The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from South Portland, Representative Hamann.

Representative HAMANN: Thank you, Madam Speaker. I wish to speak on the record.

The SPEAKER: The Representative from South Portland, Representative Hamann has requested unanimous consent to address the House on the record. Hearing no objection, the Representative may proceed on the record.

Representative HAMANN: Thank you, Madam Speaker. Madam Speaker, Men and Women of the House, I stand today to apologize to this body for a comment I made on a childhood friend's Facebook wall. There is no excuse for using such vulgar and disrespectful language, and I deeply regret not only what I said, but also how I said it. These aren't words I use in my personal, professional, or political life, and, in fact, were so far out of character for me that I've had an outpouring of support from friends near and far, who reached out to me concerned that this post may be indicative of a deeper psychological issue, or perhaps even a battle with substance abuse. I stand before you today to own each and every word, and I will not claim it was the result of a drinking problem or insist I have a screw loose to gain sympathy. I own every ugly word I wrote in a clear and sober state of mind, and I can say that with the confidence of knowing the satirical intent of what I wrote. Despite how it was screen grabbed and presented around the blogosphere as though it was something I intended literally, that doesn't change the fact that my intent, when I wrote it, was to in fact critique and criticize the increasing prevalence of this language over the past couple of years. The words were grotesque, inexcusably vulgar, terms that are too prevalent in the rhetorical lexicon of contemporary American politics. In the interest of setting the record straight, I would like to simply share exactly what happened. And further, Madam Speaker, I invite anyone, members of this body, staff, members of the public, anybody, to reach out respectfully if they have any lingering questions or concerns. I intend to do the work, to rebuild relationships that may have been damaged, and reassure folks that I am not someone who would speak like that in a literal sense.

Here's what happened. Last Tuesday, I engaged in a heated political exchange on Facebook with a childhood friend. He and I have always gotten along personally despite our differing political views, but over the past couple of years his language has gotten more and more aggressive and attack-based. When I wrote the post, it was an intentionally defiant refusal to take it on the chin one last time, a refusal to be spoken to like that. A line in the sand, where I decided to cast off the shackles of respectful political discourse, stand up for myself, and fight fire with fire, knowing that the childhood friend I was writing to directly would take it as I intended, knowing he would take it as a satirical critique of his own words, and that's exactly how he took it. We've been in touch since this news broke, and he expressed that he fully understood where I was coming from and has no hard feelings. Regardless, as an elected official I should have critiqued his language in a more respectful way, as I typically would, rather than run the risk of this situation playing out exactly how it has. To be clear, it was a complete lapse of judgment on my part. I tried to mirror back to him his language in rhetorical tone, in an attempt to demonstrate and hyperbolize the aggressive words he uses. It was a collage of his words, and my intent was to be provocative, to give him a taste of his own medicine. My intent was for him to read his own words in the context of a differing world view so that he might recognize how hateful and foolish he sounds. I sounded like a jerk. That was my point. It was satire, which is defined as the use of irony, exaggeration, or ridicule to expose and criticize people's stupidity or vices, particularly in the context of contemporary politics and other topical issues. It was provocative satire. However, I do apologize to those who are sensitive to this kind of language and were offended by it. I left the post on his Facebook wall for just a short while, just enough time to be sure he had read it. Then I deleted it, once I knew my point had been made. Unfortunately, somebody seized the opportunity to take a screen shot and share it around, to make it appear as though these are words that I typically say, things I think, values I hold. They are not. My friends know that, my family knows that, my constituents know that, and anyone who knows me knows I'm not someone who talks to or about someone in that way. I'm the last person who would ever use physical violence. People who know me know I talk more like a nerd than a tough guy. But I was also raised to stand up for myself and to never let anyone push me around. But in the future, I will do that more respectfully, and set the bad language aside. I deeply regret writing those words. I should have made my point more appropriately. The words I wrote reflect a vulgarity that permeates our political discourse, a vulgarity I should have known better than to participate in, even if my goal was to try and emulate that rhetoric to make an ironic point about its divisiveness. And finally, within the satirical interaction, I made an insinuation that is a line that should neither be crossed nor even flirted with, even when it's in the context of satire. I apologized to Mr. Trump for any insinuation to the contrary, and found the Secret Service to be courteous, professional, and sensible when I invited them to chat with me in my living room last Thursday. We spoke for about an hour or so. From that conversation, they determined that what I wrote was entirely satirical and within my First Amendment rights, and it was not a direct, or indirect, threat of any kind, to anyone. And I thanked them for their service to our country, tremendous professionals. While my satire was intended to cause my friend to reflect on his language, now that it has been spread around the country framed as a literal statement from me, over the past week I've received dozens of calls and emails from concerned folks in Maine and from around the country. Safe to say, I have struck a nerve. It has been a week of death threats against me and my family, the perpetual harassment of my employer and the impact that had on my coworkers, threats of violence, emails, and text messages so volatile that even a teaspoon of it would get me gavelled down in this chamber. Ironically, this violent language is precisely the kind of rhetoric my post was intended to call out. There's no excuse for what I satirized, if it were to be taken literally. Read literally, what I wrote would be indefensible.

My failures were three-fold: first, thinking what I wrote might not be screen grabbed and used against me out of context; second, falsely believing that everyone who might have read my post in the brief time I kept it online would understand the satirical nature of something written explicitly to critique a personal friend's vulgar language; and third, assuming that I could fight fire with fire and tamper inflammatory language by assuming the persona of a liberal doppelganger to my friend's vitriolic, self-described alt-right ideology. The path out of this dark place in American political discourse will be illuminated by light, not by more darkness. And as the President said in 2009 about using violence as a means to an end, his words, I believe, also apply to the violent language we are slowly getting desensitized to as a nation. He said, "For centuries black people in America suffered the lash of the whip as slaves and the humiliation of segregation. But it was not violence that won full and equal rights, it was a peaceful and determined insistence upon the ideals at the center of America's founding. The same story could be told by people from South Africa to South Asia, from Eastern Europe to Indonesia. It's a story with a simple truth, that violence is a dead end. That's not how moral authority is claimed, that's how it's surrendered." Men and Women of the House, violent language, even when it's used to counter violent language, is not how moral authority is claimed, that's how it's surrendered. I am sorry to those who I have offended. Just because I have a First Amendment right to say something or do something doesn't mean it's always appropriate to do so, regardless of literary intent, and I have learned this lesson. Moving forward, I pledge each day to continue to bring a firm but respectful tone and temperament to my political and professional work, and to reject the tone and temperament I used in that isolated moment in my personal life when I attempted to critique my friend's vitriolic idiolect. I pledge to continue working tirelessly on behalf of my constituents, whose outpouring of support was a sign to me that people who really know me, and who know my core values, they haven't let a single incident overshadow their perception about who I am. I won't mention names, but I have been moved to receive calls and supportive messages from colleagues on both sides of the aisle, and in fact, colleagues in all four caucuses. People who know me know I'll keep moving the needle on issues I hold dear to my heart: child poverty, taking care of seniors, getting people access to drug treatment, ensuring fewer babies are born addicted to heroin, supporting schools, teachers, and students, protecting the environment, and ensuring Maine's economy has the workers it needs to thrive. These are issues my constituents care about deeply, and I won't quit working on their behalf, nor will I change course on my objectives. Further, I will not stop expressing my point of view and advocating on behalf of those who do not have a seat at the table. But my promise to this body is that I will never let a hint of that satirical language find its way into my work in this sacred institution. I never have in the past, and I will not in the future. And finally, Men and Women of the House, I pledge to take a few deep breaths every now and then, step back on occasion, and remind myself to recognize the commonalities in our political objectives rather than concern myself with our partisan divisions. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

The 128th Legislature of the State of Maine
State House
Augusta, Maine

Dear Honorable Members of the 128th Legislature:

Under the authority vested in me by Article IV, Part Third, Section 2 of the Constitution of the State of Maine, I am hereby vetoing LD 1147, "An Act to Modernize the Renewable Portfolio Standard."

Under Title 35-A, M.R.S. §3210(3-A), Maine's Renewable Portfolio Standard (RPS) has included a requirement for electricity customers to purchase increasing amounts of electricity from qualified "new renewable capacity resources" (Class I resources), starting in 2008 as a 1% requirement and ending in 2017 as a 10% requirement. LD 1147 would extend the 10% requirement through 2022.

The RPS in Maine is a subsidy paid to renewable generators that is hidden in the bills of all electric customers. I have long opposed such subsidies—especially hiding them in Maine's electric bills. In addition, this subsidy is not even meeting its intended purpose, which is to encourage new renewable electricity generation. Over the five-year period between 2011 and 2015, the Class I RPS cost ratepayers nearly $70 million in above-market costs. Yet, over this same period, the amount of renewable generation produced in Maine decreased by approximately 8%. Therefore, Mainers spent $70 million and received no increase in the amount of renewable generation produced in Maine.

A subsidy that costs Maine ratepayers $70 million over five years, but fails to meet its intended purpose, is a subsidy that needs to end.

For these reasons, I return LD 1147 unsigned and vetoed. I strongly urge the Legislature to sustain it.

Sincerely,
S/Paul R. LePage
Governor

State House

Dear Honorable Members of the 128th Legislature:
Under the authority vested in me by Article IV, Part Third, Section 2 of the Constitution of the State of Maine, I am hereby vetoing LD 481, "An Act To Promote Workforce Participation." This bill would have provided a $400 bonus to welfare recipients for maintaining a job for just 4 months, rewarding them for something they really should be doing anyway. I understand the desire to motivate people to stay in a job, but at some point government needs to step back and let people figure it out on their own. Why do we feel compelled to have government step in and reward people for doing what they are already supposed to do?

We cannot continue to treat low-income Mainers like children, always trying to coax them to do right things. A steady job with a steady paycheck is a reward in itself that increasingly pushes a person toward greater self-reliance and self-sufficiency. I believe Mainers are capable of success without constant intrusion and prodding by State government. For these reasons, I return LD 481 unsigned and vetoed. I strongly urge the Legislature to sustain it.

Sincerely,
S/Paul R. LePage
Governor

The 128th Legislature of the State of Maine
State House
Augusta, Maine

Dear Honorable Members of the 128th Legislature:
Under the authority vested in me by Article IV, Part Third, Section 2 of the Constitution of the State of Maine, I am hereby vetoing LD 1512, "An Act To Protect the Health and Safety of First Responders."

I want to make very clear that I think we should make laws that protect those who put their lives on the line to protect the safety of the public. That is why I was a proponent of this bill as it was introduced by the Department of Public Safety. There have been several bills introduced this session to protect first responders or victims of horrible crimes. These bills have either failed to get the required votes to reach my desk or they have been watered down to the point that they do absolutely nothing—which was the unfortunate fate of this bill. I sincerely hope that in the future, first responders find the support they deserve in the State House.

Because this bill has been amended to the point that it does nothing to protect the safety of first responders, I cannot support it.

For these reasons, I return LD 1512 unsigned and vetoed. I strongly urge the Legislature to sustain it.

Sincerely,
S/Paul R. LePage

Representative FREDETTE: Thank you, Madam Speaker. I understand that the Committee has been doing some work on this bill, and I guess I'm not quite sure of the posture of the bill, where it's at, and what this actually...when we're receding and concurring, what are we receding and concurring on? If I could ask someone from the Committee to maybe provide us with that answer?

The SPEAKER: The Representative from Newport, Representative Fredette has posed a question through the Chair. The Chair recognizes the Representative from Falmouth, Representative Pierce.

Representative PIERCE: Thank you, Madam Chair. This bill, 1641, is the testing bill from the MLI Committee. When it was drafted, the bill that preceded it, 243, had not yet been enacted into law, so they had to draft the bill without language from 243. When 243 became enacted and signed into law by the Chief Executive, we did minor changes to the language so it would reflect that change and be consistent with 243, which is the Speaker's bill from the beginning of the session. It also had a larger fiscal note, but when 243 was enacted and signed by the Executive, then that money became available to be used in 1641, part of it, most of it, and there still remains a smaller fiscal note to this bill. So, it's really a minor drafting change, and then lowering of a fiscal note to this bill. Thank you.

Subsequently, the House voted to RECEDE AND CONCUR.

STATE OF MAINE
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
AUGUSTA, MAINE

July 3, 2017
The 128th Legislature of the State of Maine
State House
Augusta, Maine

Dear Honorable Members of the 128th Legislature:
Under the authority vested in me by Article IV, Part Third, Section 2 of the Constitution of the State of Maine, I am hereby vetoing LD 1567, "An Act To Amend the Archives and Records Management Law."

This bill, which was submitted by the Secretary of State, attempts to modernize the archives and records manage statute and the Archives Advisory Board. For decades the Governor has appointed members of the Archives Advisory Board. The bill eliminates the Governor's discretion to select and appoint board members and allows the Secretary of State to appoint members to the board.

This is simply another attempt to strip away the Governor's appointment power.

For these reasons, I return LD 1567 unsigned and vetoed. I strongly urge the Legislature to sustain it.

Sincerely,
S/Paul R. LePage
Governor

STATE OF MAINE
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
AUGUSTA, MAINE

June 29, 2017

The 128th Legislature of the State of Maine

State House

Augusta, Maine

Dear Honorable Members of the 128th Legislature:

Under the authority vested in me by Article IV, Part Third, Section 2 of the Constitution of the State of Maine, I am hereby vetoing LD 586, "An Act To Implement the Recommendations of the Commission To Study the Public Reserved Lands Management Fund."

This bill will place significant burdens on the Bureau of Public Lands (BPL) and will create uncertainty for logging contractors with the state. Maine's public lands are certified as well-managed by two independent, third-party forest certification standards. Our BPL managers are dedicated public servants who carry out their responsibilities in a professional manner every day they show up to work. This bill sends a message to these hard-working people that they are not doing a good job. I strongly disagree with this assumption, and that is why I am vetoing this bill.

There are many sections of this bill I would like to address. The requirement to complete a forest inventory every five years is unnecessary. BPL completed a forest inventory in 2016 that verified BPL's harvest targets.

My primary concern in this bill is the attempt by the Legislature to micromanage and curtail BPL's road-building efforts without any good reason. The bureau recently changed the way it contracts out logging services. The new system of contracting for logging services has been a net benefit to the state and is more transparent to the public compared to road-building costs that were hidden in lower stumpage price payments to the bureau. The new system brings in more revenue, which pays for everything else that Maine people like about our public lands, such as trails, accessibility and campsites. If no roads are built, then there will be less revenue for the state to pay for these important things.

LD 586 also taps into the Public Reserved Lands Management Fund to create an educational grant program for forestry and logging training. While I support the logging industry, it is not appropriate to take funds from public lands to pay for it. The Legislature just recently allocated money to create a new logger-training program in the community college system. Since that program is just getting started, we should wait to see if it is working before we spend more money.

Studying areas of insufficient access is unnecessary; BPL already addresses these issues when a problem arises. The bureau is also working to consolidate its ownerships that are held in common with others. This creates more land that the public can enjoy.

The bill directs BPL to develop a list of recreational infrastructure and ADA projects and provide it to its oversight committee for review. This duplicates work already done by BPL to gather public input and address issues locally as resources permit. This bill substitutes the committee's judgement over that of the local public who use the public lands. BPL listens to the people in the field every day, and this bill will replace this policy with a centralized process that requires people to travel long distances to Augusta to make their case to the committee. In addition, the appropriation in this bill will not be enough to do the work properly.

Finally, the bill directs the BPL to review its bid process. This is duplicative and unnecessary; the bureau has already worked out the contracting process with the Bureau of Purchases. There is nothing to gain from another review.

The uncertainty and red tape that is in this bill will have negative impacts on BPL's ability to properly manage public lands. We need to let the experts at the bureau continue their careful stewardship of our precious natural resources without the micromanagement of legislative committees.

For these reasons, I return LD 586 unsigned and vetoed. I strongly urge the Legislature to sustain it.

Sincerely,
S/Paul R. LePage
Governor

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from Turner, Representative Timberlake.

Representative TIMBERLAKE: I'm sorry, Madam Speaker. Sometimes the buttons on these new mics are hard to find. I would hope that we sustain the Chief Executive's veto on this. There's been a lot of discussion going around this, and I think that this needs to go back and have some work on it. The Committee did try to do their job the best they could with what they had to work with. The Governor has assured us, the Chief Executive has assured us that he's going to try to maintain the $2.5 million in the fund, and we'll continue to do the good work that the Department has done. So, please sustain this bill. Thank you.

After reconsideration, the House proceeded to vote on the question, 'Shall this Bill become a law notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?' A roll call was taken.

Was reported by the Committee on Engrossed Bills as truly and strictly engrossed.

Representative HERBIG of Belfast REQUESTED a roll call on PASSAGE TO BE ENACTED.

More than one-fifth of the members present expressed a desire for a roll call which was ordered.

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from Turner, Representative Timberlake.

Representative TIMBERLAKE: Thank you, Madam Speaker and Ladies and Gentlemen of the House. I have grave concerns that if we pass this bill as enacted, sending it to the Department of Ag to do the legalized testing and so forth, that this might not go the way that we really want it to, because I don't think at this point in time they're equipped or ready to do it; and it's not that I'm against the bill, because I'm not. But I am against where they're sending it. I think it should have gone to BABLO. I don't think people listened to the Chief Executive Officer when he was promoting that he didn't want it to go to Ag, Ag had asked not to have it sent to Ag. So I'm really concerned about what we're doing and the posture that we could be putting this into at this point in time. And I know there's some hard feelings and strong emotions with this bill, but there are strong emotions on the other side of it, too, that the Department of Ag, at this point in time, is not equipped nor ready nor able at this time to do what this bill is asking them to do. So, I would ask that we step back and take a look at maybe moving this to where it belongs, which is over to BABLO to do the testing. They're already equipped to do it in the alcohol. So, I guess ask you a question, Madam Speaker, how we get that done? Because I'm not trying to kill the bill, I'm trying to make the bill survive, and I think that if we send it this way the potential for a veto is high, and the potential for failure of this bill in being put back in time is high, and so, I'm looking to find a solution to the problem and not create a problem. So, I'm looking for advice as to how we can maybe...because if we vote on it, I believe it's going to get not a warm response from the Chief Executive. Thank you.

The SPEAKER: The Chair would answer the Representative from Turner, I believe that was a rhetorical question, that the Chair is unable to give specific advice in that manner. The Chair recognizes the Representative from Falmouth, Representative Pierce.

Representative PIERCE: Thank you, Madam Speaker. Just to clarify a little bit about this bill. This is a testing bill for marijuana. It's a safety bill. It came out of Committee 17-0. The Agricultural Department does have jurisdiction to help draft the language around the specifics of the bill, and DAFS will be responsible for issuing the licenses. It's a co-venture. It's a little different than we're used to, I understand that. We're in a little bit of a different arena with marijuana. It is drafted in conjunction with 243, written with the same language that the Chief Executive did sign and put into law. There's funding in there that DAFS can give to the Department of Agriculture to get this process started. The reason it's important to get it started now is, we need testing facilities to be online for when we do go live and are able to sell marijuana, because the worst thing that we could have happen in this industry is to have people growing marijuana, wanting to sell it legally to people, for us to collect those revenues, but then to have testing bottlenecked up and not able to say that the product is a good product. So the people then will be left with product that they've grown with their investment, and good people might just let that die away and hold onto it, others might divert it to an illicit market, which we don't want to do. This is about public safety. We worked hard to work with DAFS and the Department of Agriculture. We've reached out several times. I think we can make this work, but it's important that it get going now, and it really is about our public safety. So I hope that that alleviates some of the concern that might be in the room, and I hope you will follow my light. Thank you.

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from Auburn, Representative Bickford.

Representative BICKFORD: Thank you, Madam Speaker. Ladies and Gentlemen of the House, I appreciate the comments from my good friend from Falmouth, and I want to just add that Agriculture is not the only place that is going to be certifying and registering these testing facilities. If you look under the summary it says, "be certified by the Department of Health and Human Services, Maine Center for Disease Control and Prevention, be accredited pursuant to standard ISO/IEC 17025...by a third-party accrediting body, or be certified, registered or accredited by an organization approved by the Department of Agriculture." And I just want to add, if you don't like marijuana, that's even more reason for us to pass this bill so we can get these testing facilities underway.

The SPEAKER: A roll call has been ordered. The pending question before the House is Passage to be Enacted. All those in favor will vote yes, those opposed will vote no.

This being an emergency measure, a two-thirds vote of all the members elected to the House being necessary, a total was taken.

An Act To Restore Public Health Nursing Services

More than one-fifth of the members present expressed a desire for a roll call which was ordered.

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from York, Representative Hymanson.

Representative HYMANSON: Thank you, Madam Speaker. I just wanted to remind everyone about this bill to support our public health nurses, and just what public health nurses do. They respond to disease outbreaks and other public health emergencies. They work with postpartum mothers and babies, especially drug-affected babies. They work as school nurses in rural schools who don't have the funds to hire their own. And they respond to outbreaks like the flu, H1N1, which may now be H7N9 which is in China, and TB outbreaks. This bill requires the Department to hire the 48 nurses that are in the budget now, and we do have those nursing positions, in the budget now, and the funds must be used to hire these public health nurses. So we have the positions and we need to use this smart, well-trained, knowledgeable workforce to continually improve our health systems. I'm on the board of a seacoast area hospital, which is a for-profit corporate hospital, and we work constantly to improve health care by engaging our professionals. Well, these are our professionals in public health, and we need their strength to protect the health of the public, just as the police and fire department protect the public in other ways. So, I urge you to support this going forward to enactment. Thank you.

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from Newport, Representative Fredette.

Representative FREDETTE: Thank you, Madam Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House. I will also remind this body in regards to this underlying bill and how we voted on this in a prior vote. I will be voting against the pending motion, and ask you to follow my light.
