TO: Troy Jackson, Chair, Legislative Council
Rachel Talbot Ross, Vice-Chair, Legislative Council
Members of the Legislative Council

FROM: Suzanne M. Gresser, Executive Director

DATE: April 30, 2024

RE: Consideration of Proposed Legislative Studies

The Legislative Council will meet on Tuesday, April 30, 2024 at 1:00 pm to consider proposed legislative studies. There are 22 studies listed on the Studies Summary spreadsheet included in your study table packet.

Historically, when evaluating items that have been placed on the Special Study Table, Legislative Councils have considered the number of proposed studies on the Study Table; the funds available for proposed studies; the timing of proposed studies; and staff resources. For your convenience, below is a bullet-point summary of those elements.

Studies on the Study Table

- Of the 22 studies listed on the Studies Summary spreadsheet, 4 studies have already been authorized as a result of being enacted into law in either the First Special Session or the Second Regular Session.
  - See page 1 for LDs 915, 1622, 1995 (PL 2021, c. 635, Part XX), and 2214 (PL 2023, c. 643, Part N);
- Of the 18 proposed new studies, 9 are proposed as emergency measures; and
- Of the 18 proposed new studies, 1 is proposed as an ongoing statutory commission.
  - See page 7 for LD 2252

Budget Resources

The projected costs for proposed studies to be funded from the General Fund Miscellaneous Studies Budget exceeds the funds available.

- The available balance is $31,065 ($52,169 less $21,104 for studies already authorized for FY 24 and FY 25)

Staff Resources

Of the 18 proposed new studies, 14 direct the Legislative Council to provide staffing. Generally, each study is assigned at least 2 OPLA analysts. Factoring in current and pending vacancies in OPLA, staff resources would not be sufficient to support the number of studies that were approved for the last 2 interims (11 total studies in 2022 and 10 in 2024). Prior to 2022, the typical number of total studies staffed by OPLA was 7 or less (which included on-going studies like the Right to Know Advisory Commission).

Other special considerations

Two of the proposed studies authorize submission of a report to a subsequent Legislature, which requires a 2/3 vote of the Council for approval, pursuant to the Legislative Council Policy on Legislative Studies for the 131st Legislature. These proposed studies are:

- LD 1787 on page 3, and LD 2285 on page 6.

In addition to the Studies Summary spreadsheet listing the proposed studies, your packet also includes:

- A suggested protocol for considering the proposed studies;
- A copy of the Summary of Projected Costs for Proposed Studies;
- A copy of Joint Rule 353 regarding the legislative studies (see subsection 10 for reference to the study table); and
- A copy of the Legislative Council Policy on Legislative Studies.
- Copies of the engrossed version (or the latest version available) of the bill, resolve or joint order that would authorize each study.
