) Manner of acquisition or disposition;(3) Description of the assets involved;(4) Nature and amount of the consideration given or received;(5) Purpose of or reason for the transaction;(6) Manner by which the amount of consideration was determined;(7) Gain or loss recognized or realized as a result of the transaction; and(8) Name of the person from whom the assets were acquired or to whom they were disposed.

C. Material transactions must be reported on a nonconsolidated basis unless the insurer is part of a consolidated group of insurers that uses a pooling arrangement of 100% reinsurance agreement that affects the solvency and integrity of the insurer's reserves, and the insurer has ceded substantially all of its direct and assumed business to the pool. An insurer is considered to have ceded substantially all of its direct and assumed business to a pool if the insurer has less than $1,000,000 total direct and assumed written premiums during a calendar year that are not subject to a pooling arrangement and the net income of the business not subject to the pooling arrangement represents less than 5% of the insurer's capital and surplus.

4. Confidentiality. All reports obtained by or disclosed to the superintendent pursuant to this section are confidential, are not subject to subpoena and may not be made public by the superintendent, the National Association of Insurance Commissioners or any other person, except to insurance departments of other states, without the prior written consent of the insurer to which it pertains. If the superintendent, after giving the insurer that would be affected notice and an opportunity for hearing, determines that publication is in the interest of policyholders, shareholders or the public, the superintendent may publish all or any part of a report in the manner the superintendent determines to be appropriate.

PART B

Sec. B-1. 24-A MRSA §216, sub-§5 is enacted to read:

The superintendent may share information, including otherwise confidential information, with the National Association of Insurance Commissioners, insurance departments of other states or other state agencies, if the other jurisdiction or agency agrees to maintain the same level of confidentiality as is available under Maine law. This subsection does not alter prohibitions or restrictions applicable to ex parte contacts in the course of an adjudicatory proceeding in which a state agency is a party. For purposes of this subsection, "other state agencies" includes bureau personnel and consultants designated as serving in an advocacy capacity.

(e) An advance health-care directive that conflicts with an earlier advance health-care directive revokes the earlier directive to the extent of the conflict.

§5-804. Optional form

The following form may, but need not, be used to create an advance health-care directive. The other sections of this Part govern the effect of this or any other writing used to create an advance health-care directive. An individual with capacity may complete or modify all or any part of the following form.

ADVANCE HEALTH-CARE DIRECTIVE

Explanation

You have the right to give instructions about your own health care. You also have the right to name someone else to make health-care decisions for you. This form lets you do either or both of these things. It also lets you express your wishes regarding donation of organs and the designation of your primary physician. If you use this form, you may complete or modify all or any part of it. You are free to use a different form.

Part 1 of this form is a power of attorney for health care. Part 1 lets you name another individual as agent to make health-care decisions for you if you become incapable of making your own decisions or if you want someone else to make those decisions for you now even though you are still capable. You may also name an alternate agent to act for you if your first choice is not willing, able or reasonably available to make decisions for you. Unless related to you, your agent may not be an owner, operator or employee of a residential long-term health-care institution at which you are receiving care.

Unless the form you sign limits the authority of your agent, your agent may make all health-care decisions for you. This form has a place for you to limit the authority of your agent. You need not limit the authority of your agent if you wish to rely on your agent for all health-care decisions that may have to be made. If you choose not to limit the authority of your agent, your agent will have the right to:

(a) Consent or refuse consent to any care, treatment, service or procedure to maintain, diagnose or otherwise affect a physical or mental condition;

(b) Select or discharge health-care providers and institutions;

(c) Approve or disapprove diagnostic tests, surgical procedures, programs of medication and orders not to resuscitate; and

(d) Direct the provision, withholding or withdrawal of artificial nutrition and hydration and all other forms of health care, including life-sustaining treatment.

Part 2 of this form lets you give specific instructions about any aspect of your health care. Choices are provided for you to express your wishes regarding the provision, withholding or withdrawal of treatment to keep you alive, including the provision of artificial nutrition and hydration, as well as the provision of pain relief. Space is also provided for you to add to the choices you have made or for you to write out any additional wishes.

Part 3 of this form lets you express an intention to donate your bodily organs and tissues following your death.

Part 4 of this form lets you designate a physician to have primary responsibility for your health care.

After completing this form, sign and date the form at the end. You must have 2 other individuals sign as witnesses. Give a copy of the signed and completed form to your physician, to any other health-care providers you may have, to any health-care institution at which you are receiving care and to any health-care agents you have named. You should talk to the person you have named as agent to make sure that he or she understands your wishes and is willing to take the responsibility.

You have the right to revoke this advance health-care directive or replace this form at any time.

§5-805. Decisions by surrogate

(a) A surrogate may make a decision to withhold or withdraw life-sustaining treatment for a patient who is an adult or emancipated minor if the patient has been determined by the primary physician to lack capacity, no agent or guardian has been appointed or the agent or guardian is not reasonably available and the patient is in a terminal condition or a persistent vegetative state as determined by the primary physician.

(b) Any member of the following classes of the patient's family who is reasonably available, in descending order of priority, may act as surrogate:

- (1) The spouse, unless legally separated;
- (2) An adult child;
- (3) A parent;
- (4) An adult brother or sister;
- (5) An adult grandchild;
- (6) An adult niece or nephew, related by blood or adoption;
- (7) An adult aunt or uncle, related by blood or adoption; or
- (8) Another adult relative of the patient, related by blood or adoption, who is familiar with the patient's personal values and is reasonably available for consultation.

(c) If none of the individuals eligible to act as surrogate under subsection (b) is reasonably available, an adult who has exhibited special concern for the patient, who is familiar with the patient's personal values and who is reasonably available may act as surrogate.

(d) A surrogate shall communicate the surrogate's assumption of authority as promptly as practicable to the members of the patient's family specified in subsection (b) who can be readily contacted.

(e) If more than one member of a class assumes authority to act as surrogate and they, or members of different classes who are reasonably available, do not agree on a health-care decision and the supervising health-care provider is so informed, the supervising health-care provider may comply with the decision of the class having priority or a majority of the members of that class who have communicated their views to the provider. The health-care provider may refer the members of the class or classes to a neutral 3rd party for assistance in resolving the dispute or to a court of competent jurisdiction. If the class is evenly divided concerning the health-care decision and the supervising health-care provider is so informed, that class and all individuals having lower priority are disqualified from making the decision.

(f) A surrogate shall make a health-care decision in accordance with the patient's individual instructions, if any, and other wishes to the extent known to the surrogate. Otherwise, the surrogate shall make the decision in accordance with the surrogate's determination of the patient's best interest and in good faith. In determining the patient's best interest, the surrogate shall consider the patient's personal values to the extent known to the surrogate. A consent is not valid if it conflicts with the intention of the patient previously expressed to the surrogate.

(g) A health-care decision made by a surrogate for a patient lacking capacity is effective without judicial approval.

(h) An individual with capacity at any time may disqualify another, including a member of the individual's family, from acting as the individual's surrogate by a signed writing or by personally informing the supervising health-care provider of the disqualification.

(i) A surrogate may not be an owner, operator or employee of a residential long-term health-care institution at which the patient is receiving care unless the surrogate is one of the following:

- (1) The spouse of the patient;
- (2) An adult child of the patient;
- (3) A parent of the patient; or
- (4) A relative of the patient with whom the patient has resided for more than 6 months prior to the decision.

(j) A supervising health-care provider may require an individual claiming the right to act as surrogate for a patient to provide a written declaration under penalty of perjury stating facts and circumstances reasonably sufficient to establish the claimed authority.

§5-806. Decisions by guardian

(a) Except as authorized by a court of competent jurisdiction, a guardian shall comply with the ward's individual instructions and other wishes, if any, expressed while the ward had capacity and to the extent known to the guardian, and may not revoke the ward's advance health-care directive unless the appointing court expressly so authorizes.

(b) Absent a court order to the contrary, a health-care decision of an agent takes precedence over that of a guardian.

(c) A health-care decision made by a guardian for the ward is effective without judicial approval, except under the following circumstances:

- (1) The guardian's decision is contrary to the ward's individual instructions and other wishes, expressed while the ward had capacity; or
- (2) The guardian seeks to withhold or withdraw life-sustaining treatment from the ward, against the advice of the ward's primary physician and in the absence of instructions from the ward, made while the ward had capacity.

§5-807. Obligations of health-care provider

(a) Before implementing a health-care decision made for a patient, a supervising health-care provider, if possible, shall promptly communicate to the patient the decision made and the identity of the person making the decision.

(b) A supervising health-care provider who knows of the existence of an advance health-care directive, a revocation of an advance health-care directive or a designation or disqualification of a surrogate shall promptly record its existence in the patient's health-care record and, if it is in writing, shall request a copy and if one is furnished shall arrange for its maintenance in the health-care record.

(c) A primary physician who makes or is informed of a determination that a patient lacks or has recovered capacity or that another condition exists that affects an individual instruction or the authority of an agent, guardian, or surrogate or the validity of an advance health-care directive shall promptly record the determination in the patient's health-care record and communicate the determination to the patient, if possible, and to any person then authorized to make health-care decisions for the patient.

(d) Except as provided in subsections (e) and (f), a health-care provider or institution providing care to a patient shall:

(1) Comply with an individual instruction of the patient and with a reasonable interpretation of that instruction made by a person then authorized to make health-care decisions for the patient; and

(2) Comply with a health-care decision for the patient made by a person then authorized to make health-care decisions for the patient to the same extent as if the decision had been made by the patient while having capacity.

(e) A health-care provider may decline to comply with an individual instruction or health-care decision if the instruction or decision appears not to be in compliance with this Act or for reasons of conscience. A health-care institution may decline to comply with an individual instruction or health-care decision if the instruction or decision appears not to be in compliance with this Act or if the instruction or decision is contrary to a policy of the institution that is expressly based on reasons of conscience and if the policy was timely communicated to the patient or to a person then authorized to make health-care decisions for the patient.

(f) A health-care provider or institution may decline to comply with an individual instruction or health-care decision that requires medically ineffective health care or health care contrary to generally accepted health-care standards applicable to the health-care provider or institution.

(g) A health-care provider or institution that declines to comply with an individual instruction or health-care decision shall:

(1) Promptly so inform the patient, if possible, and any person then authorized to make health-care decisions for the patient;

(2) Provide continuing care to the patient until a transfer can be effected or a court of competent jurisdiction issues a final order regarding the decision; and

(3) Unless the patient or person then authorized to make health-care decisions for the patient refuses assistance, immediately make all reasonable efforts to assist in the transfer of the patient to another health-care provider or institution that is willing to comply with the instruction or decision.

(h) A health-care provider or institution may not require or prohibit the execution or revocation of an advance health-care directive as a condition for providing health care.

§5-808. Health-care information

Unless otherwise specified in an advance health-care directive, a person then authorized to make health-care decisions for a patient has the same rights as the patient to request, receive, examine, copy and consent to the disclosure of medical or any other health-care information.

§5-809. Immunities

(a) A health-care provider or institution acting in good faith and in accordance with generally accepted health-care standards applicable to the health-care provider or institution is not subject to civil or criminal liability or to discipline for unprofessional conduct for:

(1) Complying with a health-care decision of a person apparently having authority and capacity to make a health-care decision for a patient, including a decision to withhold or withdraw health care;

(2) Declining to comply with a health-care decision of a person based on a belief that the person then lacked authority or capacity, or that the decision otherwise does not comply with this Act;

§5-811. Capacity

(a) This Part does not affect the right of an individual to make health-care decisions while having capacity to do so.

(b) An individual is presumed to have capacity to make a health-care decision, to give or revoke an advance health-care directive and to designate or disqualify a surrogate. This presumption may be rebutted by a determination by the individual's primary physician or by a court of competent jurisdiction.

§5-812. Effect of copy

A copy of a written advance health-care directive, revocation of an advance health-care directive or designation or disqualification of a surrogate has the same effect as the original.

(a) This Part does not create a presumption concerning the intention of an individual who has not made or who has revoked an advance health-care directive.

(b) Death resulting from the withholding or withdrawal of health care in accordance with this Part

An Act to Amend the Governmental Structure and Budget Approval Process for Cumberland County

Mandate preamble. This measure requires one or more local units of government to expand or modify activities so as to necessitate additional expenditures from local revenues but does not provide funding for at least 90% of those expenditures. Pursuant to the Constitution of Maine, Article IX, Section 21, two thirds of all of the members elected to each House have determined it necessary to enact this measure.

Emergency preamble. Whereas, Acts of the Legislature do not become effective until 90 days after adjournment unless enacted as emergencies; and

Whereas, the Cumberland County budget process is in urgent need of revision; and

Whereas, Cumberland County government has grown tremendously in recent years in terms of size, responsibility and cost and is currently in need of restructuring; and

Whereas, in the judgment of the Legislature, these facts create an emergency within the meaning of the Constitution of Maine and require the following legislation as immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety; now, therefore,

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine as follows:

Sec. 1. 30-A MRSA §82, sub-§4, ¶C is enacted to read:

5. Cumberland County manager required. Notwithstanding the other provisions of this section, no later than January 1, 1996, the county commissioners of Cumberland County shall hire a full-time county manager, who works under their direction to oversee the implementation of county policy and the day-to-day administration of county operations. Vacancies occurring on the budget advisory committee must be filled by the committee, subject to confirmation by a majority of the county commissioners. If a vacancy occurs with less than one year remaining in the term of office, the person selected by the committee serves for the balance of the unexpired term. If a vacancy of one year or more occurs, the person selected by the committee serves until the next municipal officers' caucus. At that time a replacement is selected to serve for the balance of the unexpired term. The person appointed to fill the vacant office must be a municipal officer in the same commissioner district as the person vacating the office.

2. Chair; terms; compensation; procedures. Administration of the budget advisory committee is as follows.

A. The budget advisory committee shall select its own chair, vice-chair and secretary each year.

B. Members serve for 3-year terms and may not serve more than 2 consecutive terms.

D. The committee shall adopt rules of procedure and bylaws each year. In a procedural situation not addressed by these rules and bylaws, Robert's Rules of Order prevail.

E. The county commissioners shall provide the budget advisory committee with necessary clerical assistance, office expenses and suitable meeting space as well as access to appropriate county files and information.

3. Meetings. The budget advisory committee shall conduct its meetings in public in accordance with this subsection and shall record its minutes and votes.

A. The county commissioners shall call an organizational meeting of the budget advisory committee each year within 2 weeks after caucus elections.

Sec. 6. 30 MRSA §§6209-A and 6209-B are enacted to read:

§6209-A. Jurisdiction of the Passamaquoddy Tribal Court

1. Exclusive jurisdiction over certain matters. Except as provided in subsections 3 and 4, the Passamaquoddy Tribe has the right to exercise exclusive jurisdiction, separate and distinct from the State, over:

A. Criminal offenses for which the maximum potential term of imprisonment is less than one year and the maximum potential fine does not exceed $5,000 and that are committed on the Indian reservation of the Passamaquoddy Tribe by a member of either the Passamaquoddy Tribe or the Penobscot Nation, except when committed against a person who is not a member of either the Passamaquoddy Tribe or the Penobscot Nation or against the property of a person who is not a member of either the Passamaquoddy Tribe or the Penobscot Nation;

B. Juvenile crimes against a person or property involving conduct that, if committed by an adult, would fall within the exclusive jurisdiction of the Passamaquoddy Tribe under paragraph A, and juvenile crimes, as defined in Title 15, section 3103, subsection 1, paragraphs B to D, committed by a juvenile member of either the Passamaquoddy Tribe or the Penobscot Nation on the reservation of the Passamaquoddy Tribe;

C. Civil actions between members of either the Passamaquoddy Tribe or the Penobscot Nation arising on the Indian reservation of the Passamaquoddy Tribe and cognizable as small claims under the laws of the State, and civil actions against a member of either the Passamaquoddy Tribe or the Penobscot Nation under Title 22, section 2383 involving conduct on the Indian reservation of the Passamaquoddy

Tribe by a member of either the Passamaquoddy Tribe or the Penobscot Nation;

D. Indian child custody proceedings to the extent authorized by applicable federal law; and

E. Other domestic relations matters, including marriage, divorce and support, between members of either the Passamaquoddy Tribe or the Penobscot Nation, both of whom reside within the Indian reservation of the Passamaquoddy Tribe.

The governing body of the Passamaquoddy Tribe shall decide whether to exercise or terminate the exercise of the exclusive jurisdiction authorized by this subsection. If the Passamaquoddy Tribe chooses not to exercise, or chooses to terminate its exercise of, jurisdiction over the criminal, juvenile, civil and domestic matters described in this subsection, the State has exclusive jurisdiction over those matters. Except as provided in paragraphs A and B, all laws of the State relating to criminal offenses and juvenile crimes apply within the Passamaquoddy Indian reservation and the State has exclusive jurisdiction over those offenses and crimes.

2. Definitions of crimes; tribal procedures. In exercising its exclusive jurisdiction under subsection 1, paragraphs A and B, the Passamaquoddy Tribe is deemed to be enforcing Passamaquoddy tribal law. The definitions of the criminal offenses and juvenile crimes and the punishments applicable to those criminal offenses and juvenile crimes over which the Passamaquoddy Tribe has exclusive jurisdiction under this section are governed by the laws of the State. Issuance and execution of criminal process are also governed by the laws of the State. The procedures for the establishment and operation of tribal forums created to effectuate the purposes of this section are governed by federal statute, including, without limitation, the provisions of 25 United States Code, Sections 1301 to 1303 and rules or regulations generally applicable to the exercise of criminal jurisdiction by Indian tribes on federal Indian reservations.

3. Lesser included offenses in state courts. In any criminal proceeding in the courts of the State in which a criminal offense under the exclusive jurisdiction of the Passamaquoddy Tribe constitutes a lesser included offense of the criminal offense charged, the defendant may be convicted in the courts of the State of the lesser included offense. A lesser included offense is as defined under the laws of the State.

4. Double jeopardy, collateral estoppel. A prosecution for a criminal offense or juvenile crime over which the Passamaquoddy Tribe has exclusive jurisdiction under this section does not bar a prosecution for a criminal offense or juvenile crime, arising out of the same conduct, over which the State has exclusive jurisdiction. A prosecution for a criminal offense or juvenile crime over which the State has exclusive jurisdiction does not bar a prosecution for a criminal offense or juvenile crime, arising out of the same conduct, over which the Passamaquoddy Tribe has exclusive jurisdiction under this section. The determination of an issue of fact in a criminal or juvenile proceeding conducted in a Passamaquoddy tribal forum does not constitute collateral estoppel in a criminal or juvenile proceeding conducted in a state court. The determination of an issue of fact in a criminal or juvenile proceeding conducted in a state court does not constitute collateral estoppel in a criminal or juvenile proceeding conducted in a Passamaquoddy tribal forum.

5. Future Indian communities. Any 25 or more adult members of the Passamaquoddy Tribe residing within their Indian territory and in reasonable proximity to each other may petition the commission for designation as an extended reservation. If the commission determines, after investigation, that the petitioning Passamaquoddy tribal members constitute an extended reservation, the commission shall establish the boundaries of the extended reservation and recommend to the Legislature that, subject to the approval of the governing body of the Passamaquoddy Tribe, it amend this Act to extend the jurisdiction of the Passamaquoddy Tribe to the extended reservation. The boundaries of an extended reservation may not exceed those reasonably necessary to encompass the petitioning Passamaquoddy tribal members.

§6209-B. Jurisdiction of the Penobscot Nation Tribal Court

1. Exclusive jurisdiction over certain matters. Except as provided in subsections 3 and 4, the Penobscot Nation has the right to exercise exclusive jurisdiction, separate and distinct from the State, over:

A. Criminal offenses for which the maximum potential term of imprisonment does not exceed one year and the maximum potential fine does not exceed $5,000 and that are committed on the Indian reservation of the Penobscot Nation by a member of any federally recognized Indian tribe, nation, band or other group against another member of any federally recognized Indian tribe, nation, band or other group or against the property of another member of any federally recognized Indian tribe, nation, band or other group;

B. Juvenile crimes against a person or property involving conduct that, if committed by an adult, would fall within the exclusive jurisdiction of the Penobscot Nation under paragraph A, and juvenile crimes, as defined in Title 15, section 3103, subsection 1, paragraphs B to D, committed by a juvenile member of either the Passamaquoddy Tribe or the Penobscot Nation on the Indian reservation of the Penobscot Nation;

C. Civil actions between members of either the Passamaquoddy Tribe or the Penobscot Nation arising on the Indian reservation of the Penobscot Nation and cognizable as small claims under the laws of the State, and civil actions against a member of either the Passamaquoddy Tribe or the Penobscot Nation under Title 22, section 2383 involving conduct on the Indian reservation of the Penobscot Nation by a member of either the Passamaquoddy Tribe or the Penobscot Nation;

D. Indian child custody proceedings to the extent authorized by applicable federal law; and

E. Other domestic relations matters, including marriage, divorce and support, between members of either the Passamaquoddy Tribe or the Penobscot Nation, both of whom reside on the Indian reservation of the Penobscot Nation.

The governing body of the Penobscot Nation shall decide whether to exercise or terminate the exercise of the exclusive jurisdiction authorized by this subsection. If the Penobscot Nation chooses not to exercise, or chooses to terminate its exercise of, jurisdiction over the criminal, juvenile, civil and domestic matters described in this subsection, the State has exclusive jurisdiction over those matters. Except as provided in paragraphs A and B, all laws of the State relating to criminal offenses and juvenile crimes apply within the Penobscot Indian reservation and the State has exclusive jurisdiction over those offenses and crimes.

2. Definitions of crimes; tribal procedures. In exercising its exclusive jurisdiction under subsection 1, paragraphs A and B, the Penobscot Nation is deemed to be enforcing Penobscot tribal law. The definitions of the criminal offenses and juvenile crimes and the punishments applicable to those criminal offenses and juvenile crimes over which the Penobscot Nation has exclusive jurisdiction under this section are governed by the laws of the State. Issuance and execution of criminal process are also governed by the laws of the State. The procedures for the establishment and operation of tribal forums created to effectuate the purposes of this section are governed by federal statute, including, without limitation, the provisions of 25 United States Code, Sections 1301 to 1303 and rules or regulations generally applicable to the exercise of criminal jurisdiction by Indian tribes on federal Indian reservations.

3. Lesser included offenses in state courts. In any criminal proceeding in the courts of the State in which a criminal offense under the exclusive jurisdiction of the Penobscot Nation constitutes a lesser

4. Double jeopardy, collateral estoppel. A prosecution for a criminal offense or juvenile crime over which the Penobscot Nation has exclusive jurisdiction under this section does not bar a prosecution for a criminal offense or juvenile crime, arising out of the same conduct, over which the State has exclusive jurisdiction. A prosecution for a criminal offense or juvenile crime over which the State has exclusive jurisdiction does not bar a prosecution for a criminal offense or juvenile crime, arising out of the same conduct, over which the Penobscot Nation has exclusive jurisdiction under this section. The determination of an issue of fact in a criminal or juvenile proceeding conducted in a tribal forum does not constitute collateral estoppel in a criminal or juvenile proceeding conducted in a state court. The determination of an issue of fact in a criminal or juvenile proceeding conducted in a state court does not constitute collateral estoppel in a criminal or juvenile proceeding conducted in a tribal forum.

5. Future Indian communities. Any 25 or more adult members of the Penobscot Nation residing within their Indian territory and in reasonable proximity to each other may petition the commission for designation as an extended reservation. If the commission determines, after investigation, that the petitioning tribal members constitute an extended reservation, the commission shall establish the boundaries of the extended reservation and recommend to the Legislature that, subject to the approval of the governing body of the Penobscot Nation, it amend this Act to extend the jurisdiction of the Penobscot Nation to the extended reservation. The boundaries of an extended reservation may not exceed those reasonably necessary to encompass the petitioning tribal members.

Sec. 7. 30 MRSA §6210, as amended by PL 1983, c. 498, §1, is further amended to read:

The board consists of 8 members who serve for 3-year terms, except that of the initial appointees 3 of the members serve a 3-year term, 2 of the members serve a 2-year term and 2 of the members serve a one-year term. With the exception of the member representing fire chiefs and the public member, all members must have at least 10 consecutive years of active experience in the propane or the natural gas industry immediately preceding appointment. Industry members must hold a valid license at the time of appointment, except that the initial industry member appointees must be licensed on or before July 1, 1997. The Governor shall appoint all industry and public members. The propane and natural gas industries in this State may make recommendations to the Governor concerning these appointments. Membership is as follows:

A. Reasonable standards regarding education or its equivalent and experience requirements for applicants for licensure; and

B. Reasonable standards for license renewal.

The board shall establish by rule technical standards for the proper installation and servicing of propane and natural gas equipment. These standards must be in accordance with the National Fire Protection Association Standards, Numbers 54 and 58 and any updates of those standards. The board may adopt by rule other standards it finds necessary.

2. Meetings. The board shall hold meetings at least twice each year. Additional meetings may be held as necessary to conduct the business of the board and may be convened at the call of the chair or 4 members of the board. A quorum of the board is 4 members. The board shall keep minutes that clearly reflect all acts and decisions made by the board, which must be available to the public upon request.

3. Licenses. The board shall evaluate the qualifications of applicants for licensure under this chapter.

4. Hearings. Hearings may be conducted by the board to assist with investigations to determine whether grounds exist for suspension or denial of a license or as otherwise necessary to the fulfillment of its responsibilities under this chapter.

The board may not refuse to renew a license for any reason other than failure to pay a required fee unless it has afforded the licensee an opportunity for an adjudicatory hearing. The board shall hold an adjudicatory hearing at the written request of any person who is denied a license without a hearing for any reason other than failure to pay a required fee, provided that the request for hearing is received by the board within 30 days of the applicant's receipt of written notice of the license denial, the reason for the denial and the applicant's right to request a hearing. Hearings must be conducted in conformity with the Maine Administrative Procedure Act to the extent applicable. The board may subpoena witnesses, records and documents in any hearing it conducts.

5. Contracts. The board may enter into contracts to carry out its statutory responsibilities.

6. Budgets. The board shall submit to the commissioner its budgetary requirements.

7. Personnel. The commissioner shall appoint any employees necessary to carry out this Act. Any person so employed is an employee of the department and under the administrative and supervisory direction of the commissioner.

§14805. Installations to conform to standards; authority of state propane and natural gas inspectors

1. Compliance with rules required. Installation of propane or natural gas equipment may not be made in the State unless it complies with all the standards and rules adopted by the board.

2. Inspection. State propane and natural gas inspectors, upon written complaint or whenever they consider it necessary for purposes of examination, may enter into and upon and inspect all buildings and premises within their jurisdiction at all reasonable hours. They may enter a building only with the permission of the person having control of the building or, after hearing, upon order of court. If an inspector finds any propane or natural gas installation that does not comply with this Act, the inspector shall order that the installation be removed or remedied, and that order must be complied with immediately by the owner or occupant of the premises or building or by the installer of the propane or natural gas equipment in violation. If the inspector finds any propane or natural gas installation in any building or structure that creates a danger to other property or to the public, the inspector may forbid the use of the building or structure by serving a written order upon the owner and the occupant, if any, to vacate within a reasonable period of time to be stated in the order.

3. Order to correct deficiency; appeal. Any person ordered by a state propane and natural gas inspector to correct a deficiency or to vacate a building or structure may appeal the order by filing with the board within 48 hours of receipt of the order a written notice of appeal. The board shall review that appeal and issue its written decision within 10 days after receipt of the notice of appeal. If the board upholds the inspector's order, it shall prescribe the time period for the requisite correction specified in its written decision or the time within which that person must vacate the building or structure. The decision must be complied with, unless appealed as provided. Any person ordered by the board to correct a deficiency or to vacate a building or structure may appeal the order to the Superior Court in accordance with the Maine Administrative Procedure Act by filing a petition for review within 48 hours of receipt of the order. The court shall issue its written decision within 20 days after receipt of the petition for review.

4. Final orders. The decision of the Superior Court on an appeal as provided is final. An order by a state propane and natural gas inspector and an order by the board are final and subject to no further appeal upon failure to file a timely, written appeal as provided.

5. Injunction to enforce order. Upon the failure of any person to carry out a final order as provided, the board may petition the Superior Court for the county in which the building or premises are located for an injunction to enforce that order. If the court determines, upon hearing such a petition, that a lawful final order was issued, it shall order compliance.

6. Powers of propane and natural gas inspectors. Propane and natural gas inspectors have powers throughout the several counties of the State, similar to those of sheriffs in their respective counties, relating to enforcement of this Act and rules adopted under this Act. These powers are limited to the issuing of citations, the serving of summonses, the conducting of investigations and the ordering of corrections of violations of this Act by licensees in accordance with the specific statutory authority set forth in this Act.

§14806. Investigation of complaints; suspension or revocation of licenses

The board shall investigate all complaints made to it and all cases of noncompliance with or violation of this Act. The board may suspend or revoke a license issued under this Act pursuant to Title 5, section 10004. The board may refuse to issue or renew a license or the Administrative Court may suspend, revoke or refuse to renew the license of any licensee who is found guilty of:

3. Conviction of a crime. Subject to the limitations of Title 5, chapter 341, conviction of a crime, other than minor traffic violations, if the acts for which the person was convicted are found by the board to have a direct bearing on whether the person may be entrusted to serve the public in a capacity that is subject to license or registration under this Act; or

4. Violations. Violating any provision of this Act or any rule of the board.

A license suspended by the board or suspended or revoked by the Administrative Court must be immediately surrendered to the board and held during any period of suspension or, if revoked, until reinstated as provided in this Act.

A person whose license is suspended or revoked for more than 90 days must establish that all requirements governing new applicants under this Act are met as a condition of reinstatement or return of the license, except that the board, in its discretion and giving due consideration to the protection of the public, may waive examination if the period of suspension is less than 2 years or, in the case of the revocation of a license, the applicant is both eligible and has made application for reinstatement of the license within 2 years of the effective date of that revocation.

§14807. Licensure; requirements; persons

1. Establish license. The board shall establish one license with endorsements described in this section that conform to the education and certification requirements of the National Propane Gas Association's certified employee training program or other propane or natural gas programs approved by the board, as follows:

A person may not perform the functions governed by this Act after July 1, 1997 without first being licensed by the board, except that plant operators and delivery technicians must be licensed within one year of first performing those functions. In order to qualify for the one-year provision, the delivery technician or plant operator must register with the board within 90 days after first performing that function.

5. Examination; qualification. Notwithstanding any requirement set by the board as a qualification to sit for a license examination, a person working as a technician in the propane or the natural gas industry before January 1, 1996 is deemed qualified to sit for a license examination.

The following registration, licensing, maintenance and installation standards apply to dispensing stations operating in the State.

The training for the limited license must include a manual prepared by a regional propane gas association, a video prepared by a national propane gas association or equivalent materials approved by the board. The training documentation must be kept at the station. The on-site owner or operator of the dispensing station is responsible for compliance and is subject to section 14809.

§14809. Equipment installation identification

Sec. 13. 5 MRSA §4572, sub-§2 is enacted to read:

2. Unlawful discrimination against qualified individual with a disability. A covered entity may not discriminate against a qualified individual with a disability because of the disability of the individual in regard to job application procedures, the hiring, advancement or discharge of employees, employee compensation, job training and other terms, conditions and privileges of employment. A qualified individual with a disability, by reason of that disability, may not be excluded from participation in or be denied the benefits of the services, programs or activities of a public covered entity, or be subjected to discrimination by any such covered entity relating to job application procedures, the hiring, advancement or discharge of employees, employee compensation, job training and other terms, conditions and privileges of employment.

A. The prohibition of this subsection against discrimination includes medical examinations and inquiries.

B. Except as provided in paragraph C, a covered entity may not conduct a medical examination or make inquiries of a job applicant as to whether the applicant is an individual with a disability or as to the nature or severity of the disability. A covered entity may make preemployment inquiries into the ability of an applicant to perform job-related functions.

C. A covered entity may require a medical examination after an offer of employment has been made to a job applicant and prior to the commencement of the employment duties of the applicant and may condition an offer of employment on the results of the examination, if:

(1) All entering employees are subjected to the same examination regardless of disability;

(2) Information obtained regarding the medical condition or history of the applicant is collected and maintained on separate forms and in separate medical files and is treated as a confidential medical record, except that:

(a) Supervisors and managers may be informed regarding necessary restrictions on the work or duties of the employee and necessary accommodations;

(b) First aid and safety personnel may be informed, when appropriate, if the disability might require emergency treatment; and

(c) Government officials investigating compliance with this Act are provided relevant information on request; and

(3) The results of the examination are used only in accordance with this Act.

D. A covered entity may not require a medical examination and may not make inquiries of an employee as to whether the employee is an individual with a disability or as to the nature or severity of the disability, unless the examination or inquiry is shown to be job-related and consistent with business necessity.

E. A covered entity may conduct voluntary medical examinations, including voluntary medical histories, that are part of an employee health program available to employees at that work site. A covered entity may make inquiries into the ability of an employee to perform job-related functions. Information obtained under this paragraph regarding the medical condition or history of an employee is subject to the requirements of paragraph C, subparagraphs (2) and (3).

F. For purposes of this subsection, a test to determine the illegal use of drugs may not be considered a medical examination.

(1) A covered entity:

(a) May prohibit the illegal use of drugs and the use of alcohol at the workplace by all employees;

(b) May require that employees may not be under the influence of alcohol or be engaging in the illegal use of drugs at the workplace;

(c) May require that employees behave in conformance with the requirements established under the federal Drug-free Workplace Act of 1988, 41 United States Code, Section 701 et seq.; and

(d) May hold an employee who engages in the illegal use of drugs or who is an alcoholic to the same qualification standards for employment or job performance and behavior to which that entity holds other employees, even if any unsatisfactory performance or behavior is related to the drug use or alcoholism of the employee; provided that an employer shall make reasonable accommodation to an alcoholic or drug user who is seeking treatment or has successfully completed treatment.

Sec. 14. 5 MRSA §4572-A, sub-§4, as enacted by PL 1979, c. 79, is amended to read:

4. Employer not responsible for additional benefits. Nothing in this section ~~shall~~ may be construed to mean that an employer, employment agency or labor organization is required to provide sick leave, a leave of absence, medical benefits or other benefits to a woman because of pregnancy or other medical conditions ~~which~~ that result from pregnancy, if ~~this~~ the employer, employment agency or labor organization does not also provide sick leaves, leaves of absence, medical benefits or other benefits for ~~his~~ the employer's other employees and is not otherwise required to provide those leaves or benefits under other state or federal laws.

Sec. 15. 5 MRSA §4573, sub-§1-A, ¶B, as amended by PL 1991, c. 99, §8, is further amended to read:

B. Observe the terms of any bona fide employee benefit plan such as a retirement, pension or insurance plan ~~which that~~ does not evade or circumvent the purposes of this chapter and ~~which that~~ complies with the Federal Age Discrimination in Employment Act, 29 United States Code, Section 621, as amended and the federal Americans with Disabilities Act, 42 United States Code, Section 12101, et seq., and federal administrative interpretations provided that:

(1) No employee benefit plan requires or permits any employer to refuse or fail to hire an applicant for employment, including those exempted from the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, 29 United States Code, Section 621, as amended, because of the age of the individual; and

(2) No employee benefit plan requires or permits the denial or termination of employment of any individual including those exempted from the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, 29 United States Code, Section 621, as amended, because of the age of the individual or after completion of a specified number of years of service.

Sec. 16. 5 MRSA §4573, sub-§2, as amended by PL 1991, c. 99, §9, is further amended to read:

2. Records. After employment or admission to membership, to make a record of such features of an individual as are needed in good faith for the purpose of identifying them, provided the record is intended and used in good faith solely for identification, and not for the purpose of discrimination in violation of this Act. Records of features regarding physical or mental disability that are collected must be collected and maintained on separate forms and in separate files and be treated as confidential records;

Sec. 17. 5 MRSA §4573, sub-§3, as amended by PL 1991, c. 99, §10, is further amended to read:

3. Required records. To record any data required by law, or by the rules and regulations of any state or federal agency, provided the records are recorded and kept in good faith for the purpose of complying with law, and are not used for the purpose of discrimination in violation of this Act; ~~and~~

Sec. 18. 5 MRSA §4573, sub-§4, as amended by PL 1991, c. 484, §3, is repealed.

Sec. 19. 5 MRSA §4573, sub-§5, as enacted by PL 1991, c. 484, §4, is amended to read:

5. Federal Indian policy. Nothing in this Act may be construed to prohibit any employment policy or action that is permitted under 42 United States Code, Section 2000e-2(i) (1982) of the federal Equal Employment Opportunity Act governing employment of Indians; and

Sec. 20. 5 MRSA §4573, sub-§6 is enacted to read:

6. Infectious and communicable diseases. Assignment of individuals with an infectious or communicable disease is governed by the following.

A. In any case in which an individual has an infectious or communicable disease that is transmitted to others through the handling of food, that is included on the list developed by the United States Secretary of Health and Human Services under the federal Americans with Disabilities Act, Title I, Section 103(d)(1), and which can not be eliminated by reasonable accommodation, a covered entity may refuse to assign or continue to assign the individual a job involving food handling.

B. Nothing in this Act may be construed to preempt, modify or amend any state, county or local law, ordinance, rule or regulation applicable to food handling that is designed to protect the public health from individuals who pose a significant risk to the health or safety of others, which can not be eliminated by reasonable accommodation, pursuant to the list of infectious or communicable diseases and the modes of transmissibility published by the United States Secretary of Health and Human Services.

Sec. 21. 5 MRSA §4573-A is enacted to read:

§4573-A. Defenses

1. General provisions. It is a defense to a charge of discrimination under this subchapter that an alleged application of qualification standards, tests or selection criteria that screen out or tend to screen out or otherwise deny a job or benefit to an individual with a disability has been shown to be job-related and consistent with business necessity, and such performance can not be accomplished by reasonable accommodation, as required by this subchapter.

2. Religious entities. This subchapter does not prohibit a religious corporation, association, educational institution or society from giving preference in employment to individuals of its same religion to perform work connected with the carrying on by the corporation, association, educational institution or society of its activities. Under this subchapter, a religious organization may require that all applicants and employees conform to the religious tenets of that organization.

Sec. 22. 5 MRSA §4592, sub-§§1 and 2, as amended by PL 1991, c. 99, §22, are further amended to read:

1. Denial of public accommodations. For any public accommodation or any person who is the owner, lessor, lessee, proprietor, operator, manager, superintendent, agent or employee of any place of public accommodation to directly or indirectly refuse, discriminate against or in any manner withhold from or deny the full and equal enjoyment to any person, on account of race or color, sex, physical or mental disability, religion, ancestry or national origin, any of the accommodations, advantages, facilities, goods, services or privileges of public accommodation, or in any manner discriminate against any person in the price, terms or conditions upon which access to accommodation, advantages, facilities, goods, services and privileges may depend;

For purposes of this subsection, unlawful discrimination also includes, but is not limited to:

A. The imposition or application of eligibility criteria that screen out or tend to screen out an individual with a disability or any class of individuals with disabilities from fully and equally enjoying any goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages or accommodations, unless the criteria can be shown to be necessary for the provision of the goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages or accommodations being offered;

B. A failure to make reasonable modifications in policies, practices or procedures, when modifications are necessary to afford the goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages or accommodations to individuals with disabilities, unless, in the case of a private entity, the private entity can demonstrate that making the modifications would fundamentally alter the nature of the goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages or accommodations;

C. A failure to take steps that may be necessary to ensure that no individual with a disability is excluded, denied services, segregated or otherwise treated differently than other individuals because of the absence of auxiliary aids and services, unless, in the case of a private entity, the private entity can demonstrate that taking those steps would fundamentally alter the nature of the good, service, facility, privilege, advantage or accommodation being offered or would result in an undue burden;

D. A private entity's failure to remove architectural barriers and communication barriers that are structural in nature in existing facilities and transportation barriers in existing vehicles and rail passenger cars used by an establishment for transporting individuals, not including barriers that can be removed only through the retrofitting of vehicles or rail passenger cars by the installation of a hydraulic or other lift, where the removal is readily achievable;

When the entity can demonstrate that the removal of a barrier under this paragraph is not readily achievable, a failure to make the goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages or accommodations available through alternative methods if alternative methods are readily achievable; and

E. A qualified individual with a disability, by reason of that disability, being excluded from participation in or being denied the benefits of the services, programs or activities of a public entity, or being subjected to discrimination by any such entity;

2. Communication, notice or advertisement.

For any person to directly or indirectly publish, display or communicate any notice or advertisement to the effect that any of the accommodations, advantages, facilities and privileges of any place of public accommodation are refused, withheld from or denied to any person on account of race or color, sex, physical or mental disability, religion, ancestry or national origin, or that the patronage or custom of any person belonging to or purporting to be of any particular race or color, sex, physical or mental disability, religion, ancestry or national origin is unwelcome, objectionable or not acceptable, desired or solicited, or that the clientele is restricted to any particular race or color, physical or mental disability, religion, ancestry or national origin. The production of any communication, notice or advertisement purporting to relate to any place of accommodation is presumptive evidence in any action that the action was authorized by its owner, manager or proprietor; ~~and~~

Sec. 23. 5 MRSA §4592, sub-§3, ¶¶B and C, as enacted by PL 1989, c. 301, are amended to read:

B. That contains no more than 8 5 rooms available to be let to lodgers; and

C. In which the owner resides on the premises;

Sec. 24. 5 MRSA §4592, sub-§§4 to 7 are enacted to read:

4. Participation. For a covered entity:

A. To subject an individual or a class of individuals, on the basis of a disability or disabilities of the individual or class, directly or through contractual, licensing or other arrangements, to a denial of the opportunity of the individual or class to participate in or benefit from the goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages or accommodations of that entity;

B. To afford an individual or a class of individuals, on the basis of a disability or disabilities of the individual or class, directly or through contractual, licensing or other arrangements, with the opportunity to participate in or benefit from a good, service, facility, privilege, advantage or accommodation in a manner that is not equal to that afforded to other individuals; and

C. To provide an individual or a class of individuals, on the basis of a disability or disabilities of the individual or class, directly or through contractual, licensing or other arrangements, with a good, service, facility, privilege, advantage or accommodation that is different or separate from that provided to other individuals, unless this action is necessary to provide the individual or class of individuals with a good, service, facility, privilege, advantage or accommodation or other opportunity that is as effective as that provided to others.

For purposes of this subsection, the term "individual" or "class of individuals" refers to the clients or customers of the covered public accommodation that enters into a contractual, licensing or other arrangement;

5. Integrated setting; programs or activities not separate or different. For a covered entity to not afford goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages and accommodations to an individual with a disability in the most integrated setting appropriate to the needs of the individual.

Notwithstanding the existence of separate or different programs or activities provided in accordance with this section, an individual with a disability may not be denied the opportunity to participate in programs or activities that are not separate or different;

6. Association. For a covered entity to exclude or otherwise deny equal goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages, accommodations or other opportunities to an individual or entity because of the known disability of an individual with whom the individual or entity is known to have a relationship or association; and

7. Administrative methods. For an individual or an entity, directly or through contractual or other arrangements, to utilize standards or criteria or methods of administration:

A. That have the effect of discrimination on the basis of disability; or

B. That perpetuate the discrimination of others who are subject to common administrative control.

Sec. 25. 5 MRSA §4593, sub-§§1 and 2, as amended by PL 1991, c. 99, §23, are further amended to read:

1. Public accommodations. ~~Nothing in section 4591 or 4592 related to equal access to public accommodations or indirectly denying access to persons with physical disability applies to existing structures, structures under construction or proposed construction submitted for bid before September 1, 1974.~~ For any building or facility constructed specifically as a place of public accommodation on or after September 1, 1974, but before January 1, 1982, or when the estimated total costs for remodeling or enlarging an existing building ~~exceeds~~ exceed $250,000 and the remodeling or enlarging is begun before January 1, 1982, the following standards of construction must be met.

A. There must be at least one public walk not less than 40 inches wide with a slope not greater than one foot rise in 12 feet leading directly to a primary entrance. However, after April 1, 1977, the public walk must be not less than 48 inches wide.

B. There must be a door at the primary entrance with a clear opening of not less than 32 inches and operable by a single effort. If doors at a primary entrance are in a series, they must have a space between them of not less than 84 inches measured from their closed positions; and each must open in the same direction so that swings do not conflict.

C. Rest room facilities must have at least one stall that is not less than 4 feet wide, 5 feet in depth, a 32-inch wide door that swings out or slides, handrails on each side mounted 33 inches from the floor, and a water closet with a seat 20 inches high.

D. Doors that are not intended for normal use, and that are dangerous if a blind person were to enter or exit by them, must be made identifiable to touch by knurling the handle or knob.

E. There must be parking spaces designated for persons with physical disability set aside in adequate number and clearly marked for use only by the disabled. Set aside in adequate number means that, for every 25 parking spaces made available to the public on a public or private parking lot, at least one of those spaces must be made available in an appropriate location for parking exclusively used by persons with physical disability.

In any building designed and constructed specifically for public accommodations, the bathroom facilities and all accompanying fixtures must be arranged to permit access and use by a person in a wheelchair in at least 1% of the living units. The units must be constructed on ground level and must comply with paragraph C.

2. Places of employment. ~~Existing places of employment or structures to be used for this purpose currently under construction or where proposed construction has been submitted for bid before September 1, 1974, are exempt from the requirements of this chapter as they relate to accessibility for persons with physical disability.~~ For any building or facility constructed specifically as a place of employment on or after September 1, 1974, but before January 1, 1982, or when the estimated total costs for remodeling or enlarging an existing building exceeds $100,000, and the remodeling or enlarging is begun before January 1, 1982, the public accommodation provisions relating to walks, entries, restroom facilities and doors apply.

Sec. 26. 5 MRSA §4594-E, as corrected by RR 1993, c. 2, §4, is repealed.

Sec. 27. 5 MRSA §4594-F is enacted to read:

§4594-F. Access to places of public accommodation and commercial facilities; standards

1. Definitions. As used in this section, unless the context otherwise indicates, the following terms have the following meanings.

A. "Alteration" means a change to a place of public accommodation or a commercial facility that affects or could affect the usability of the building or facility or any part of the building or facility, including, but not limited to, reconstruction, remodeling, rehabilitation, historic restoration, changes or rearrangement in structural parts or elements and changes or rearrangement in the plan configuration of walls and full-height partitions.

B. "Builder" means the applicant for a building permit in a municipality that requires such permits or the owner of a property in a municipality that does not require building permits.

C. "Design professional" means an architect or professional engineer registered to practice under Title 32.

D. "Facility" means all or any portion of buildings, structures, sites, complexes, equipment, rolling stock or other conveyances, roads, walks, passageways, parking lots or other real or personal property, including the site where the building, property, structure or equipment is located.

E. "Historic preservation programs" means programs conducted by a public or private entity that have preservation of historic properties as a primary purpose.

F. "Historic properties" means those properties that are listed or eligible for listing in the National Register of Historic Places or the State of Maine Register of Historic Places.

G. "Maximum extent feasible" applies to the occasional case when the nature of an existing facility makes it virtually impossible to comply fully with applicable accessibility standards through a planned alteration. In these circumstances, the alteration must provide the maximum physical accessibility feasible. Any altered features of the facility that can be made accessible must be made accessible. If providing accessibility in conformance with this section to individuals with certain disabilities would not be feasible, the facility must be made accessible to persons with other types of disabilities.

H. "New construction" includes, but is not limited to, the design and construction of facilities for first occupancy after January 1, 1996 or an alteration affecting at least 80% of the space of the internal structure of facilities after January 1, 1996.

I. "Readily achievable" means easily accomplishable and able to be carried out without much difficulty or expense. In determining whether an action is readily achievable, factors to be considered include:

(1) The nature and cost of the action needed under this subchapter;

(2) The overall financial resources of the facility or facilities involved in the action, the number of persons employed at the facility, the effect on expenses and resources or other impacts of the action on the operation of the facility;

(3) The overall financial resources of the covered entity, the overall size of the business of a covered entity with respect to the number of its employees and the number, type and location of its facilities; and

(4) The type of operation or operations of the covered entity, including the composition, structure and functions of the entity's work force, the geographic separateness and administrative or fiscal relationship of the facility or facilities in question to the covered entity.

J. "Standards of construction" means the standards set forth in the federal Americans with Disabilities Act Accessibility Guidelines, "ADAAG," standards. The ADAAG standards of construction replace ANSI standards and provide the architectural standards of construction.

2. Facilities attested. This section applies to any building or facility constructed specifically as a place of public accommodation or place of employment on or after January 1, 1996 or to any alterations of an existing place of public accommodation or place of employment when the alteration is begun after January 1, 1996.

3. Application. Facilities subject to this section must meet the following standards.

A. Places of employment or public accommodation and additions to those places constructed on or after January 1, 1996, must meet the standards of construction, including, but not limited to, the 5 parts of construction in paragraph B, subparagraph (2).

B. Alterations are governed by the following.

(1) Any alteration to a place of public accommodation, commercial facility or place of employment on or after January 1, 1996 must be made so as to ensure that, to the maximum extent feasible, the altered portions of the facility are readily accessible to and usable by individuals with disabilities, including individuals who use wheelchairs. If existing elements, spaces or common areas are altered, then each altered element, space or area must comply with the applicable provisions of the standards of construction.

(2) This subparagraph applies to only buildings remodeled or renovated or to any alterations if the estimated total costs for remodeling or renovating or for alterations to an existing building exceed $100,000.

(a) Except for repairs undertaken in accordance with the rules adopted pursuant to subsection 4, when the proposed alteration substantially affects that portion of the building normally accessible to the public, a place of employment or public accommodation altered on or after January 1, 1996 must meet the following 5 parts of the standards of construction or as otherwise indicated:

(i) 4.3 accessible routes;

(ii) 4.13 doors;

(iii) Tactile warnings on doors to hazardous areas. Doors that lead to areas that might prove dangerous to a blind person, for example, doors to loading platforms, boiler rooms, stages and the like, must be made identifiable to the touch by a textured surface on the door handle, knob, pull or other operating hardware. This textured surface may be made by knurling or roughening or by a material applied to the contact surface. Textured surfaces may not be provided for emergency exit doors or any doors other than those to hazardous areas;

(iv) Parking spaces for use by persons with physical disabilities pursuant to 4.1.2 of the standards of construction; and

(v) 4.17 toilet stalls, at least one of which must be a standard toilet stall configuration pursuant to ADAAG figure 30(a). Any additional toilet stalls within the same toilet room may be either standard stall configuration, ADAAG figure 30(a) or alternate stall configuration ADAAG figure 30(b).

(b) In addition to the 5 parts of the standards of construction specified in division (a), each of which must be met regardless of the cost of the 5 parts of the standards, when the entity is undertaking an alteration that affects or could affect usability of or access to an area of the facility containing a primary function, the entity shall also make the alterations in such a manner that, to the maximum extent feasible, the path of travel to the altered area and the bathrooms, telephones and drinking fountains serving the altered area are readily accessible to and usable by individuals with disabilities where such alterations to the path of travel or the bathrooms, telephones and drinking fountains serving the altered area to the extent that the costs to provide an accessible path of travel do not exceed 20% of the cost of the alteration to the primary function area.

If the cost to provide an accessible path of travel to the altered area exceeds 20% of the costs of the alteration to the primary function area, the path of travel must be made accessible to the extent that it can be made accessible without incurring disproportionate costs.

In determining whether the 20% cost figure has been met, the following analysis must be used. The analysis must include an evaluation of whether the following elements of access have been provided, using the following order of priority, before costing 20%, regardless of other elements of access that may have been provided which may affect the path of travel:

- (i) An accessible entrance;
- (ii) An accessible route to the altered area;
- (iii) At least one accessible restroom for each sex or a single unisex restroom;
- (iv) Accessible telephones;
- (v) Accessible drinking fountains; and
- (vi) When possible, additional accessible elements such as parking, storage and alarms.

The obligation to provide an accessible path of travel may not be evaded by performing a series of small alterations to the area served by a single path of travel if those alterations could have been performed as a single undertaking.

(3) This subparagraph applies to only buildings remodeled or renovated or to any alterations if the estimated total costs for remodeling or renovating or for alterations to an existing building do not exceed $100,000. When the entity is undertaking an alteration that affects or could affect usability or access to an area of the facility containing a primary function, the entity shall make the alterations in a manner that, to the maximum extent feasible, the path of travel to the altered area and the bathrooms, telephones and drinking fountains serving the altered area are readily accessible to and usable by individuals with disabilities, where the alterations to the path of travel or the bathrooms, telephones and drinking fountains serving the altered area are not disproportionate to the overall alterations in terms of cost and scope.

C. This subsection may not be construed to require the installation of an elevator for a facility that is less than 3 stories in height or has less than 3,000 square feet per story unless the facility is a shopping center, a shopping mall, the professional office of a health care provider, a terminal, depot or other station used for specified public transportation or an airport passenger terminal or a facility covered by Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act or unless the United States Attorney General determines that a particular category of facility requires the installation of elevators based on the usage of the facility.

4. Curb ramps. Curb ramps or other slopes are required in the following situations.

A. Newly constructed or altered streets, roads and highways must contain curb ramps or other sloped areas at any intersection having curbs or other barriers to entry from a street-level pedestrian walkway.

B. Newly constructed or altered street-level pedestrian walkways must contain curb ramps or other sloped areas at intersections to streets, roads or highways.

5. Rules. The commission shall adopt, alter and amend rules designed to make facilities under this section accessible to, functional for and safe for use by persons with physical or mental disabilities in accordance with subsections 3 and 4 and shall adopt, alter and amend rules designed to enforce this section. The commission may repeal only those rules contrary to this chapter. The commission shall also adopt rules concerning procedures and requirements for alterations that will threaten or destroy the historic significance of qualified historic buildings and facilities as defined in 4.1.7(1) and (2) of the Uniform Federal Accessibility Standards, maintaining, at a minimum, the procedures and requirements established in 4.1.7(1) and (2) of the Uniform Federal Accessibility Standards.

6. Certification; inspection. The builder of a facility to which this section applies must obtain a certification from a design professional that the plans meet the standards of construction required by this section if the costs of the construction or alterations are at least $50,000. The builder shall provide the certification to the Office of the State Fire Marshal with the plans of the facility. The builder shall also provide the certification to the municipality where the facility exists or will be built.

7. Training, education and assistance. The commission and the Office of the State Fire Marshal, with input from organizations representing individuals with disabilities, shall develop, as necessary, information packets, lectures, seminars and educational forums on barrier-free design for the purpose of increasing the awareness and knowledge of owners, architects, design professionals, code enforcers, building contractors, individuals with disabilities and other interested parties.

8. Mandatory plan review; certification; inspection. Builders of newly constructed public buildings shall submit plans to the Office of the State Fire Marshal to ensure that the plans meet the standards of construction required by subsections 3 and 4.

A. For purposes of this subsection, "public building" means any building or structure constructed, operated or maintained for use by the general public, including, but not limited to, all buildings or portions of buildings used for:

- (1) State, municipal or county purposes;
- (2) Education;
- (3) Health care;
- (4) Public assembly;
- (5) A hotel, motel or inn;
- (6) A restaurant;
- (7) Business occupancy; or
- (8) Mercantile establishments occupying more than 3000 square feet.

B. The municipal authority having jurisdiction to issue building permits may not issue a building permit unless the Office of the State Fire Marshal approves the plans and certifies that the public building covered by this subsection meets the standards of construction required by this section. CHAPTER 395

H.P. 700 - L.D. 958

An Act to Make Supplemental Appropriations and Allocations for the Expenditures of State Government and to Change Certain Provisions of the Law Necessary to the Proper Operations of State Government for the Fiscal Years Ending June 30, 1996 and June 30, 1997

Mandate preamble. This measure requires one or more local units of government to expand or modify activities so as to necessitate additional expenditures from local revenues but does not provide funding for at least 90% of those expenditures. Pursuant to the Constitution of Maine, Article IX, Section 21, two thirds of all of the members elected to each House have determined it necessary to enact this measure.

Emergency preamble. Whereas, Acts of the Legislature do not become effective until 90 days after adjournment unless enacted as emergencies; and

Whereas, the 90-day period may not terminate until after the beginning of the next fiscal year; and

Whereas, certain obligations and expenses will become due and payable on or immediately after July 1, 1995; and

Whereas, in the judgment of the Legislature, these facts create an emergency within the meaning of the Constitution of Maine and require the following legislation as immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety; now, therefore,

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine as follows:

CHAPTER 398

H.P. 1101 - L.D. 1548

An Act to Clarify and Amend Provisions of the Maine Insurance Code and Workers' Compensation Self-insurance

Emergency preamble. Whereas, Acts of the Legislature do not become effective until 90 days after adjournment unless enacted as emergencies; and

Whereas, self-insurers may assume considerable expenses that may otherwise be avoided under the provisions contemplated by this legislation; and

Whereas, current requirements are cost-prohibitive for many self-insurers; and

Whereas, the law currently requires the Maine Self-Insurance Guarantee Association to assess all new members of the association for their respective contributions to the Maine Self-Insurance Guarantee Fund; and

Whereas, the association relies upon information concerning new members received from the Superintendent of Insurance in making these assessments; and

Whereas, the association makes its annual assessments in July of each year; and

Whereas, it is necessary for the Superintendent of Insurance to notify the association of new members in advance of the annual assessment date; and

Whereas, in the judgment of the Legislature, these facts create an emergency within the meaning of the Constitution of Maine and require the following legislation as immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety; now, therefore,

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine as follows:

Sec. 1. 24-A MRSA §2385-F is enacted to read:

§2385-F. Coverage denial

Workers' compensation coverage may not be issued to an employer until the employer pays any undisputed premiums or assessments to a previous workers' compensation insurer, including a domestic mutual insurer established pursuant to section 3703, a group self-insurer approved pursuant to Title 39-A, section 403, subsection 4, or the workers' compensation residual market mechanism.

Sec. 2. 39-A MRSA §403, sub-§3, as amended by PL 1993, c. 510, §1, is repealed and the following enacted in its place:

3. Proof of solvency and financial ability to pay; trust. The employer may comply with this section by furnishing satisfactory proof to the Superintendent of Insurance of solvency and financial ability to pay the compensation and benefits, and depositing cash, satisfactory securities, irrevocable standby letters of credit issued by a qualified financial institution or a surety bond with the board, in such sum as the superintendent may determine pursuant to subsection 8, the bond to run to the Treasurer of State and to be conditional upon the faithful performance of this Act relating to the payment of compensation and benefits to any injured employee. In case of cash or securities being deposited, the cash or securities must be placed in an account at interest by the Treasurer of State, and the accumulation of interest on the cash or securities so deposited must be credited to the account and may not be paid to the employer to the extent that the interest is required to support any present value discounting in the determination of the amount of the deposit. Any security deposit must be held by the Treasurer of State in trust for the benefit of the self-insurer's employees for the purposes of making payments under this Act. If the superintendent determines that the self-insurer has experienced a deterioration in financial condition that adversely affects the self-insurer's ability to pay obligations under this Act, the security amount may be in excess of the minimum amount required by this Title.

A self-insurer may, with the approval of the Superintendent of Insurance, use the following types of security to satisfy the self-insurer's responsibility to post security required by the superintendent: a surety bond; an irrevocable standby letter of credit; cash deposits and acceptable securities; and an actuarially determined fully funded trust. For purposes of this section, "tangible net worth" means equity less assets that have no physical existence and depend on expected future benefits for their ascribed value. A group self-insurer that maintains a trust actuarially funded to the confidence level required by the superintendent may use an irrevocable standby letter of credit as follows: only in an amount not greater than the difference between the funding to the required confidence level and funding to the confidence level reduced by 10 percentage points; only as long as the trust assets are not used as collateral for the letter of credit; and only as long as the value of trust assets, excluding the value of the letter of credit, are at least equal to the present value of ultimate expected incurred claims, claims settlement costs and, if determined necessary by the superintendent, administrative costs.

A. An individual self-insurer providing an irrevocable standby letter of credit as security shall file with the Superintendent of Insurance a letter of credit, on a form approved by the superintendent, copies of any agreements or other documents establishing the terms and conditions of the employer's reimbursement obligations to the financial institution issuing the letter of credit, together with copies of any required security agreements, mortgages or other agreements or documents granting security for the employer's reimbursement obligations and any other agreements that contain conditions, restrictions or limitations of any kind upon the employer, the superintendent or the Treasurer of State. The form of letter of credit approved by the superintendent must include, but is not limited to, all terms specifically required by this subsection and all terms reasonably required to secure the payment of compensation and benefits to claimants as required under this Act. The superintendent, upon receipt of the original irrevocable standby letter of credit, shall promptly forward it to the Treasurer of State.

The Superintendent of Insurance shall adopt rules to establish the qualifications for financial institutions issuing irrevocable standby letters of credit that must include maintenance of a long-term unsecured debt rating of at least A by either Moody's Investors Service, Inc. or Standard and Poor's Corporation, or with commercial paper within the 3 highest short-term rating categories established by Moody's Investors Service, Inc. or Standard and Poor's Corporation. The irrevocable standby letter of credit must be the individual obligation of the issuing financial institution, may not be subject to any agreement, condition, qualification or defense between the financial institution and the employer and may not in any way be contingent on reimbursement by the employer. If the rating of an issuing financial institution that has issued an irrevocable standby letter of credit pursuant to this section falls below the required standard, the employer must obtain a new irrevocable standby letter of credit from a qualified financial institution or must provide other eligible security of equal value approved by the superintendent. The irrevocable standby letter of credit is automatically extended for one year from the date of expiration unless, 90 days prior to any expiration date, the issuing financial institution notifies the superintendent that the financial institution elects not to renew the irrevocable standby letter of credit.

An irrevocable standby letter of credit that has been issued by a qualified financial institution and accepted by the Superintendent of Insurance binds the issuing financial institution to pay one or more drafts drawn by the Treasurer of State, as directed by the superintendent, as long as the draft does not exceed the total amount of the irrevocable standby letter of credit. Any draft presented by the Treasurer of State, as directed by the superintendent, must be promptly honored if accompanied by the certification of the superintendent that any obligation under this chapter has not been paid when due or that a proceeding in bankruptcy has been initiated by or with respect to the employer in a court of competent jurisdiction.

If the Superintendent of Insurance certifies that the superintendent has been notified by the issuing financial institution that the irrevocable standby letter of credit will expire by its terms in 30 days or less and that the irrevocable standby letter of credit was not replaced within 15 days after that notice to the superintendent by other eligible security of equal value approved by the superintendent, then the financial institution must remit within 15 days the full amount of the irrevocable letter of credit to the Treasurer of State without further certification.

Any proceeds from a draw on such an irrevocable standby letter of credit by the Treasurer of State, as directed by the Superintendent of Insurance, must be held by the Treasurer of State on behalf of workers' compensation claimants to secure payment of claims until either the superintendent authorizes the Treasurer of State to release those proceeds to the employer upon provision by the employer of replacement security adequate to meet the requirements for security set by the superintendent or the superintendent directs distribution of the proceeds in accordance with this Title.

To the extent not inconsistent with state law, the letter of credit is subject to and governed by the Uniform Customs and Practice for Documentary Credits, 1983, International Chamber of Commerce Publication No. 400. If any legal proceedings are initiated with respect to payment of the letter of credit, those proceedings are subject to the State's courts and law.

B. The Superintendent of Insurance shall prescribe the form of the surety bond that may be used to satisfy, in whole or in part, the self-insurer's responsibility under this section to post security. The bond must be continuous, be subject to nonrenewal only upon not less than 60 days notice to the superintendent, cover payment of all present and future liabilities incurred under this Act while the bond is in force and cover payments that become due while the bond is in force that are attributable to injuries incurred in prior periods and otherwise unsecured by cash, irrevocable standby letters of credit or acceptable securities. A bond must be held until all payments secured by the bond have been made or until the bond has been replaced by other eligible security approved by the superintendent that covers all outstanding liabilities. Payments under the bond are due within 30 days after notice has been given to the surety by the board that the principal has failed to make a payment required under the terms of an award, agreement or governing law. A trust established to satisfy the requirements of this section may not be funded by a surety bond.

C. A self-insurer may establish an actuarially determined fully funded trust, funded at a level sufficient to discharge those obligations incurred by the employer pursuant to this Act as they become due and payable from time to time, as long as the Superintendent of Insurance requires that the value of trust assets be at least equal to the present value of ultimate expected incurred claims and claims settlement costs, plus required safety margins and, if determined necessary by the superintendent, administrative costs for the operation of the plan of self-insurance. An actuarially determined fully funded trust must be funded as follows, as determined by the superintendent.

(1) For individual and group self-insurers, the amount of security must be determined based upon an actuarial review. The actuarial review must take into consideration the use by a group self-insurer of any irrevocable standby letter of credit. Except as provided in subparagraph (3), initial funding for each plan year must be maintained at the 90% or higher confidence level. Funding after the completion of the initial plan year may be established no lower than the 75% confidence level if the following has occurred:

(a) A year considered for reduction is completed;

(b) The supporting actuarial report includes an evaluation of the completed year experience with claims evaluated not less than 6 months from the end of the plan year; and

(c) Prior approval from the superintendent is obtained.

For the purposes of determining the confidence level, all completed years at the same confidence level may be aggregated. Funds may not be released from the trust or transferred between years except as approved by the superintendent.

(2) A group self-insurer may elect to fund at a higher confidence level through the use of cash, marketable securities or reinsurance. If a member of a group self-insurer terminates membership in the group for any reason, that member shall fund the member's proportionate share of the liabilities and obligations of the trust to the 95% confidence level. If for any reason the departing member fails to fund the member's proportionate share of the trust's exposure to the 95% level of confidence, the remaining members of the group shall make the additional contribution no later than the anniversary date of the program as required to fund the departing member's exposure in accordance with this provision.

(3) Depending upon the financial condition of the self-insurer, and if approved by the superintendent, a self-insurer that has maintained an actuarially determined fully funded trust for a period of 5 or more consecutive years may fund all years, including the prospective fund year, in the aggregate at the 75% or higher confidence level.

(4) Trust assets must consist of cash or marketable securities of a type and risk character as specified in subsection 9. The trustee shall submit a report to the superintendent not less frequently than quarterly that lists the assets comprising the corpus of the trust, including a statement of their market value and the investment activity during the period covered by the report. The trust must be established and maintained subject to the condition that trust assets may not be transferred or revert in any manner to the employer except to the extent that the superintendent finds that the value of the trust assets exceeds the present value of incurred claims and claims settlement costs with an actuarially indicated margin for future loss development. In all other respects, the trust instrument, including terms for certification, funding, designation of trustee and payout, must be as approved by the superintendent, except that the value of the trust account must be actuarially calculated at least annually by a casualty actuary who is a member of the American Academy of Actuaries and adjusted to the required level of funding.

D. Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter, any bond or security deposit required of a public employer that is a self-insurer may not exceed $50,000, as long as the public employer has a state-assessed valuation equal to or in excess of $300,000,000 and either a bond rating equal to or in excess of the 2nd highest standard as set by a national bond rating agency or a net worth equal to or in excess of $35,000,000. If a county, city or town relies upon a bond rating, it shall value or cause to be valued its unpaid workers' compensation claims pursuant to sound accepted actuarial principles. This value must be incorporated in the annual audit of the county, city or town, together with disclosure of funds appropriated to discharge incurred claims expenses. "Public employer" includes the State, the University of Maine System, counties, cities and towns.

E. In consideration of a self-insuring entity's application for authorization to operate a plan of self-insurance, the Superintendent of Insurance may require or permit an applicant to employ valid risk transfer by the utilization of primary reinsurance, subject to the provisions of subsection 8. Standards respecting the application of reinsurance must be contained in a rule adopted by the superintendent pursuant to the Maine Administrative Procedure Act. Reinsurance must be defined as insurance covering workers' compensation exposures in excess of risk retained by a self-insurer.

F. An employer may be eligible for approved self-insurance status pursuant to this Act if the employer submits a written guarantee of the obligations incurred pursuant to this Act, the guarantee to be issued by a United States or Canadian corporation that is a member of an affiliated group of which the employer is a member, and which corporation is solvent and demonstrates an ability to pay the compensation and benefits, and the guarantee is in a form acceptable to the Superintendent of Insurance. The guarantor shall provide audited annual financial statements and such other information as the superintendent may require, including quarterly financial statements, and the employer shall provide a cash deposit, satisfactory securities, irrevocable standby letters of credit issued by a qualified financial institution or a surety bond as otherwise required by this Act in an amount not less than $100,000. The guarantor is deemed to have submitted to the jurisdiction of the board and the courts of this State for purposes of enforcing the guarantee. The guarantor, in all respects, is bound by and subject to the orders, findings, decisions or awards rendered against the employer for payment of compensation and any penalties or forfeitures provided under this Act. The superintendent, following hearing, may revoke the self-insured status of the employer if at any time the assets of the guarantor become impaired or encumbered or are otherwise found to be inadequate to support the guarantee.

G. A subsidiary employer may be eligible for approved self-insurance status pursuant to this Act if: the subsidiary employer files an application jointly with a qualified parent corporation that has direct ownership of a majority voting interest of the subsidiary employer; the parent corporation and subsidiary employer submit an irrevocable contract of assignment, on a form approved by the Superintendent of Insurance, of the subsidiary employer's obligations incurred pursuant to this Act; the parent corporation is solvent and demonstrates an ability to pay the compensation and benefits of the subsidiary employer; and the subsidiary employer meets all other requirements for application and qualification as a self-insurer under this chapter and under any applicable rules adopted by the superintendent. If the parent corporation is not a United States corporation, the superintendent may, in the superintendent's sole discretion, establish the conditions of any approval of the foreign parent corporation or deny the application of the foreign parent corporation. As part of its application for approval, a foreign parent corporation must provide the following information to the superintendent: evidence that its country of domicile has substantially similar laws with respect to submission to the jurisdiction of the board and the courts of this State for the purposes of payment of workers' compensation claims of the subsidiary employer; audited financial statements, as otherwise required by this Act, prepared in the English language by a certified public accountant licensed in a state in the United States in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards as prescribed by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants; and security, as otherwise required by the Act, in United States currency. The irrevocable contract of assignment and application must be signed by a duly authorized officer of each corporation and the application must include a board of directors' resolution from each entity as evidence of each officer's authority to enter into the contract. The superintendent may determine the subsidiary employer's eligibility for self-insurance authority and the amount of required security based upon the parent corporation's consolidated financial statement, as long as the employer complies with paragraph H. A subsidiary employer currently authorized to self-insure need not pay the application fee required of a new applicant in order to file an application to qualify under this subsection, but the subsidiary employer and parent corporation must provide all information required under this subsection as if they were a new applicant. Once the subsidiary employer becomes authorized to self-insure under this section, the parent corporation assumes liability for all prior workers' compensation liabilities incurred by the subsidiary employer during the period of self-insurance prior to the date of authorization under this subsection, unless the subsidiary employer files an alternative plan approved by the superintendent. The parent corporation and the subsidiary employer must both be named on the certificate of authorization for self-insurance authority. Upon issuance of a certificate of authorization pursuant to this subsection, the following applies.

(1) The parent corporation is deemed to have submitted to the jurisdiction of the board and the courts of the State for the purposes of payment of workers' compensation claims of the subsidiary employer and is deemed to have submitted to the jurisdiction of the superintendent for purposes of implementation of this Act. The parent corporation, in all respects, is bound by and subject to all orders, findings, decisions or awards rendered against the subsidiary employer for payment of compensation and any penalties or forfeitures provided under this Act.

(2) A subsidiary employer authorized under this subsection and the parent corporation are considered one employer for the purposes of membership in the Maine Self-Insurance Guarantee Association. In the event of termination, transfer, insolvency, dissolution or bankruptcy of a subsidiary employer qualifying under this subsection, the parent corporation assumes all assessment obligations of the subsidiary employer for its period of self-insurance and is not considered a new member of the association.

(3) If the subsidiary employer fails for any reason to pay compensation and benefits as required under this Act, the parent corporation stands in the place of the subsidiary employer and is deemed to be the employer, subject to all requirements and provisions of this Act. For the purposes of payment of benefits and compensation under this Act, an employee of the subsidiary employer is deemed to be concurrently employed by both corporations. Concerning notification of injury to an employee of the subsidiary employer, notice to or knowledge of the occurrence of the injury on the part of the subsidiary employer is deemed notice or knowledge on the part of the parent corporation. The transfer, insolvency, dissolution or bankruptcy of a subsidiary employer qualifying under this subsection does not relieve the parent corporation from payment of compensation for injuries or death sustained by an employee during the time the subsidiary employer was approved for self-insurance authority under this subsection and the parent corporation continues to be deemed an employer until such time as all outstanding workers' compensation claims have been discharged.

(4) The transfer, insolvency, dissolution or bankruptcy of a parent corporation causes the termination of the subsidiary employer's authorization to self-insure and a termination plan must be filed pursuant to subsection 14.

H. Each individual self-insurer shall submit with its application, and not less frequently than annually thereafter, a financial statement of current origin that has been audited by a certified public accountant. When a self-insurer qualifies on the basis of a financial guarantee or on the basis of an irrevocable contract of assignment, the Superintendent of Insurance may accept an audited financial statement of the guarantor or parent corporation in satisfaction of this requirement and may also require combining statements provided in an array that is reconciled to the consolidated report.

Sec. 3. 39-A MRSA §403, sub-§6, ¶A, as enacted by PL 1991, c. 885, Pt. A, §8 and affected by §§9 to 11, is amended to read:

A. Any approval granted by the Superintendent of Insurance to an individual self-insurer or group self-insurer must be for a term of not more than one year. ~~Application~~ A complete application for renewal of approval to self-insure must be submitted to the superintendent not less than 21 days prior to the self-insurer's renewal date, except that evidence of reinsurance coverage may be submitted up to 3 working days prior to renewal. Notwithstanding this paragraph, when a self-insurer has made a timely and complete application for renewal, the existing authorization does not expire until the renewal has been determined by the superintendent. A renewal application must contain: all reports, statements and other data required to be filed annually under rules adopted by the superintendent; copies of any proposed reinsurance contracts, binders or cover notes; evidence of security posted; notice of any changes in servicing arrangements; and notice of any change in control of the self-insurer and its effect, if any, on guarantees provided pursuant to subsection 3. The superintendent may refuse to grant or renew self-insurance approval based upon any of the following grounds:

- (1) Failure to submit any information that is required by law or rule or is reasonably requested by the superintendent;
- (2) Failure of a self-insurer to establish that it has met all applicable requirements of law or rule;
- (3) Fraud or misrepresentation in the application; or
- (4) Any ground upon which approval may be suspended or revoked as provided in subsection 13.

The effective date of any notice of nonrenewal under this subsection is on or after the date of the notice. A notice of nonrenewal under this subsection may not include nonrenewal for any approved period of self-insurance prior to the notice.

Sec. 4. 39-A MRSA §403, sub-§9, as enacted by PL 1991, c. 885, Pt. A, §8 and affected by §§9 to 11, is amended to read:

9. Acceptable deposit funds or investments for trust funds. and anxiety and other forms of mental illness clearly contribute to general health problems and costs;

C. Typical health coverage in this State discriminates against mental illness, the victims and affected families with nonexistent or limited benefits compared to provisions for other illnesses; and

D. Experience in this State and several other states demonstrates that the risk of mental illness can be insured at reasonable cost and with adequate controls on quality and utilization of treatment.

2. Policy and purpose. The Legislature declares that it is the policy of this State to:

A. Promote equitable and nondiscriminatory health coverage benefits for all forms of illness including mental and emotional disorders that are of significant consequence to the health of people of the State and that can be treated in a cost-effective manner;

B. Ensure that victims of mental and other illnesses have access to and choice of appropriate treatment at the earliest point of illness in the least restrictive settings;

C. Ensure that costs of treatment of mental illness are supported through an equitable combination of public and private responsibilities; and

D. Ensure that the Legislature reasonably exercises its legal responsibility for insurance policy in this State by prescribing types of illnesses and treatment for which benefits must be provided.

3. Definitions. For purposes of this section, unless the context otherwise indicates, the following terms have the following meanings.

A. "Day treatment services" includes psychoeducational, physiological, psychological and psychosocial concepts, techniques and processes necessary to maintain or develop functional skills of clients, provided to individuals and groups for periods of more than 2 hours but less than 24 hours a day.

B. "Inpatient services" includes a range of physiological, psychological and other intervention concepts, techniques and processes used in a community mental health psychiatric inpatient unit, general hospital psychiatric unit or psychiatric hospital licensed by the Department of Human Services or in an accredited public hospital to restore psychosocial functioning sufficient to allow maintenance and support of the client in a less restrictive setting.

C. "Outpatient services" includes screening, evaluation, consultations, diagnosis and treatment involving use of psychoeducational, physiological, psychological and psychosocial evaluative and interventive concepts, techniques and processes provided to individuals and groups.

D. "Person suffering from a mental or nervous condition" means a person whose psychobiological processes are impaired severely enough to manifest problems in the area of social, psychological or biological functioning. Such a person has a disorder of thought, mood, perception, orientation or memory that impairs judgment, behavior, capacity to recognize or ability to cope with the ordinary demands of life. The person manifests an impaired capacity to maintain acceptable levels of functioning in the area of intellect, emotion or physical well-being.

An Act to Strengthen Maine's Live Harness Racing Industry

Emergency preamble. Whereas, Acts of the Legislature do not become effective until 90 days after adjournment unless enacted as emergencies; and

Whereas, the harness racing industry is an important industry in the State; and

Whereas, a more equitable distribution of purse funds must be provided immediately in order to strengthen live racing in the State; and

Whereas, this legislation will provide for a more equitable distribution of purse funds; and

Whereas, in the judgment of the Legislature, these facts create an emergency within the meaning of the Constitution of Maine and require the following legislation as immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety; now, therefore,

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine as follows:

Sec. 1. 8 MRSA §271, sub-§1, as amended by PL 1991, c. 579, §10, is further amended to read:

1. Licensing. If the commission is satisfied that all of this chapter and rules prescribed by the commission have been substantially complied with during the past year and will be fully complied with during the coming year by the person, association or corporation applying for a license; that the applicant, its members, directors, officers, shareholders, employees, creditors and associates are of good moral character; that the applicant is financially responsible; and that the award of racing dates to the applicant is appropriate under the criteria contained in subsection 2, it may issue a license for the holding of harness horse races or meets for public exhibition with pari-mutuel pools, which must expire on December 31st. The commission shall set licensing and license renewal fees sufficient to carry out the administration and enforcement of the licensing program. These fees may not exceed annually the greater of $100 or $10 for each calendar week or part of a week of harness racing regardless of whether pari-mutuel pools are sold. The commission shall provide a booklet containing harness racing laws and rules and relevant portions of the Maine Administrative Procedure Act to every initial licensee and a fee not to exceed $10 must be included in the license fee to cover the cost of this publication. The commission shall provide necessary revisions of this booklet to those persons renewing licenses at the time of renewal and shall include the cost of the revisions, not to exceed $10, in the renewal fee. The license must set forth the name of the licensee, the place where the races or race meets are to be held and the specific race dates and time of day or night during which racing may be conducted by the licensee. The location stated in the license where the race or race meet is to be held may be transferred to any other licensee on the dates set forth in the license during which the racing may be conducted, but, with respect to that transfer, the transfer may only be made to another licensee and the licensee is liable for compliance with all laws and regulations governing the conduct of harness racing. Any such license issued is not transferable or assignable. The Administrative Court Judge, as designated in Title 4, chapter 25, may revoke any license issued at any time for violation of the commission's rules or licensing provisions upon notice and hearing. The license of any corporation is automatically revoked, subject to Title 5, chapter 375, upon the change in ownership, legal or equitable, of 50% or more of the voting stock of the corporation and the corporation may not hold a harness horse race or meet for public exhibition without a new license.

Sec. 2. 8 MRSA §271, sub-§2, as amended by PL 1993, c. 388, §4, is further amended to read:

2. Criteria for date awards. In assigning race dates to licensees, the commission shall consider the following factors:

A. The revenues to be generated, consistent with the profitability and financial health of the licensee, for the General Fund pursuant to section 275-H; the purse supplements pursuant to section 275-I; the Sire Stakes Fund pursuant to section 281; and the Stipend Fund pursuant to Title 7, section 62;

B. The quality of race programming and facilities offered and to be offered by the licensee and the suitability of the applicant's racing facilities for operation at the season for which the race dates are requested;

C. The necessity of having and maintaining proper physical facilities for racing meetings; and consequently, to insure the continuance of the facilities, the quality of the licensee's maintenance of its track and plant, the adequacy of its provisions for rehabilitation and capital improvements and the necessity of fair treatment of the economic interests and investments of those who, in good faith, have provided and maintained racing facilities;

D. The desirability of reasonable consistency in the pattern of race date assignments from year to year;

E. With respect to agricultural societies seeking licenses to conduct harness racing meets at the time of their annual fairs, the scheduling of agricultural fairs determined by the Commissioner of Agriculture, Food and Rural Resources pursuant to Title 7, sections 65 and 65-A;

F. The preservation of a diversity of harness racing tracks in the State;

G. The quality of the licensee's observance and enforcement of this chapter and the rules promulgated pursuant to this chapter during the past year;

H. The extent to which the licensee fully utilized ~~racing~~ race dates granted to it for the past year;

I. The personnel and resources available to the commission for the enforcement of this chapter and the rules promulgated pursuant to this chapter;

J. The likely availability of race-worthy horses throughout the year; and

K. Such other criteria consistent with the betterment of harness racing and the public health, safety and welfare as the commission may establish by rule.

Sec. 3. 8 MRSA §271, sub-§5, as enacted by PL 1991, c. 579, §10, is amended to read:

5. Minimum number of race dates. The commission may assign a commercial licensee a minimum number of ~~racing days~~ race dates for a period of up to 3 years. The specific calendar dates for ~~these racing days~~ the minimum number of race dates and any additional race dates are determined each year in accordance with subsection 1. For the purposes of this subsection, "commercial licensee" means a licensee with an annual total of more than 25 ~~racing days~~ race dates with pari-mutuel wagering in the previous calendar year.

In the event of cancellation of a portion of the scheduled racing program due to weather, power failure or a decision to cancel by the presiding judge on duty, a minimum of 5 live races actually raced constitutes a race date. If a licensee schedules separate programs for both an afternoon and an evening on the same calendar day and each program qualifies as a race date under this subsection, that licensee is granted one race date for each program.

Sec. 7. 8 MRSA §275-D, sub-§8, ¶A, as enacted by PL 1993, c. 388, §8, is amended to read:

A. An off-track betting facility located within a 75-mile radius of a noncommercial racing licensee may not present a simulcast at the same time that racing licensee is conducting live racing, unless the racing licensee consents and the facility pays the racing licensee 2% of the wagers made at the facility at the time live racing is being conducted. An off-track betting facility within a 50-mile radius of a noncommercial racing licensee may not present a simulcast during any day on which that racing licensee is conducting live racing, unless the racing licensee consents and the facility pays the racing licensee 1% of the wagers made on that day. Amounts payable under this section are taken from the facility's share of wagers authorized in section 275-K. If the racing licensee is conducting simulcasting pursuant to section 275-J, subsection 3, then the racing licensee is not entitled to payment by the facility under this section.

Sec. 8. 8 MRSA §275-F, sub-§3, ¶A, as enacted by PL 1993, c. 388, §8, is amended to read:

A. The first ~~$295,000~~ $400,000 of the total amount, regardless of when actually collected, must be credited to the Stipend Fund provided in Title 7, section 62.

This payment must be divided in the proportion that the contributions of regular and exotic wagers to pari-mutuel pools on live racing made or conducted at the extended meets of each racing licensee during that calendar year bear to the total contributions of regular and exotic wagers to pari-mutuel pools on live racing made or conducted at the extended meets of all racing licensees during that calendar year. Licensees sharing in this distribution shall use 1/2 of the funds so received for the purpose of supplementing purse money.

The remaining 20% must be credited to the Stipend Fund provided in Title 7, section 62.

Sec. 11. 8 MRSA §275-H, sub-§3, ¶A, as enacted by PL 1993, c. 388, §8, is amended to read:

Licensees sharing in this distribution shall use 1/2 of the funds received for the purpose of supplementing purse money. The other 1/2 of this distribution must be paid to the commercial licensees as reimbursement for improvements made to their racing facilities in the calendar year during which the funds are generated. To receive reimbursement, commercial licensees must submit plans for the improvements to the commission and receive approval from the commission prior to making the improvements and the commission must verify that the approved improvements have been made.

Sec. 12. 8 MRSA §275-I, sub-§3, as corrected by RR 1993, c. 2, §7, is repealed and the following enacted in its place:

On May 30th, September 30th and January 30th, payments made under subsections 1 and 2 for distribution in accordance with this subsection must be divided among the licensees conducting live racing in the State. The amount of the payment made to a licensee is calculated by dividing the number of race dates that the licensee live raced in any calendar year by the total number of race dates live raced by all licensees in that year. The payment due in May 1995 must be distributed among the licensees conducting live racing in the State in proportion to the number of dates each licensee is licensed and actually open for wagering during 1995. The January 30, 1996 payment must be adjusted to reflect the dates actually live raced during the months of May to December of 1995. Beginning January 30, 1997, the January 30th payment must be adjusted to reflect the dates actually live raced during the previous year, not the dates granted.

Sec. 13. 8 MRSA §275-J, sub-§3, as amended by PL 1993, c. 646, §2, is further amended to read:

3. Distribution based on wagered amounts. On May ~~15th~~ 30th, September ~~15th~~ 30th and within ~~45~~ 30 days after the close of all off-track betting facilities for the year, amounts payable under subsections 1 and 2 for distribution in accordance with this subsection

The last payment of the calendar year must be adjusted to reflect each licensee's wagers in proportion to the total wagered at off-track betting facilities in that calendar year.

Sec. 14. 8 MRSA §275-N, as enacted by PL 1993, c. 707, Pt. U, §2, is repealed and the following enacted in its place:

§275-N. Limitations on off-track betting facilities

Whereas, traffic on the Maine Turnpike has increased 14% since 1991; and

Whereas, the Sensible Transportation Policy Act requires that alternatives be evaluated prior to increasing highway capacity through road building; and

Whereas, it is in the public's interest to begin a congestion pricing study in the summer of 1995; and

Whereas, in the judgment of the Legislature, these facts create an emergency within the meaning of the Constitution of Maine and require the following legislation as immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety; now, therefore,

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine as follows:

Sec. 1. 23 MRSA §1973, sub-§4, ¶A, as enacted by PL 1981, c. 595, §3, is amended to read:

Sec. 3. Reports on congestion pricing studies. The Maine Turnpike Authority shall submit an interim report on the congestion pricing studies to the joint standing committee of the Legislature having jurisdiction over transportation matters no later than January 15, 1996. An Act Protecting a Citizen's Right of Petition under the Constitution

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine as follows:

Sec. 1. 14 MRSA §556 is enacted to read:

§556. Special motion to dismiss

When a moving party asserts that the civil claims, counterclaims or cross claims against the moving party are based on the moving party's exercise of the moving party's right of petition under the Constitution of the United States or the Constitution of Maine, the moving party may bring a special motion to dismiss. The court shall advance the special motion so that it may be heard and determined with as little delay as possible. The court shall grant the special motion, unless the party against whom the special motion is made shows that the moving party's exercise of its right of petition was devoid of any reasonable factual support or any arguable basis in law and that the moving party's acts caused actual injury to the responding party. In making its determination, the court shall consider the pleading and supporting and opposing affidavits stating the facts upon which the liability or defense is based.

The Attorney General on the Attorney General's behalf or on behalf of any government agency or subdivision to which the moving party's acts were directed may intervene to defend or otherwise support the moving party on the special motion.

All discovery proceedings are stayed upon the filing of the special motion under this section, except that the court, on motion and after a hearing and for good cause shown, may order that specified discovery be conducted. The stay of discovery remains in effect until notice of entry of the order ruling on the special motion.

The special motion to dismiss may be filed within 60 days of the service of the complaint or, in the court's discretion, at any later time upon terms the court determines proper.

If the court grants a special motion to dismiss, the court may award the moving party costs and reasonable attorney's fees, including those incurred for the special motion and any related discovery matters. This section does not affect or preclude the right of the moving party to any remedy otherwise authorized by law.

As used in this section, "a party's exercise of its right of petition" means any written or oral statement made before or submitted to a legislative, executive or judicial body, or any other governmental proceeding; any written or oral statement made in connection with an issue under consideration or review by a legislative, executive or judicial body, or any other governmental proceeding; any statement reasonably likely to encourage consideration or review of an issue by a legislative, executive or judicial body, or any other governmental proceeding; any statement reasonably likely to enlist public participation in an effort to effect such consideration; or any other statement falling within constitutional protection of the right to petition government.

Sec. 2. Application. The provisions of this Act apply to all claims, counterclaims and cross claims that are not fully adjudicated on, or subsequent to, the effective date of this Act. A party may file a special motion to dismiss a claim, counterclaim or cross claim in existence on the effective date of this Act within 60 days of the effective date of this Act.

C. Employers shall meet the following requirements to qualify for participation. The job may not require work in excess of 40 hours per week. The hiring of the participant may not displace regular employees or fill vacant positions previously established. The job must pay at least minimum wage and not pay substantially less than the wage paid for similar jobs in the local economy, with appropriate adjustment for experience and training. Participants are entitled to retain all child support obligation payments collected by the department on current obligations for children within the family or household.

6. Eligibility for medical assistance; child care. An ASPIRE-Plus participant who is eligible for Medicaid when the participant enters the project remains eligible while participating in ASPIRE-Plus. Work-related child care services must be provided for all participants in accordance with the Family Support Act.

Funds appropriated to either account do not lapse at the end of the fiscal year.

The department shall provide to the joint standing committee of the Legislature having jurisdiction over appropriations and financial affairs and the joint standing committee of the Legislature having jurisdiction over human resource matters a report twice per year on the amount of funds transferred and the number of ASPIRE-JOBS Program participants entering employment.

2. Application; decision. Notwithstanding any provision contained in an employability development plan, all participants must be given the opportunity to apply for any education, training and support services at the office of the program ~~provider~~ serving the area in which that individual lives. The program ~~provider~~ shall issue a written decision promptly, in accordance with rules adopted by the department, on all applications ~~and shall include the type and amount of assistance that has been authorized or denied.~~ The participant must be given in writing the reasons and specific rules supporting that denial and an explanation of the individual's right to request a conciliation meeting, a fair hearing, or both. For the purposes of this subsection, "participant" means a recipient of Aid to Families with Dependent Children who has completed the ASPIRE-JOBS Program ~~orientation work evaluation~~ and has been informed by the department that funds are available to provide ASPIRE-JOBS Program services to the recipient.

3. Assessment. Each participant's case manager shall conduct an ~~individualized~~ assessment to determine that individual's education, training and employment needs in accordance with the ~~federal Family Support Act of 1988, Public Law 100-485, as amended.~~

4. Employability plan. Sec. A-30. 22 MRSA §3788, sub-§4-A, as enacted by PL 1993, c. 385, §21, is amended to read:

4-A. Individual opportunity service contract. To the extent that sufficient funds, training sites and employment opportunities are reasonably available, the department and a participant in the program shall enter into an individual opportunity service contract that reflects, to the maximum extent possible, the preference of the participant and the services offered by the program. The individual opportunity service contract must include ~~the individual's education, training and employment plan both the department's and the participant's activities~~ and the support services necessary for the individual to participate ~~in that plan~~ in accordance with the ~~federal Family Support Act of 1988, Public Law 100-485, as amended.~~ The participant's first individual opportunity service contract must be established promptly in accordance with rules adopted by the department. Sec. A-31. 22 MRSA §3788, sub-§6, as amended by PL 1993, c. 385, §21, is further amended to read:

6. Education, training and employment services. The ASPIRE-JOBS Program must make available a broad range of education, training and employment services in accordance with section 3781-A, subsection 3 and the ~~federal Family Support Act of 1988, Public Law 100-485, as amended.~~ These services and activities must include all of those services and activities offered by the Additional Support for People in Retraining and Education Employment Program on October 1, 1989. purchasing equivalent services from providers other than those from whom those services were purchased on October 1, 1989. When a particular approved education or training service is available at comparable quality and cost, including the cost of support services, and the implementation of the employability plan would not be unreasonably delayed, the program participant may choose to enroll for that service with the provider of that person's preference. If this decision is not mutually agreed to by the participant and the case manager, the decision must be reviewed by the case manager's supervisor. These services do not include reimbursement for the cost of tuition or mandatory fees for postsecondary education unless:

A. The participant is unable to secure other educational funding needed to complete the participant's individual opportunity service contract due to:

(1) Poor credit as determined by the educational funding source; or

(2) The consideration by the educational funding source of resources from past years that are not actually available to the participant;

B. In the determination of the department, failure to pay the tuition or fee would result in higher ASPIRE-JOBS Program costs to achieve the participant's approved goal; or

C. The participant meets an exception specified in rules adopted by the department.

When a substantially similar postsecondary education or training program of comparable quality is available at both a public and private institution, within a reasonable commuting distance for the participant, the department may choose to approve the program offered at the public institution if the participant's program can be completed at less cost at the institution.

~~A person may not be discouraged from participating in a 4-year postsecondary program if such a program is appropriate for the participant and consistent with the goals of the ASPIRE-JOBS Program.~~

Sec. A-32. 22 MRSA §3788, sub-§§7 and 8, as amended by PL 1993, c. 385, §21, are repealed.

Sec. A-33. 22 MRSA §3788, sub-§§10 to 13 are enacted to read:

Up-front job search must focus on new recipients who are ready for jobs who are eligible for AFDC based on unemployment of the primary wage earner and new single-parent recipients who are ready for jobs and whose children are 5 years of age or older.

B. Work evaluation consists of all activities related to assessment, employability plan development and initial individual opportunity service contract formulation. Work evaluation is limited to a maximum of 90 days, unless extended by the commissioner or the designee of the commissioner. If an ASPIRE-JOBS participant is determined by the department to be job ready, the participant may access the workforce-MaineServe component directly from work evaluation.

C. Education, training and treatment is limited to a maximum of 24 months, starting with the first day of participation in any allowable and approved job skills or occupational skills training activity. The 24-month period may be extended by the commissioner or the designee of the commissioner for good cause shown.

The department may approve a job skills or occupational training activity longer than 24 months provided the participant agrees to perform a minimum of 20 hours a week of work site experience by no later than the end of the 24-month period. Qualifying work site experience may include, but is not limited to, paid employment, workforce-MaineServe, ASPIRE-Plus, work study, training-related practicums or any other such work site approved by the department. The 24-month period does not include periods of nonactivity in which good cause has been determined.

For individuals who are satisfactorily participating in an education or training program prior to the work evaluation, the department must determine the acceptability of the activity for purposes of meeting the participation requirements of this chapter using the same criteria as is used for any individual in the ASPIRE-JOBS Program.

D. Workforce-MaineServe consists of paid employment, subsidized employment, apprenticeships or other mandatory work activities, which may continue until the participant is ineligible for AFDC benefits.

11. Individual participation requirements.

Participation in the program components is governed by subsection 10 and this subsection.

A. For recipients whose eligibility for AFDC is based on unemployment of the primary wage earner, participation in the workforce-MaineServe component is required and any participation in the education, training and treatment component is contingent on satisfactory participation in workforce-MaineServe.

B. ASPIRE-JOBS participants who are attending school or are involved in an equivalent educational program recognized by the Department of Education or a local school board are considered to be in the education, training or treatment component and their participation is not limited to 24 months. The department shall encourage recipients younger than 20 years of age who have not completed high school to attend traditional high school.

C. Subject to the requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act, if a recipient of AFDC is hindered from obtaining employment or successfully completing any portion of the ASPIRE-JOBS Program by reason of drug or alcohol abuse, the recipient must enter into a drug or alcohol abuse treatment program. This treatment activity may occur at any time during the ASPIRE-JOBS Program.

12. Developing resources. To assist the department in its efforts to encourage job placement opportunities and provide the services necessary to ensure self-support to recipients of AFDC, the department may contract with public and private agencies to establish job placement opportunities. In addition all agencies are subject to the following requirements.

A. All agencies that receive funds from any state department or division must provide at least one workforce-MaineServe opportunity for an ASPIRE-JOBS participant.

B. All state agencies that provide funding for child care or transportation services must require that recipients of AFDC be given priority for those services.

C. All agencies that receive funds from any state agency for the treatment of drug or alcohol abuse must require that recipients of AFDC be given priority for those services.

13. Determination of types of opportunities.

The department shall request that the federal Department of Health and Human Services delegate to the department the responsibility for determining the types of opportunities necessary to provide recipients of AFDC with the skills to enable those recipients to become self-supporting and that these activities be included in determining the level of participation necessary to obtain maximum federal funding for the ASPIRE-JOBS Program.

Sec. A-34. 22 MRSA §3788-A is enacted to read:

§3788-A. MaineServe

The department shall establish a MaineServe program designed to provide parents who are eligible for AFDC opportunities to serve their communities and the State.

1. Purposes. The purposes of the MaineServe program are as follows:

A. To meet the human, educational, environmental and public safety needs of this State without displacing existing workers;

B. To renew the ethic of civic responsibility and the spirit of community throughout the State;

C. To encourage parents who are eligible for AFDC to engage in voluntary service to the State;

D. To expand and strengthen existing nonprofit and public sector initiatives that are addressing the needs of their communities and of the State; and

E. To provide parents who are eligible for AFDC the opportunities to serve their communities and the State in a manner that assists them in developing and renewing their skills in ways that may lead to employment that is sufficient to sustain their families.

2. Eligibility. Any ASPIRE-JOBS participant over 16 years of age is eligible to volunteer for MaineServe, except that any person under 20 years of age who has not completed high school or its equivalent must also participate in an educational activity designed to complete high school education.

3. Duration of service. MaineServe volunteers may serve for up to 9 months. At the end of the service period, the MaineServe volunteer and the ASPIRE-JOBS case manager shall evaluate the MaineServe placement. If it is determined to be appropriate, the MaineServe volunteer may renew the placement within MaineServe.

4. Conditions of service. The MaineServe program is an alternative work experience program subject to the standards set out in the Social Security Act, 42 United States Code, Section 682(f).

The department shall collect the fee from obligors whose child support is paid to the department under an income withholding order by notifying the payor of income to the obligor to increase withholding by $2 per week. The department or any other person may not be required to issue a new or amended withholding order to collect the fee, but shall notify the obligor in advance of the increase in withholding.

Sec. 14. 19 MRSA §495, sub-§1, ¶A, as amended by PL 1993, c. 607, §4, is further amended to read:

A. When a court order of support has not been established, a payment of public assistance for the benefit of the dependent child creates a debt due the department from the responsible parent for past necessary support. The amount of debt due the department is established by application of the most current child support scale to the responsible parent's income for the time period in which the department was entitled to support payments. In the absence of sufficient reliable information to calculate a responsible parent's past income, it is presumed that the responsible parent had an earning capacity equal to the average weekly wage of a worker within this State as determined by the Department of Labor statistics for the applicable years. A different annual income may be used if there is sufficient reliable evidence to conclude reasonably that the responsible parent earned a greater or lesser actual income. A present disability to pay child support, legal or otherwise, does not operate to bar a determination of past debt due the department for any relevant period in which the disability did not exist. When the department establishes a periodic support payment has been established under section 497-A or former section 498 by administrative decision, the debt is limited to the amount stated in the decision.

Sec. 15. 19 MRSA §498-B, sub-§1, as amended by PL 1993, c. 607, §8, is further amended to read:

1. Responsible parent's failure to comply. If a responsible parent fails to ~~acquire the obtain~~ health insurance coverage as required ~~under section 497-A or 497-B by an administrative decision,~~ that parent is liable for any expenses incurred for any dependent children that would have been paid by the insurance coverage, regardless of incurred expenses. Incurred liability may be enforced as a child support debt under this subchapter or by judicial action.

Sec. 16. 19 MRSA §500, sub-§3, as enacted by PL 1975, c. 532, §3, is amended to read:

3. If the commissioner finds that the collection of any support debt accrued or accruing under section 495 is in jeopardy, the commissioner may make demand under subsection 1 for immediate payment of the support debt, and upon failure or refusal immediately to pay, the commissioner may file and serve liens pursuant to section ~~503~~ 503-A. No action under sections 504, 506 and 507 may be taken until the notice requirements of subsection 1 are met.

Sec. 17. 19 MRSA §503, as amended by PL 1993, c. 607, §9, is repealed.

Sec. 18. 19 MRSA §503-A is enacted to read:

Twenty-one days after receipt by a responsible parent of a notice of debt under section 500 or 30 days after the date of mailing to the responsible parent of a decision of the department that requires the responsible parent to pay child support, the amount stated in the notice of debt or in the decision is a judgment in favor of the department, the obligee, or both. The judgment is a lien against all property of the responsible parent. The lien is separate from and in addition to a lien filed under this section.

2. Filing. For real property, a lien is perfected when a notice of support lien is filed in the registry of deeds of the county or counties in which the real property is located. For personal property, including motor vehicles or other items for which a certificate of ownership is issued by the Secretary of State, the lien is perfected when a notice of support lien is delivered to the Secretary of State. The Secretary of State shall mark, hold and index the notice of support lien as if it were a financing statement within the meaning of Title 11, section 9-402. The notice of support lien must state the name and address of the responsible parent, the amount of the child support debt accrued, the date of the decision or notice of debt by which the debt was assessed and the name and address of the authorized agent of the department who issued the notice.

4. Order to seize and sell. A lien under this section may be enforced or collected through an order to seize and sell under section 774-B.

This subsection is repealed October 1, 1998.

Sec. 19. 19 MRSA §504, sub-§1, ¶A, as enacted by PL 1975, c. 532, §3, is amended to read:

Sec. 23. 19 MRSA §506, sub-§1, as enacted by PL 1975, c. 532, §3, is amended to read:

1. Seizure and surrender. Whenever a lien has been filed pursuant to former section 503 or section 503-A, the commissioner may collect the debt stated in the lien by seizing, if this can be done without breach of the peace, or demanding surrender of, any property subject to the lien and disposing of it.

Sec. 24. 19 MRSA §507, sub-§§1 and 2, as amended by PL 1985, c. 652, §35, are further amended to read:

1. Liens on real property. Actions to foreclose liens on real property filed under former section 503 or section 503-A may be brought in the county where the lien is filed pursuant to the procedures of Title 14, chapter 403, subchapter II.

2. Liens on personal property. Actions to foreclose liens on personal property filed under former section 503 or section 503-A may be brought in the county where the lien is filed pursuant to the procedures of Title 14, chapter 509, subchapter III.

Sec. 25. 19 MRSA §774-B is enacted to read:

§774-B. Order to seize and sell

1. Execution of support liens. The Department of Human Services may issue an order to seize and sell to execute a support lien established under former section 503 or section 503-A or to enforce and collect any money judgment assessed under this chapter, chapter 5 or chapter 7. An order to seize and sell has the same effect as a writ of execution issued by the District Court or the Superior Court.

2. Issuance of order. An order to seize and sell is an order, under official seal of the Department of Human Services, directed to a county sheriff or a levying officer authorized by law to enforce a District Court or Superior Court judgment. The order must command the recipient of the order to seize and sell specific nonexempt real and personal property of an obligor to satisfy the support lien upon which the order is based. The department must know or have reason to believe the obligor has a substantial ownership interest in the property identified in the order. Before issuing the order, the department must search the records of the applicable registry of deeds for real property and the records of the Secretary of State for personal property to determine if there are other persons who have an ownership interest in the property.

3. Content of order. An order to seize and sell must be signed by the Commissioner of Human Services or the commissioner's designee. The order must be for the amount of the support lien or the amount of any other money obligation determined under this chapter, plus fees and costs, if any. The order must identify the specific property that is the subject of the order. The order must include notice that tells the obligor and other persons who are known to have an ownership interest in the property how to contest the seizure and sale of the property, including notice of the right to an administrative hearing within 5 business days. The order must list the type and value of property that is exempt as provided in subsection 15.

4. Order limited. The county sheriff or levying officer may not seize property not specifically identified in the order.

5. Sheriff or levying officer. An order to seize and sell may be sent by the Department of Human Services to a county sheriff or levying officer. When the order is issued, the department shall serve a copy of the order on all persons other than the obligor who the department knows have an ownership interest in the property identified in the order. If personal service is unsuccessful, the department shall mail the order to the person's last known address by regular mail. Upon receipt of the order, the sheriff or levying officer shall proceed to execute the order in the same manner as prescribed for execution of a judgment. A sheriff or levying officer shall return the order, along with any funds collected, to the department within 90 days of the receipt of the order. Funds resulting from execution of the order must first be applied to the sheriff's or levying officer's costs, then to any superior liens and then to the support lien or other money obligation and any inferior liens of which the department has notice. Any amounts in excess of this distribution must be paid to the obligor. If the order is returned not fully satisfied, the department has the same remedies to collect the deficiency as are available for any civil judgment.

6. Right to hearing. Before the sale, the obligor and any other persons who claim an ownership interest in the property seized under an order to seize and sell have a right to an administrative hearing to contest the seizure and sale of the property and to establish the value of their relative interest in the property. A request for a hearing must be in writing and must be received by the Department of Human Services within 10 calendar days of the seizure. Upon receiving a request for a hearing, the department shall notify all persons who the department has reason to believe have an ownership interest in the property of the time, place and nature of the hearing.

A. Anyone requesting a hearing has the right to a preliminary hearing within 5 business days of the hearing request. At the preliminary hearing, if the hearing officer determines there is reasonable ground to believe that the seizure was lawful and that the obligor owes a support debt that could be satisfied in whole or in part by nonexempt property that has been seized, the hearing officer shall require the seizure to remain in force and shall schedule a final hearing, allowing all parties reasonable time to collect evidence and prepare for the final hearing. If the hearing officer determines that the seizure was not lawful or that the obligor does not owe a support debt that could be satisfied in whole or in part by nonexempt property that has been seized, the hearing officer shall declare the order to seize and sell void.

B. The Department of Human Services shall notify any person who the department has reason to believe has an ownership interest in the seized property of the time and place of the final hearing. At the final hearing, the hearing officer shall determine:

- (1) Whether the obligor owes a support debt;
- (2) Whether the support debt could be satisfied in whole or in part by the property seized; and
- (3) The value of the interests of all persons with an ownership interest in the property.

7. Commercially reasonable sale. The sheriff or levying officer may sell the property seized as a unit or in parcels and at any time and place and on any terms not otherwise prohibited by this section, but every aspect of the disposition including the method, manner, time, place and terms must be commercially reasonable. The property may not be sold for less than the debtor's interest in the property that is exempt. The property may not be sold for less than the full value of the interest in the property owned by the nonobligor parties with an interest superior to that of the Department of Human Services. The property may not be sold for less than the debtor's interest in the property that is exempt. The Department of Human Services reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

8. Notice of sale. Within 30 days of receiving notice of a sale from the county sheriff or levying officer, the Department of Human Services shall send by regular mail an accounting and proposed distribution of the net proceeds of the sale to the obligor, all joint owners of the property sold and any known lienholders with an interest in the property. The accounting and proposed distribution must include notice of the right to challenge the proposed distribution at an administrative hearing within 30 days. The department may not distribute the proceeds of the sale until the appeal period has run and all appeals have been decided.

9. Release. Upon receiving payment in full of the order amount plus fees and costs, if any, the Department of Human Services shall release the order to seize and sell. Upon receiving partial payment of the order amount or if the department determines that a release or partial release of the order will facilitate the collection of the unpaid amount, fees and costs, the department may release or may partially release the order to seize and sell. The department shall release the order if it determines the order is unenforceable.

10. Right to redeem. An obligor or other person or entity having an interest in real or personal property seized under an order to seize and sell at any time prior to sale of the property may pay the amount of the support lien or other money obligation and any costs incurred by the county sheriff or levying officer serving the order. Upon payment in full, the property must be restored to the obligor or other person or entity having an interest in that property and all proceedings on the order must cease.

11. Right to redeem after sale. An obligor or other person or entity having an interest in real property seized and sold by a county sheriff or levying officer pursuant to an order to seize and sell may, within 240 days after sale of the property, redeem the property by making payment to the purchaser in the amount paid by the purchaser plus interest at the statutory interest rate payable on judgments recovered in the District Court and the Superior Court.

12. Release not a bar to other action. At any time after seizure and sale of property under an order to seize and sell, the Department of Human Services may release all or part of the seized property without liability if payment of the support lien or other money obligation is ensured or if the release will facilitate collection of the support lien or money obligation. The release or return of the property does not prevent future action to collect the order amount from that property or other property.

13. Statute of limitations. The Department of Human Services may issue an order to seize and sell to collect a support lien or other money obligation under this chapter, chapter 5 or chapter 7 at any time within the statutory limitation period for enforcing and collecting child support amounts.

14. Additional remedies. The use of an order to seize and sell is not exclusive and the Department of Human Services may use any other remedy provided by law for the collection of child support.

15. Exempt property. The following property is exempt from seizure and sale, except to the extent that it has been fraudulently conveyed by the obligor:

A. The obligor's aggregate interest, not to exceed $12,500 in value, in real or personal property that the obligor uses as a residence;

B. The obligor's interest, not to exceed $2,500 in value, in one motor vehicle;

C. The obligor's interest, not to exceed $200 in value in any particular item, in household furnishings, household goods, wearing apparel, appliances, books, animals, crops or musical instruments that are held primarily for the personal, family or household use of the obligor or a dependent of the obligor;

D. The obligor's aggregate interest, not to exceed $5,000 in value, in any implements, professional books or tools of the trade of the obligor or the trade of a dependent of the obligor, including, but not limited to, power tools, materials and stock designed and procured by the obligor and necessary for carrying on the obligor's trade or business and intended to be used or wrought in that trade or business;

E. The obligor's interest in the following items held primarily for the personal, family or household use of the obligor or a dependent of the obligor:

(1) One cooking stove;

(2) All furnaces or stoves used for heating; and

(3) All cooking and heating fuel not to exceed 10 cords of wood, 5 tons of coal or 1,000 gallons of petroleum products or the equivalent amount of another type of fuel;

F. The obligor's interest in the following items held primarily for the personal, family or household use of the obligor or a dependent of the obligor:

(1) All food provisions, whether raised or purchased, reasonably necessary for 6 months;

(2) All seeds, fertilizers, feed and other material reasonably necessary to raise and harvest food through one growing season; and

(3) All tools and equipment reasonably necessary for raising and harvesting food;

G. The obligor's interest in one of every type of farm implement reasonably necessary for the obligor to raise and harvest agricultural products commercially, including any personal property incidental to the maintenance and operation of the farm implements;

H. The obligor's interest in one boat, not exceeding 5 tons burden, used by the debtor primarily for commercial fishing; and

I. Professionally prescribed health aids for the obligor or a dependent of the obligor.

16. Repeal. This section is repealed October 1, 1998.

Sec. 26. 19 MRSA §777-E is enacted to read:

§777-E. Annual statement

The Department of Human Services shall send an annual statement of arrearages to all obligors who owe past-due child support that the department is authorized to collect. The statement must include notice to the obligor that the department may collect the amount owed by issuing an order to seize and sell property. The statement may include such other notices that the department considers appropriate. The department shall send the statement to the obligor by regular mail to the obligor's last known address. If the obligor disagrees with the department's statement of arrearages, the obligor must immediately notify the department.

Sec. 27. 19 MRSA §780-A, sub-§6 is enacted to read:

6. Fees. A notice to the obligor and payor of income that the payor of income must withhold and send to the Department of Human Services a fee of $2 per week in addition to the amount withheld for child support.

Sec. 28. 22 MRSA §17 is enacted to read:

§17. Access to financial records of deposit accounts of individuals who owe overdue child support

1. Definitions. For the purposes of this section, unless the context otherwise indicates, the following terms have the following meanings.

A. "Depositor" has the same meaning as used in Title 9-B, and includes "share account holders" of credit unions.

B. "Financial institution" means a trust company, savings bank, industrial bank, commercial bank, savings and loan association or credit union organized under the laws of this State or otherwise authorized to do business in this State.

C. "Match" means an automated comparison by name and social security number of a list of obligors provided to a financial institution by the department and a list of depositors of any financial institution.

D. "Obligor" means a person who owes overdue support.

E. "Overdue support" means a debt of $500 or more for maintenance and support of a child or children that has been owed for a least 60 days, if the obligor had prior notice of the debt and a prior opportunity to contest the amount owed. "Overdue support" includes spousal support or alimony being collected in conjunction with child support.

2. Computer match. Upon written request from the commissioner to a financial institution in this State with the technological capacity to perform a match, the financial institution shall perform a match using the list of obligors' social security numbers provided by the department. The department is responsible for making its computer data compatible with the data of the financial institution with which a match is sought. The department's data, at a minimum, must include the full name and social security number of and the amount of overdue support owed by each obligor. The department may not request a financial institution to perform a match under this section more often than once every calendar year.

3. Compilation of match list. After completing a match requested by the department under subsection 2, a financial institution shall compile for the department a list of those depositors whose social security numbers match the list of social security numbers of obligors provided by the department. The list must contain the following information, if available to the financial institution through its matching procedure, for each account identified:

- A. The obligor's full name;
- B. The obligor's social security number;
- C. The financial institution account number; and
- D. The amount of deposits contained in the account, if available.

4. Notice to department. A financial institution that has compiled a match list under subsection 3 shall send the list to the department at the address designated by the department.

5. Notice to customer. The financial institution may not provide notice in any form to a depositor contained in a match list submitted to the department under subsection 4. Failure to provide notice to a depositor does not constitute a violation of the financial institution's duty of good faith to its customers.

6. Reasonable fee. To cover the costs of carrying out the requirements of this section, a financial institution may assess a reasonable fee to the department not to exceed the actual costs incurred by the financial institution.

7. Confidentiality. The list of obligors, with their social security numbers and the amount of the overdue support provided by the department to a financial institution is confidential. The information may be used only for the purpose of carrying out the requirements of this section. Knowing or intentional use of the information, without authorization from the department, is a civil violation for which a forfeiture not to exceed $1,000 may be adjudged.

8. Immunity from liability; hold harmless. A financial institution is immune from any liability for its good faith actions to comply with this section. The department shall defend and hold harmless, including compensation for attorney's fees, a financial institution that acts in good faith to carry out the requirements of this section.

9. Rulemaking. The department shall adopt rules to carry out this section.

10. Repeal. This section is repealed October 1, 1998.

Sec. 29. 22 MRSA §2761-B is enacted to read:

§2761-B. Hospital-based paternity acknowledgment

1. Birthing center. As used in this section, "birthing center" means a hospital or other facility that provides childbirth services.

2. Procedure. A birthing center shall provide an opportunity for all unmarried parents to complete a voluntary acknowledgement of paternity. A birthing center shall provide to each unmarried mother and alleged father, if present, written information about paternity establishment provided by the department, forms needed to voluntarily acknowledge paternity and the opportunity to speak with a person who is trained to clarify information and answer questions about paternity establishment. The birthing center shall forward all completed acknowledgement forms to the department.

3. Written information. The department shall develop an acknowledgement form and written information for use by birthing centers in carrying out the requirements of this section. The information must include a description of the benefits and responsibilities of paternity establishment. The information must include instructions on completing the acknowledgement form.

4. Technical assistance. The department shall provide birthing centers with training and technical assistance as needed to carry out the requirements of this section.

5. Reimbursement. The department may establish by rule a fee to reimburse birthing centers for each voluntary acknowledgement of paternity form completed.

6. Rulemaking. The department shall adopt rules to implement this section that comply with all applicable federal regulations.

These restrictions are in addition to those imposed by subsection 1. Upon request by the Department of Human Services under Title 22, section 3755-A, information provided by the Internal Revenue Service concerning the location of interest-bearing accounts in the names and

An Act to Exempt Food Banks from Sales Tax

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine as follows:

Sec. 1. 36 MRSA §1760, sub-§47, as enacted by PL 1983, c. 855, §7, is amended to read:

CHAPTER 421

H.P. 1058 - L.D. 1487

An Act Relating to Criminal Forfeitures

Emergency preamble. Whereas, Acts of the Legislature do not become effective until 90 days after adjournment unless enacted as emergencies; and

Whereas, the constitutional legitimacy of civil asset forfeitures has been challenged and the absence of an alternative criminal forfeiture procedure would significantly undermine the drug enforcement effort in the State; and

Whereas, the existing practice in many cases of instituting 2 actions, one criminal against individuals who violate the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 17-A, chapter 45 and one civil against property as a consequence of such violations or intended violations, often results in an unnecessary duplication of effort and a drain on scarce judicial, prosecutorial and law enforcement resources when both actions are actually part of a single, coordinated law enforcement effort; and

Whereas, this legislation authorizes prosecutors to institute both the criminal action against the individual and the forfeiture action against the subject property in one proceeding, minimizing both duplication and the impact upon judicial, prosecutorial and law enforcement resources; and

Whereas, this legislation does not expand the kind or nature of property that is subject to forfeiture either civilly or criminally; and

Whereas, in the judgment of the Legislature, these facts create an emergency within the meaning of the Constitution of Maine and require the following legislation as immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety; now, therefore,

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine as follows:

Sec. 1. 15 MRSA §§5826 and 5827 are enacted to read:

§5826. Criminal forfeiture

1. Property subject to criminal forfeiture.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a person convicted of a violation of Title 17-A, chapter 45 forfeits to the State all rights, privileges, interests and claims to property that is subject to forfeiture pursuant to section 5821. All rights, privileges, interest and title in property subject to forfeiture under this section vests in the State upon the commission of the act giving rise to forfeiture pursuant to section 5821.

2. Commencement of criminal forfeiture action. Property subject to forfeiture that is not yet the subject of a final order pursuant to section 5822, subsection 4 may be proceeded against by indictment or superseding indictment of the grand jury in any related criminal proceeding in which one or more persons with an interest in the property have been simultaneously indicted for one or more violations of Title 17-A, chapter 45. At any time prior to trial, the State, with the consent of the court and any defendant with an interest in the property, may file an ancillary charging instrument or information alleging that property is subject to criminal forfeiture. Upon commencement of a criminal forfeiture by indictment or information of any property that may be the subject of any pending civil action commenced pursuant to section 5822, the civil action must be immediately stayed and subrogated to the criminal forfeiture action. Discovery in the criminal action must be as provided for by the Maine Rules of Criminal Procedure.

3. Seizure upon indictment. Property subject to forfeiture that has been indicted by the grand jury pursuant to this section may be seized pursuant to section 5822, subsection 6, except that real property subject to forfeiture pursuant to section 5821, subsection 7 may not be seized without prior notice to and opportunity to be heard by all owners of record or upon a finding by probable cause that prior notice to one or more of the owners is likely to result in the destruction, diminution of value or alienation of interest of the property.

4. Bifurcated trial proceedings. Trial against property charged by indictment or information may be by jury and must be held in a single proceeding together with the trial of the related criminal violation. Forfeiture of the property must be proved by the State by a preponderance of the evidence. The court, in its discretion, may allow any defendant with an interest in property indicted pursuant to this section to waive the right to trial by jury as against the property while preserving the right to trial by jury of any crime alleged. At trial by jury, the court, upon motion of a defendant or the State, may separate the trial of the matter against the defendant from the trial of the matter against the property subject to criminal forfeiture. If the court bifurcates the jury trial, the court shall first instruct and submit to the jury the issue of the guilt or innocence of defendants to be determined by proof beyond a reasonable doubt and shall restrict argument of counsel to those issues. After a verdict upon the guilt or innocence of all defendants, the court shall instruct and submit to the jury the issue of the forfeiture of the property to be determined by proof by a preponderance of the evidence and the court shall restrict argument to those issues. A special verdict must be returned as to the extent of the interest or property subject to forfeiture, if any.

5. Ancillary hearing of 3rd-party interests. A person not charged in the indictment may not intervene in the criminal action. Following the entry of a verdict of forfeiture of property pursuant to this section or the entry of a guilty plea in open court on the record, the State shall provide written notice of its intent to dispose of the property to any person known to have alleged an interest in the property. The notice may be by certified, return receipt mail or as otherwise ordered by the court. Receipt by a person then licensed to operate a motor vehicle in the State is presumed when notice is mailed to the last known address of that person on file with the Secretary of State, Bureau of Motor Vehicles. A person other than the defendant asserting a legal interest in the property, within 30 days of the date of receipt of the notice, may petition the court for a hearing to adjudicate the validity of any alleged interest in the property. The hearing must be held before the court without jury. The request for the hearing must be signed by the petitioner under penalty of perjury and must state the nature and extent of the petitioner's right, title or interest in the property, the time and circumstances of the petitioner's acquisition of the right, title or interest in the property, any additional facts supporting the petitioner's claim and the relief sought. Upon the filing of any petition for hearing, the court shall schedule the hearing as soon as practicable but in no event later than 6 months or after the sentencing of any defendant convicted upon the same indictment. The court shall issue or amend a final order of forfeiture in accordance with its determination if, after the hearing, the court determines that the petitioner has established by a preponderance of the evidence that:

A. The petitioner has a legal right, title or interest in the property and the right, title or interest renders the order of forfeiture invalid in whole or in part because the right, title or interest was vested in the petitioner rather than in any defendant or was superior to any right, title or interest to the exclusion of any defendant at the time of the commission of the acts that gave rise to the forfeiture of the property under this section; or

B. The petitioner is a bona fide purchaser for value of the right, title or interest in the property and was at the time of purchase reasonably without cause to believe that the property was subject to forfeiture under this section.

6. Final order of disposition of property.

Following the entry of a verdict of forfeiture of property pursuant to this section or the entry of a guilty plea in open court on the record and following the court's disposition of all petitions for hearing timely filed by 3rd parties, the State has clear title to property that is the subject of the indictment or information and order of forfeiture and may order all or a portion of the property forfeited to the State to be disposed of pursuant to section 5822, subsection 4 and section 5824.

§5827. Construction

The provisions of this chapter must be liberally construed to effectuate its remedial purposes.

Emergency clause. In view of the emergency cited in the preamble, this Act takes effect when approved.

Effective July 3, 1995.

H.P. 152 - L.D. 200

An Act to Allow the Imposition of Any Term of Years or Life for Certain Attempted Murders

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine as follows:

Sec. 1. 17-A MRSA §152, sub-§4, as amended by PL 1977, c. 510, §§33 and 34, is further amended to read:

4. Criminal attempt is an offense classified as one grade less serious than the classification of the offense attempted, except that an attempt to commit a Class E crime is a Class E crime, and an attempt to commit murder is a Class A crime. The sentence for attempted murder is as authorized for a Class A crime if the court finds that the person engaged in the conduct constituting the substantial step while under the influence of extreme anger or extreme fear brought about by adequate provocation. Adequate provocation has the same meaning as in section 201, subsection 4. Absent that finding by the court, the sentence for attempted murder is as authorized for a Class A crime except that, notwithstanding section 1252, subsection 2, paragraph A, the court is authorized to set a definite period of imprisonment of any term of years or, with proper findings, life. The special penalty provision of life imprisonment may be imposed only if the court finds one or more of the following aggravating circumstances is in fact present:

A. The person's intent to kill was accompanied by premeditation-in-fact;

B. The person, at the time of the crime, intended to cause multiple deaths;

C. The person was previously convicted of criminal homicide or any other crime involving the use of deadly force against a person;

D. The attempted murder was accompanied by torture, sexual assault or other extreme cruelty inflicted upon the victim;

E. The attempted murder was committed in a penal institution by an inmate of that institution against another inmate or against prison personnel;

F. The attempted murder was committed against a law enforcement officer while the officer was acting in the performance of that officer's duties; or

G. The attempted murder was committed against a hostage.

H.P. 67 - L.D. 103

An Act to Grant Certain Federal Officers Limited Authority to Enforce Maine Law

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine as follows:

Sec. 1. 25 MRSA §1502-A is enacted to read:

§1502-A. Cooperation of federal officers

1. Definition. For purposes of this section, "federal officers" means the following persons who are authorized to carry firearms in the performance of their duties as federal law enforcement employees or officers:

A. Special Agents of the Immigration and Naturalization Service of the Department of Justice;

C. Border Patrol Agents of the Immigration and Naturalization Service of the Department of Justice;

D. Officers of the United States Customs Service of the Department of the Treasury; and

E. Any of the officers listed in this subsection who are assigned to or are acting in concert with a task force, but only if that task force meets the following requirements:

(1) The task force is a task force of the Maine Drug Enforcement Agency authorized under this Title; or

(2) The task force is a joint federal-state task force operating primarily within the territorial boundaries of this State and:

(a) An arrest is part of or related to an investigation of that federal-state task force; or

(ii) The arrest occurs anywhere within the State and the Attorney General or the Attorney General's written designee actively participates in and oversees the activities of the task force.

Federal officers are law enforcement officers for the purposes of Title 17-A, section 2, subsection 17.

2. Powers. Subject to suspension or revocation, without hearing, by the Attorney General or the Board of Trustees of the Maine Criminal Justice Academy, a federal officer has the power to enforce state law when one or more of the following situations exist.

A. The federal officer has an articulable and reasonable suspicion to believe that the person to be stopped has committed, is committing or is about to commit a state crime or has probable cause to believe that the person to be arrested has committed or is committing a state crime.

B. The federal officer is providing assistance to a state, county or municipal law enforcement officer in an emergency or at the request of the state, county or municipal law enforcement officer.

C. The federal officer has received information from an authoritative source that a state, county or municipal law enforcement officer holds a warrant for the person's arrest.

This section is not intended to limit the authority to enforce state law of any other federally employed, federal law enforcement officer or law enforcement officer of another state who, with the written consent of the Attorney General, has been sworn or otherwise cross-designated or cross-deputized as a state law enforcement officer.

3. Discretion to act. Federal officers may, but are not required to, enforce state law. This section is not intended to limit the existing authority of federal officers under federal law or to interfere with the performance of federal duties by federal officers.

4. Liability. A federal officer who is acting pursuant to this section has the same immunity from and limitation on tort liability as the State Police.

An Act to Increase Venture Capital Access to State Businesses

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine as follows:

Sec. 1. 10 MRSA §1026-N is enacted to read:

§1026-N. Maine Economic Development Venture Capital Revolving Investment Program

1. Established. The Maine Economic Development Venture Capital Revolving Investment Program, referred to in this section as the "program," is established to provide venture capital to businesses that need assistance in order to create or retain jobs. The Maine Economic Development Venture Capital Revolving Investment Program Fund, referred to in this section as the "fund," is established as a revolving fund, into which must be deposited all amounts appropriated to the program, interest and investment earnings on the fund and any amounts repaid to the program by participating venture capital funds.

2. Eligible venture capital funds. Money in the fund may be invested in one or more private, professionally managed venture capital funds located in the State capable of providing venture capital to businesses in order to create and protect jobs and with an established track record of management success and risk diversification. To be eligible for investments from the fund, a private venture capital fund must:

A. Apply to the authority. The application must describe the private venture capital fund and its funding sources, the region it serves, its methods and criteria for qualifying investments, including any targeted investing and economic development strategy, its expertise in venture capital assistance and investing in small and emerging businesses, the method by which it will leverage funds from other sources than those received from the fund and other information the authority determines necessary;

B. Have a strategy for the creation and retention of jobs, an effective small business marketing and technical assistance plan and enough expert assistance available to it to underwrite, document and service investments and to assist the businesses in which it invests;

C. Be determined by the authority to be able to prudently and effectively administer venture capital investments; and

D. Propose performance standards and goals and a process for monitoring compliance with proposed measurement and goals.

3. Disbursements from fund. If an application is approved, the authority shall determine the amount to be invested in the private venture capital fund, taking into account:

A. The size of the region served by the private venture capital fund and the expected demand for venture capital investments in that region; and

B. The demand for venture capital investments from other eligible private venture capital funds in relation to the total amount available in the fund and whether an eligible private venture capital fund will serve a geographic area or segment of potential businesses not served by other applicants.

Funds must be disbursed directly to and retained by the eligible private venture capital fund in accordance with a contract of investment between the private venture capital fund and the authority. All money invested in the private venture capital fund by the authority must be held in the name of the authority. Investment earnings on amounts invested by the authority must be credited to the authority and periodically paid to the authority.

4. Investment contract. A private venture capital fund that has been approved for participation in the program may enter into a contract with the authority. The contract governs the administration of the program and the use of funds. The contract must provide that a private venture capital fund shall, at a minimum, conform to the following terms and conditions:

A. The private venture capital fund shall certify that it will use funds only for eligible purposes;

B. An officer or employee of the private venture capital fund may not participate in any way in, or have any influence over, a decision on a project in which that officer, employee or member has a direct or indirect personal financial interest;

C. If the private venture capital fund breaches its contract with the authority or ceases to operate an investment program in substantial conformance with its proposal to the authority, the authority may require immediate repayment to the authority of any investment made to it from the fund; and

D. Other terms and conditions that the authority determines appropriate.

5. Administrative costs. A private venture capital fund may not use any money disbursed from the fund by the authority for administrative expenses or load charges. The authority shall review and approve a private venture capital fund's administrative expenses on an annual basis. The authority may establish by rule reasonable administrative fees for its administration of the fund.

6. Eligible investments. In order for a private venture capital fund to be eligible for venture capital investment under the program, it must invest at least 80% of its funds in businesses that meet all eligibility for a tax credit certificate pursuant to section 1100-T, subsection 2, paragraphs B and E.

7. Reports. A private venture capital fund shall report at least semiannually to the authority on the businesses in which the private venture capital fund invests and the administration of the program. The report must include a description of each business, the amount, type and terms of assistance the business received, the number of jobs that were created or retained and other information the authority requires. The report must contain an accounting of the investment portfolio and any investments that are in default, as well as an accounting of the private venture capital fund's administrative and technical assistance expenses incurred and charged.

8. Audit. The authority shall review annually each private venture capital fund's participation in the program and, in its discretion, may require an independent audit at the expense of the private venture capital fund. If the authority determines that a private venture capital fund has used funds for ineligible purposes, the private venture capital fund shall repay those funds to the authority for deposit into the fund.

9. Rules. The authority shall adopt rules governing the program pursuant to Title 5, chapter 375.

Sec. 2. 10 MRSA §1100-T, sub-§2, ¶D, as amended by PL 1991, c. 854, Pt. A, §8, is further amended to read:

D. The investment with respect to which any individual is applying for a tax credit certificate may not be more than an aggregate of $100,000 in any one business in any 3 consecutive calendar years, except that this paragraph does not limit other investment by any applicant for which that applicant is not applying for a tax credit certificate.

2-A. Eligibility of private venture capital funds for tax credit certificate. E. Each business receiving an investment from a private venture capital fund must have annual gross sales of $2,000,000 or less and the operation of the business must be the full-time professional activity of the principal owner, as determined by the authority. The principal owner and principal owner's spouse, parents, brothers, sisters and children are not eligible for a credit for investment in that business or the private venture capital fund.

F. Each investment received by a business from a private venture capital fund must be expended on plant maintenance and construction, equipment, research and development or working capital for the business or on such other business activity as may be approved by the authority.

G. The authority shall establish limits on repayment of the investment by an individual in and the investments made by a private venture capital fund. The investments must be at risk in the private venture capital fund and the business, respectively.

H. The investors qualifying for the credit must collectively own less than 1/2 of the private venture capital fund and less than 1/2 of any business in which an investment is made by the private venture capital fund.

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine as follows:

Sec. 1. 15 MRSA §2211-A, as amended by PL 1987, c. 402, Pt. A, §112, is repealed and the following enacted in its place:

§2211-A. Persons confined; hospitalization for mental illness

1. Prohibition. A person with serious mental illness may not be detained or confined solely because of that mental illness in any jail, prison or other detention or correctional facility unless that person is being detained or serving a sentence for commission of a crime.

2. Application for hospitalization required. A sheriff or other person responsible for any county or local detention or correctional facility who believes that a person confined in that facility is mentally ill and requires hospitalization shall apply, in writing, for the admission of that person to a hospital for the mentally ill, giving the reasons for requesting the admission. The application and certification must be in accordance with the requirements of Title 34-B, section 3863.

3. Terms of admission. A person with respect to whom application and certification are made may be admitted to a hospital for the mentally ill. Except as otherwise specifically provided in this section, Title 34-B, chapter 3, subchapter IV, articles I and III, except section 3868, are applicable to a person admitted under this section as if the admission were applied for under Title 34-B, section 3863.

4. No effect on sentence; jurisdiction retained. Admission of a person to a hospital under this section has no effect on a sentence then being served, on an existing commitment on civil process or on detention pending any stage of a criminal proceeding in which that person is the defendant, and the court having jurisdiction retains its jurisdiction. The sentence continues to run and any commitment or detention remains in force unless terminated in accordance with law.

5. Disposition of application and certification. A copy of the document by which a person is held in confinement, attested by the sheriff or other person responsible for any county or local detention or correctional facility, must accompany the application for admission. Following that person's admission to a hospital for the mentally ill under this section, a copy of the application and certification similarly attested must be filed with the court having jurisdiction over any civil or criminal case in which that person is the defendant. If a criminal proceeding is pending against the person admitted, the clerk of the court shall forward a copy of the application and certification to the attorney for the defendant and the attorney for the State.

6. Discharge from hospital. If the sentence being served at the time of admission has not expired or commitment on civil process or detention has not been terminated in accordance with law at the time the person is ready for discharge from hospitalization, that person must be returned by the sheriff or deputy sheriff of the county from which the person was admitted to the facility from which the person was admitted.

7. Transportation expenses. The county where the incarceration originated shall pay all expenses incident to transportation of a person between the hospital and the detention or correctional facility pursuant to this section.

8. Competency hearing. Admission to a hospital under this section may not be used to examine or observe a person for the purpose of a criminal proceeding pending in court. Before the trial of a defendant admitted for hospitalization under this section, the court may, at any time upon motion of the defendant's attorney or the attorney for the State or upon the court's own motion, hold a hearing with respect to the competence of that person to stand trial as provided in section 101-B and appropriate disposition may be made. The court's order following a hearing may terminate an admission effected under this section.

9. Alternative; voluntary commitment. If hospitalization is recommended by a licensed physician or licensed psychologist, a person confined in a county or local detention or correctional facility may apply for informal admission to a hospital for the mentally ill under Title 34-B, sections 3831 and 3832, in which case all other provisions of this section as to notice of status as an inmate of a county or local detention or correctional facility, notice to the court and counsel, transportation and expenses and the continuation and termination of sentence, commitment or detention apply. Except as otherwise provided in this section, the provisions of law applicable to persons admitted to a hospital for the mentally ill under Title 34-B, sections 3831 and 3832 apply to a person confined and admitted to a hospital for the mentally ill under those sections.

A-1. The requirements of subsection 3-A do not apply to a driver or passenger who has a medical condition that, in the opinion of a physician, warrants an exemption from the requirements of subsection 3-A and that medical condition and opinion are documented by a certificate from that physician. That certificate is valid for 5 years.

B. A person against whom enforcement action has been taken is not guilty of a subsequent violation of subsection 2 until 24 hours have elapsed from the date and time of the first violation indicated on the Violation Summons and Complaint.

C. A violation of ~~this section~~ subsection 2 is a traffic infraction. CHAPTER 433

An Act to Reduce the Amount of Good Time and Meritorious Good Time Available to Persons Sentenced to Terms of Imprisonment

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine as follows:

Sec. 1. 17-A MRSA §1252-B, as enacted by PL 1987, c. 808, §2, is repealed and the following enacted in its place:

§1252-B. Imposition of sentence; consideration of good time and meritorious good time at the time of sentencing

1. If a court imposes a sentencing alternative pursuant to section 1152 that includes a term of imprisonment, in setting the appropriate length of that term, as well as an unsuspended portion of that term, if any, the court shall consider the potential impact of deductions under section 1253, subsections 3, 3-B, 4 and 5.

2. For persons who commit crimes on or after October 1, 1995, section 1253, subsection 8 substantially reduces the statutory deductions available under subsections 3 and 3-B for good time and under subsections 4 and 5 for meritorious good time. The change is intended to ensure that the term of imprisonment imposed closely approximates what will in fact be served and to abandon administrative awards that have seriously imperiled the State's statutory scheme relative to authorized terms of imprisonment for murder under section 1251 and for crimes other than murder under section 1252, subsection 2. At the same time that it reduces these statutory deductions, however, the Legislature intends that the parties in requesting or recommending dispositions and the sentencing courts, who ultimately impose sentences, to the extent that they have imposed longer terms of imprisonment in an effort to compensate for the impact of substantial good time and meritorious good time deductions, must make, pursuant to this subsection, the necessary adjustments in their sentencing decisions in view of the substantially reduced deductions. Application of section 1253, subsection 8 to the sentencing process must be reflected in the imposition of shorter terms of imprisonment by courts.

Sec. 2. 17-A MRSA §1253, sub-§6-A, as amended by PL 1989, c. 104, Pt. C, §§8 and 10, is further amended to read:

6-A. When a judgment of conviction involving a term of imprisonment is vacated or a sentence involving a term of imprisonment is revised or reviewed and a new sentence involving a term of imprisonment is thereafter imposed upon the person for the same offense, day-for-day credit ~~shall~~ must be accorded on the new sentence both for each day the person served in execution of the initial sentence and for all previously earned deductions specified in subsections 4 ~~and~~ 5 ~~and~~ 8 and Title 30-A, section 1606. Prior to the day-for-day credit being given on the new sentence, the new sentence ~~shall~~ must, after first having been reduced by any deductions specified in subsection 2 previously or subsequently received, have applied to it the controlling deduction specified in either subsection 3 or 3-B, ~~if applicable~~.

Sec. 3. 17-A MRSA §1253, sub-§7, as enacted by PL 1983, c. 456, §8, is repealed and the following enacted in its place:

7. Notwithstanding the fact that subsections 3, 3-B and 4 directly address only persons who are committed to the custody of the Department of Corrections, they apply also to persons who are committed to the custody of a sheriff. Subsection 5 does not apply to persons who are committed to the custody of a sheriff.

Sec. 4. 17-A MRSA §1253, sub-§8 is enacted to read:

8. For any person who commits a crime on or after October 1, 1995 and is subsequently sentenced to a term of imprisonment for that crime, up to 5 days per calendar month may be deducted from that term, calculated from the date of commencement of that term as specified under subsection 1, whose conduct, participation in programs and fulfillment of assigned responsibilities during that month are such that the deduction is determined to be warranted in the discretion of the chief administrative officer of the state facility or the sheriff of the county jail.

A. Deductions under this subsection must be calculated as follows for partial calendar months:

Days of partial month	Maximum deduction available
1 to 6 days	up to 1
7 to 12 days	up to 2
13 to 18 days	up to 3
19 to 24 days	up to 4
25 to 31 days	up to 5

B. Any portion of the time deducted from the sentence of any person pursuant to this subsection may be withdrawn by the chief administrative officer of the state facility for a disciplinary offense or for the violation of any law of the State in accordance with Title 34-A, section 3032 and the rules adopted under that section, or by the sheriff of the county jail in accordance with jail disciplinary procedures. Deductions may be withdrawn for months already served or yet to be served by the person up to and including the maximum authorized for that sentence.

C. The chief administrative officer of the state facility or the sheriff of the county jail may restore any portion of deductions that have been withdrawn if the person's later conduct, participation in programs and fulfillment of assigned responsibilities are such that the restoration is determined to be warranted in the discretion of the chief administrative officer or sheriff.

D. This subsection supersedes subsections 3, 3-B, 4, 5 and 6 for persons who commit offenses on or after October 1, 1995.

Sec. 5. Appropriation. The following funds are appropriated from the General Fund to carry out the purposes of this Act.

Sec. 1. 29-A MRSA §531, sub-§6 is enacted to read:

6. Excise tax on commercial vehicles operated by nonresident owners. Nonresident owners of motor vehicles paying an apportioned registration fee to the State through the International Registration Plan shall pay to the Secretary of State an apportioned excise tax determined by multiplying the apportioned mileage percentage by the purchase price of the vehicle and by the appropriate mill rate for the model year as determined in Title 36, section 1482, subsection 1, paragraph C.

Sec. 2. 29-A MRSA §533 is enacted to read:

§533. Use of apportioned excise tax

A. Annually, between July 1st and September 30th, the Secretary of State shall disburse to each municipality a sum equal to the amount of excise revenue representing the difference between the excise tax that would have been collected using the manufacturer's list price and the excise tax actually collected on the purchase price of commercial motor vehicles subject to Title 36, section 1482, subsection 1, paragraph C, subparagraph (3). The Secretary of State shall provide supporting documentation to each municipality.

B. The Secretary of State shall request allocations in fiscal year 1997-1998 and annually thereafter in order to make the first disbursement by September 30, 1997.

C. Municipal participation in an excise reimbursement program is optional. Any municipality wishing to participate shall collect and provide to the Secretary of State any information the Secretary of State requires to calculate reimbursement.

Sec. 4. 36 MRSA §1482, sub-§1, ¶C, as amended by PL 1993, c. 297, Pt. B, §6 and affected by §7, is further amended to read:

C. For the privilege of operating a motor vehicle or camper trailer on the public ways, each motor vehicle, other than a stock race car, or each camper trailer to be so operated is subject to excise tax as follows, except as specified in subparagraph (3): a sum equal to 24 mills on each dollar of the maker's list price for the first or current year of model, 17 1/2 mills for the 2nd year, 13 1/2 mills for the 3rd year, 10 mills for the 4th year, 6 1/2 mills for the 5th year and 4 mills for the 6th and succeeding years. The minimum tax is $5 for a motor vehicle other than a bicycle with motor attached, $2.50 for a bicycle with motor attached, $15 for a camper trailer other than a tent trailer and $5 for a tent trailer. The excise tax on a stock race car is $5.

(1) On new registrations of automobiles, trucks and truck tractors, the excise tax payment must be made prior to registration and is for a one-year period from the date of registration.

(2) Vehicles registered under the International Registration Plan are subject to an excise tax determined on a monthly proration basis if their registration period is less than 12 months.

(3) For commercial vehicles manufactured in model year 1996 and after, the amount of excise tax due for commercial vehicles, as defined in Title 29-A, section 101, subsection 17, paragraph A and for special mobile equipment, as defined in Title 29-A, section 101, subsection 70, is based on the purchase price in the original year of title rather than on the list price. Verification of purchase price for the application of excise tax is determined by the initial bill of sale or the state sales tax document provided at point of purchase. The initial bill of sale is that issued by the dealer to the initial purchaser of a new vehicle.

~~For motor vehicles being registered in the International Registration Plan, the excise tax must be prorated for the number of months in the registration. If the registration period is for more than 12 months, for the number of months in excess of 12 the next mill rate is used.~~

The reserve must equal the excess of the present value of future benefits promised under the continuing care agreement over the present value of future revenues and any other available resources, based on conservative actuarial assumptions. The provider shall provide every 3 years to the superintendent an actuarial valuation or statement of actuarial opinion as to the adequacy of the reserve, signed by a qualified actuary, that, based on reasonable assumptions, the continuing care retirement community's assets, including the present value of estimated future maintenance fees and any other available resources, are at least equal to the present value of estimated future liabilities.

Unless otherwise approved by the superintendent, the actuarial opinion must be based on reasonable assumptions with the following provisions and margins.

A. The liabilities of a continuing care retirement community must include, but not be limited to:

(1) An amount equal to the present value of future health care expenses guaranteed pursuant to the continuing care contract; and

(2) The liabilities under this section must be calculated for the continuing care retirement community population existing on the valuation date under assumptions that, in the actuary's opinion, fairly represent the expected value of future costs and population decrements adjusted by the margins specified in paragraph B.

B. Margins required to be included in the valuation assumptions to be added to the actuary's best estimate assumptions are as follows.

(1) Health care costs per resident or per health care facility bed must be assumed to increase at a rate at least one percentage point higher than the general inflation rate.

(2) A mortality margin of 5% must be subtracted from that assumed for active residents and 10% subtracted from those in the health care facilities.

(3) A health care utilization margin of 5% must be added to the assumed rates at which residents require permanent transfer to a health care facility.

(4) The discount rate used to calculate present values may not be more than 2 1/2 percentage points higher than the rate used in the valuation of long-term life insurance contracts to be issued in the year of valuation in this State.

(5) All other assumptions must include margins that are adequate in the opinion of the actuary.

The superintendent may adopt reasonable rules further defining the standards contained in this section.

The statement must be verified by either the provider's president or vice-president, and either the secretary or actuary, as applicable, or in the absence of the foregoing, by 2 other principal officers.

The superintendent may adopt rules that prescribe accounting standards applicable to statements filed pursuant to this section. These rules may permit or require any provider to conform its financial presentations to the standards of preparation prescribed in the accounting practices and procedures manual of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners.

Sec. 33. 24-A MRSA §6227 is enacted to read:

§6227. Rights of residents

1. Individual rights. All residents of continuing care retirement communities have the following rights:

A. The right to self-organize;

B. The right to be represented by an individual of their own choice;

C. The right to engage in concerted activities for their own purposes;

(7) Acknowledgment that a resident is entitled to a "bill of rights" including methods of resolving resident complaints and freedom from abuse, neglect and the use of chemical and physical restraints;

(9) Recognition of a resident's transfer rights under section 6228.

The department may adopt reasonable rules further defining the rights contained in this subsection. Nothing in this subsection affects the rights of nursing facility residents or residential care residents as currently provided by state or federal law or regulation.

2. Meetings with provider. A provider must be available for meetings with residents and their representatives at least once every 3 months. These meetings are for the purpose of providing a forum for free and open discussion of any point the residents or the provider wishes to discuss. At least 2 weeks' notice of each meeting must be given to residents.

Sec. 34. 24-A MRSA §6228 is enacted to read:

§6228. Transfer of residents

A resident of a continuing care retirement community may be transferred to a residential care unit or a bed within the skilled nursing facility under the following conditions:

1. Written consent. With the written consent of the resident or the resident's authorized representative; or

2. Health or safety danger. Upon a finding that the resident poses a health or safety danger to other residents or a change in a resident's health status or abilities necessitates a move to a higher level of care. A decision to transfer or change a resident's accommodations may be made only after extended consultation between the provider's interdisciplinary team, including, but not limited to, medical personnel, social workers and therapists of the community, and the resident, the resident's treating physician and the resident's family or other representative. The decision may also consider all reasonable care alternatives. A written decision to transfer or change a resident's accommodations must describe why the resident's health care needs can not be met at the resident's present location. The resident may appeal this determination to the department pursuant to rules prescribed by the department.

Sec. 35. Application. Any provider holding a preliminary or final certificate of authority or both as of the effective date of this Act is subject only to the provisions of the law in effect prior to October 1, 1994.

Activities that alter less than 4,300 square feet of freshwater wetlands and that do not occur in, on or over another protected natural resource, except that any activity occurring within a shoreland zone regulated by a municipality pursuant to chapter 3, subchapter I, article 2-B is not exempt. An activity qualifies for exemption under this section only if the entire activity qualifies, including all phases of a multiphased project taken as a whole. Activities authorized or legally conducted prior to the effective date of this subsection are not considered in calculating the size of the alteration.

18. Service drops for telephone or electrical service. Vegetative clearing of a freshwater wetland for the installation of telephone or electrical service, if:

A. The line extension does not cross or run beneath a coastal wetland, river, stream or brook;

B. The placement of wires or installation of utility poles is located entirely upon the premises of the customer requesting service, upon a roadway right-of-way or, in the case of telephone service, on existing utility poles; and

C. The total length of the extension is less than 1,000 feet.

Sec. 7. 38 MRSA §480-X is enacted to read:

§480-X. Alterations of freshwater wetlands

An application for a permit to undertake activities altering freshwater wetlands must be processed by the department using the review process described in this section.

1. Application. This section does not apply to activities otherwise qualifying for reduced review procedures, such as permits by rule or general permits; activities exempt from review under another section of this article; or activities involving protected natural resources other than freshwater wetlands, such as great ponds, coastal wetlands and rivers, streams or brooks.

2. Three-tiered review process; tiers defined. Except as provided in subsection 1, an application for a permit to undertake activities altering freshwater wetlands must be reviewed in accordance with the following.

A. A Tier 1 review process applies to any activity that involves a freshwater wetland alteration up to 15,000 square feet and does not involve the alteration of freshwater wetlands listed in subsection 4.

B. A Tier 2 review process applies to any activity that involves a freshwater wetland alteration of 15,000 square feet up to one acre and does not involve the alteration of freshwater wetlands listed in subsection 4 or 5.

C. A Tier 3 review process applies to any activity that involves a freshwater wetland alteration of one acre or more or an alteration of a freshwater wetland listed in subsection 4 or 5.

If the project as a whole requires Tier 2 or Tier 3 review, then any activity that is part of the overall project and involves a regulated freshwater wetland alteration also requires the same higher level of review, unless otherwise authorized by the department.

In determining the amount of freshwater wetland to be altered, all components of a project, including all phases of a multiphased project, are treated together as constituting one single and complete project. Activity authorized or legally conducted prior to the effective date of this section is not included.

The standards of section 480-D do not apply to projects that qualify for Tier 1 or Tier 2 review, except that water quality standards under section 480-D, subsection 5 apply to those projects. Projects that meet the eligibility requirements for Tier 1 or Tier 2 review and that satisfy the permitting requirements set forth in subsection 3, 6 or 7, as applicable, are presumed not to have significant environmental impact.

3. General requirements. A person undertaking an activity for which a permit is processed pursuant to this section must satisfy the requirements of this subsection.

A. An applicant for Tier 1 or Tier 2 review must meet the following requirements.

(1) Alteration of freshwater wetland areas on the property must be avoided to the extent feasible considering cost, existing technology and logistics based on the overall purpose of the project.

(2) The area of the freshwater wetland to be altered must be limited to the minimum amount necessary to complete the project.

(3) Erosion control measures must be used to prevent sedimentation of protected natural resources. A 25-foot buffer strip must be maintained between the activity and any river, stream or brook.

(4) The activity must comply with applicable water quality standards pursuant to section 480-D, subsection 5.

B. An applicant for Tier 1, Tier 2 or Tier 3 review for projects that would alter wetland hydrology and could also alter stream flows or other adjacent surface waters, must comply with the water quality classification standards contained in section 465.

4. Projects not eligible for Tier 1 or Tier 2 review. The following activities are not eligible for Tier 1 or Tier 2 review unless the department determines that the activity will not negatively affect the freshwater wetlands and other protected natural resources present:

A. Activities located within 250 feet of:

(1) A coastal wetland; or

(2) The normal high-water line, and within the same watershed, of any lake or pond classified as GPA under section 465-A;

B. Activities occurring in freshwater wetlands, other than artificial ponds or impoundments, containing under normal circumstances at least 20,000 square feet of aquatic vegetation, emergent marsh vegetation or open water;

C. Activities occurring in freshwater wetlands that are inundated with floodwater during a 100-year flood event based on flood insurance maps produced by the Federal Emergency Management Agency or other site-specific information;

D. Activities occurring in freshwater wetlands containing significant wildlife habitat that has been mapped, identified or defined, as required pursuant to section 480-B, subsection 10, at the time of the filing by the applicant;

E. Activities occurring in peatlands dominated by shrubs, sedges and sphagnum moss, except that applications proposing work in previously mined peatlands may be considered by the department for Tier 1 or Tier 2 review, as applicable; or

F. Activities occurring within 25 feet of a river, stream or brook.

The department shall inform the applicant in writing within the review period specified in subsection 6 or 7 if the proposed project does not qualify for Tier 1 or Tier 2 review processing and shall explain permitting options if the applicant wishes to pursue the project. The department is responsible for providing information necessary to establish whether the types of wetlands described in paragraphs D and E will be affected by the proposed activity. Unless the applicant knowingly or willfully provided incomplete or false information to the department, if the department does not notify the applicant that the proposed project does not qualify for Tier 1 or Tier 2 review, the project is deemed to be qualified for Tier 1 or Tier 2 review, as applicable.

5. Additional projects not eligible for Tier 2 review. An activity in freshwater wetlands containing a natural community that is imperiled (S1) or critically imperiled (S2), as defined by the Natural Areas Program pursuant to Title 5, section 13076 is not eligible for Tier 2 review unless the department determines that the activity will not negatively affect the freshwater wetlands and other protected natural resources present.

6. Application process for Tier 1 review activities. Applications for Tier 1 review are governed by this subsection.

A. The application must be sent by certified mail or hand-delivered to the department. The application must include:

(1) The application fee;

(2) The project location on a United States Geological Survey map;

(3) A description of the project, including a drawing showing the area of freshwater wetland to be filled or otherwise altered and areas of any marsh or open water within the freshwater wetland; and

(4) A signed statement averring that all of the requirements of subsection 3 will be met, that the activity will not occur in a wetland area described in subsection 4 and that a copy of the application has been submitted by the applicant for public display to the municipal office of the municipality in which the project will be located.

B. Work may not occur until 30 days after the department receives a complete application, unless written approval is issued sooner by the department. The department shall notify the applicant in writing no later than 30 days after the department receives a complete application if the applicable requirements of this section have not been met. If the department has not notified the applicant within the 30-day review period, a permit is deemed to be granted.

C. Fees for Tier 1 review may not exceed the following:

(1) For projects up to 5,000 square feet, $35;

(2) For projects from 5,000 square feet up to 10,000 square feet, $75; and

(3) For projects from 10,000 square feet up to 15,000 square feet, $150.

7. Application process for Tier 2 review. Applications for Tier 2 review are governed by this subsection.

A. An application form must be submitted, with the application fee, to the department and include the following information:

(1) Documentation that public notice has been provided of the proposed project in accordance with department rules;

(2) A United States Geological Survey map showing the project location;

(3) Written certification by a knowledgeable professional experienced in wetland science that the project will not alter, or cause to be altered, a wetland described in subsection 4 or 5;

(4) A top view drawing of the entire project, including existing and proposed fill, excavation, roads and structures; cross-sectional drawings of any fill or excavated areas; delineation of the wetland boundaries and calculated area of freshwater wetlands affected; description of existing vegetation on the project site; identification of any surface water bodies within 100 feet of the proposed alteration; and a drawing of the 25-foot buffer strip between the project and any river, stream or brook;

(5) A soil erosion and sedimentation control plan;

(6) For work in previously mined peatlands, information on the past mining activity, including the approximate dates of the mining activity, the area and depth to which peat has been excavated from the site, any restoration work on the site and the current condition of the site;

(7) A statement describing why the project can not be located completely in upland areas and any alternatives that exist for the project that would either avoid or minimize the amount of proposed freshwater wetland alteration; and

(8) A plan for compensating for lost functions and values of the freshwater wetland when required by, and in accordance with, rules adopted by the department.

B. Work may not occur until 60 days after the department has received a complete application for processing, unless written approval is issued sooner by the department. The department shall notify the applicant in writing within 60 days of the department's receipt of a complete application whether the applicable requirements of this section have been met. If the department has not notified the applicant within the 60-day review period, a permit is deemed to be granted.

C. Fees for Tier 2 review must be set in accordance with the department's fee schedule for freshwater wetland alterations under the natural resources protection laws.

8. Application process for Tier 3 review.

Applications for Tier 3 review are governed by this subsection.

A. An application form must be submitted to the department that contains all the information required for Tier 2 review, in addition to any information determined by the department to be necessary to meet the requirements of section 480-D and rules adopted by the department.

B. Written approval from the department is required before work may begin.

C. Fees for Tier 3 review are set in accordance with the department's fee schedule for freshwater wetland alterations under the natural resources protection laws.

Sec. 8. 38 MRSA §490-D, sub-§5-A, as enacted by PL 1995, c. 287, §11, is amended to read:

5-A. Protected natural resources. A natural buffer strip must be maintained between the working edge of an excavation and a river, stream, brook, great pond, ~~freshwater wetland~~ or coastal wetland as defined in section 480-B. A natural buffer strip must also be maintained between the working edge of an excavation and certain freshwater wetlands as defined in section 480-B and having the characteristics listed in paragraph B. Any excavation activities conducted within 100 feet of a protected natural resource requires a must comply with the applicable permit requirement under article 5-A. The width requirements for natural buffer strips are as follows.

A. A natural buffer strip at least 100 feet wide must be maintained between the working edge of the excavation and the normal high water line of a great pond classified as GPA or a river flowing to a great pond classified as GPA.

B. A natural buffer strip at least 75 feet wide must be maintained between the working edge of the excavation and any other water body, stream, brook or ~~Class I or Class II wetland, as defined in 06-096-CMR 310.~~ coastal wetland, significant wildlife habitat contained within a freshwater wetland or a freshwater wetland consisting of or containing:

(1) Under normal circumstances, at least 20,000 square feet of aquatic vegetation, emergent marsh vegetation or open water, except for artificial ponds or impoundments; or

(2) Peatlands dominated by shrubs, sedges and sphagnum moss.

~~C. A natural buffer strip at least 25 feet wide must be maintained between the working edge of the excavation and a Class III wetland, as defined in 06-096 CMR 310.~~

For purposes of this subsection, the width of a natural buffer strip is measured from the upland edge of floodplain wetlands; if no floodplain wetlands are present, the width of the natural buffer strip is measured from the normal high water mark of a great pond, river, stream, brook or upland edge of a wetland.

Sec. 9. Allocation. The following funds are allocated from the Maine Environmental Protection Fund to carry out the purposes of this Act.

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION, DEPARTMENT OF Maine Environmental Protection Fund
All Other	$13,037	$17,383
Allocates funds to cover the increased costs of administering changes in the wetlands permitting process.

Sec. 10. Evaluation period. From the effective date of this Act to October 1, 1997, the Department of Environmental Protection shall monitor the effectiveness of the regulatory program established in the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 38, section 480-X. The department shall provide an interim report by February 1, 1997 and a final report by January 1, 1998 to the joint standing committee of the Legislature having jurisdiction over natural resource matters. The reports must include information on the number of applications submitted for review, the average amount of time required to process each application, the amount and type of freshwater wetlands altered, the extent of compliance with permit standards and an assessment of the overall effectiveness of the program in terms of increased efficiency, equivalent or enhanced protection of freshwater wetlands, increased cost-effectiveness and opportunity for public involvement in the regulatory process, as well as whether the program is simpler and more easily understood than wetlands regulation was before the program was put in place. The reports must include recommendations on any changes needed to the program, including any resource needs or new application review periods based on this information.

In addition, the Department of Environmental Protection, in conjunction with the State Planning

Office, shall coordinate with the United States Army Corps of Engineers and state and federal resource agencies, including the United States Fish and Wildlife Service, to develop procedures and schedules that will expedite Tier 3 review to the extent practicable and to develop a streamlined cranberry cultivation general permit. A report of the department's coordination efforts must be submitted to the Legislature with the evaluation reports.

By January 1, 1996, the Department of Environmental Protection shall supply to the joint standing committee of the Legislature having jurisdiction over natural resource matters copies of all rules adopted or proposed to be adopted pursuant to this Act, including all rules concerning mitigation.

By February 1, 1996, the Department of Environmental Protection shall provide to the joint standing committee of the Legislature having jurisdiction over natural resource matters a report that discusses the effects the tier thresholds established under the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 38, section 480-X on the structure of any programmatic general permit issued by the United States Army Corps of Engineers and whether greater streamlining of the permitting process could be obtained through changes in the tier thresholds. The report must also include a thorough critique of this entire Act, including identification of any provisions that need further clarification or otherwise require amendment in order to achieve a fully streamlined process. The report must include draft legislation to achieve any recommended changes.

Sec. 11. Committee authorized to report out legislation. The joint standing committee of the Legislature having jurisdiction over natural resource matters may report out legislation concerning wetlands regulation to the Second Regular Session of the 117th Legislature or the First Regular Session of the 118th Legislature.

Sec. 12. Application. This Act:

1. Does not apply to an activity that occurred prior to the effective date of this Act and for which a permit was required under the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 38, chapter 3, subchapter I, article 5-A prior to the effective date of this Act;

2. Does not apply to an activity for which a permit was not required under the Maine Revised States, Title 38, chapter 3, subchapter I, article 5-A prior to the effective date of this Act, but is required under this Act if the activity began prior to the effective date of this Act; and

3. With the exception of those sections of this Act that amend the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 38, section 480-Q, subsection 6 and enact Title 38, section

480-Q, subsection 17, does not apply to an activity performed or caused to be performed on or after the effective date of this Act if the person performing the activity, or causing the activity to be performed, was in possession of applicable federal, state or local licenses prior to the effective date of this Act.

H.P. 1095 - L.D. 1539

An Act to Permit a One-time Transfer of Retained Funds for Community Corrections Programs

Emergency preamble. Whereas, Acts of the Legislature do not become effective until 90 days after adjournment unless enacted as emergencies; and

Whereas, the counties have not been fully reimbursed for the costs of care of state prisoners in county jails; and

Whereas, without full reimbursement, the counties are burdened by the continuing costs of jail operations incurred by housing state prisoners; and

Whereas, a one-time proportionate transfer of retained funds for community corrections programs to offset some of these county jail costs would greatly aid certain counties; and

Whereas, in the judgment of the Legislature, these facts create an emergency within the meaning of the Constitution of Maine and require the following legislation as immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety; now, therefore,

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine as follows:

Sec. 1. 34-A MRSA §1210, sub-§4, as amended by PL 1989, c. 127, §1, is further amended to read:

4. Verification of commitment; actual days served. As a condition of reimbursement, the department shall require the county to submit appropriate documentation verifying the court commitment and the actual number of days served for each prisoner for which reimbursement is requested. Documentation ~~shall~~ must include, but is not ~~be~~ limited to:

A. An invoice provided by the Department of Corrections, completed by the county, listing all prisoners for which reimbursement is requested for the quarter;

B. One copy of the actual Court Judgment and Commitment Order, including class of crime, for each prisoner listed in the invoice submitted;

C. One copy of each Release Date Computation Sheet showing the actual number of days served by each prisoner included in the invoice submitted; and

D. By February 1st of each calendar year, ~~the county shall provide,~~ in a format provided by the ~~Department of Corrections~~ department, a copy of actual expenditures for the support of prisoners for the previous calendar year. The Department of Audit shall establish, in consultation with the counties and the ~~Department of Corrections~~ department, a uniform system of accounting for the support of prisoners for the counties pursuant to its authority in Title 5, section 243 and consistent with the requirements of this section. No county may be reimbursed after July 1, 1987, until it has implemented the uniform accounting system for the expenditure for support of prisoners.

In any fiscal year in which the actual amount appropriated for reimbursement to counties is less than the reimbursable costs the department projects, the department, notwithstanding the other provisions of this subsection, may reimburse counties prior to receiving the documentation required quarterly under this subsection.

Sec. 2. 34-A MRSA §1210, sub-§6-A, as amended by PL 1993, c. 517, §1, is further amended to read:

6-A. Funds to be used for community corrections programs. Thirty percent of all funds claimed by each county for reimbursement under this section must be retained by the department until the county demonstrates that the retained funds will be used for community corrections programs, as described in subsection 1, paragraph B, that are developed as part of a comprehensive local plan approved by the commissioner. One half of the retained funds must be retained until the county demonstrates that the funds will be used for adult programs, and 1/2 of the retained funds must be retained until the county demonstrates that the funds will be used for juvenile programs. All funds retained by the department under this subsection not released by the end of the year may not lapse, but must be carried forward into subsequent years, with each county's funds carried over for that county. A county may shift funds from the funds retained and available for adult programs pursuant to this subsection to juvenile diversion programs. All funds not committed by any county after 3 years from the date the county's claim is approved by the department must be placed by the department in a pool from which supplementary funds periodically must be made available to all counties on a competitive basis. Annually, by September 1st, the commissioner shall submit to the joint standing committee of the Legislature having jurisdiction over corrections matters a report of the activity in the prior fiscal year of the funds retained under this subsection, including the following:

- A. The amount retained from each county;
- B. The amount of any funds that have been carried over from previous fiscal years for each county;
- C. The amount released to each county; and
- D. The specific programs for which funds were released for each county, including an indication of whether each program serves juveniles or adults.

During fiscal year 1995-96, the department shall distribute to the counties all retained funds that are committed or uncommitted by June 30, 1995 under this subsection. The amount each county receives is its proportionate share based on the amount owed to that county as compared to the total amount owed to all counties.

Emergency clause. In view of the emergency cited in the preamble, this Act takes effect when approved.

Effective July 3, 1995.

CHAPTER 462

Whereas, Acts of this and previous Legislatures have resulted in certain technical errors and inconsistencies in the laws of Maine; and

Whereas, these errors and inconsistencies create uncertainties and confusion in interpreting legislative intent; and

Whereas, it is vitally necessary that these uncertainties and this confusion be resolved in order to prevent any injustice or hardship to the citizens of Maine; and

§1285. Definitions

As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise indicates, the following terms have the following meanings.

1. Current net price. "Current net price" means the price listed in the supplier's price list or catalog in effect at the time the dealer agreement is terminated, less any applicable discounts allowed.

2. Dealer. "Dealer" means a person, corporation or partnership primarily engaged in the business of retail sales of farm and utility tractors, farm implements, farm machinery, yard and garden equipment, attachments, accessories and repair parts. "Dealer" does not include a person, corporation or partnership primarily engaged in the business of retail sales of heavy construction, industrial and utility equipment, attachments, accessories and repair parts.

3. Dealer agreement. "Dealer agreement" means a written or oral contract or agreement between a dealer and a wholesaler, manufacturer or distributor by which the dealer is granted the right to sell or distribute goods or services or to use a trade name, trademark, service mark, logotype or advertising or other commercial symbol.

4. Inventory. "Inventory" means farm, utility or industrial equipment, implements, machinery, yard and garden equipment, attachments or repair parts. These terms do not include heavy construction equipment.

5. Net cost. "Net cost" means the price the dealer paid the supplier for the inventory, less all applicable discounts allowed, plus the amount the dealer paid for freight costs from the supplier's location to the dealer's location, plus reasonable cost of assembly or disassembly performed by the dealer.

6. Supplier. "Supplier" means a wholesaler, manufacturer or distributor of inventory as defined in this chapter who enters into a dealer agreement with a dealer.

§1286. Usage of trade

The terms "utility" and "industrial," when used to refer to equipment, machinery, attachments, yard and garden equipment or repair parts, have the meanings commonly used and understood among dealers and suppliers of farm equipment as usage of trade in accordance with Title 11, section 1-205, subsection 2.

§1287. Notice of termination of dealer agreements

1. Notice of termination. Notwithstanding any agreement to the contrary, prior to the termination of a dealer agreement, a supplier shall notify the dealer of the termination not less than 90 days prior to the effective date of the termination. The supplier may immediately terminate the agreement at any time upon the occurrence of any of the following events:

A. The filing of a petition for bankruptcy or for receivership either by or against the dealer;

B. The making by the dealer of an intentional and material misrepresentation as to the dealer's financial status;

C. Any default by the dealer under a chattel mortgage or other security agreement between the dealer and the supplier;

D. Discontinuance by the dealer of more than 50% of the dealer's business related to the handling of goods provided by the supplier;

G. Withdrawal of an individual proprietor, partner, major shareholder or the involuntary termination of the manager of the dealership or a substantial reduction in the interest of a partner or major shareholder without the prior written consent of the supplier; or

H. Breach by the dealer of a written obligation contained in the agreement.

2. Time of notice. Unless there is an agreement to the contrary, a dealer who intends to terminate a dealer agreement with a supplier shall notify the supplier of that intent not less than 90 days prior to the effective date of the termination.

3. Notice in writing. Notification required by this section must be in writing and be made by certified mail or by personal delivery and must contain:

A. A statement of intention to terminate the dealer agreement;

B. A statement of the reasons for the termination; and

C. The date on which the termination is effective.

§1288. Supplier's duty to repurchase

1. Repurchase. Whenever a dealer enters into a dealer agreement under which the dealer agrees to maintain an inventory, and the agreement is terminated by either party as provided in this chapter, the supplier, upon written request of the dealer filed within 30 days of the effective date of the termination, shall repurchase the dealer's inventory as provided in this chapter. There is no requirement for the supplier to repurchase inventory pursuant to this section if:

A. The supplier and dealer have made a written agreement with respect to repurchase;

B. The dealer has made an intentional and material misrepresentation as to the dealer's financial status;

C. The dealer has defaulted under a chattel mortgage or other security agreement between the dealer and supplier; or

D. The dealer has filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy.

2. Death of dealer. Whenever a dealer enters into a dealer agreement in which the dealer agrees to maintain an inventory and the dealer or the majority stockholder of the dealer, if the dealer is a corporation, dies or becomes incompetent, the supplier shall, at the option of the heir, personal representative, or guardian of the dealer, or the person who succeeds to the stock of the majority stockholder, repurchase the inventory as if the agreement had been terminated. The heir, personal representative, guardian or succeeding stockholder has one year from the date of the death of the dealer or majority stockholder to exercise the option under this chapter.

§1289. Repurchase terms

1. Examination of records. Within 90 days from receipt of the written request of the dealer, a supplier under the duty to repurchase inventory pursuant to section 1288 may examine any books or records of the dealer to verify the eligibility of any item for repurchase. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, the supplier shall repurchase from the dealer all inventory previously purchased from the supplier in the possession of the dealer on the date of termination of the dealer agreement.

2. Payment terms. The supplier shall pay the dealer:

A. One hundred percent of the net cost of all new and undamaged and complete farm, utility and industrial equipment, implements, machinery, yard and garden equipment and attachments, less a reasonable allowance for deterioration attributable to weather conditions at the dealer's location;

B. Ninety percent of the current net prices of all new and undamaged repair parts; and

C. Eighty-five percent of the current net prices of all new and undamaged superseded repair parts.

3. Return costs. The party that initiates the termination of the dealer agreement shall pay the cost of the return, handling, packing and loading of the inventory.

4. Payment date. Payment to the dealer required under this section must be made by the supplier not later than 60 days after receipt of the inventory by the supplier. The supplier is entitled to apply any payment required under this section to be made to the dealer, as a setoff against any amount owed by the dealer to the supplier.

§1290. Exceptions to repurchase requirement

1. Exceptions. The provisions of this chapter do not require the repurchase from a dealer of:

A. A repair part with a limited storage life or otherwise subject to physical or structural deterioration including, but not limited to, gaskets or batteries, but excluding industrial "press on" or industrial pneumatic tires;

B. A single repair part normally priced and sold in a set of 2 or more items;

C. A repair part that, because of its condition, can not be marketed as a new part without repackaging or reconditioning by the supplier or manufacturer;

D. An item of inventory for which the dealer does not have title free of all claims, liens and encumbrances other than those of the supplier;

E. Any inventory that the dealer elects to retain;

F. Any inventory ordered by the dealer after receipt of notice of termination of the dealer agreement by either the dealer or supplier;

G. Any inventory that was acquired by the dealer from a source other than the supplier; or

H. Any farm, utility or industrial equipment, implements, machinery, yard and garden equipment or attachments that were purchased by the dealer more than 30 months prior to the termination of the dealer agreement.

§1291. Transfer of business

1. Transfer. A supplier may not unreasonably withhold or delay consent to any transfer of the dealer's business or transfer of the stock or other interest in the dealership, whenever the dealer to be substituted meets the material and reasonable qualifications and standards required of its dealers. If a supplier determines that a proposed transferee does not meet its qualifications and standards, it shall give the dealer written notice thereof, stating the specific reasons for withholding consent. A prospective transferee may not be disqualified from being a dealer because it is a publicly held corporation. A supplier has 45 days to consider a dealer's request to make a transfer under this subsection.

2. Withhold consent. Notwithstanding subsection 1, no supplier may withhold consent to, or in any manner retain a right of prior approval of, the transfer of the dealer's business to a member or members of the family of the dealer or the principal owner of the dealer. As used in this subsection, "family" means and includes the spouse, parent, siblings, children, stepchildren and lineal descendants, including those by adoption of the dealer or principal owner of the dealer.

3. Assume obligations. Whenever a transfer of a dealer's business occurs, the transferee shall assume all the obligations imposed on and succeed to all the rights held by the selling dealer by virtue of any agreement, consistent with this chapter, entered into prior to the transfer between the selling dealer and one or more suppliers.

4. Burden of proof. In any dispute as to whether a supplier has denied consent in violation of this section, the supplier has the burden of proving a substantial and reasonable justification for the denial of consent.

§1292. Uniform commercial practice

1. Security interest. Nothing contained in this chapter may be construed to release or terminate a perfected security interest of the supplier in the inventory of the dealer.

§1293. Warranty obligations

1. Payment of warranty claim. Whenever a supplier and a dealer enter into an agreement providing consumer warranties, the supplier shall pay any warranty claim made by the dealer for warranty parts or service within 30 days after its receipt and approval. The supplier shall approve or disapprove a warranty claim within 30 days after its receipt. If a claim is not specifically disapproved in writing within 30 days after its receipt, it is deemed to be approved and payment must be made by the supplier within 30 days.

2. Indemnity. Whenever a supplier and a dealer enter into a dealer agreement, the supplier shall indemnify and hold harmless the dealer against any judgment for damages arising from breach of warranty or rescission of the sale by the supplier.

§1294. Remedies

1. Jurisdiction. Concurrent jurisdiction under this chapter is in the District Court or Superior Court of the city or county where the dealer has its principal place of business. The court may grant equitable relief as is necessary to remedy the effects of conduct that it finds to exist and is prohibited under this chapter, including, but not limited to, declaratory judgment and injunctive relief.

2. Recovery. In addition to any other remedies available at law or in equity, if a supplier has attempted or accomplished an annulment, cancellation or termination, or refused to continue or renew an agreement without good cause or withheld or delayed consent in violation of section 1287 or 1291, then the dealer is entitled to recover losses and damages, together with the cost of the action and reasonable legal fees. These damages include compensation for the value of the agreement and the good will of the dealer's business.

3. Arbitration. Nothing contained in this section may bar the right of an agreement to provide for binding arbitration of disputes. Any arbitration must be consistent with the provisions of this chapter and Title 14, chapter 706, and the place of any arbitration must be in the city or county in which the dealer maintains the dealer's principal place of business in the State.

4. Renewal of agreement. No supplier may cancel, terminate or refuse to continue to renew an agreement during the 90-day period set forth in section 1287 or during the pendency of litigation or arbitration, except under the conditions set forth in section 1287, subsection 1.

§1295. Management

A supplier may not require or prohibit any change in management or personnel of any dealer unless the current or potential management or personnel fails to meet reasonable qualifications and standards required by the supplier for its dealers.

§1296. Waiver of chapter void

The provisions of this chapter are deemed to be incorporated in every agreement and supersede and control all other provisions of the agreement. A supplier may not require any dealer to waive compliance with any provision of this chapter. Any contract or agreement purporting to do so is void and unenforceable to the extent of the waiver or variance. Nothing in this chapter may be construed to limit or prohibit good faith settlements of disputes voluntarily entered into between the parties.

§1297. Applicability

This chapter applies to agreements in effect as of October 1, 1989. In addition, this chapter applies to any agreements entered into after October 1, 1989. The provisions of this chapter are also applicable to any renewal or amendment of the agreements.

§1298. Reasonableness and good faith

1. Good faith. Every agreement entered into under this chapter imposes on the parties the obligation to act in good faith.

2. Reasonableness. This chapter imposes on every term and provision of any agreement a requirement of reasonableness. Every term or provision of any agreement must be interpreted so that the requirements or obligations imposed are reasonable.

Such lien shall may not be applied or considered valid against anyone coming under the former Workers' Compensation Act in this State or the Maine Workers' Compensation Act of 1992, and nothing enacted by this chapter shall may be construed so as to give such lien precedence over the claim or contract of an attorney for legal services rendered with respect to the claim of the injured party nor shall may this lien be applicable to any accident or health insurance policy, or the proceeds from the same, owned by or running to the benefit of the injured person.

That notice must include a statement indicating the standard or standards for which the applicant is claiming an exemption.

B. Sec. A-77. 38 MRSA §1310-F, sub-§2, as amended by PL 1993, c. 621, §6 and repealed and replaced by c. 732, Pt. C, §15, is repealed and the following enacted in its place:

2. Eligibility. A municipality that owns, rents or leases a solid waste landfill for which obligations are required or permitted by this chapter or rules adopted under this chapter is eligible for cost-sharing grants or reimbursement payments. In order to receive reimbursement pursuant to this section, the municipality must, at a minimum, provide such reasonable proof of municipal expenditures as the department may require, as well as certification signed by the municipal officers that, to the best of their knowledge and the knowledge of all the pertinent municipal officials, the closure activities were performed in accordance with the applicable standards established by section 1310-E-1. A municipality that has spent funds to close its solid waste landfill or to remedy environmental and public health hazards posed by the landfill prior to the adoption of a closure or remediation plan under this subchapter or that closed a landfill or remediated environmental or public health hazards posed by a landfill is also eligible for reimbursement of closure or remediation costs incurred after February 1, 1976, as long as the closure or remediation actions were in conformance with all applicable laws or rules in effect at the time. Costs incurred by closure or remediation actions taken after the adoption of a closure or remediation plan under this subchapter are eligible for reimbursement only if those actions conform to that plan. Grant or reimbursement payments may not be made to a municipality for a portion of payments to settle civil or criminal judgments against that municipality for damages or injuries caused by the landfill. In addition, for landfills in operation prior to January 1, 1993, grant payments may not be made to a municipality for remediation to mitigate a threat posed by that landfill to structures built after January 1, 1994 by that municipality, the county in which that municipality is located, a school administrative unit as defined in Title 20-A, section 1, a quasi-municipal corporation as defined in Title 30-A, section 2351 or a special district as defined in Title 30-A, section 5704 that includes any portion of the municipality unless the commissioner determines that the municipality could not have reasonably anticipated the threat. Any interest paid by a municipality prior to reimbursement on a municipal bond or commercial bank note issued to raise funds for remediation and closure activities is a cost eligible for reimbursement under this section. Unless otherwise directed by the terms of a bond issue approved by the voters, the commissioner shall use at least 1/3 of the funds approved by the voters for municipalities eligible for reimbursement of closure and remediation costs eligible under this subsection until all those municipalities have been reimbursed. The remainder of the available funds must be allocated in an equitable manner so that, at a minimum, an adequate cap is constructed over all identified high-risk landfills subject to closure. The department shall issue, upon the request of a municipality, a notice in writing that projects to a date certain the availability of cost-sharing funds for which the municipality is eligible. The inability or failure of the department to issue a written projection to a date certain means that the cost-sharing funds are not available for the foreseeable future. A landfill that is privately owned and operated is not eligible for reimbursement under this subchapter.

A. The commissioner may act to abate public health, safety and environmental threats at sites identified as uncontrolled hazardous substance sites under section 1362, subsection 3 or at federally declared Superfund sites. Notwithstanding any other provision of this article, the commissioner shall determine the amount of funds expended at those sites.

B. The commissioner may enter into contracts with the Maine Municipal Bond Bank to manage bonds issued under this article, as long as the management fee structure does not allow dilution of the bond principal.

C. In a circumstance where the department finds that further closure or remediation activities are required for a landfill because the landfill was not closed in accordance with the standards of closure that the municipal officers certified to the department pursuant to this subsection and further finds that the certification was a negligent misrepresentation of a material fact results in the ineligibility of the municipality for cost sharing for the additional activities that may be required as a result of the nonperformance of the previously certified activities.

D. A municipality that is eligible or authorized by the department to use the closing procedure established in section 1310-E-1, subsection 1, 2 or 3 is not eligible for reimbursement of costs associated with closing activities that are more stringent than the minimum required by that section unless those additional activities are approved in writing by the department.

Sec. A-78. 38 MRSA §1364, sub-§5, ¶¶A and B, as enacted by PL 1993, c. 621, §7, are amended to read:

A. Neither the commissioner nor any responsible party is obligated under this ~~subchapter~~ chapter to reimburse any person for the expense of treating or replacing the well if the well is installed in an area delineated by the department as contaminated as provided in section 548, subsection 1; and

B. The obligation of the commissioner or any responsible party under this ~~subchapter~~ chapter with regard to replacement or treatment of the well is limited to reimbursement of the expense of installing the well and its proper abandonment if the well is installed in an area other than one described in paragraph A. The well owner is responsible in such a case for other expenses of replacing or treating the water supply well, including the cost of any pump or piping installed with the well.

impaired as to interfere substantially with the client's capacity to remain in the general prison population without supportive treatment or services of a long-term or indefinite duration, as determined by the facility's psychiatrist or psychologist;

CHAPTER 463

H.P. 806 - L.D. 1123

An Act to Ensure That Rulemaking by Agencies Does Not Exceed the Intent of Authorizing Legislation

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine as follows:

Sec. 1. 5 MRSA §8052, sub-§1, as amended by PL 1977, c. 694, §34-A, is further amended to read:

1. Notice; public hearing. Prior to the adoption of any rule, the agency shall give notice as provided in section 8053 and may hold a public hearing, provided that a public hearing ~~shall be~~ is held if otherwise required by statute or requested by any 5 interested persons.

A public meeting or other public forum held by an agency for any purpose that includes receiving public comments on a proposed agency rule is a public hearing and is subject to all the provisions of this subchapter regarding public hearings. This paragraph does not require compliance with this subchapter when an agency holds an informal meeting for the purpose of gathering public input prior to developing or deciding whether to proceed with development of a proposed rule.

Sec. 2. 5 MRSA c. 375, sub-c. II-A is enacted to read:

SUBCHAPTER II-A

RULEMAKING PROCEDURES GOVERNING RULES AUTHORIZED AND ADOPTED AFTER JANUARY 1, 1996

§8071. Legislative review of certain agency rules

Except as otherwise provided in this subchapter, rules adopted pursuant to rule-making authorization delegated to an agency after January 1, 1996 are subject to the procedures of this subchapter and subchapter II.

1. Legislative action. All new rules authorized to be adopted by delegation of legislative authority that are enacted after January 1, 1996, including new rules authorized by amendment of provisions of laws in effect on that date, must be assigned by the Legislature to one of 2 categories and subject to the appropriate level of rule-making procedures as provided in this subchapter. The Legislature shall assign the category and level of review to all rules at the time it enacts the authorizing legislation. The Legislature may assign different categories and levels of review to different types of rules authorized by the same legislation.

2. Categories of rules. There are 2 categories of rules authorized for adoption after January 1, 1996.

A. Routine technical rules are procedural rules that establish standards of practice or procedure for the conduct of business with or before an agency and any other rules that are not major substantive rules as defined in paragraph B. Routine technical rules include, but are not limited to, forms prescribed by an agency; they do not include fees established by an agency except fees established or amended by agency rule that are below a cap or within a range established by statute.

B. Major substantive rules are rules that, in the judgment of the Legislature:

(1) Require the exercise of significant agency discretion or interpretation in drafting; or

(2) Because of their subject matter or anticipated impact, are reasonably expected to result in a significant increase in the cost of doing business, a significant reduction in property values, the loss or significant reduction of government benefits or services, the imposition of state mandates on units of local government as defined in the Constitution of Maine, Article IX, Section 21, or other serious burdens on the public or units of local government.

3. Levels of rule-making process. In order to provide for maximum agency flexibility in the adoption of rules while retaining appropriate legislative oversight over certain rules that are expected to be controversial or to have a major impact on the regulated community, each agency rule authorized and adopted after January 1, 1996 is subject to one of 2 levels of rule-making requirements.

A. Routine technical rules are subject to the rule-making requirements of subchapter II only.

B. Major substantive rules are subject to the requirements of section 8072. After January 1, 1996, any grant of general or specific rule-making authority to adopt major substantive rules is considered to be permission only to provisionally adopt those rules subject to legislative review. Final adoption may occur only after legislative review of provisionally adopted rules as provided in section 8072.

The establishment or amendment of an agency fee by rulemaking is a major substantive rule, except for the establishment or amendment of a fee that falls under a cap or within a range set in statute, which is a routine technical rule.

§8072. Legislative review of major substantive rules

As provided in section 8071, major substantive rules are subject to an increased level of rule-making requirements. The rule-making requirements of subchapter II for routine technical rules apply to the adoption of major substantive rules, except that the 120-day period for adoption and the 150-day period for approval as to form and legality under section 8052, subsection 7, paragraphs A and B apply to provisional adoption of major substantive rules, not final adoption. In addition to the other rule-making requirements, every major substantive rule is also subject to legislative review as provided in this section.

1. Preliminary adoption of major substantive rules. An agency proposing a major substantive rule other than an emergency rule, after filing the notice of proposed rulemaking required by section 8052, shall proceed with rule-making procedures to the point of, but not including, final adoption. At that point, known in this section as "provisional adoption," the agency shall submit the rule to the Legislature for review and authorization for final adoption as provided in this section. The rule has legal effect only after review by the Legislature followed by final adoption by the agency.

2. Submission of materials. At the time an agency provisionally adopts a rule, the agency shall submit to the Executive Director of the Legislative Council 20 copies of:

A. The full text of the rule provisionally adopted by the agency with new language underlined and with language to be deleted from any existing rule stricken through but clearly legible;

B. A concise summary of the content of the rule and a description and a copy of any existing rule the agency proposes to amend or repeal;

C. A statement of the circumstances that require the rule;

D. A statement of the economic impact of the rule on the State and its residents; and

E. Any other information required by law.

3. Assignment to committee of jurisdiction.

Upon receipt of the required copies of the provisionally adopted rule and related information, the Executive Director of the Legislative Council shall determine the joint standing committee of the Legislature that has jurisdiction over the subject matter of the proposed rule and shall send the information to each member of that committee. Each rule submitted for legislative review must be reviewed by the appropriate joint standing committee at a meeting called for that purpose in accordance with legislative rules. A committee may review more than one rule and the rules of more than one agency at a meeting. The committee shall notify the affected agency of the meeting on its proposed rules.

4. Committee review. The committee shall review each provisionally adopted rule and, in its discretion, may hold public hearings on that rule. A public hearing under this subsection must be advertised in the same manner as required by legislative rules then in effect for advertisement of public hearings on proposed legislation. The committee's review must include, but is not limited to, a determination of:

A. Whether the agency has exceeded the scope of its statutory authority in approving the provisionally adopted rule;

B. Whether the provisionally adopted rule is in conformity with the legislative intent of the statute the rule is intended to implement, extend, apply, interpret or make specific;

C. Whether the provisionally adopted rule conflicts with any other provision of law or with any other rule adopted by the same or a different agency;

D. Whether the provisionally adopted rule is necessary to fully accomplish the objectives of the statute under which the rule was proposed;

E. Whether the provisionally adopted rule is reasonable, especially as it affects the convenience of the general public or of persons particularly affected by it;

F. Whether the provisionally adopted rule could be made less complex or more readily understandable for the general public; and

G. Whether the provisionally adopted rule was proposed in compliance with the requirements of this chapter and with requirements imposed by any other provision of law.

5. Committee recommendation. After reviewing the rule, the committee shall recommend:

A. That the Legislature authorize the final adoption of the rule;

B. That the Legislature authorize the final adoption of a specified part of the rule;

C. That the Legislature authorize the final adoption of the rule with certain specified amendments; or

D. That the final adoption of the rule be disapproved by the Legislature.

The committee shall notify the agency proposing the rule of its recommendation. When the committee makes a recommendation under paragraph B, C or D, the notice must contain a statement of the reasons for that recommendation.

6. Draft legislation. When the committee recommends that a rule be authorized in whole or in part by the Legislature, the committee shall instruct its nonpartisan staff to draft a bill authorizing the adoption of all or part of the rule and incorporating any amendments the committee desires.

7. Consideration by the Legislature. No later than 30 days before statutory adjournment of the Legislature as provided in Title 3, section 2, each joint standing committee of the Legislature shall submit to the Secretary of the Senate and the Clerk of the House of Representatives the committee's report on agency rules the committee has reviewed as provided in this section. The report must include a copy of the rule or rules reviewed, the committee's recommendation concerning final adoption of the rule or rules, a statement of the reasons for a recommendation to withdraw or modify the rule or rules and draft legislation for introduction in that session that is necessary to implement the committee's recommendation. A committee may decline to include in its report recommendations covering any rules submitted to it later than 45 days before statutory adjournment. If, before adjournment of the session at which a rule is reviewed, the Legislature fails to act on all or part of any rule submitted to it for review in accordance with this section, an agency may proceed with final adoption and implementation of the rule or part of the rule that was not acted on.

8. Final adoption; effective date. Unless otherwise provided by law, final adoption of a rule by an agency must occur within 60 days of the effective date of the legislation approving that rule or of the adjournment of the session at which that rule is reviewed if no legislation is enacted. Finally adopted rules must be filed with the Secretary of State as provided in section 8056, subsection 1, paragraph B and notice must be published as provided in section 8056, subsection 1, paragraph D. An agency rule authorized by the Legislature becomes effective 30 days after filing with the Secretary of State or at a later date specified by the agency.

9. Consideration at special session. If appropriate, the committee recommendation regarding an agency rule or rules may be submitted to and considered by a special session of the Legislature.

§8073. Emergency major substantive rules

Major substantive rules are subject to the emergency rule-making procedures required under subchapter II, except that a major substantive rule adopted on an emergency basis after the deadline for submission to the Legislature for review under section 8072 may be effective for up to 12 months or until the Legislature has completed review as provided in that section. After the expiration of the emergency period, an emergency rule may not be adopted except in the manner provided by section 8072.

§8074. Federally mandated rules

Major substantive rules that must be adopted to comply with federal law or regulations or to qualify for federal funds and over the adoption of which the agency exercises no option or discretion are not subject to the legislative review requirement of this subchapter unless they impose requirements or conditions that exceed the federal requirements. An agency must file notice of the adoption of major substantive rules that are required by federal law and that do not exceed federal requirements with the Legislature in the same manner as it files notice of proposed rules under section 8053-A.

Sec. 3. Administrative rules inventory; report. Upon completion of the inventory of agency administrative rules provided in Executive Order 6 FY 94/95, the Governor shall submit a report on the results of that inventory, including recommended actions to ensure that rules are updated periodically and that rules comply with legislative intent, and on efforts to codify rules in a standard format and to provide electronic access to those rules. The Governor shall submit the report to the Joint Standing Committee on State and Local Government by January 31, 1996.

H.P. 268 - L.D. 370

An Act to Strengthen the General Fund's Unappropriated Surplus

Emergency preamble. Whereas, Acts of the Legislature do not become effective until 90 days after adjournment unless enacted as emergencies; and

Whereas, current law allows numerous transfers from the General Fund's unappropriated surplus or other available balances to certain reserve, contingency and special expenditure accounts; and

Whereas, many of these transfers were funded at the end of fiscal year 1993-94 only due to receivables "booked" in June 1994; and

Whereas, this practice erodes the General Fund's cash flow position; and

Whereas, the General Fund's unappropriated surplus, approximately $163,100,000 at the end of fiscal year 1988-89, was only $3,800,000 at the end of fiscal year 1993-94; and

Whereas, without instituting changes, these year-end transfers will take place at the end of this fiscal year; and

Whereas, in the judgment of the Legislature, these facts create an emergency within the meaning of the Constitution of Maine and require the following legislation as immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety; now, therefore,

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine as follows:

Sec. 1. 5 MRSA §1507, next to the last ¶, as amended by PL 1993, c. 410, Pt. QQQ, §4, is repealed.

§6431-A. Trap limit

1. Limit. Except as provided in subsection 2, it is unlawful for the holder of a Class I, Class II or Class III license issued under section 6421 to have more than 1,200 traps submerged in the coastal waters of the State.

2. Trap limit exception. The holder of a Class I, Class II or Class III license issued under section 6421 who documents to the commissioner that the license holder had an average of more than 1,200 traps submerged in the coastal waters of the State in calendar year 1994 and calendar year 1995 has until March 1, 2003 to reduce that average number of traps to 1,200 or less. At a minimum, the license holder must divide the average number of submerged traps in excess of 1,200 by the number 7 and, starting in calendar year 1996, annually reduce the number of traps by the resulting number.

3. Effective date. This section takes effect March 1, 1996.

§6431-B. Tag system

By March 1, 1996, the commissioner shall establish by rule a lobster trap tag system under which lobster and crab fishing license holders must purchase tags for the purpose of identifying and tracking traps. The rules must contain provisions for replacing lost tags. The commissioner may impose a per-tag fee to cover the cost of trap tags, the costs of administering and enforcing a lobster trap tag system and the costs associated with lobster management policy councils and referenda pursuant to section 6447. Trap tag fees must be deposited in the Lobster Management Fund established under section 6431-C.

§6431-C. Lobster Management Fund

§6431-D. Boat trap limit

1. Boat limit. Except as provided in subsection 2, it is unlawful to tend more than 1,200 traps from a boat in the coastal waters of the State.

2. Exception. Two or more holders of Class I, Class II or Class III licenses issued under section 6421 who harvest lobsters from the same boat may collectively tend more than 1,200 traps from that boat if the license holders:

A. Document to the commissioner the average number of traps the license holders fished from the boat in the coastal waters of the State in calendar year 1995 and that average number exceeds 1,200.

(1) When license holders qualify under this paragraph, the trap limit for the boat in calendar year 1996 is the average number of traps the license holders fished from the boat in the coastal waters of the State in calendar year 1994 and calendar year 1995. The number of traps fished from the boat must be reduced to 1,200 or less by March 1, 2003. The commissioner may determine by rule a method for proportionally reducing the number of traps fished from a boat; or

B. Document to the commissioner that the license holders fished an average of more than 1,200 traps from a boat in the coastal waters of the State in calendar year 1994 and calendar year 1995 and are family members. (1) When license holders qualify under this paragraph, the trap limit for the boat is the product of 1,200 multiplied by the number of license holders who are family members documented under this paragraph who continue to harvest lobsters from the boat in calendar year 1996 and consecutive calendar years thereafter. A license holder who is a family member documented under this paragraph and who does not harvest lobsters from the boat in calendar year 1996 or any subsequent calendar year may not harvest lobsters from the boat.

The rules adopted by the commissioner must accurately reflect the intent of the rules proposed by the lobster management policy council, but are not required to be a verbatim rendition of the proposed rules. The rules adopted under this section may regulate only the following:

- B. The number of lobster traps allowed on a trawl; and
- C. The time of day when lobster fishing may occur.

5. Council authority. Upon approval in a referendum under subsection 6, a lobster management policy council may propose to the commissioner regulations for a zone to place the following limitations on lobster and crab fishing license holders that fish in that zone, provided the proposed limitations are stricter than the limitations under section 6431-A, 6439, 6439-A or 6440:

- B. The number of lobster traps allowed on a trawl; and
- C. The time of day when lobster fishing may occur.

6. Referendum on policy proposals. A lobster management policy council must submit proposed regulations to referendum in the zone in which the regulations would apply before submitting those proposed regulations to the commissioner. A lobster management council may submit proposed regulations to the commissioner if the proposed regulations are approved by 2/3 of those voting in the referendum.

7. Council member and voter qualifications. A person may not be a member of a zone's lobster management policy council or vote in a zone's council election or referendum unless that person:

- A. Possesses a Class I, Class II or Class III lobster and crab fishing license issued under section 6421; and
- B. Declared at the time of obtaining a Class I, Class II or Class III license the zone in which the person predominantly harvests lobsters. For the purposes of this subsection, a person may declare only one zone as the zone in which the person predominantly harvests lobsters.

The holder of a lobster and crab fishing license issued under section 6421 may fish for lobsters in any zone.

8. Role of advisory council. Notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary, the commissioner may adopt rules under this section without the advice and consent of the Marine Resources Advisory Council.

Sec. 9. 12 MRSA §6451, sub-§8 is enacted to read:

B. It is an affirmative defense to prosecution under this subsection that the defendant sold cigarettes, cigarette paper or any other tobacco product to a person under 18 years of age who furnished fraudulent proof of age.

2. Prohibition; false identification, purchase, possession and use by juveniles; forfeitures. It is unlawful for any person under 18 years of age to offer false identification in an attempt to purchase any tobacco products or to purchase, possess or use cigarettes, cigarette paper or any other tobacco product. Any person who violates this section commits a civil violation for which the following forfeitures may be adjudged.

Signs required by this section may be provided at cost by the department. Any person who violates this subsection commits a civil violation for which a forfeiture of not less than $50 nor more than $200 may be adjudged for any one offense.

§1555-A. Identification cards

A licensee may refuse to sell tobacco to any person who fails to display upon request an identification card issued under Title 5, section 88-A or a motor vehicle operator's license bearing the photograph of the operator and issued under Title 29-A.

§1556. Municipal regulation

Except as otherwise provided in this section, nothing in this chapter affects the authority of municipalities to enact ordinances or regulations that are more restrictive than this chapter. §1556-A. Enforcement

The provisions of this chapter may be enforced by law enforcement officers as defined by Title 17-A or by individuals hired by contract with the department to enforce this law.

1. Contract officers. The authority of contract officers hired under this chapter is limited to enforcement of this Act. Authorization to enforce this chapter is granted by the Commissioner of Public Safety, by terms mutually agreed upon between the department and the Department of Public Safety. Contract officers must have an appropriate background in law enforcement. Contract officers are exempt from ongoing training requirements except as otherwise determined by the Commissioner of Public Safety. These contract officers are not considered law enforcement officers for the purposes of enforcing the Maine Juvenile Code.

2. Enforcement of violations. Enforcement may be carried out by written summons pursuant to Title 17-A and also by complaint filed in either District Court or in Administrative Court. The District Court has jurisdiction over enforcement of civil violations and section 1555.

3. Injunction. If the person licensed to sell tobacco products has engaged in or is about to engage in any act or practice that violates this chapter, the Administrative Court may grant a permanent or temporary injunction, restraining order or other order as appropriate.

SUBCHAPTER III

FINES, REVOCATION AND SUSPENSION

§1557. Jurisdiction; Administrative Court

1. Jurisdiction. The Administrative Court, pursuant to the Maine Administrative Procedure Act, shall conduct hearings on all matters concerning violations by tobacco licensees of any state law related to tobacco sales. Notwithstanding Title 5, chapter 375, subchapter VI, the Administrative Court Judge has exclusive jurisdiction over all violations of this chapter by licensees and their agents when no criminal penalty is provided.

2. Powers. The Administrative Court may impose fines or suspend or revoke licenses in accordance with this chapter.

§1557-A. Imposition of penalties; causes

The Administrative Court may impose fines or revoke or suspend licenses for the following causes:

1. Violation of law or infraction of rule. Violation of state law or rule related to the sale of tobacco products; or

2. False material statement. Knowingly making a false material statement of fact in an application for licensure of the sale of tobacco products.

§1558. Revocation or suspension procedure

1. Violation of law or rule. Upon discovering a violation of state law or rule related to retail tobacco sales, the commissioner or the commissioner's designee shall:

A. Report the violation to the Administrative Court in a signed complaint; or

B. Issue warnings to the licensees involved.

2. Notice and hearing. Except as provided under subsection 7, upon receipt of a signed complaint prepared under subsection 1, paragraph A, the Administrative Court shall notify the licensee and hold a hearing according to the following procedures.

A. The Administrative Court shall notify the licensee by serving the licensee with a copy of the complaint and a notice that states the time and place of the hearing and that the licensee may appear in person or be represented by counsel at the hearing. Service of the complaint and hearing notice is sufficient when sent by registered or certified mail at least 7 days before the date of the hearing to the address given by the licensee at the time of application for a license.

B. The Administrative Court shall conduct a hearing limited to the facts, laws and rules specified in the complaint.

C. The Administrative Court shall conduct the hearing in the following manner.

(1) The Administrative Court may subpoena and examine witnesses, administer oaths and subpoena and compel the attendance of parents and legal guardians of unemancipated minors.

(a) The department shall pay to the witnesses the legal fees for travel and attendance, except that, notwithstanding Title 16, section 253, the department is not required to pay the fees before the travel and attendance occur.

(2) Hearsay testimony is not admissible during the hearing. The licensees named in the complaint have the right to have all witnesses testify in person at the hearing.

(3) The Administrative Court shall state in writing the findings and decision in each case based on the facts, laws and rules cited in the complaint. The findings must specify the facts found and the laws or rules violated.

3. Suspension or revocation decision. The Administrative Court shall issue the decision in writing within 12 days of the hearing.

4. Suspension of penalty; case on file. After the hearing, the Administrative Court may:

A. Suspend a penalty; or

B. Place a case on file instead of imposing a penalty.

5. Application of suspension or revocation. A suspension or revocation applies to premises and persons in the following manner.

A. If a licensee is interested directly or indirectly in more than one license, suspensions apply only to the premises where the violation occurs.

B. If a licensee is interested directly or indirectly in more than one license, the Administrative Court may order that a revocation apply to any of those premises or machines.

C. If the licensee is a corporation, the Administrative Court shall treat the officers, directors and substantial stockholders as individuals.

6. Term of suspension or revocation. Suspensions must be for a definite period of time. If the Administrative Court revokes a license, the court shall specify when the department may reinstate a license to the person whose license is revoked.

7. Warnings. Upon the written recommendation of the commissioner, or the commissioner's designee, the Administrative Court, instead of notifying a licensee against whom a complaint is pending to appear for hearing, may send the licensee a warning. Warnings must be sent by registered or certified mail and contain a copy of the complaint. A licensee to whom a warning is sent may demand a hearing by notifying the Administrative Court by registered or certified mail within 10 days from the date the warning was mailed.

8. Fines. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Title, the Administrative Court may impose on a licensee a fine of a specific sum of not less than $50 nor more than $1,500 for any one offense. The fine is independent of any fine or forfeiture adjudged under subchapter I or II and may be imposed instead of or in addition to any suspension or revocation of a license.

A. The Administrative Court shall maintain a record of all fines received by the court. Any fines received must be credited as follows: 1/2 to the Department of Human Services in the account established in section 1552, subsection 4 and 1/2 to a nonlapsing account to be distributed twice a year to law enforcement agencies. §1558-A. Record of proceedings; transcript

1. Court record. The Administrative Court shall keep a full and complete record of all proceedings before the court of any enforcement actions or on the revocation and suspension of any license issued by the department. The Administrative Court is not required to have a transcript of the testimony prepared unless required for rehearing or appeal.

2. Notice to department. The Administrative Court shall forward to the department notice of final disposition of all proceedings conducted pursuant to this subchapter. The department shall maintain the records of the proceedings for at least 5 years. Annually, the department shall report a summary of the types and number of cases heard and the dispositions of the cases to the Office of Substance Abuse.

3. Notice to defendant. Notice of the decision of the Administrative Court must be sent to the defendant by certified mail to the address given by the licensee to the department.

§1559. Appeal decision of Administrative Court

1. Aggrieved person may appeal within 30 days. A person aggrieved by the decision of the Administrative Court in imposing any forfeiture or fine or in revoking or suspending a license issued by the department or by refusal of the department to issue a license applied for may appeal to the Superior Court by filing a complaint within 30 days of the decision or refusal.

A. The 30-day period for appeal begins on:

(1) The effective date of the suspension or revocation in the case of a license revocation or suspension; or

(2) The day when the department sends notice of refusal, by registered or certified mail, to the applicant for a license in the case of refusal by the department to issue a license.

B. Filing the complaint in Superior Court suspends the running of the 30-day period.

2. Suspension or revocation suspended pending appeal. If the licensee files an appeal in the Superior Court and notifies the Administrative Court that the appeal has been filed within 7 days of the mailing of the decision of the Administrative Court required in section 1558-A, subsection 3, the operation of a suspension or revocation of a license imposed by the Administrative Court must be suspended, pending judgment of the Superior Court.

3. Superior Court hearing. The Superior Court shall fix a time and place for an immediate hearing and notify the Administrative Court of the hearing.

4. Superior Court decision. After the hearing, the Superior Court may affirm, modify or reverse the decision of the Administrative Court.

5. Further appeal. An aggrieved person may appeal the Superior Court decision to the Supreme Judicial Court. Upon appeal, the Supreme Judicial Court, after consideration, may reverse or modify any decree made by the Superior Court based upon an erroneous ruling or finding of law.

§1559-A. Transfer of funds

The Department of Human Services shall transfer from the account established in section 1552, subsection 4, an amount mutually agreed upon by the commissioner and the State Court Administrator to be the Judicial Department costs of implementing this chapter. The agreed upon amount must be transferred to a nonlapsing Judicial Department account to defray administrative costs. CHAPTER 471

An Act Concerning the Participation of Teachers of Adult Education in the Maine State Retirement System

Mandate preamble. This measure requires one or more local units of government to expand or modify activities so as to necessitate additional expenditures from local revenues but does not provide funding for at least 90% of those expenditures. Pursuant to the Constitution of Maine, Article IX, Section 21, two thirds of all of the members elected to each House have determined it necessary to enact this measure.

Emergency preamble. Whereas, Acts of the Legislature do not become effective until 90 days after adjournment unless enacted as emergencies; and

Whereas, current law requires part-time, seasonal and temporary state employees, including adult education teachers, to be members of the Maine State Retirement System; and

Whereas, that requirement creates financial and other hardships for certain part-time, uncertified adult education teachers that must be addressed through legislation; and

Whereas, legislation taking effect July 1, 1995 is necessary to address the hardships created by current law; and

Whereas, in the judgment of the Legislature, these facts create an emergency within the meaning of the Constitution of Maine and require the following legislation as immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety; now, therefore,

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine as follows:

Sec. 1. 5 MRSA §17001, sub-§42, ¶B, as repealed and replaced by PL 1989, c. 878, Pt. D, §4, is amended to read:

B. Any employee of a public school who fills any position not included in paragraph A, the principal function of which is to introduce new learning to students, except that an employee who is employed in adult education as defined in Title 20-A, section 8601-A, subsection 1 and who is not otherwise covered by the definition of teacher defined in this subsection may not be considered a teacher for purposes of this Part;

Sec. 2. 5 MRSA §17154, sub-§6, ¶E, as enacted by PL 1993, c. 387, Pt. A, §7 and c. 482, §3, is repealed and the following enacted in its place:

E. Notwithstanding this section, the employer retirement costs related to the retirement system applicable to those teachers whose funding is provided directly or through reimbursement from private or public grants must be paid by local school systems from those funds. "Public grants" does not include state or local funds provided to school administrative units under Title 20-A, chapters 315 and 606.

Sec. 3. 5 MRSA §17154, sub-§6, ¶F is enacted to read:

F. Notwithstanding this section, effective September 1, 1993, the employer retirement cost related to the retirement system, less the unfunded liability, applicable to a teacher who is permitted to continue to accrue service credit while on released time and serving as president of a recognized or certified collective bargaining agent representing teachers must be paid from funds provided by the collective bargaining agent or school administrative unit. For purposes of this paragraph, in computing the employer cost, "earnable compensation" means the amount that the teacher would have earned if the teacher had remained in a teaching position.

Sec. 4. Application. The exclusion of certain adult education employees from the definition of teacher that is provided by section 1 of this Act applies to those employees who are employed on or after July 1, 1995 in circumstances to which the exclusion applies, regardless of whether an employee has been employed in those circumstances prior to that date. An employee who was employed in those circumstances prior to that date and whose contributions related to that employment are in the Maine State Retirement System on that date may, but is not required to, withdraw those contributions.

Emergency clause. In view of the emergency cited in the preamble, this Act takes effect July 1, 1995.

Effective July 1, 1995.

CHAPTER 472

H.P. 801 - L.D. 1118

An Act to Amend the Laws

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine as follows:

Sec. 1. 26 MRSA §488, as amended by PL 1979, c. 514, §3, is repealed and the following enacted in its place:

§488. Skiers' and tramway passengers' responsibilities

1. Definitions. As used in this section, unless the context otherwise indicates, the following terms have the following meanings.

A. "Inherent risks of skiing" means those dangers or conditions that are an integral part of the sport of skiing, including, but not limited to: existing and changing weather conditions; existing and changing snow conditions, such as ice, hard-pack, powder, packed powder, slush and granular, corn, crust, cut-up and machine-made snow; surface or subsurface conditions, such as dirt, grass, bare spots, forest growth, rocks, stumps, trees and other natural objects and collisions with or falls resulting from such natural objects; lift towers, lights, signs, posts, fences, mazes or enclosures, hydrants, water or air pipes, snow-making and snow-grooming equipment, marked or lit trail maintenance vehicles and snowmobiles, and other man-made structures or objects and their components, and collisions with or falls resulting from such man-made objects; variations in steepness or terrain, whether natural or as a result of slope design; snow-making or snow-grooming operations, including but not limited to ski jumps, roads and catwalks or other terrain modifications; the presence of and collisions with other skiers; and the failure of skiers to ski safely, in control or within their own abilities.

B. "Skiing" means the use of a ski area for downhill, telemark or cross country skiing or snowboarding; for sliding downhill on snow or ice on skis, a toboggan, sled, tube, snowboard or any other device; or for similar uses of the ski slopes and trails.

C. "Skier" means any person who participates in any of the activities at a ski area described in paragraph B.

2. Acceptance of inherent risks. Because skiing as a recreational sport, and the use of passenger tramways associated with skiing, may be hazardous to skiers or passengers, regardless of all feasible safety measures that may be taken, each person who participates in the sport of skiing accepts, as a matter of law, the risks inherent in the sport and, to that extent, may not maintain an action against or recover from the ski area operator, or its agents, representatives or employees, for any losses, injuries, damages or death that result from the inherent risks of skiing.

3. Warning notice. A ski area operator shall post and maintain at the ski area where the lift tickets and ski school lessons are sold and at the loading point of each passenger tramway signs that contain the following warning notice:

WARNING:

Under Maine law, a skier assumes the risk of any injury to person or property resulting from any of the inherent dangers and risks of skiing and may not recover from any ski area operator for any injury resulting from any of the inherent dangers and risks of skiing, including, but not limited to: existing and changing weather conditions; existing and changing snow conditions such as ice, hardpack, powder, packed powder, corn, crust and slush and cut-up, granular and machine-made snow; surface or subsurface conditions such as dirt, grass, bare spots, rocks, stumps, trees, forest growth or other natural objects and collisions with such natural objects; lift towers, lights, signs, posts, fences, mazes or enclosures, hydrants, water or air pipes, snowmaking and snow-grooming equipment, marked or lit trail maintenance vehicles and snowmobiles, and other man-made structures or objects and their components, and collisions with such man-made objects; variations in steepness or terrain, whether natural or as a result of slope design, snowmaking or grooming operations, including but not limited to ski jumps, roads and catwalks or other terrain modifications; the presence of and collisions with other skiers; and the failure of skiers to ski safely, in control or within their own abilities.

4. Duty to ski within limits of ability. A skier has the sole responsibility for knowing the range of the skier's own ability to negotiate any slope or ski trail, and it is the duty of the skier to ski within the limits of the skier's own ability, to maintain control of the rate of speed and the course at all times while skiing, to heed all posted and oral warnings and instructions by the ski area operator and to refrain from acting in a manner that may cause or contribute to the injury of the skier or others.

5. Responsibility for collisions. The responsibility for a collision between any skier while skiing and any person or object is solely that of the skier or skiers involved in the collision and not the responsibility of the ski area operator or its agents, representatives or employees.

6. Liability. A ski area operator or its agents, representatives or employees are not liable for any loss, injury, damage or death resulting from the design of the ski area.

7. Provision of name and current address required. A skier involved in, causing or contributing to a collision or other accident at a ski area that results in a fall or injury may not leave the vicinity of the collision or accident before giving that skier's name and current address to an employee or representative of the ski area operator or a member of the ski patrol, except for the purpose of securing aid for a person injured in the collision, in which case the person leaving the scene of the collision shall give that skier's name and current address after securing such aid. A ski area operator, or its agents, representatives or employees, is not liable for a skier's failure to provide that skier's name and address or for leaving the vicinity of an accident or collision.

8. Actions not prohibited. This section does not prevent the maintenance of an action against a ski area operator for:

A. The negligent operation or maintenance of the ski area; or

B. The negligent design, construction, operation or maintenance of a passenger tramway.

Municipal committees must file copies of the same information with the commission and the municipal clerk.

A. Reports required by this subsection in relation to a candidate for Governor must be filed on the same dates on which reports for gubernatorial candidates are filed under section 1017, subsection 2. Reports required by this subsection in relation to a candidate for state ~~or~~ county or municipal office, other than Governor, must be filed on the same dates on which reports for these candidates are filed under section 1017, subsection 3-A.

B. This report must contain an itemized account of each such contribution or expenditure aggregating in excess of $50 in any election, the date and purpose of each and the name of each payee or creditor. Total contributions or expenditures of less than $500 in any election need not be itemized.

C. Reports required by this subsection must be on forms prescribed, prepared and sent by the commission to the candidate at least 7 days before the filing date for the report. Persons filing these reports may use additional pages if necessary, but the pages must be the same size as the pages of the form. Although the commission mails the forms for required reports, failure to receive forms by mail does not excuse committees, candidates and other persons who must file reports from otherwise obtaining the forms.

Sec. 12. 21-A MRSA §1019, first ¶, as enacted by PL 1985, c. 161, §6, is amended to read:

Sec. 14. 21-A MRSA §1020, as amended by PL 1995, c. 228, §2, is repealed.

Sec. 15. 21-A MRSA §1020-A is enacted to read:

§1020-A. Failure to file on time

1. Registration. A candidate that fails to register the name of a candidate, treasurer or political committee with the commission within the time allowed by section 1013-A, subsection 1 may be assessed a forfeiture of $10. The commission shall determine whether a registration satisfies the requirements for timely filing under section 1013-A, subsection 1.

2. Campaign finance reports. A campaign finance report is not timely filed unless a properly signed copy of the report, substantially conforming to the disclosure requirements of this subchapter, is received by the commission before 5 p.m. on the date it is due. Except as provided in subsection 6, the commission shall determine whether a report satisfies the requirements for timely filing. The commission may waive the penalty in whole or in part if the commission determines the failure to file a timely report was due to mitigating circumstances. For purposes of this section, "mitigating circumstances" means:

- A. A valid personal emergency such as a personal illness or death in the immediate family;
- B. An error by the commission staff; or
- C. Failure to receive notice of the filing deadline.

3. Municipal campaign finance reports. Municipal campaign finance reports must be filed, subject to all the provisions of this subchapter, with the municipal clerk on forms prescribed by the Commission on Governmental Ethics and Election Practices. The municipal clerk shall send any notice of letters required by paragraph D and shall notify the commission of any late reports subject to a penalty.

4. Basis for penalties. The penalty for late filing of a report required under this subchapter is a percentage of the total contributions or expenditures for the filing period, whichever is greater, multiplied by the number of calendar days late, as follows:

- A. For the first violation, 1%;
- B. For the 2nd violation, 3%; and
- C. For the 3rd and subsequent violations, 5%.

Any penalty of less than $5 is waived.

Violations accumulate on reports with filing deadlines in a 2-year period that begins on January 1st of each even-numbered year. Waiver of a penalty does not nullify the finding of a violation.

A report required to be filed under this subchapter that is sent by certified or registered United States mail and postmarked at least 2 days before the deadline is not subject to penalty.

A registration or report may be provisionally filed by transmission of a facsimile copy of the duly executed report to the commission, as long as an original of the same report is received by the commission within 5 calendar days thereafter.

5. Maximum penalties. Penalties assessed under this subchapter may not exceed:

- A. Five thousand dollars for reports required under section 1017, subsection 2, paragraphs B, C, D, E or H; section 1017, subsection 3-A, paragraphs B, C, D or F; section 1017, subsection 4; and section 1019;
- B. Five thousand dollars for state party committee reports required under section 1017-A, subsection 4, paragraphs A and C and section 1018, subsection 2;
- C. One thousand dollars for reports required under section 1017, subsection 2, paragraphs A and F; section 1017, subsection 3-A, paragraphs A and E; and state party committee reports required to be filed under section 1017-A, subsection 4, paragraph B; or
- D. Five hundred dollars for municipal, district and county committees for reports required under section 1017-A, subsection 4, paragraphs A, B and C and section 1018, subsection 2.

6. Request for a commission determination. Within 3 days following the filing deadline, a notice must be forwarded to a candidate and treasurer whose registration or campaign finance report is not received by 5 p.m. on the deadline date, informing them of the basis for calculating penalties under subsection 3 and providing them with an opportunity to request a commission determination. The notice must be sent by certified United States mail. Any request for a determination must be made within 10 calendar days of receipt of the commission's notice. The 10-day period during which a determination may be requested begins on the day a recipient signs for the certified mail notice of the proposed penalty. If the certified letter is refused or left unclaimed at the post office, the 10-day period begins on the day the post office indicates it has given first notice of a certified letter. A candidate or treasurer requesting a determination may either appear in person or designate a representative to appear on the candidate's or treasurer's behalf or submit a notarized written explanation of the mitigating circumstances for consideration by the commission.

7. Final notice of penalty. After a commission meeting, notice of the commission's final determination and the penalty, if any, imposed pursuant to this subchapter must be sent to the candidate, treasurer and the Secretary of State.

If no determination is requested, the commission staff shall calculate the penalty as prescribed in subsection 3 and shall mail final notice of the penalty to the candidate and treasurer. A detailed summary of all notices must be provided to the commission and to the Secretary of State.

8. Failure to file report. A candidate or treasurer who fails to file a report as required by this subchapter within 30 days of the filing deadline is guilty of a Class E crime.

9. List of late-filing candidates. The commission shall prepare a list of the names of candidates who are late in filing a report required under section 1017, subsection 2, paragraph C or D or section 1017, subsection 3-A, paragraph B or C within 30 days of the date of the election and shall make that list available for public inspection.

10. Enforcement. The Secretary of State has the initial responsibility for collecting the full amount of any penalty within 30 days after receiving notice of the penalty from the commission. The Secretary of State has all necessary powers to carry out this responsibility. Failure to pay the full amount of any penalty levied under this subchapter is a civil violation by the candidate, treasurer, political party or other person whose campaign finance activities are required by this subchapter to be reported. Thirty days after receiving notice of the penalty, the Secretary of State shall report to the Attorney General the name of any person who has failed to pay the full amount of any penalty. The Attorney General shall enforce the violation in a civil action to collect the full outstanding amount of the penalty. This action must be brought in the Superior Court for Kennebec County or the District Court, 7th District, Division of Southern Kennebec.

Sec. 16. 21-A MRSA §1051, first ¶, as amended by PL 1991, c. 839, §26 and affected by §33, is further amended to read:

This subchapter applies to the activities of political action committees organized in and outside this State that accept contributions, incur obligations or make expenditures in an aggregate amount in excess of $50 in any one calendar year for the election of state ~~or~~ county or municipal officers, or for the support or defeat of any campaign, as defined in this subchapter.

Sec. 17. 21-A MRSA §1052, sub-§1, ¶F, as enacted by PL 1989, c. 504, §§22 and 31, is amended to read:

F. Any county or municipal referendum.

Sec. 18. 21-A MRSA §1055, 3rd ¶, as amended by PL 1989, c. 504, §§26 and 31, is further amended to read:

An expenditure, communication or broadcast which results in a violation of this section may result in a civil penalty of no more than $100. Enforcement and collection procedures shall be in accordance with section ~~4062~~ 1062-A.

Sec. 19. 21-A MRSA §1058, as amended by PL 1993, c. 715, §4, is further amended to read:

A political action committee organized in this State required under this section to file a report shall file the report for each filing period under section 1059. A political action committee organized outside this State shall file with the Commission on Governmental Ethics and Election Practices of this State a copy of the report that the political action committee is required to file in the state in which the political action committee is organized. A campaign finance report is not timely filed unless a properly signed copy of the report, substantially conforming to the disclosure requirements of this subchapter, is received by the commission before 5 p.m. on the date it is due. Except as provided in subsection 6, the commission shall determine whether a required report satisfies the requirements for timely filing. The commission may waive the penalty in whole or in part if the commission determines the failure to file a timely report was due to mitigating circumstances. For purposes of this section, "mitigating circumstances" means:

A. A valid personal emergency of the committee treasurer, such as a personal illness or death in the immediate family; or

B. An error by the commission staff.

3. Basis for penalties. The penalty for late filing of a report required under this subchapter is a percentage of the total contributions or expenditures for the filing period, whichever is greater, multiplied by the number of calendar days late, as follows:

The Secretary of State has all necessary powers to carry out this responsibility. §585-E. Gasoline station vapor recovery requirements

1. Definitions. As used in this section, unless the context otherwise indicates, the following terms have the following meanings:

A. "Stage II vapor recovery system" means a system for gasoline vapor recovery of emissions from the fueling of motor vehicles as described in Section 182(b)(3) of the federal Clean Air Act, 42 United States Code, Section 7511a(b)(3) (1995).

B. "Volatile organic compound 15% reduction plan" or "15% reduction plan" means the plan for reasonable further progress required in Section 182(b)(1) of the federal Clean Air Act, 42 United States Code, Section 7511a(b)(1) (1995).

2. Stage II rule adoption. The board may adopt a rule requiring installation of Stage II vapor recovery systems in gasoline stations in Cumberland, York and Sagadahoc counties. The rule may impose the requirements only on stations that sold 1,000,000 gallons of gasoline or more in calendar year 1994 or a subsequent calendar year, unless department information gathering indicates that a threshold of 1,000,000 gallons is insufficient to provide emission reduction credits needed to meet the volatile organic compound 15% reduction plan requirement. The department shall confer with the joint standing committee of the Legislature having jurisdiction over natural resource matters at least one week before the public hearing on any rule that proposes a threshold lower than 1,000,000 gallons per calendar year.

3. Status report. On or before February 1, 1996, the commissioner shall submit a status report to the Governor and to the joint standing committee of the Legislature having jurisdiction over natural resource matters on the following matters:

A. The status of United States Environmental Protection Agency approval, disapproval, review or comment on the State's volatile organic compound 15% reduction plan, including inventory of sources and credits for proposed control programs;

B. The status of the State's request to be exempt from the auto emissions inspection program requirement;

C. The status of the State's requests for redesignation of air planning areas; and

D. A description of federal regulations for which the United States Environmental Protection Agency will allow the State to take credit in its volatile organic compound 15% reduction plan.

4. Conference with legislative committee. The Governor shall confer with the joint standing committee of the Legislature having jurisdiction over natural resource matters no later than March 1, 1996 to discuss the commissioner's report submitted under subsection 3 and to review whether the Stage II vapor recovery system rule should be amended or repealed.

5. Controls needed for 15% reduction plan. If the State receives written notice from the United States Environmental Protection Agency disapproving the State's 15% reduction plan, or otherwise disallowing reduction credits necessary for approval, the board shall adopt rules to provide additional controls of emissions of volatile organic compounds as needed to meet the 15% reduction plan requirement, which may include revision or readoption of the Stage II vapor recovery system rule. The department shall confer with the joint standing committee of the Legislature having jurisdiction over natural resource matters before it proposes revision or readoption of a Stage II vapor recovery system rule at a threshold lower than 1,000,000 gallons per year.

Sec. 16. 38 MRSA §2304, sub-§1, ¶B, as amended by PL 1993, c. 355, §63, is further amended to read:

The commissioner may establish alternate toxics release reduction goals for the facility when appropriate.

(a) A toxics releaser must receive an exemption from the requirement of meeting state reduction goals from the commissioner if the toxics releaser proves that:

(ii) All practicable reductions or actions have been previously implemented or are being implemented and will be completed on a schedule acceptable to the commissioner;

(iii) Practicable steps necessary to reduce toxics release would have an unreasonable adverse impact on product quality or quantity;

(iv) Practicable means of measuring a toxics release do not exist; or

(v) Legal or contractual obligations prohibit steps necessary to reduce toxics release.

(b) The commissioner shall review exemptions under this paragraph at 3-year intervals. Renewals must be granted for toxics releasers that demonstrate that they still meet the requirements set forth in division (a), subdivisions (i) to (iv). If an exemption has been granted based on legal or contractual obligations, the exemption is only for the term of that obligation. An exemption or renewal for a new or renewed legal or contractual obligation may not be granted by the commissioner. A toxics releaser that has received an exemption based on legal or contractual obligations may apply for a renewal based on division (a), subdivision (i), (ii), (iii) or (iv).

The commissioner may establish alternate hazardous waste reduction goals for the facility when appropriate.

(a) A generator must receive an exemption from the requirement of meeting state reduction goals from the commissioner if the generator proves that:

- (i) Practicable hazardous waste reduction methods do not exist;
- (ii) All practicable reductions or actions have been previously implemented or are being implemented and will be completed on a schedule acceptable to the commissioner;

(iii) Practicable steps necessary to reduce hazardous waste would have an unreasonable adverse impact on product quality or quantity; or

(iv) Legal or contractual obligations prohibit steps necessary to reduce hazardous waste generation.

(b) The commissioner shall review exemptions under this paragraph at 3-year intervals. Renewals may be granted for hazardous waste generators that demonstrate that they still meet the requirements set forth in division (a), subdivisions (i) to (iii). If an exemption has been granted based on legal or contractual obligations, the exemption is only for the term of that obligation. An exemption or renewal for a new or renewed legal or contractual commitment may not be granted by the commissioner. A generator that has received an exemption based on legal or contractual obligations may apply for a renewal based on division (a), subdivision (i), (ii) or (iii).

For all other generators, the fee is $50 per facility.

~~Registration is not required for owners or operators that generate less than 100 kilograms of hazardous waste in a calendar month for more than 3 months of the year if, during the preceding calendar year, some or all of that generator's hazardous waste was transported and manifested pursuant to the provisions of this Title. This exception does not apply to the requirement to pay the fee.~~

Sec. 20. Legislation authorized. If the Department of Environmental Protection or the Governor is required to confer with the Joint Standing Committee on Natural Resources pursuant to the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 38, section 585-E, the Joint Standing Committee on Natural Resources is authorized to report out a committee bill relating to the requirement for the installation of Stage II vapor recovery systems, if a majority of the committee votes to report out a bill.

Sec. 21. Retroactivity. That section of this Act that enacts the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 38, section 413, subsection 2-G applies retroactively to October 13, 1993. §20053. Long-term Narcotic Dependency Treatment Project

1. Treatment project established. The Department of Human Services and the Office of Substance Abuse shall apply for waivers from the federal Department of Health and Human Services to undertake a 3-year demonstration project on long-term methadone and other narcotic drug detoxification and maintenance treatment for narcotic-dependent persons, referred to in this section as the "treatment project." The treatment project must commence as close as possible to October 15, 1995.

2. Purpose. The Legislature finds that there is a need to study long-term methadone and other narcotic drug detoxification and maintenance treatment for narcotic-dependent persons. The purpose of the treatment project is to study the treatment needs of narcotic-dependent people in this State and the efficacy, cost and impact on this State of long-term methadone and other narcotic drug detoxification and maintenance treatment.

3. Project limitation. Participation in the project is limited to 300 clients at any one time receiving long-term methadone and other narcotic drug detoxification and maintenance treatment for narcotic dependency, of whom a maximum of 100 at any one time may receive the treatment under reimbursement from the Medicaid program. Clients of a treatment program that is licensed in the State who are receiving methadone or other narcotic drug detoxification or maintenance treatment on the date of the commencement of the treatment project have priority as clients under the treatment project. Treatment under the treatment project for persons receiving reimbursement under the Medicaid program must be cost-neutral or result in savings to the Medicaid program.

B. Guidelines and treatment protocols for treatment programs that incorporate the standards contained in section 20043 and are compatible with but no more stringent than the applicable federal treatment regulations and guidelines, including, but not limited to, treatment program admission criteria. The guidelines and treatment protocols must reflect best medical practice and phases of treatment but may not impose uniform treatment standards for clients that interfere with the medical discretion of the medical director acting in accordance with recognized, prevailing medical standards, regarding individual client treatment. The guidelines and treatment protocols may not cause unreasonable increases in cost unless necessary to protect the public health and safety;

C. Standards for the distribution of scheduled or prescription drugs and controlled substances and for the security of these drugs and controlled substances consistent with the rules adopted by the Board of Commissioners of the Profession of Pharmacy, including, but not limited to, the use of identifiable containers in dispensing the drugs and controlled substances; to Title 32, section 13723, the Department of Human Services and the Office of Substance Abuse may investigate and inspect the premises of treatment programs and require the production of information to determine compliance with applicable law and rules. As a condition of receiving treatment under the treatment project, all clients must sign waivers of confidentiality, which enable access to and use of treatment program and patient records for the purposes of listing in a central registry, program oversight and monitoring, enforcement of license and certification requirements and other law enforcement activities to the extent consistent with federal law protecting confidentiality under 42 United States Code, Section 290dd-2 (1995) and implementing regulations, as amended.

7. Employees. 8. Criminal record checks. The treatment programs must perform criminal record checks of all potential and current employees, contractors and volunteers to ensure adherence to the requirements of subsection 7. The treatment programs shall pay for these record checks.

9. Planning; evaluation. The Department of Human Services and the Office of Substance Abuse shall consult with the Center for Substance Abuse Treatment of the federal Department of Health and Human Services and representatives of the medical and substance abuse treatment field to design and implement the treatment project and to evaluate the effectiveness of the treatment programs and the treatment project. CHAPTER 500

An Act to Revise the Salaries of Certain County Officers

Mandate preamble. This measure requires one or more local units of government to expand or modify activities so as to necessitate additional expenditures from local revenues but does not provide funding for at least 90% of those expenditures.
